HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION No. 163 REPORTED FROM COMMITTEE AND LAID ON THE TABLE

Mr. PECHAN, from the Committee on Rules, to which was referred on May 4, 1956, the following resolution from the House of Representatives, reported the same without amendments as follows, viz:

ALLEGHENY DAM

In the House of Representatives, March 13, 1956.

The Upper Allegheny River Valley last week suffered the most disastrous flood since 1865. The Borough of Warren alone has been damaged, reckoned in money, far in excess of a million dollars. Most other up-river communities have suffered in proportion.

In contrast, Pittsburgh and the Lower Allebheny Valley have incurred but little damage. The reason, clearly, is that sizable heads of water were held back by the system of flood control dams in operation for the benefit of the lower river.

This system was authorized twenty years ago by the seventy-fourth Congress of the United States. However, the flood control dams for the upper river stall remain in the preliminary planning stage—notably the great dam to be built athwart the Allegheny above Warren, reportedly near Kinzua.

Continued inaction in proceeding with the construction of the upper river flood control system, commencing with the main dam above Warren, means a heavy handicap to the northwestern Pennsylvania area—an ever-to-be-reconed-with threat to life and property, and an active and deadening threat to the economic development of the region; therefore be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania memorialize the Congress of the United States to expedite to the utmost the appropriations and any additionally needed enabling legislation to bring into being the main upper Allegheny Dam and other uncompleted units of the Allegheny Valley flood control system without further delay; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the presiding officers of each House of the Congress of the United States, and to each Senator and Representative from Pennsylvania in the Congress of the United States.

Laid over for one day under the Rules.

Mr. MAHANY. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. Senator Mahany, could you tell the Membership of the Senate why you are taking the position of non-concurring in the amendments made by the House to Senate Bill No. 999?

Mr. MAHANY. Senator Lane, as this bill left the Senate, it provided that the salary of the mayor shall be not more than $12,500 per annum. As I undestand it, this affects the city of Scranton, it being the only second class A city in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. As far as we were concerned, we were willing to have the salary of the mayor of Scranton raised to $12,500 if the council of that city desired to pay him that much. However, the amendments placed in the bill by the House go further than that. I think, by these amendments, they are doing something which we have never done in any legislation before and that is to provide a minimum salary for the mayor. The amendments provide that the salary of the mayor shall be not less than $10,000. Perhaps the council in Scranton would like to keep the mayor's salary at $7,500 or it might want to raise his salary to $8,000. We have given them a ceiling over which they cannot raise it, and that ceiling is $12,500. I am sorry, Senator Lane; the ceiling that we gave them in the bill, as it left the Senate, was $10,000 and not $12,500.

Have I answered your question sufficiently?

Mr. LANE. Yes.

Senator Mahany, do you not think, in all fairness, that before we take any definite action on concurring or non-concurring, we should await Senator McMenamin, who is the sponsor of the bill? Then, of course, you can consult with him and work this thing out. We are now arbitrarily non-concurring. I would suggest that you let the bill go over in order until Senator McMenamin arrives, and then you can work something out with him.

Mr. MAHANY. Are you of the opinion that Senator McMenamin will be here sometime this afternoon?

Mr. LANE. I imagine he will be, Senator Mahany.

Mr. MAHANY. I will consent to have the bill go over in order temporarily, hoping that Senator McMenamin will be here. However, if we want to adjourn some day, it will be necessary to take action on these bills. If they have to go to conference committees, I want the conference committees to work and get their reports back to us so that we may adopt them. Personally, I do not believe we are ever going to vote for a bill that will place a minimum salary on the mayor of the city of Scranton.

Mr. LANE. Senator Mahany, I observe that Senator McMenamin is the only sponsor of this particular piece of legislation. It directly affects the city in which he resides, and I do feel that if you will consent to have the bill go over in order, probably Senator McMenamin and you can work something out. I do believe, however, that he will be here this afternoon.

Mr. MAHANY. I will consent to the bill going over in order temporarily today, for the time being.

MOTION THAT SENATE NON-CONCUR IN AMENDMENTS MADE BY THE HOUSE TO SENATE BILL No. 999 WITHDRAWN

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I now withdraw my motion that the Senate do non-concur in the amendments made by the House to Senate Bill No. 999.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I withdraw my second to the motion.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate concur in the same?

BILL OVER IN ORDER TEMPORARILY

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 999, Printer's No. 700, on concurrence in House amendments, go over in its order temporarily.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

SENATE NON-CONCURS IN AMENDMENTS MADE BY THE HOUSE TO SENATE BILL No. 1065

Mr. MAHANY. Therefore, Mr. President, it will be necessary for us to non-concur so that the Conference Committee can correct this technical mistake.

FINAL PASSAGE CALENDAR

BILL DEFEATED ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of House Bill No. 1507, entitled:

An Act amending revising clarifying and changing the act of April 6, 1953 (P. L. 3) entitled "Uniform Commercial Code."

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, on this bill which has been on our Calendar for some time, House Bill No. 1507, I would like to inform the Members of the Senate that this is a 117-page bill. I doubt very much whether anybody in the Senate, other than perhaps one other Member, has read this bill. I doubt, too, if even the persons who have read the bill understand what it contains. I am sure that the Members of the Senate who are going to vote on this bill would like to do so intelligently and would like to know, at least, what they are voting for. If somebody, who might be one of their constituents, accosts them and appears to be a little bit angry about this bill and asks whether the Senator voted for it, this Member of the Senate, at least, would like to know what is in the bill and what he voted for.

Mr. President, this Act has been in effect in this Commonwealth possibly two years or maybe not even quite that long. Incidentally, this Act is called the Uniform Commercial Code, so much so that we are the only State in the Union that has one. New York spent over $500,000 investigating whether they wanted the same type of a code and they rejected it. California has done likewise and Texas has done likewise, after about two or three years study of this situation.

I think, in the short time that we have lived with it, we have had numerous amendments. Two of them have just passed the Senate and are over in the House, waiting for this bill to pass here. The Joint State Government Commission took up this bill and, after some of the members made a study of it, they did not quite understand what was in the 117 pages either. I think for us to just run ahead and vote for this bill and pass it without letting us live with this code for some time, and letting the people who have to deal with it and operate under it give us the benefit of the experience they had over the time which they have used this code, is a foolish act on our part and one that does not show that we use much intelligence in passing most of the things which appear on this Calendar.

Mr. President, I am, therefore, asking my colleagues, and the other gentlemen in this Chamber who want to do things intelligently and who want to be responsible for their actions, to vote "no" on this bill.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I can well imagine that Senator Weiner belongs to the Pennsylvania Bar Association, as I do, and I know that several of the Members of the Senate who are also attorneys belong to the Pennsylvania Bar Association. This is the result of the work of a committee of the Pennsylvania Bar Association.

After we passed the Uniform Commercial Code, during the last Session, it was found there were certain amendments which were needed to that Uniform Commercial Code in order to make it a more workable piece of legislation. Also, because of conferences between this committee, representing the Pennsylvania Bar Association, and the New York State authorities, they found that these are amendments which the New York State authorities are recommending. They feel that if these amendments are adopted, New York State and other States will also adopt the Uniform Commercial Code.

In this particular amendment, there is a provision for only single filing of the paper representing the security transaction, but amendments have been put in, and have passed the Senate, which will restore the dual filing provision of the Uniform Commercial Code if those amendments are passed by the House and I trust that they will be. However, Mr. President, for the time being, I hope that the Members of the Senate will have a certain confidence in the committee representing the Pennsylvania Bar Association, whose work this is. I hope that, with that confidence, they will vote favorably for House Bill No. 1507.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I feel badly that I must differ with the Majority Floor Leader. However, we have probably misread the same material, and I would like to just clarify it for the Members of the Senate.

Mr. President, this work on these changes was done by a very small group of the Bar; notably, one of the gentlemen is from Philadelphia, a lawyer, and a gentleman from Pittsburgh. I have never seen an endorsement on this by the Pennsylvania Bar Association, number one. Secondly, New York State has definitely come out within the last few months and said it will not adopt this code, as have the other States. Therefore, there is no possibility, now that we have adopted it, that New York State will adopt it.

We have lived with this for two years and they have taken no action and New York has now definitely abandoned any desire, or any need, to pass this act. Most of the lawyers, who are practitioners and who deal with this act feel, and have stated many many times, that they are sorry we ever adopted this code and they are having difficulty operating under it.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

(During the calling of the roll, the following occurred).

An Act making an appropriation to the State Public School Building Authority for payment of the costs and expenses incurred in the work of the Authority.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Crawford, Senator Mahany.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. Senator Mahany, House Bill No. 1649 provides for an appropriation to the Public School Building Authority, and I note that it was cut from $856,000 to $825,000. Do you have figures to justify that reduction?

Mr. MAHANY. I do not have the justification for this reduction. I understand the committee went into these amounts and this, therefore, is the recommendation of the committee, to reduce it from $856,000 to $825,000. Evidently, that is all the committee figured they needed at this time.

Mr. LANE. As the majority Leader, do you feel that if we accept this reduction, it will hamstring the operation of the State Public School Building Authority?

Mr. MAHANY. I do not think it will, Senator Lane. It is just like when my wife asks me for $500 and I try to settle for $400. I do not figure that I am hamstringing her; I am just trying to economize a little bit.

Mr. LANE. Do you mean to infer that we operate our Senate Appropriations Committee like your wife or my wife would operate her budget for the operation of her kitchen?

Mr. MAHANY. It is about the same thing, except over here they want more money, of course, than my wife ever gets for operating the kitchen. However, you will find that most all of these requests can be cut down somewhat without having the heavens fall on us.

Mr. LANE. Then, for the record, you would agree that if we accept this appropriation, it will not curtail the activities of the State Public School Building Authority, is that correct?

Mr. MAHANY. I would say that it might curtail somewhat the amount they would otherwise spend. However, I do not think it will unduly harm them. I would say that they will be able to get along on $825,000.

Mr. LANE. I wish to thank the gentleman, Mr. President.

A constitutional majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments in which concurrence of the House is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1661, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation from the General Fund to the Department of Forests and Waters for the payment of expenses incurred in continuing the development operation and maintenance of the Point Park in Pittsburgh

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Crawford, Senator Mahany.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. Senator Mahany, in referring to your wife's budget operation, you surely do not cut it in half. I know that I cannot get away with that and I am sure you cannot either.

I notice in House Bill No. 1661, which provides for an appropriation for Point Park, in Pittsburgh,—not my Point Park, but the city of Pittsburgh's Point Park—you cut it from $1,000,000 to $500,000. Do you believe that is justifiable?

Mr. MAHANY. I think it would be justifiable because they do not have as long now to work in connection with this project as they would if we had adopted this appropriation a year ago. Therefore, it can be cut down.

I might also add at this time that perhaps if we had been political in this matter, we would not have tried to cut down these appropriations. We would have just put them in as they left the House, or even added some to them, and we could have left the job of cutting them up to the Governor, as has been done many years before this. We felt that this was an amount with which they could do a job and which would be adequate to take care of the amount that they presently need.

Mr. LANE. Your statement just now has convinced me that you are quite sure that the Governor does not have enough money to operate the government as it should be. Therefore, you say that you are taking the heat off the Governor, whereby he would be forced to cut this appropriation. You imply that you are doing the Governor a favor in cutting this appropriation before it reaches the front office. Is that correct?

Mr. MAHANY. I think we would be, if the Governor did not have a sufficient amount of money to pay out this amount of the original appropriation in the sum of $1,000,000. We have done that for many Sessions here. Almost every Session since you and I have become Members, we have put appropriations on the Governor's desk that he had to cut. This certainly would not be the first Governor who had to cut appropriations, or do you not pay any attention to them after we adjourn sine die?

Mr. LANE. I pay particular attention to appropriations and I am wondering if you feel that the $1,000,000, as requested, was a fictitious figure. If you feel that way, then, of course, I feel you are justified in cutting the appropriation in half. However, it seems to me that the persons who submitted the figure of $1,000,000 probably knew what they were doing. When you cut it in half, are you deliberately trying to hamstring the development of Point Park because it happens to be in a Democratic city? Is that the case?

Mr. MAHANY. You know that is not the case, Senator Lane. We feel that this is a sufficient amount of money at this time, and I believe that the good people in Pittsburgh will be satisfied with this amount. They might not be content, but I think they will be satisfied. The difference between the two is this. Somebody asked a person one time, "What is the difference between content and satisfied?" The fellow answered and said, "I am satisfied that my neighbor is kissing my wife, but I am not content about it."

Mr. LANE. What would be the difference than between good people and Democrats from Pittsburgh? Do you agree that the good people are Democrats and that the Democrats are good people?

Mr. MAHANY. I would say there are both good Democrats and good Republicans in Pittsburgh and I hope that this $500,000 will aid them in their fine work in redeveloping and rehabilitating the city of Pittsburgh. I hope that the Democrats do not take the entire credit for it. I think they have had a lot of help from certain Republicans in the city of Pittsburgh and I think the Republicans in Pittsburgh have been statesmanlike enough to give credit to the Democrats for aiding them in their endeavor.

Mr. LANE. Your statement then infers that you work on both sides of the street. You are determined now to make both sides, Republican and Democrats, mad in Pittsburgh. Thank you very much.

Mr. MAHANY. We are trying to make them happy, Mr. President.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Armstrong, Senator Pechan.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Pechan, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PECHAN. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. SILVERT. Mr Pechan, in your role as Majority Leader, can you tell us why you cut the appropriation for the development, operation and maintenance of the Independence Mall in Philadelphia from $1,000,000, as passed by the House, to $500,000?

Mr. PECHAN. Senator Silvert, I think the same arguments would prevail with House Bill No. 1662 as Senator Mahany expressed to Senator Lane a little while ago regarding House Bill No. 1661.

Half of the biennium has passed and we feel there is sufficient money there to do what they can during the time which is left.

Mr. SILVERT. I want to thank you, Senator Pechan. I was under the impression that the possible reason for the cut was because the Independence Mall happens to be located in Philadelpha.

Mr. PECHAN. That was not the reason for the cut, Senator.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I have some statements here made by the Secretary of Highways, Mr. Lawler, which I would ask be printed and added to the Appendix of the Journal. I am going to pass copies of this statement to the Republican leadership, as well as to the Democratic leadership, and to the Chairman of the Highways Committee.

The PRESIDENT. This statement, submitted by the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, will be spread upon the Appendix to the Legislative Journal.

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Welfare for the maintenance of certain homes.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. MAHANY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I noticed an editorial in the Sunday Patriot-News, which is published here in Harrisburg, last Sunday's issue, which states:

"Our General Assembly wound up its week's work in a real rush early Friday so some of the legislative leaders and just plain, ordinary legislators could make a pilgrimage to the Kentucky Derby.

"The State Senators and Representatives, who dotted the scene at Churchill Downs yesterday, should have felt right at home.

"They had been off to the races all this past week right here in Harrisburg, where Pennsylvania's tangled finances are concerned.

"While so many of our legislators are in a betting mood, we'll offer them a little wager."

The editorial then goes on to wager that we are going to wind up this biennium with a gigantic deficit, and that the next Session of the General Assembly will be more tumultuous than the present one and so on and so forth.

Mr. President, the thing I want to call to the attention of the editor is the fact that I do not believe there was more than one Senator who went to the Kentucky Derby. I would like to make a wager with the editor of the paper. I would be glad to pay him a certain sum of money for each Senator over five who went to the Derby, if he will pay me the same amount for each Senator under five who went to the Kentucky Derby.

I do not understand why the editor of this paper should feel that we neglected our work in any way whatsoever last week. I think the Senate and the House worked very hard at their jobs last week. The fact of the matter is that I did not get out of here until about six o'clock

Friday evening, and I found that most of the boys and girls on the Hill had packed their bags and were on their way home when I left my office. I think we accomplished quite a good bit of work last week in both the Senate and in the House.

What I do object to, Mr. President, is this constant misrepresentation in the newspapers. Why should an editor of a newspaper make a statement such as that when he does not know the facts and tries to belittle this Legislature and the Members of it? If the newspapers want to try to build up our democratic process, they certainly should at least be fair to the elected representatives of the people.

If I go to the Kentucky Derby and the newspapers feel that this is news and worth-while printing, it will be all right with me if they put that item in their papers. I hope they will see to it that my own local Titusville Herald carries the story, because a lot of the people in Titusville feel sure that I go to the Kentucky Derby whether or not I go and if the newspapers would put it in the papers when I do go, then they will probably call upon me at the next meeting of the Rotary Club to describe the mob scenes attendant at the Kentucky Derby and perhaps to describe in detail the race. It certainly does not hurt me in any way, politically or otherwise, if they choose to put in the newspapers that I go to the Kentucky Derby. However, I do feel it is wrong when they say a great number of people, who are Members of the House and Senate, went to the Kentucky Derby when that is not the case at all.

Mr. President, this is just another one of those instances which we complained about a month or so ago when the newspapers chose to put in their columns that a great number of lobbyists had come into my office on a certain day, when we had a conference between the Democratic and Republican leaders, and that was not the case.

I do not think it is asking too much to ask the newspapers to try to be fair in their report of what happens and try, as much as they can, to print the truth as to what is happening to us on Capitol Hill. We come down here as elected representatives of the people and we feel we are entitled to be accorded a little fairer treatment in the newspapers. We come down here to Harrisburg and patronize the merchants who patronize this particular newspaper. We also patronize the hotels and we spend a lot of our money down here in this little town of Harrisburg, and all we ask is to be accorded at least a little fair treatment from the newspapers which are published here in Harrisburg.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 185, TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I call from the table House Concurrent Resolution, Serial No. 185.

The Clerk read the resolution as follows:

HIGHWAY MEMORIAL

In the House of Representatives, March 6, 1956.

The Honorable William Flinn (1851-1924) was the father of the first chemically prepared hard surfaced road in Pennsylvania. While a member of the State Senate from Allegheny County, this man of extraordinary character, originality and courage, originated and introduced in 1879 in the General Assembly the first recommendation to amend the State Constitution to permit and provide a State-wide improvement of its rural highways. His recommendation as to surfacing highways, like the recommendations of many great men before him who offered new and progressive ideas, was met by the opposition who voiced the opinion that surfacing highways was an impossible engineering feat. However, Senator Flinn, who was a fearless fighter no matter how strong the opposition, never gave up. In 1895 through his untiring efforts and devotion to his progressive concept, and after he solved all the problems to the satisfaction of both the Senate and House as to administering the act, such legislation was passed.

When the first hard surfaced road was laid in Washington County under the "Flinn Road Bill" there were very few people, besides Senator Flinn, who could envision the impact such surfacing would have on the commercial advancement of this great nation. Within a relatively short time, every state followed the example set by the genius from Pennsylvania and paved their highways.

Today beautiful highways are taken as a matter of course. In the passage of time, great achievements and contributions made in realizing such highways by such men as Senator Flinn are sometimes forgotten, except by the few. These few, led by their chairman, Colonel Charles C. McGovern, the county controller, conducted a memorial service in 1926 at which they dedicated a monument, which they placed on the dividing line between Allegheny and Washington Counties, known as the "William Flinn Highway Memorial" in memory of the ingenuity of a great Pennsylvanian who devoted his entire life to the betterment of this Commonwealth. This memorial to Senator Flinn should be made known to and recognized by all the citizens of this Commonwealth in honor of this great man; therefore be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring), That the monument known as the "William Flinn Highway Memorial," which was erected in 1926 by the public at the dividing line between Allegheny and Washington Counties, be accepted by the General Assembly and dedicated to the perpetual memory of the late Honorable William Flinn who in 1895 as the father of hard surfaced roads, built the first such road in Washington County, Pennsylvania; and be it further

Resolved, That the General Assembly, when accepting the monument on behalf of the Commonwealth, shall give it such supervision as will be necessary to carry out the spirit and intentions of the public donors in preserving for posterity a perpetual historical monument in memory of the Senator who contributed to the perfection of a rural highway system in this Commonwealth; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to Charles C. McGovern, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, for the benefit of members who served on the dedication committee and for the benefit of any surviving kin of Senator Flinn.

Reverend Russel R. Lester, Pastor of the First United Presbyterian Church of Ambridge, Pa., guest Chaplain and guest of the gentleman from Beaver, Mr. Hamilton, offered the following prayer:

God of all wisdom, humbly we wait before Thee realizing our own weaknesses in the knowledge of Thy power. Enable us by Thy spirit to think clearly, speak clamly, and act wisely. Enrich our lives through Thy truth that we may ever be physically fit, mentally awake, and morally straight, in our service to Thee and our fellow man. In Thy name we pray. Amen.

CALL OF THE HOUSE

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I suggest the absence of a quorum.

Mr. GELFAND. Mr. Speaker, I would like to make this motion, that in the absence of a quorum the doors be locked and all Members absent be brought to the Chamber.

The SPEAKER. That is for a later decision to be made by the House.

The absence of a quorum having been suggested, the Sergeant-at-Arms will close the doors of the House. Members are not permitted to leave. Only officers and Members of the House are permitted to enter.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. KOLANKIEWICZ. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. KOLANKIEWICZ. Did the Chair call for leaves of absence this afternoon?

The SPEAKER. The Chair has not yet called for leaves of absence.

Mr. KOLANKIEWICZ. Is it in order now to ask for a leave of absence?

The SPEAKER. Nothing is in order but the call of the House.

The Clerk will call the roll.

The roll was called.

The SPEAKER. Before the Clerk announces the result of the poll, the Chair desires to read the rule.

> "Call of the House. If a question shall be raised by a Member as to the absence of a quorum in the House, the doors shall be closed and no Member shall be permitted to leave except by permission of the House. The names of the Members shall be called by the Clerk and the absentees noted. Those for whom no sufficient excuse is made, may by order of a majority of those present, be sent for and taken into custody wherever they may be found, by the Sergeant-at-Arms and his assistants appointed for that purpose, and brought before the bar of the House, where unless excused by a majority of the Members present, they shall be reproved by the Speaker for neglect of duty.
> Members who voluntarily appear during a call shall unless the House otherwise directs, be immediately admitted to the Hall of the House and they shall, upon being recognized by the Speaker announce their presence for the purpose of having their names entered upon the Journal.

The Chair will request the Clerk, first, to report whether or not a quorum is present, then to read the names of the absentees and then the Chair will await the pleasure of the House.

The roll was as follows:

So the question was determined in the affirmative and the motion was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. It is now unnecessary to call for leaves of absence since the House by its vote has automatically granted a leave of absence to all those not present, irrespective of the cause for their absence.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. GELFAND. Mr. Speaker, in as much as most of us who are now present came prepared to do an honest week's business in an endeavor to get this session of the Legislature terminated, and inasmuch as it is readily apparent at this time that no controversial legislation on the calendar can be taken up today, I therefore move that this House do adjourn until tomorrow morning at 9:30 a.m., in the hope that the other Members will be present so that we can have a business calendar.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER. A motion to adjourn is always in order and the motion is not debatable.

MOTION TO SUSPEND RULE 16

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I rise for the purpose of moving to suspend House Rule 16 which makes the motion to adjourn not debatable.

The SPEAKER. The motion to adjourn has already been made and is before the House.

Does the Majority Leader desire a standing vote, a voice vote, or a roll call?

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. READINGER. Is it Rule No. 16 of this House which makes the motion to adjourn not debatable?

The SPEAKER. It is one of the rules.

"A motion for adjournment or recess shall always be in order and shall be decided without debate, except as to the time of meeting."

If the gentleman desires to debate the time of meeting, as to whether we meet at 10:00 o'clock, or 11:00 o'clock, or at some other time, the gentleman would be in order.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, if it is only House Rule No. 16 which prevents debate on the motion to adjourn, I certainly would have a right to move that we suspend House Rule No. 16.

The SPEAKER. Not while the motion is pending, the Chair would rule.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, in the making of the motion for adjournment, which is not debatable, I did not hear the time of adjournment. It was until what time?

The SPEAKER. 9:30 a.m.

The question is on the motion and the only matter before the House is the preference of the Majority Leader as to the manner of the vote.

Does the Majority Leader desire a division, a voice vote, or a roll call?

Mr. READINGER. I desire a division, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GELAND . Mr. Speaker, I demand a roll call.

The calling of the roll was seconded by Mr. COMER.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. SHERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. SHERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I understand that a motion to adjourn, if the Speaker will correct me, requires support of four Members. Am I right?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is not correct.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, is the time for adjournment set at 9:30—

The SPEAKER. That is the motion.

Mr. McCORMACK. 9:30 standard time?

The SPEAKER. That is the motion.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I would like to address myself on that point and suggest that rather than 9:30 we should adjourn until such a time as we get a full House here.

The SPEAKER. That would be rather indefinite.

The SPEAKER. For what purpose does the gentleman from Philadelphia rise?

You are giving the Speaker a hard time in the absence of the Parliamentarian.

Mr. CHARLES C. Smith. Mr. Speaker, I first would say that everything is in good hands at the Speaker's Chair.

Would I be in order at this time to make a statement that has nothing to do with the adjournment motion?

The SPEAKER. Nothing would be in order from a parliamentary point of view but a vote on the question to adjourn.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. There is nothing in order at this time as to any statement whatsoever?

The SPEAKER. Except debate as to the time of adjournment.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Possibly I could debate the time of adjournment.

The SPEAKER. By unanimous consent, if no Member objected, the Chir would recognize the "Majority" Leader, for any statement he might want to make, but if there were objection the Chair would have to sustain the objection.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. The gentleman is correct about the "Majority" Leader when he looked over here at me. Thank you.

The SPEAKER. I have said that for some time.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, in debating the time of adjournment, we on this side of the House would probably not have gone along with any motion to adjourn to any certain time tomorrow, but now under the circumstances that there are controversial bills being passed over and we will not be in any position to vote on controversial bills. I think we should go along with the motion and make the time of adjournment 11:00 o'clock tomorrow morning to give the Members a chance to come in.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, under Rule 16 the question as to whether this is the proper time to adjourn is not subject to discussion. Judging by our actions over a period of fifteen months, I am very doubtful whether we will have a sufficient majority on the other side to pass legislation.

In order to see that the problems of every Legislator are disposed of and he is here with a free and open mind, I would suggest that Mr. Gelfand amend his motion to have the adjournment date at 3:00 o'clock November 7, 1956.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is not in order.

The statements were made by leniency on the part of the Chair.

Mr. GELFAND. Mr. Speaker, I believe Mr. Smith suggested, or made a motion that the adjournment time be made 11:00 o'clock rather than 9:30 a. m. I rise to discuss that.

I come here with a serious purpose, to do the Commonwealth's business. I have come here this entire session in fond hopes that sooner or later we would get this session terminated — — —

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

Mr. GELFAND. There is no point of order.

Mr. READINGER. I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is not speaking about the time to which we shall adjourn.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken.

Mr. GELFAND. Mr. Speaker, if the Majority Leader will let me continue, he will learn I am discussing the time.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman up to the present time were out of order.

Mr. GELFAND. In any event I propose that we have a complete and full working day tomorrow. If we should start at 11:00 a. m., as suggested by the Minority Leader, we would just come in here and find ourselves sitting around for an additional two hours in fond hopes that there would be enough Members to start the day's business by 1:00 o'clock.

I propose we have the time set for 9:30 a. m. tomorrow morning, so in the event we do have to sit down for an hour and a half waiting for the membership to arrive we will be able to start early enough.

I, therefore, debate that motion and suggest that the time for further convening of this body be 9:30 a. m., Tuesday, May 8th.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

M.r READINGER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears no objection.

Mr. GELFAND. Mr. Speaker, rise to object to any further discussion. The only thing in order is a vote on the motion for adjournment.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears no objection.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is greatly perturbed by the fact that there are some absentees today, and I guess all of us are.

The fact remains we have absentees. However, what the gentleman may not know is that this Commonwealth has some business other than this legislative business.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. GELFAND. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I have the floor on unanimous consent and the gentleman is out of order in interrupting.

The SPEAKER. The Chair heard no objection when the other "Majority" Leader was speaking, and the Chair hears no objection when this Majority Leader is speaking.

Mr. READINGER. If the gentleman will allow me to proceed for about one minute without objection, I will finish.

It just so happens that the General State Authority meeting of the Board of Directors is called for tomorrow morning at 10:00 a. m. The Minority Leader is a Member of that Board, the Speaker is a Member of the Board and I am a Member of the Board. Our presence there is urgeant.

There are other reasons why it is not desirable for this House to meet tomorrow morning at 9:30 or even at 11:00 o'clock. We were going to suggest that we meet at 1:00 o'clock tomorrow so that we might have the businesse of the day lined up in order that we might proceed without delay and get something done.

If the gentleman from Philadelphia who made this motion to adjourn had known these facts, perhaps he would not have been so insistent that we meet at 9:30 in the morning. I think the gentleman will probably recognize that if the Speaker and the two Floor Leaders are not here he will be here perhaps at 9:30, but there will be business taken up until somebody else arrives in the Hall of this House.

I do not want to be adamant about it. I would be happy to consult with him—I would have been had he spoken to me about it. But he has seen fit to make this motion to adjourn, the Chair has ruled that Rule 16 cannot be suspended for the purpose of discussing it intelligently before we act upon it, and therefore I am asking the Members of the House to vote down this motion to adjourn.

Mr. GELFAND. Mr. Speaker - - -

The SPEAKER. If the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Gelfand, desires to make some remarks, the Chair in his particular case will hear no objection.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, would we be in order at this time to amend the motion as to the time of adjournment?

The SPEAKER. It is always in order to amend motions.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I would then move to amend the motion of the gentleman from Philadelphia that we adjourn today until 1:00 o'clock standard time tomorrow, or daylight saving time, whichever would suit the Majority Leader.

Mr. READINGER. I would suggest standard time.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. 1:00 o'clock standard time tomorrow.

The SPEAKER. Is the motion seconded?

Mr. JUMP. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

Mr. GELFAND. Mr. Speaker, I agree to the amendment.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. McCORMACK. Rule 88 of the House states in effect that any rule of the House may be suspended at any time by majority vote of the Members elect.

The SPEAKER. The Chair rules that while a question is pending a rule cannot be suspended.

Mr. McCORMACK. The rule states "at any time," Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. While there are questions before the House - -

Mr. McCORMACK. Did the Speaker see the language of that rule?

The SPEAKER. The Speaker saw the language of that rule, and also the precedents upon the part of the House.

The SPEAKER. The question is on the amendment to the motion to adjourn to 1:00 o'clock instead of 9:30.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

The amendment was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion as amended?

Mr. READINGER. I ask for a division.

Mr. GELFAND. I requested a slow roll call on that motion before. I have not withdrawn the request.

Mr. SPEAKER. The request for a roll call, the Chair would point out, was regularly made and seconded.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Gelfand and Mr. Comer and were as follows:

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I would just like to read a letter I received today from a gentleman who was confirmed by the Senate last week. He writes as follows:

"Dear Senator Barr:

"I am grateful to you for your efforts in my behalf in connection with my appointment as Judge of The Orphans Court of Allegheny County.

"I would appreciate if, on the Senate Floor, you would express my gratitude to the Members of the Senate for my confirmation as Judge of The Orphans Court of Allegheny County.

"With kindest personal regards, I remain,

"Sincerely yours,

"A. L. WOLK"

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, we are having a great deal of delay in the adjournment of this Session because of differences of opinion on the repeal of the stamp tax. I should like to read a communication which comes from the very District from which Mr. Charles Smith, who is championing the refusal to repeal the stamp tax, comes. I should like to read a letter coming from his District, from the Business Men's Association of Germantown. It is addressed to me and it says as follows:

"My dear Mr. Silvert:

"This is to verify telegram which this Association sent you yesterday, as follows:

"The Business Men's Association of Germantown, by unanimous vote of its Directors, have instructed me to inform you of our firm opposition to the provisions of Article IV of the Selective Sales and Use Tax Act, and to urge you to continue your efforts to effect its repeal.

"Respectfully yours,"

/s/ "OTTO J. GLASER
"Otto J. Glaser
"President"

Mr. President and Members of this Senate, the very people who helped to elect Charlie Smith, and who have supported him for years, are pleading in this letter for us to talk to him and make him see the reason this stamp repeal should go through. If this does not convince Mr. Smith, I do not know what will.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, the Democratic Caucus has asked me to take the floor this afternoon to determine, if I can, from the Republican Floor Leader as to a date that we may adjourn this Session.

Mr. President, I desire to interogate the gentleman from Crawford, Senator Mahany.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. HALUSKA. Senator Mahany, there seem to be many conflicting reports as to our tentative program and a number of my colleagues would like to make plans for the future. Therefore, could you tell us, as nearly as you can, regarding our program for this week, next week and the sine die adjournment?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, that is quite a job. I am also concerned with plans for the future. However, I would say to Senator Haluska that if his Democratic colleagues in the House continue to make motions to adjourn without taking up any business, it is quite unlikely that we will ever be able to adjourn sine die.

Mr. HALUSKA. Senator Mahany, could you tell us your tentative program for next week?

Mr. MAHANY. I would say to the gentleman that we cannot meet on Monday or Tuesday of next week because of the hotel situation. I am advised by the Penn Harris Hotel that they will have rooms available on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week. The Harrisburger Hotel will not have any rooms available either next week or the week after; that is, the week of May 13th or the week of May 20th. Therefore, we will not be able to meet during the week of May 20th and if we meet during the week of May 13th, it will be on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

We expect to have a conference with the Democratic and Republican leaders of the House, and the Democratic and Republican leaders of the Senate, tomorrow morning at 10:00 o'clock. Perhaps, as a result of that meeting, our plans may be more clearly crystalized. However, at this time I cannot tell you what possible date we can make for final adjournment.

Mr. HALUSKA. Thank you.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, while we were listening to the remarks of the gentleman on the other side about not being able to meet because of the hotel shortage, one of the wits suggested that perhaps we could move our Sessions to Philadelphia and meet at Independence Hall. It appears to me that over this last year and three months that we have been in Session, every moment that we had arrived at some kind of a program which appeared to be on the way to an adjournment sine die, we ran into conventions at the hotels.

A great many people do not know that if the hotel situation in this town were not what it is, we would have been able to have stayed in Session more regularly. I think, if you will look over the record, you will find that at least three months out of this Session have been dissipated in trying to find hotel rooms. If we cannot get rooms for two more weeks and if, as I am told from some of the House leadership, we cannot quit this week, how, then, are we supposed to lay out our plans for final adjournment? Every day it becomes increasingly more difficult to have an attendance of a constitutional majority in the General Assembly. It is a natural thing. A great many citizens do not know that all Members of the Legislature have to earn a living in other businesses or other work. As it now stands, if this whole month is to be used up by conventions at the hotels, then I think we should face the thing squarely and honestly, and perhaps we ought to recess until the hotels can give us rooms for about a month or so in order for us to wind up our work.

Mr. President, I am going to say this for the Republican Senators as well as for the Democratic Senators. There is no disposition on the part of any man in this Senate, to whom I have talked, to delay this Session. There never has been on the part of any Member of the Senate that I know of to delay the adjournment sine die. However, there seems to be something in coming to Sessions that attracts House Members. For some reason or other, they just will not sit down to an agreement aiming at some kind of a target date.

Senator Mahany has just told you what he knows to be the facts. He is not making any determination on them; he is just stating a fact. I was hopeful that we would meet anyway. I am just wondering what would happen if the Membership of the House and Senate retained their rooms and worked over the entire week this week, stayed over Sunday night and retained their rooms in the hotels. Would the hotels then order them out onto the streets or would they be given the same courtesy as any ordinary person attending a convention who, when he overstays his mark, is allowed to keep the room?

Mr. President, we are not going to be forced into a position of building a hotel for the Legislature in order that we can hold meetings. However, somewhere along the line, this foolishness must stop. If we have to pass regulations where we have a limited Session of the Legislature, tied down to so many days, that may be the answer. Certainly, however, for the hotels to say that they cannot provide rooms for this General Assembly for the week of the 13th and the week of the 21st is, to my mind, utterly silly. I do not know how many Members here require rooms in the hotels, but there are only 262 Members of this General Assembly. I would venture to say that we could get by with one hundred rooms easily between the two hotels. If I know anything about hotel management, they usually keep that many rooms open for transients. For the purpose of holding this General Assembly, let us play the part of transients, if necessary, next week.

I say that we ought not to recess next week and I am going to vote against a recess. I know that some of you say that I have my apartment down here and, therefore, I have a bed to sleep in. I will say to all of you, to the extent of the room I have, that I will share my bed and board with you. For those of you who cannot find rooms, we will stack you somewhere in the corners. In fact, some of my cupboards in my apartment are as big as some of the rooms you rent in these hotels anyway.

I want to assure all of you that we are going to meet next week if I have anything to say about it. I am sure that the Democratic Membership wants to stay next week. If it were a question of one or two days, and we could come in on Wednesday and stay the rest of the week, we would probably try to be as considerate of the hotels as we can be, knowing that they, too, must exist and earn a living. However, to say that for two full weeks we cannot have rooms is absolutely out of order. We just cannot run this legislative Session based upon the ability to get hotel rooms. Unless we have a better understanding on the matter within the next twenty-four hours, I think we should advise the House that we are staying in Session and everybody do the best they can with what they can obtain in the way of accommodations. Whether we must go to Hershey, Carlisle, sleep in motels, hotels, apartments or whatever else it is, I think it is important enough that we do drive to quit.

Mr. President, I am very fearful and suspicious that there are certain Members of the General Assembly who just do not want to quit for some unknown reason, a reason that I cannot fathom to the best of my ability. I cannot find out why. However, some persons believe that for political reasons, it is best to stay in Session. I do not know whether it is or not; all I know is that it is wrong. It is absolutely wrong; there are not that many knotty problems left and I am sure that if the House will meet with the Senate leadership, there is not a reason in the world why we cannot adjourn sine die this coming Saturday. There is absolutely no reason because the problems that were here last week and the week before will be here next week and the week after next week, unless we decide to solve them and quit. We can quit this week. If you Republicans will join us, we will meet with the House leadership and tell them this is what we are going to do. The House has been dictating all along about what they are going to do. I advise the Senate along this line if they can see their way clear.

Let us clear our Calendar; let us make our reports; let that which will fall, fall by the wayside; pass the things we can pass and let us leave here Saturday and come back when the House is ready.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? the Chair hears none.

Messrs. BARR and FLEMING read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1106, entitled:

An Act to facilitate vehicular traffic across the Commonwealth by providing for the construction, operation and maintenance of a turnpike from a point at or near the City of Pittsburgh in Allegheny County, thence in a general easterly direction to connect with the Pennsylvania Turnpike System, at such point as the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission may decide is most feasible and practicable, . . .; and authorizing the issuance of Turnpike revenue refunding bonds.

Which was committed to the Committee on Rules.

INTERROGATION

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Barr.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BARR. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I would like to inquire of the Senator whether he listened attentively to the words of the Minority Leader, Senator Dent?

Mr. BARR. I did, Mr. President.

Mr. BERGER. Senator Barr, should the words of the Minority Leader be taken seriously and to heart, it is possible for the bill you just introduced to receive Final Passage in this Session of the Legislature?

Mr. BARR. If the question is between adjourning and passing that bill, I am for adjourning.

Mr. BERGER. Thank You.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

MEMORIALIZING CONGRESS TO SUPPORT AND ENACT INTO LEGISLATION MEASURES ESTABLISHING A NEW NATIONAL CEMETERY IN PENNSYLVANIA

Messrs. PECHAN, TAYLOR, BARR, LANE and WOLFE offered the following resolution, which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, May 8, 1956.

The two National cemeteries located in Pennsylvania have been closed to additional interments of veterans of our wars, and closing them in their entirety is imminent due to lack of sufficient space.

Since neither of the two present National cemeteries can be considered appropriate for possible last resting places for those who fought for our Commonwealth and our Country, and who may die today or in the future, it is the sincere opinion of the great majority of the veterans in Pennsylvania that a new National cemetery should be established within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania at an entirely new location, and that cemetery be associated with the present and future requirements of those who fought in the wars of our Country.

It is known, from official sources, that there is available within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, a tract of one hundred acres to three hundred and fifty acres situated at the Indiantown Gap Military Reservation, and this could be made available to the United States Department of the Army, for the purpose of establishing a new National cemetery. Bills to accomplish this purpose have been introduced in the House of Representatives and the Senate of the Eighty-fourth United States Congress; therefore be it

Resolved (the House of Represenatives concurring), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania memorialize the Congress of the United States to support and enact into legislation measures establishing a new National cemetery in Pennsylvania; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the presiding officers of each house of the Congress of the United States and to each Senator and Representative from Pennsylvania in the Congress of the United States.

RULE 39 SUSPENDED

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

INTERROGATION

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Bucks, Senator Watson.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Bucks, Mr. Watson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WATSON. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. Are there any other nominations to the Board of Pharmacy in committee?

Mr. WATSON. There is the name of Sol S. Turnoff, which has been rejected by the Republican Caucus.

Mr. DENT. Has been rejected by the Republican Caucus; thank you, Senator Watson.

Mr. President, I ask for a ten minute recess.

Mr. WATSON. Just a minute, Mr. President. They say that is not the fact. That name was not rejected, but I was instructed not to call it up.

Mr. DENT. Will you give us some other reason then why the name was not brought out of committee?

Mr. WATSON. It was not approved, that is all.

Mr. DENT. Is there some distinction between approval and rejection that I do not understand?

Mr. WATSON. I really do not know, Senator. I never took fractions.

Mr. DENT. Well, this is not a fraction; this is a split infinitive.

RECESS

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for ten minutes, for the purpose of having a Democratic Caucus.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

CONSIDERATION OF MEMBER OF THE STATE BOARD OF PHARMACY

Mr. WATSON. Mr. President, it has been requested that the nominations of Jacob H. Katz and Harold Blid, for appointment as members of the State Board of Pharmacy, be voted upon one at a time.

Whereupon,

A motion was made by Mr. WATSON and Mr. PEELOR,

That the Senate do advise and consent to the nomination of Jacob H. Katz, Philadelphia County, as a member of the State Board of Pharmacy.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion to advise and consent to the nomination?

MOTION THAT NOMINATION BE LAID ON THE TABLE

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, at this time, in order that there be no misunderstanding and in order to save embarrassment on behalf of this gentleman whom I have nothing personal against whatsoever, I would move that the name of Mr. Katz be laid upon the table.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, this morning I received a letter from the Majority Leader of the House, who is supposed to speak for the Governor in that body. His letter is dated May 7, 1956, and I would like to read it into the record.

The letter is addressed to, "The Honorable Roland B. Mahany, State Senate, 537 Capitol Building, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania," and reads as follows:

"In Re: Pennsylvania State Board of Pharmacy

"Dear Senator Mahany:

"One of my Reading neighbors is a pharmacist and he informed me a few days ago that Pennsylvania at the present time does not have a State Pharmacy Board which can function because the confirmation of the appointed members has not occurred.

"He further advised me that the 1955 graduates from Pharmacy School have not received their certificates, and that there will be an additional 435 graduates in June, with no Board to give the examinations.

"Can the confirmation of these appointees be accomplished in the near future in order that this situation might be corrected?

"With kindest personal regards, I am

"Very truly yours,

"AL
"Albert S. Readinger"

Mr. President, that is the reason we brought up these names today. I received this letter this morning and I wanted to carry out the suggestion and request of Mr. Readinger. Therefore, in Caucus today I asked that the names of these appointees to the Pharmacy Board, which have been on the table for some time, be taken from the table and acted upon. At that time, however, I was not aware that they were on the table, and when Senator Watson told me these nominations were on the table I said that I thought we should take them from the table and act upon them, regardless of the fact that we were not as yet prepared to act on Mr. Turnoff's appointment.

I can now see what is going on here. Because we are not taking up the name of Mr. Turnoff at this time, then my Democratic colleagues will not act on this nomination.

Mr. President, I ask my Democratic colleagues to cast aside any ulterior reasons, if that is what you might call it, in relation to Mr. Turnoff's appointment and act on the names of these two men. I think we are all agreed that Mr. Katz and the other gentleman, Mr. Blid, would make good additions to the Pharmacy Board. We feel that certainly the Pharmacy Board needs a quorum in order to carry out its duties and we are now prepared, in accordance with the request of the Majority leader of the House, to act on these names and confirm the Governor's appointments.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I heard about that letter this afternoon sometime. I am very happy to know that the gentlemen on the other side are willing to listen to the plea from the Majority Leader, Mr. Readinger, on the matter of appointments and confirmations, and I will contact Mr. Readinger right after the Session is over and have him write to the gentleman about the 147 other names in order that they, too, will be removed from the Committee on Executive Nominations.

I have looked for practically sixteen months for the key to that committee and since Al Readinger happens to be the key, I will see that he puts it in the proper lock within the next day.

Mr. President, in so far as the case before us is concerned, by all the rules, the man first named by the Governor ought to be voted on first. If you do not follow that rule, then you follow the simple procedure of using alphabetical order and at the request of this Caucus I went over and asked them if they would take up the name of Mr. Blid first in order that we could come to a determination on each name before this Senate as we arrived at it.

Mr. President, Senator Mahany accuses this group of having ulterior motives or something of that order. However, he does not say a word about the fact that three men were named by the Governor and that only two have been presented to this body this afternoon for consideration. Along with the request of Mr. Readinger, you will find that all he asked is that a quorum be voted for the Board of Pharmacy. We are willing to do that and we will go along and give you a quorum on the Board. I am sure it will please Mr. Readinger and it will meet with Mr. Mahany's reasoning for bringing out the names. However, there are two present members on the Board and the third man will constitute a quorum, and the Board can go ahead and expedite its business. We will be glad to go along on that. However, if they insist upon pulling a little political skulduggery and chicanery, will will have to fall into their trap and as much as we hate to do it, this Republican member will have to fall by the wayside unless they can deliver thirty-four votes.

If they want to proceed along that line, I think it is only fair that they ought to be forewarned as to what our intentions are, honorable as they are.

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I would like to state that Mr. Katz comes from my District. He is a reputable pharmacist and would make a very creditable member of the Board. However, in view of the complications that have arisen because one member from Philadelphia was reported out and Mr. Turnoff was not, I know that if the Republicans insist on presenting Mr. Katz's name at this time, it will only be for the purpose of killing him off. He is too good a man to be killed off. I am heartily in favor of the motion that his name be tabled temporarily, so that he will have an opportunity either to be appointed or confirmed later.

Therefore, Mr. President, I am asking the Republican Members to vote in favor of this motion to table and to save Mr. Katz for a future appointment as a valuable member of the Pharmacy Board.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, just so the record on this proceeding may be straightened out as well as possible, I would like to state that, in the first place, there has not been a rejection of the name of Mr. Turnoff by the Republican Caucus. For the information of the gentlemen on the other side, the name has not as yet been approved by the Committee on Executive Nominations. That is the way the record stands in connection with Mr. Turnoff. There has been nothing fatal, finished or done about that particular nomination.

However, Mr. President, on the question of the priority of action on these nominations, let it be said that Mr. Katz's name appears first upon the Governor's order of nominations to the Pharmacy Board.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. BLASS. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Erie, Mr. Blass, will state his point of order.

Mr. BLASS. Mr. President, this motion is out of order for the reason that there is a preceding motion before this Senate which has not been acted on.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON SENATE BILL No. 249

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Mr. President, I submit the report of the Committee of Conference on Senate Bill No. 249, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 24, 1937 (P. L. 2051), entitled "Public Assistance Law," increasing monthly pension allowance; abolishing the sum of income and pension as a ceiling for pension receivable.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. This Report of Committee of Conference will appear on tomorrow's Calendar.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. STIEFEL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, this is an innocuous resolution dealing with the need for a geographical study of Pennsylvania. I introduced a bill earlier in the Session. The bill has been referred to that valiant and gallant Committee on Forests and Waters, Game and Fish. At that time, the membership of the committee, including the Presiding Officer, indicated that within due time the proper way to approach this problem would be to offer a resolution for a study by the Joint State Government Commission.

Accordingly, Mr. President, I am presenting this resolution and hope that it will be adopted immediately.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

DIRECTING THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO STUDY THE ADVISABILITY AND FEASIBILITY OF ESTABLISHING A COMMISSION

FOR THE COMPILATION OF AN OFFICIAL GEOGRAPHY OF THE COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. STIEFEL offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, May 8, 1956.

Whereas, The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania comprises 45,045 square miles of forests, farm land, residential and industrial areas, campuses, historic sites, and vacation spots, traversed by a vast highway network of over 101,000 miles; and

Whereas, the waters of the Commonwealth include the great Delaware, Susquehanna, and Ohio river systems, as well as a number of lesser waters, and its mountains form part of the Appalachain chain; and

Whereas, The Commonwealth maintains a system of State Forests including 1,832,579 acres and 111 State Parks and picnic areas embracing 139,414 acres, which are annually visited by millions of Pennsylvanians and citizens of other states; and

Whereas, The more than eighty institutions of higher education in the Commonwealth draw students from throughout the United States and the world; and

Whereas, Thousands of visitors are drawn to Pennsylvania by the historic sites of Philadelphia and Gettysburg and others of importance in the history of our country and by the great Pennsylvania State Farm Show, the Pennsylvania National Horse Show, and other exhibitions; and

Whereas, No official geography of this great Commonwealth presently exists; therefore be it

Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring), That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to study the advisability and feasibility of establishing a commission for the compilation of an afficial geography of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, so that information on its land area, topography, waters, highways, industries, historic sites, institutions of higher learning, and natural resources may be made available to the public; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission report its findings and recommendations to the next regular session of the General Assembly, together with drafts of legislation necessary to carry such recommendations into effect.

REQUEST THAT RULE 39 BE SUSPENDED

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be dispensed with and the Senate proceed to the consideration of the foregoing resolution.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I understand that we are passing legislation which will enable the Joint State Government Commission to make a study on almost anything the Members would like to have studied. I feel that this legislation is going to pass. We passed it in the Senate and I understand that it will pass the House and probably will be signed by the Governor. The Joint State Government Commission then will be comprised of all the Members of the Senate and the House. They, no doubt, will have a lot of work to do and perhaps this will be one of the things they would like to study.

I feel that this is a resolution which should be referred to the Committee on Rules. If we find it worthwhile, tomorrow at our meeting we will give it very early consideration and probably report it out tomorrow. However, I do object to its immediate consideration at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. There being objection, this resolution is referred to the Committee on Rules.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. STIEFEL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. STIEFEL. May I just say, Mr. President, that the words of Senator Mahany have recently been couched in the most supurb optimism. He just painted a picture of a millennium, the millennium of millenniums. Anybody who needs a study, all he must say to the Joint State Government Commission is presto and the study will be undertaken, which I believe will not be the case. Of course, Senator Mahany also voices optimism about the deliberations of the Committee on Rules.

I have now a record of historical bills that fell by the wayside. I am now compiling a new record of resolutions that are in the Rules Committee and will not see the light of day.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER VOTE ON NOMINATION

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I desire to make a motion at this time. I now move that the Senate do reconsider the vote by which the nomination of Jacob H. Katz, Philadelphia County, failed of confirmation as a member of the State Board of Pharmacy.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair will state that the motion of the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, is out of order at this time. The Senate should be in Executive Session for reconsideration of the vote on an Executive Nomination.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER VOTE ON NOMINATION WITHDRAWN

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I withdraw my motion for reconsideration of the vote on this nomination, and I now yield to Senator Watson.

EXECUTIVE SESSION

Mr. WATSON. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now resolve itself into Executive Session.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE ON NOMINATION

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now reconsider the vote by which the nomination of Jacob H. Katz, Philadelphia County, failed of confirmation as a member of the State Board of Pharmacy.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I voted with the prevailing side.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I voted with the prevailing side.

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion to advise and consent to the nomination?

NOMINATION LAID ON THE TABLE

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I move that the nomination of Jacob H. Katz, Philadelphia County, as a member of the State Board of Pharmacy, be laid on the table.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

EXECUTIVE SESSION RISES

Mr. WATSON. Mr. President, I move that the Executive Session do now rise.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE AMENDMENTS

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 896, entitled:

An Act reenacting and amending the act of January 5, 1952 (P. L. 1833) entitled "An act to provide for the coverage of certain officers and employes of the Commonwealth and its political subdivisions under the old-age and survivor insurance provisions of Title II of the Federal Social Security Act as amended creating the State Agency and conferring powers and imposing duties upon the State Agency authorizing the State Agency to enter into agreements with the Federal Security administrator and with political subdivisions under certain terms and conditions providing for the Commonwealth's contribution under agreements with the Federal Security Administrator and for the collection and payment of employer and employe contributions authorizing interstate cooperation in certain cases creating a Contribution Fund and making appropriations" extending its provisions to include additional persons increasing contribution rates and providing for referenda and permitting modification of certain local retirement plans and making an additional appropriation. which was returned from the House of Representatives with amendments.

Said amendments having been twice read, and printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate concur in the same?

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I want to make a brief statement concerning Senate Bill No. 896, Printer's No. 680.

Mr. President, the said bill, as it passed the Senate, was amended in the House by striking out, on pages 14, 24 and 29 of the bill, the words "or by annuity contracts."

Altoona is the only city of the third class cities in this State that I believe has not adopted a retirement system, as provided by the Legislature, but has had for quite a number of years an annuity contract.

Mr. President, I have consulted with Attorney William G. Williams, Director of the Bureau of Social Security, and Attorney Henry Leader, and they have both assured me that the employees and officials of the city of Altoona will be provided with Social Security by the passage of Senate Bill No. 896, as amended.

Attorney Williams wrote me as follows:

"This will confirm the information I gave you by telephone this day.

"There is no question but that employes of municipalities which have retirement systems set up by way of annuity contracts of insurance are fully protected and have the same rights and privileges under Senate Bill 896 as employes of municipalities having other types of retirement systems. As to the definition of 'retirement system,' the Federal Social Security Act controls and that Act in Section 218 (b) (4) defines 'retirement system' as 'A pension, annuity, retirement, or similar fund or system established by a State or by a political subdivision thereof'."

Mr. President, my purpose in making this statement is to read into the Journal that it is the intent of the Legislature that any city which has an annuity contract will come within the contemplation of this bill.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate concur in the same?

SENATE CONCURS IN AMENDMENTS MADE BY THE HOUSE TO SENATE BILL No. 896

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. LANE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, today marks the day of the consummation of considerable effort on the part of the membership of the Senate on both sides, and the cooperation of the House, in passing a series of bills which will permit public employees to have the advantages of the Federal Social Security Act, integrated with their present retirement systems. Today we passed and concurred in Senate Bill No. 891, Senate Bill No. 892 and Senate Bill No. 896. In addition to that, Senate Bill No. 893 and Senate Bill No. 894 have already passed the House and Senate and are now in the hands of the Governor.

I do believe that the public employees in Pennsylvania, in all categories, are truely appreciative of the effort which was put forth here and I want the public as a whole to know that this legislation received the wholehearted cooperation of both sides of the Senate. I am quite sure the Governor is happy about this and he will be glad to sign this legislation.

Mr. President, public pension systems as a whole have not been adequate because people working in public government, generally speaking, are persons of limited income. I am not speaking of those in the higher echelons. When these public employees acquire the advantages of Social Security, it will mean that they will have a lot of security in the evening years of their life and it will do something to them because they will want to work in public government. I am pretty sure that these people all know that both the Democrats and the Republicans, as a whole, have been vitally interested in their welfare and I know they are thankful that we have passed this legislation.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 1792

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I submit the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 1792, entitled:

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 186, entitled as follows:

An Act amending the "Anthracite Strip Mining Law" approved June 27 1947 (P. L. 1095) changing security requirements and adding penalties.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MUSTO. Mr. Speaker, I want to explain the reason that House Bill 186 was released from the committee. We had a strip mine bill before this House which was passed and sent to the Senate. That bill was amended so that it did not give any protection whatsoever to the anthracite mine coal field.

Therefore, this bill that is before the House today, is only to correct what should have been corrected for a good many years. I ask the Members of this House, in fairness to the anthracite coal fields, that we pass this bill and send it over to the Senate and see if they might have a change of heart.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE POSTPONED

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. PETROSKY.

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of Senate Bill No. 467, entitled:

An Act providing for the creation and incorporation as municipal corporations of joint service districts by cities of the third class boroughs towns and townships to carry out certain of their municipal functions prescribing the officers and powers and duties of such districts and the duties of participating municipalities and conferring jurisdiction on courts of quarter sessions in connection therewith

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, this bill has been on the floor twice heretofore. It has been voted down by this House on two separate occasions.

This is the service district bill. This is the bill whereby the City of Philadelphia through a new type of supergovernment endeavors to stretch out over the surrounding counties.

I think this House has heard enough debate on this bill. I would like to point out one or two items which have developed since the time that this bill was before the House.

In the first place, Resolution No. 168, introduced in this House on April 9th by Messrs. Toll, Kolankiewicz and Pomeroy, memorializes this House to pass a resolution asking that the Governor establish a commission to study whether a service district type of government is needed.

In other words, the cart is way out in front of the horse. You are voting on a bill 467 today, when some of the people who have been fighting for the same bill have since the last fight introduced a resolution to see whether or not such legislation is needed.

I say this bill 467 should be defeated decisively. I would like to make a few entries into the record from the views of the Montgomery County Boroughs Associations on this subject. These are so much to the point that I would like to read these remarks.

At this moment the boroughs are faced with a most grave threat, their independence. A threat which has been made more deadly because it is masked in the guise of helpfulness, and because its proponents are completely self convinced that they are far better qualified to guide and govern our affairs than are the elected representatives of the people.

From the beginnings of our country, we have believed in local self government by the people to their elected representatives. We have not believed in government by a selected group of self tyled experts, whose members are not responsible to the people, where they do not have to stand for election and who are not accountable to the people.

I would like to finish this by reading:

> The time to fight this movement is now. If we delay longer it will become so fastened upon us that our efforts will be unavailing.
> The issue is simply this. Are the people of our local communities fit to continue to govern themselves through men chosen by themselves or are they not?

Ladies and gentlemen of this House that is the question. Are the local governments capable of self government? I leave it with you whether or not you desire to super-impose City Hall of Philadelphia's dream, the brain child of Mayor Clark and his planners, upon us. I ask you whether that is good government.

I ask, Mr. Speaker, for a slow roll call.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, here is a bill that came from the Senate with an almost unanimous vote, including the Senator from Delaware County. The vote was 49-0. At the time it came from the Senate it did not apply to Philadelphia. It applied to third class cities, townships and boroughs. The bill apparently was an idealistic one, otherwise the Senate would not have supported it with such strength. The only time it became debatable and controversial was when Philadelphia was added to the bill.

Here is a bill that is designed to help these smaller communities in the supply of water, in the collection and the treatment and disposal of sewage. How can you take a bill of this character, twist it into a monstrosity which will do the things which our friend from Delaware County says it will do just because the great city of Philadelphia is trying to get the benefits which are provided by this bill?

The last time this bill was debated there was a question of whether it was such a thing which could not be thrown off by the small communities. If you will examine the bill as I have, you will see that even if you get approval of the court, the community can withdraw from these projects which are so beneficial for their operation.

There is no attempt to take from the smaller community their own operation. This is the kind of a bill which will be helpful to them. It will give them the things which they cannot do with their own small funds. By combining with other communities it does not mean Philadelphia alone, this applies to other communities in central, western Pennsylvania, and northern Pennsylvania. There small bodies politic combined can do more things and better things for their people than they can do as they stand today. There is absolutely no effort to do anything to them which would hurt them or in any way be non-beneficial.

Now, just because Philadelphia is in the bill, Delaware county would have you believe that Philadelphia has special designs on Delaware county. Nothing can be farther from the truth.

It is true that there is a resolution on this calendar, which will be debated later, at which time I will present to you the reasons for appointing a special commission involving five counties for the study of the subject. It has nothing to do with this particular bill. This is a limited bill with considerable safeguard, with the right of withdrawal, with an approval by the electorate. You have a referendum. You have two methods of getting into it and you have a number of methods of getting out of it. There is nothing diabolical about it.

I hope the Members of the House will be statesmen, rather than politicians and realize that we are trying to develop our large urban communities as well as our small communities. We are trying to help the people of Pennsylvania. To vote against this bill is to take a strictly political viewpoint, a partisan viewpoint, a viewpoint that would definitely restrict the development of our communities.

I feel that the Members of the House should come out of their cocoons, take the broad and bold viewpoint of benefit for our communities and vote for this bill.

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to speak further on the bill.

May I remind the gentleman from Philadelphia that all kinds of objects come from cocoons, including worms and caterpillars, but we have heard some words from the gentleman from Philadelphia concerning a referendum.

I would like to remind the Members that under the bill, Sections 9 and 10, when this type of supergovernment is to be imposed upon the citizens, there is no provision that notice be given to the citizens of the filing of the report of the board of review. There is no notice whereby the citizens can protest against imposition of this super-government.

I again appeal to the men and women of this great body to disregard pretty words, disregard words that call his side statesmen and my side politicians, because we are here from the suburban counties fighting for the right of free men, the right of self-government.

I again ask you to vote against this bill and ask for a slow roll call.

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Toll, very briefly?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Toll, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TOLL. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inquire of the gentleman whether in adding to this bill the Philadelphia proposition they did not make further changes and change these political subdivisions into corporate bodies. I believe there were more things added to this bill than bringing Philadelphia under it.

Further—he might answer this all in one answer—could not these political subdivisions avail themselves of all these things by a majority vote without this bill? If so, why do we need the bill?

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the first question, the words "municipal corporations" were deleted and substituted by the words "bodies corporate and politic" so it would conform with similar bills of this nature creating authorities.

Secondly, a majority vote of the two communities that would be interested, we will say, in establishing a water authority would not accomplish a thing without this bill. The two communities together, without legislative authority from the General Assembly, could not create a water authority unless they proceeded under the general laws relating to authorities.

This particular bill, you know, is very limited in its nature, Mr. Speaker. It applies particularly to the service features of government and not necessarily, for instance, to public utility services which are excluded. There is no way I can see that two communities can by merely a majority vote set up an authority for the collection and disposal of garbage or sewage without specific authority from the General Assembly.

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, one word more, I believe these bodies could get together and make arrangements for the water and sewage between themselves without our imposing upon these people some possibly unwanted legislation.

I am like the gentleman Mr. Bell. I am suspicious of this bill as it now stands. I certainly would much rather see Resolution No. 168 enacted, have a study made and find out just where we do stand. I am just a little suspicious of the idea, Mr. Speaker. I believe the Members on this side of the House and the other side both would do well to vote this bill down and work for Resolution 168.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, may I answer the gentleman from Erie in this manner.

In the first place Resolution 168 applies to a commission with three residents from each of the five counties, including Philadelphia, and would not apply to Erie County. This particular bill would be especially beneficial to those communities which are not near Philadelphia.

Secondly, as far as the operation of the project is concerned, it is on a voluntary basis and people of the communities do not take it because this legislation has been passed, they take it because they want to join in. They do it voluntarily. As a matter of fact, Section 10 that has been referred to by my friend from Delaware County provides that even after the court has approved the project, within thirty days of approval a referendum can be taken upon application of ten per cent of the voters to set it aside. You have so many opportunties to either go in or stay out. This is strictly a "may" bill. I cannot see that there is any compulsion to operate under this bill. This is the extension of an opportunity to a community to develop itself.

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, just one more question. I would like to inquire of the gentleman if it is not a fact that Philadelphia now has a number of contractual agreements with Delaware County and several other political subdivisions where they do render these services?

Mr. TOLL. That is true, Mr. Speaker. Philadelphia now renders water and sewage service to a number of communities that are surrounding Philadelphia on a rental basis

This will give Philadelphia a greater opportunity to serve the surrounding communities and will give the same opportunity on a much larger basis and on a better scope to all of the communities of Pennsylvania. There are many communities that are not as well set as Philadelphia that can render a service on a rental basis to the surrounding smaller communities.

This bill was not designed especially for Philadelphia. This is a bill which came over from the Senate for the entire state in which Philadelphia desires to participate. Philadelphia had a bill of its own 1544, which is on the calendar. But this is not that bill, this is a bill which was designed for the smaller communities of Pennsylvania and in which Philadelphia desires to participate.

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, I think the gentleman would be well advised to let the bill go as it was when it came from the Senate. He tells about the vote in the Senate being 49-0, but we are not today voting on the bill which came from the Senate. We are voting on a bill which has been doctored to such a degree that they will not recognize their own child when they see it. I question whether this bill would have too good sailing over there if we did vote in favor of it.

He has already said Philadelphia does render these services now. If it already does, then why is Philadelphia concerned over this bill?

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I understand the sponsor of the bill in the Senate approves of the bill in its present form.

Secondly, he says this is a bill which has been doctored so that you cannot recognize it. I consider that expression of the gentleman from Erie so extravagant that any other expression he makes on the subject of doctoring should be considered with great suspicion. As I read English, all we have put in is the change from "municipal corporations" to "bodies corporate and politic," and all you put in is cities of the first class, if that is considered doctoring, then we have changed the English language.

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to correct the gentleman on one statement he made. Maybe his statements need checking.

I understand from very good authority that the sponsor of this bill is not in favor of the bill in its present form. I would like to see the bill passed over until we have further word on that, if he please.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I have the authority right here along the sideline. A representative from the city of Philadelphia just informed me that Senator Stevenson approved this bill - - -

The SPEAKER. The gentleman on the sidelines has no right to inform the gentleman who is now speaking of anything.

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Let's go ask Mr. Stevenson.

The SPEAKER. For what purpose does the gentleman from Westmoreland rise?

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, the Speaker called a point of order on the gentleman. I think the same thing would hold true on the other side for the advisory conference some of the others are holding.

The SPEAKER. The Chair wants again to inform all those sitting on the sidelines that they are guests of this House, here by sufferance, and they have no right at any time while this House is in session to approach the Members of the House. There are conference rooms where they can gather if they want to consult with Members of this House.

The Chair will ask the Sergeant-at-Arms to remove anyone who is interfering with any Member of this House while the House is in session.

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, for the information of the Chair and the Members of the House, no one interfered with me.

I would just like to offer the House this little added service. If they will just give me two minutes, or maybe three. I will take anyone with me who wants to go. I will go over to the Senate, I will talk with Senator Stevenson and come back with words as to whether they like this bill in its present form.

The SPEAKER. The proceeding would be out of order. There is nothing before the House but this bill, to be followed by a roll call.

Mr. WATERHOUSE. I would like to yield to Mrs. Donahue, if the Speaker please.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the lady from Clinton, Mrs. Donahue.

Mrs. DONAHUE. Mr. Speaker, I would just like to state for the information of the Members of the House that I did talk with my Senator, Senator Stevenson, as to this bill quite some time ago. He told me at that time to vote against the bill in its present form and he has not informed me—

The SPEAKER. The conveying of information from the other House is distinctly out of order. It is not a matter of concern to the Members of this House what any Senator thinks about a pending measure. The matter is solely within the jurisdiction of this House to decide.

Mr. ISAACS. Mr. Speaker, I am rather amused by the statement of the gentleman from Philadelphia concerning his helpfulness to the County of Delaware, and particularly by the fact that he mentioned the subject of water.

In the County of Delaware I think without exception we have about the finest water in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. In the County of Philadelphia, and I am pretty familiar with it, they are still drinking "Schuylkill Punch."

As to the bill under consideration, I shall not debate it at length, but I previously said on the floor of this House the approach and the manner in which these service districts would be instituted and put over on a community does, and I think it bears repeating, remind me of a thief in the night. If we want to be sincere and straightforward about this kind of legislation, if we want it, then in my opinion it should be put on the ballot for a referendum by the voters to vote whether or not they want it.

I ask the Members on both sides of this House to vote "no" on this bill.

On the question recurring,

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the bill falls.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. PETROSKY.

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1978, entitled:

An Act relating to and defining food providing for the protection of the public health the prevention of fraud and deception by prohibiting the manufacture offering for sale exposing for sale or having in possession with intent to sell adulterated misbranded or deleterious foods conferring powers and imposing duties upon State and county officials and providing penalties

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. AGNEW. We voted on this bill before and it was defeated. The reason we opposed this bill is very simple. It is a comprehensive modification of the basic food law in Pennsylvania. The bill was drafted by a conglomeration of pseudo-experts brought in by the administration who are truly expert in theory but have had no practicable knowledge of the good processing industry.

We believe a bill that is this important, which is a matter of basic legislation for the people of Pennsylvania, all parties having a basic interest in the food processing industry should be called in and should be consulted for their ideas and suggestions.

If this is the present administration's method of amending the basic law in any given industrial field, then say so and we will know where we stand. We believe that these experts in theory should sit down with the experts in practice who must live daily with the provisions of the food processing laws of the Commonwealth.

We think this matter should be given further study between now and the first of the year. Call in those who must live with the basic law of the Commonwealth, call in the food processing industry and get their ideas on this very important and comprehensive change in the basic law.

Mr. LIGHT. Mr. Speaker, on March 13th I spoke to the Members of this House opposing the passage of this bill. Then the bill failed of passage, and I shall not repeat any of the remarks I made on that day. I simply wish to call attention to a few things which the membership of this House should remember.

First, those interested in the passage of this bill place emphasis on the fact that the food laws of Pennsylvania should conform to those of the Federal Government. I would like to call attention to the fact that many statements have been made, which are true, that the food laws of Pennsylvania in many respects are superior to the food laws of other states as well as to some parts of the Federal laws.

I want to quote to this House, the statement made by our own Secretary of Agriculture on March 1, 1956, when he spoke to the Pennsylvania Bakers Association. On that day he pointed out there is a printed legend reading "Reg. Penn. Dept. Agr." which tends to give assurance of a quality bakery product to housewives of Pennsylvania and many other states.

The Secretary told the Pennsylvania Bakers Association that the imprint must appear on every package or container of bakery products sold or offered for sale in Pennsylvania, including those from bakeries in other states. The legend means, the Secretary said, that the issuing bakery is state inspected and its products, including bread, are, and I am quoting further from Dr. Henning's statement, "Registered with the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture."

Pennsylvania bakery and many other food laws are regarded as more stringent than those of other states and even the Federal laws. The Department last year registered a record 3,120 Pennsylvania and 724 out-of-state bakeries that sell products within the State, all with the imprint of "Reg. Penna. Dept. Agr.," except in some instances where code numbers are used. I continue the quotation from the Secretary.

> Housewives in Pennsylvania are familiar with the package or wrapper imprint. Many food shoppers in other states are now looking for the legend and will make no mistake in buying a product which comes from a bakery that is inspected regularly by the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture.
> Pennsylvania has more bakeries than any other state, about one-tenth of all in the United States.

It should be stated again that the Pennsylvania Bakers Association opposes House Bill 1978, Printer's No. 1377, and I quote from their letter:

> We feel that this is rather undue haste on major legislation of this kind and that much more consideration should be given to this bill before it is enacted. Only a very few legislators can be familiar with all the issues involved. May we submit, therefore, that further action on this bill be postponed until either the legislature or the Department of Agriculture has had ample opportunity to confer with all interested parties.

On March 19, 1956, the State Senate of Pennsylvania passed Senate Resolution, Serial No. 12A, directing the Joint State Government Commission to study and investigate the safeguarding of the health of the citizens of the Commonwealth, both through the prevention of manufacture and sale of misbranded, adulterated, unwholesome, or deleterious foods.

Since the membership of this House is not familiar with the terms and meaning of House Bill 1978, Printer's No. 1377, it is believed that a course similar to that of the State Senate should be pursued by this House in order to accomplish the ends to be obtained in the revision of the Pennsylvania food laws without disrupting the capable food laws we now have.

I would again ask this House, both sides of the House, to vote against this bill which is not ready for amendment by the people of this State.

Mr. OLSEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to be recorded as voting "aye."

The SPEAKER. The Chair is under the impression that someone answered when the gentleman's name was originally called. If the gentleman had not appeared during the roll call, the Chair was going to make inquiry as to—

Mr. OLSEN. Mr. Speaker, I am answering the call now and voting "aye."

The SPEAKER. The Chair is informing the gentleman that someone answered to his name, and counsels the Members not to answer for absentees.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

BILL ON THIRD READING POSTPONED

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. READINGER.

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1217, entitled:

An Act amending the act of July 12 1913 (P. L. 711) entitled "An act establishing a court for the county of Philadelphia prescribing its jurisdiction and powers providing for the service of its writs process or warrants by the proper officers of the county or city of Philadelphia regulating the procedure therein and appeals therefrom and providing for the expenses thereof" increasing the number of judges of the Municipal Court of Philadelphia

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, the bill you are about to consider involves the Municipal Court of the City of Philadelphia. It is not the same court which we were considering a couple of weeks ago and which was the subject of questioning and debate.

This court was organized in 1913 and especially applies in Philadelphia to matters relating to minors, juveniles, domestic relations and smaller civil cases. In the last 40 years it has grown to be one of the outstanding courts of its kind in the entire country and is an example in the administration of justice for the benefit of women and children.

The President Judge of the Municipal Court today is the daughter of the first President Judge who was inaugurated in 1913. Hazel Brown is the daughter of the late Charles Brown.

I have here in my hand a letter from the chief probation officer, the Director of Probation in the Municipal Court, who wrote in response to a question concerning the number of cases involving social problems which are now in the court, and who compared it with 1951, the last year in which there had been an increase in the number of judges.

The Court now has 14 judges. The request is made to increase the number by three. He says that in 1951 the number of cases disposed of through court hearing or trial was 28,206. In 1955, 34,888; an increase of 6,000 cases. One of the most spectacular increases occurred in the juvenile division, where cases of juvenile delinquency alone increased; now will you please pay attention to this number to see the startling increase in the number of juvenile delinquency cases, 6,497 in 1951; 10,145 cases in 1955.

In the domestic relation division the increase was only a couple of thousand cases, 9,751 and 11,955.

Now, imagine juvenile cases coming before a judge so that a hundred of them are put on the list for one day. How can such cases be disposed of without an adequate increase in the judiciary to give the families an adequate and complete trial in order that they may present their cases in full?

I am asking you to go along with Philadelphia on the increase of judges of this particular court because it is not a court where they can grant masterships, or where they controlled any patronage, it is a social service court. It is a court for the benefit of an entire community. I hope that you will help us in our administration of justice for the benefit of those involved in domestic problems and juveniles and give us a vote for this bill.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I am not going to dwell at length in connection with this bill. I think the facts and figures in connection with it were brought to light some few weeks ago in a debate on another contemplated court bill.

However I should like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Toll, in connection with certain phases of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Toll, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TOLL. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, who pays the judges salaries for the Municipal Court judges?

Mr. TOLL. The judges of the Municipal Court are paid from the Commonwealth General Fund.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Who provides the court rooms and office space for Municipal Court purposes?

Mr. TOLL. The court rooms and the office space are provided by the city of Philadelphia.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Who provides the help for the Municipal Court judges?

Mr. TOLL. The personnel of the Municipal Court is provided for by the city of Philadelphia.

Mr. TOMPKINS. The probation officers, as well?

Mr. TOLL. The probation officers are on the city payroll.

Mr. TOMPKINS. How many employes would the three additional Municipal Court judges entail?

Mr. TOLL. In this particular court it will not require many additional employes. They have a pool of court criers, a pool to tipstaves and a pool of stenographers, because this is different from a common pleas court. The entire court operates under one President judge and the addition of three judges is merely an addition to the same court. Each Common Pleas Court, you will recall, has a separate President judge and separate staffs. I believe each judge will get a secretary and there is a possibility that they may require an additional tipstaff, but the court is today shorthanded, I will say, in probation officers but pretty well equipped in tipstaves and criers.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know, I read an article in the paper a few days ago, whereby there was a deal proposed to be set up in connection with these Philadelphia judges. I am asking, Mr. Speaker, whether or not the gentleman from Philadelphia knows of any proposed deals of any kind in connection with any additional courts in Philadelphia?

Mr. TOLL. I know of no deals which have been made in connection with any additional courts in Philadelphia.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know if the gentleman from Philadelphia saw that article in the paper which mentioned the question of probable deals?

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I do not recall seeing such an article.

Mr. TOMPKINS. That is all, Mr. Speaker. I do not propose to debate this bill at any length. All I am asking is that there has been no need or justification shown to the Members of this House for three additional Municipal Court judges in the city of Philadelphia, and I am asking that this bill providing for three additional judges be voted down.

The SPEAKER. The Chair requests the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Helm, to preside for a few minutes.

Mr. HELM IN THE CHAIR.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I do not know but it seems to me the Members of this House should be concerned with the quality of justice just as much as they are concerned with the quantity of justice. Further, the Members of this House should not vote on a bill dealing with judges simply on the basis of cost. Justice is an expensive thing sometimes, but it is a necessary thing.

The quality of justice is a very important factor in our courts. I am not a man of much experience in trial work, but in my time I have noticed that the quality of justice decreases as the workload of the court and the judges increases.

I have already seen where a court because of the load has said to members of the bar and the district attorney, "In this particular case the court limits each side to two witnesses," without regard to whether or not the defense could be properly prepared in that particular case by merely calling two witnesses, and without regard to whether or not the district attorney could present a proper case using only two witnesses. I have seen members of the bar compelled to go to trial with their cases prepared in an incomplete manner because of the workload of the court.

I am also informed that in Philadelphia decisions are handed down but opinions are not written. The courts in Philadelphia because of the lack of time do not write opinions to substantiate and explain their decisions. When an appeal is taken it is necessary for the attorney taking the appeal to go to the court and say, "Judge, we intend to appeal this decision of yours. Therefore, will you please write an opinion."

I think that decisions handed down by our courts without opinions being written affect the quality of justice. I do not believe that it is fair.

I do not believe it is fair for this House to consider voting on a judge bill on the basis of politics, nor do I believe it is fair to pass and vote on a judge bill on the basis of expense.

Nevertheless, the city council of Philadelphia has adopted a resolution in which they find there is a need for new municipal court judges and the city council of Philadelphia has agreed to take on the additional expense involved in that connection.

I am informed also that the board of judges of Philadelphia, the men who should know, have agreed that Philadelphia county needs new judges. I am informed further that the bar association of Philadelphia had a committee which inquired into the subject of judges and they also adopted a resolution setting forth the need for additional judges in Philadelphia.

I believe that we in this House should be guided by the bar association, by the judges and by the people in Philadelphia who know best whether or not new judges are needed.

During the last debate on this particular subject of judges in Philadelphia the question of population was raised. That again is no indication of whether or not new judges are needed in a particular area, because as the ratio or as the density of the population increases, it is more likely that cases will arise in that community which would not arise in sparsely populated areas.

We also find that many people go to the larger communities to commit their acts of depredation, to commit their criminal acts. There are by far many more criminal cases arising in Philadelphia than there are in other communities. There are far more crimes committed in Philadelphia by people who do not actually live in Philadelphia than there are in any other community. So it is not fair to decide the need for new judges on the basis of population.

In this connection we have heard from the gentleman from Cameron county, Mr. Tompkins, and while he may be able to discuss this subject in generalities, I think we should hear from the gentleman from Philadelphia, the Minority Leader, Mr. Smith.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Smith.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Smith, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inquire of the gentleman whether he knows of the resolution I have referred to as having been adopted by the council of the city of Philadelphia?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I am afraid I do not, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOPRESTI. I would inquire whether the gentleman from Philadelphia has made any effort to find out the attitude of the bar association of Philadelphia and also the attitude of the board of judges of Philadelphia on this question?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, in the past when the bar association or city council had anything in mind that they were interested in they saw fit to see me. Up to this point I have talked to nobody from the bar association. I have had no letters, to my knowledge, nor have I had any contact with any of the judges, none of them have contacted me and said they have been overworked and there was a tremendous need.

I do not believe it is my duty to see them. In the past it has always been their duty to see us as Legislators.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Does the gentleman know from reading the Press that such actions as I have outlined have been taken?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I did not see anything in it from city council about the resolution the gentleman is talking about.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Is not the gentleman from Philadelphia interested in the question of courts for Philadelphia?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I certainly am.

Mr. LOPRESTI. You, however, feel it is not your business to inquire as to what action the bar association——

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I did not say that. I said in the past they have made it their business to see me.

Mr. LOPRESTI. This time they did not make it their business to see you?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. If they were considerably interested in it, I would assume they would see me or contact me in some way.

Mr. LOPRESTI. However, the gentleman does not feel he should make any inquiry on his part?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I have not made any. I did not say I did not feel as though I should.

I can say this, that the courts were very interested in contacting me on the salary bill, time after time after time.

Mr. LOPRESTI. I thank the gentleman for a voluntary——

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I did not go to them about the salary bill, they came to me.

Mr. LOPRESTI. I imagine they would.

I would like to ask the gentleman a couple more questions, if I may?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Smith, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Does the gentleman question that the action has taken place that I have referred to? Does he question that that action has taken place?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. No, I do not. I certainly would not question the gentleman's veracity or the veracity of any other Member of the House. I do not want to single out the one gentleman for being truthful on that side.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Does the gentleman know who the members of the committee of the bar association were who passed on this question, or who that committee was?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. No, not being a lawyer, I have no axe to grind with the bar association. I might recognize the names of the gentlemen if he would be kind enough to read them, but I do not know them offhand.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Is the gentleman from Philadelphia acquainted with Mr. Marshall Morgan?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I certainly have a speaking acquaintance with him, although Mr. Marshall Morgan, being one of my good friends, has never contacted me in regard to it.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Is the gentleman acquainted with a gentleman by the name of Morton Witkin of Philadelphia?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I believe I am.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Does the gentleman know that these men are both interested members of his own party?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I did not quite hear the last part of that question?

Mr. LOPRESTI. Interested members of his own party?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I would say as far as Mr. Morgan is concerned I believe he is still a resident of the city of Philadelphia. I think you might inquire of Mr. Rubin whether or not Mr. Witkin is a member of our party in Philadelphia at this time? I do not believe he resides there any more.

Mr. LOPRESTI. It is not a question of where he resides. Is he a member of your party, to the best of your knowledge?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I would not know. The last time I knew he was. I do not know what he might be, but I imagine he is still a Republican.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Those gentlemen were members of the gentleman's party and were members of the committee who recommended the additional judges on the part of the bar association. Would he say they were politically minded?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I do not believe that judges enter into politics. I do not see where being a member of a party—is it only the Republicans who are asking for this? I would assume that any committee of the bar would be a bipartisan committee.

Mr. LOPRESTI. That is correct, and that is the very point I wanted to make. That is all. I thank the gentleman.

That is the very point I wanted to make. This committee on the part of the bar association that recommended these new judges to be added to the courts of Philadelphia was a bipartisan committee, and very influential members of the opposition party were on that committee. I believe the committee's recommendation, therefore, was made above politics and on the basis of need.

For that reason I think this House should vote for this bill.

Mr. SHERMAN. I think it quite important, especially for my sake and for the sake of all of the Members of this House, to be devoid of politics when we consider a bill in favor of the children of this Commonwealth. We must bear in mind that the Municipal Court of our city of Philadelphia deals with juvenile problems and one of their main interests is that of juvenile delinquency, and a vote against this bill is a vote in favor of juvenile delinquency.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. BANKER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, yesterday afternoon during our big hassle, I made a few doodles intending to make comment following the argument, but when that non debatable question was debated for an hour, I was cheated of my time, so I am going to read a few jingles that I marked down at that time. This is entitled:

ROLL CALL OR I WONDER WHAT THE OLD FOLKS THINK BACK HOME

'Twas the first week in May
And all through the House
Not a darned thing was doing
That would frighten a mouse

The good bills were stymied
On the calendar with care
Awaiting the day
That a quorum be there

Al Readinger in his corner
"Hi," ready to snap
While the rest of their colleagues
Were enjoying a nap

When out of the quiet
"Hi" came up a roarin
"To hell with this stuff
We still need a quorum"

Then up sprang McCormack
With a new gimmick crack
"Let's send the State Police
To bring all of them back

So a roll call was taken
Of each in his seat
But the major proportion
Developed cold feet

That's the way it's been going
The whole show is absurd
With most of us scared
To stand up and be heard

BILL ON THIRD READING POSTPONED

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. READINGER.

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of Senate Bill No. 316, entitled·

An Act amending the act of March 30, 1917 (P. L. 21) entitled "An act defining optometry and relating to the right to practice optometry in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and making certain exceptions and providing a Board of Optometrical Education Examination and Licensure and means and methods whereby the right to practice optometry may be obtained and providing for the means to carry out the provisions of this act and providing for revocation or suspension of licenses given by said board and providing penalties for violations thereof and repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent therewith" regulating the advertising of products used for ophthalmic purposes and providing penalties for violation thereof

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. STROUP. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Title, page 2, last two lines of Title, by striking out both of said lines and inserting in lieu thereof: "providing penalties for certain false advertising of products used for ophthalmic purposes."

Amend Sec. 1, page 2, line 1, by striking out "2" and inserting in lieu thereof "9."

Amend Sec. 1, page 2, line 10, by striking out "19 1923 (P L 260)" and inserting in lieu thereof: "25, 1937 (P. L. 795)".

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 2), page 2, lines 11 to 14, page 3, lines 1 to 19 and page 4, lines 1 to 6, by striking out all of said lines.

Amend Sec. 2, page 4, lines 7 and 8, by striking out both of said lines.

Amend Sec. 2 (Sec. 9), page 6, line 10, by inserting after "purposes": "with intent not to sell at the price or prices advertised, or which includes any untrue, false or misleading statements."

Amend Sec. 2 (Sec. 9), page 6, line 12, by striking out "five hundred dollars ($500)" and inserting in lieu thereof: "one thousand dollars ($1000)."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. STROUP. Now, ladies and gentlemen, if I may be granted the courtesy of your undivided attention for just a few moments, I should like first of all to explain the effect of the proffered amendments upon Senate Bill 316.

First of all, we have changed by amendment the prior amendment to the optometry act by having the title read: "providing penalties for certain false advertising of products used for optometric purposes."

The second amendment on page 2, Section 1, inserts Section 9 as being amended instead of Section 2.

The third amendment on line 10 of page 2, changes the bill as being amended to correspond with the Act of 1937, the amendatory Act of 1937, instead of the amendatory Act of 1933.

The first amendment to this bill is on page 2, lines 11 and all of page 3, which takes out the original amendment to Section 2, inasmuch as Section 2 is now not at all amended, primarily because the change that was made in the bill after it was first written does not amend Section 2 at all.

The fifth amendment to this bill is on page 4. We have there taken out an amendment to Section 9 of the bill instead of amending Section 2, because Section 2 is not amended.

The last and important amendment to this bill is on page 6, and this I would like to ask your attention for, ladies and gentlemen. It is on line 10 of page 6 and we have inserted there the following language:

> "with intent not to sell at the price or prices advertised, or which includes any untrue, false or misleading statements."

Now, my fellow Members of the House, I want to speak briefly on the purpose of these amendments.

Senate Bill 316, to my way of thinking, is a rather important bill not only insofar as its practical application is concerned, but to a greater extent because of its far reaching effect. The advocates of the bill have endeavored to protect the general public from fraud, but in their zeal they have prohibited every vendor of eye glasses in the state of Pennsylvania from advertising any price.

Let me say first of all, that I do not disagree with the proponents of this bill, if their sole objective is the correction of misrepresentation and deceit in the sale of spectacles, frames and mountings.

I offer these amendments, ladies and gentlemen, solely motivated by the fact that Senate Bill 316, controvenes my understanding and belief in the inherent rights of an individual businessman in a freely competitive society.

In order to better understand the purpose of the amendments I should like to review, if you will permit me, some of the provisions of the original Act, passed in 1917. You are all aware that until Senate Bill 316 appeared upon the calendar, the optometrist law applied only to the practice of optometry. Page 2 of that bill, Section 2, states: and I quote as follows:

> It shall not be lawful for any person in this Commonwealth to attempt to determine by examination of the eyes, the kind of glasses needed by any person or to hold himself out as able to examine the eyes of any person for the purpose of fitting the same with glasses, unless he secures a license from the Board of Optometry.

It is apparent, therefore, that any person who attempts to examine eyes for the purpose of fitting glasses is practicing optometry and it follows that the sale of glasses in itself is not the practice of optometry.

On page 4 of Senate Bill 316, Section 9 of the original act, we find that the State Board of Optometry Examiners shall revoke the license of any optometrist who advertises prices and I quote:

> for professional service or glasses or other appurtenances used in the practice of the profession of optometry.

This clause relating to restriction of the advertising of prices by optometrists was inserted into the Act by an amendment of this Legislature in 1937.

Originally, the Act of 1917, that is the original optometry Act, Section 12, thereof, exempted licensed physicians and surgeons from the provisions of the Act, and in 1937, the provision against price advertising was inserted in Section 9 of the law in order to make it possible to revoke the license of an optometrist if he advertised prices for professional services or glasses or other appurtenances. The Legislature also, and note this please, inserted in Section 12 of the Act at that time an exemption, and I quote it:

> extending to persons selling spectacles and eyeglasses but who do not assume directly or indirectly to adapt them to the eye, nor practice or profess to practice optometry.

In other words, ladies and gentlemen of the House, the Legislature of 1937 refused to permit price advertising restrictions to apply to all sellers of spectacles, eyeglasses, mountings and frames.

The present amendment to Section 9, as set forth in Senate Bill 316, is in direct conflict with Section 12 of this Act. Moreover, a section of the original Act limits the application of the Act to the practice of optometry.

Senate Bill 316 now extends the provisions of this Act to all vendors of eyeglasses any place in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. It certainly appears without any contradiction that this bill takes the optometry Act far beyond its original intention.

Now, the amendments that I have offered this afternoon to Senate Bill 316 are designed to bring it into conformity with House Bill 1294, which is the Anti-Bait-Advertising law passed by this House and signed by the Governor on March 1st. As I stated before, Senate Bill 316 as it is presently before you without the amendments which I have offered, prohibits the advertising of prices of frames, mountings, lenses, spectacles or eyeglasses by any sellers of these products in Pennsylvania.

There are many of us in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania who are opposed to this type of legislation because we believe it is contrary to the principles of a freely competitive society.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman yield? The Chair hesitates about interrupting the gentleman, but the gentleman's debate should be limited to the discussion of his amendments to the bill. If the gentleman desires to discuss the amendments offered he may proceed.

Mr. STROUP. Mr. Speaker, I am discussing the amendments offered under the text which I am using. I am not discussing the merits of the bill. In order to discuss the amendments I must point out the effect of the amendments on the bill.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. STROUP. It certainly appears that if a legitimate product can be sold in Pennsylvania, then certainly it should be possible to be legally advertised in Pennsylvania.

Now, I believe that the primary purpose of the proponents of Senate Bill 316 is to eliminate false and misleading advertising and price "bait" advertising in Pennsylvania.

If such is the purpose and obective then I submit that such advertising is effectively curtailed and deterred in Section 537 of the Pennsylvania Advertising Law and also effectively deterred in House Bill 1294, the Anti-Bait Advertising Bill.

If, however, the proponents of the bill are not satisfied that those deterrents protect the purchasing public, which are practically the only protection afforded, then I offer these amendments which incorporate the protective features in this bill.

If the bill itself is designed, however, to extend the ethics and the prohibitions which the members of the society have so admirably imposed upon themselves—to all sellers of glasses—then it may limit competition, and for that reason the amendments are offered to the bill rather than vote against the bill.

I believe the bill in itself has excellent purpose but without these amendments it extends the provisions of the bill much too far afield. I ask you, therefor, in the interest of all business in Pennsylvania and particularly in the interest of all businesses of eyeglasses that are not members of the Optometrical Society, to vote for these amendments.

Mr. KOLANKIEWICZ. Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House, about two months ago when the amendments were offered to me I just had one sheet, now today I find we have about ten sheets and I do not know how many corrections.

However, as to the effect of the amendments, I do want to say that it ruins the bill as it is today. The Optometrists cannot advertise price—price advertising. That is one thing they are curtailing and they want to curtail it within their own profession.

These amendments as offered, as I heard them read, permit the optometrists themselves to advertise, price advertise, which we do not allow in our profession, and I think if these amendments are passed, they are going to demoralize and degrade the profession of optometry.

I do want to say that a great many of you recall many years ago, when the fight was on for price advertising, you never knew what you could have, what you could receive and it is done today when they do advertise prices and we cannot stop it because they are not optometrists. If they were optometrists we could stop them. However, you call in and you can get eyeglasses for $8.50 but by the time you come out—figure it out for yourself. I am sure we do not want that kind of legislation in the optometric law. Therefore, ladies and gentlemen, I ask you to vote these amendments down.

Mr. STROUP. I just wish to answer briefly the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Kolankiewicz, who referred to the bill.

He will find we have carefully preserved in these amendments the right of the Board of Optometry to exercise its jurisdiction of suspension and revocation against the members of that society, the licensed optometrists, if they should advertise prices.

The amendments to the bill in no way whatsoever affect that provision in the law, they very carefully have avoided that. As a consequence if you pass these amendments you do not affect the Board of Optometry or its powers of revocation and suspension.

By the way, Mr. Speaker, as somewhat of a novice in this House, I must offer an apology to Mr. Kolankiewicz. I revised these amendments some days ago and did fail to give him a copy of the revised amendments. The purpose of the revisions of the amendments was to make it possible for the Board of Optometry to still supervise the members of their society if they advertised prices.

These amendments do but one thing, they merely inflict penalties upon all vendors of eyeglasses, including the members of the Optometrist Society, if they make false or misleading statements insofar as their advertising is concerned.

I assure you that I have given careful attention to that particular provision and the statement made by the good Doctor from Philadelphia is not valid.

Mr. KOLANKIEWICZ. I would like to ask the Minority and the Majority Floor Leaders, whether they received copies of the amendments?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair notices that both Floor Leaders are busy on the telephone. Perhaps they are talking to each other.

Mr. KOLANKIEWICZ. Mr. Speaker, may I ask a question of Mr. Stroup?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Bedford, Mr. Stroup, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STROUP. I will answer the question, Mr. Speaker.

I think I have stated before that I did not give a copy of the revised amendments, through my neglect, to either the Minority Floor Leader or the Majority Floor Leader, nor did I provide the gentleman with one. I apologize to you for that, my friend.

However, that is why I took the trouble and carefully explained the effect the amendments would have on the Act.

If my apologies are not sufficient for leaving you ill-advised, that is the best I can do. I am very sorry.

Mr. KOLANKIEWICZ. Mr. Speaker, I received a copy of the amendments which only consisted of one page. That is why I stated I would ask the House to vote against the amendments.

Mr. STROUP. Mr. Speaker, I request a slow roll call.

Mr. ROVANSEK. Mr. Speaker, is a roll call necessary on the amendments? I request a division.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. It is necessary and has been asked for by a Member of the House.

Mr. ROVANSEK. Has it been seconded.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Seconded by the gentleman from Forest, Mr. Davis, the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Agnew.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

So the question was determined in the negative and the amendments were not concurred in.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STROUP. Mr. Speaker, if you will give me just a few minutes.

Now that the amendments have fallen if you vote for Senate Bill 316 as it is presently written, you are going to vote to eliminate competition in the sale of eyeglasses, mountings and frames throughout Pennsylvania.

This to my mind is a step in the wrong direction. If we are going to make it possible by act of this Legislature to prohibit the advertising of prices in a particular commodity field, that being discriminatory in itself in this field, then we would have the right to prohibit advertising of prices in all commodity fields. It certainly is a step in the wrong direction.

It seems to me, and I say this without too much certainty, that the bill itself will eliminate all competition and only those who are in the field of optometry will be able eventually to handle the sale of eyeglasses, mountings and frames.

No man can advertise at what price he will sell these frames, or eyeglasses, or mountings, otherwise it is a crime and a penalty is imposed upon that particular vendor.

I ask you in the interest of fairness, in the interest of open and free competition in our Commonwealth, to vote down this bill.

Mr. KOLANKIEWICZ. Mr. Speaker, I am not going to debate the bill any further. I do know you recognize the profession of optometry, its standards and what they are trying to do for the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

I ask you to vote in favor of this bill, Senate Bill 316.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I do not want to debate this bill, but it seems to me when the gentleman from Bedford, Mr. Stroup, was discussing the amendments he said he agreed the bill was a pretty good one, or words to that effect.

I would like to ask the gentleman, Mr. Speaker, whether that is correct?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Bedford, Mr. Stroup, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STROUP. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I ask the gentleman whether during the debate on the amendments he made the statement, in effect, that he agreed the bill was a good bill?

Mr. STROUP. I think the gentleman misunderstood me. I am sure he did. My statement was that the bill, it it had as its purpose purely the control of deceitful or fraudulent advertising, was a good bill. The only way that could be controlled would be by inserting the amendments so that false, misleading and deceitful advertising would be made a penalty under the bill.

I pointed out that under our present laws, particularly the Pennsylvania Advertising law and the Anti-Bait Advertising law, there is sufficient protection. If the proponents of the bill want additional protection simply for this particular commodity field, then we would submit the amendments.

The bill as presently written without the amendments is a bad bill because it flies in the face of free and open competition in our Commonwealth.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I desire the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, to be recognized at this time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Does the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger, desire to make a motion before the Chair recognizes the gentleman from McKean?

Mr. READINGER. No, I do not, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I do not know whether this is the proper time to make the request, but at the proper time I want to request that the House do concur in the amendments inserted in House Bill 1311 by the Senate.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman is in order and this would be the proper time. Does the gentleman desire to the recognized?

Mr. JOHNSON. Yes, I request that the House do concur in the amendments inserted by the Senate and I would like to be recognized for the purpose of making a few remarks.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. PETROSKY. I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, on the request of the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, in event that the amendments are not concurred in what would be the position of the bill?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. It is the opinion of the Chair that the status of the bill would be governed by House Rule 83. If the Chair may be permitted, he will read the Rule:

> Concurring in House Bills Amended by the Senate.
> When a bill or joint resolution that originated in the House has passed the Senate with amendments, the section of the bill as amended, together with the amendments, shall be read by the Clerk, after which reading the proposed amendments shall be open to the action of the House. If no action is taken by the House, the Speaker shall, without a motion put the question, "Will the House concur in the amendment (or amendments) made by the Senate?" and the vote be immediately taken by yeas and nays. The number of votes shall be required to concur in the amendment (or amendments) as were required originally to pass the bill or joint resolution in the House. The House shall not take any action on bills or joint resolutions that have been returned by the Senate as amended, until copies of the bill or joint resolution as amended have been printed and placed on the desks of the Members, as required by the Constitution Article III, Section 5.

The Chair is of the opinion that would be the status of the bill.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, we have before us today the question of concurrence in Senate amendments to House Bill 1311. This is one of the most important pieces of legislation of the session, namely, the allocation of state funds to municipalities for road building and maintenance.

Briefly, the amendments inserted by the Senate do the following:

They provide for a permanent annual allocation of $30 million to our municipalities to be paid for from three sources, 20 per cent of four and one-half cents of the liquid fuel tax, or nine-tenths of a cent.

It also says that money available to the municipalities by Act 18A of September 3, 1955, shall be available for this purpose. Then the proposed amendments by the Senate further go on to say that if this nine-tenths of a cent together with the balance of unallocated funds from Act 18A are insufficient, the deficiency shall be made up out of the Motor License Fund.

There is another important feature in this bill which the Senate has inserted and that is that there is a permanent allocation of the money on a 60-40 basis, 60 per cent on mileage and 40 per cent on population. There is a further feature in the bill that 20 per cent of the money is on a matching basis, that is the township, city or borough, must match 20 per cent of the money on a 50-50 basis and it can be used for road improvement only.

This bill, as amended by the Senate, passed the Senate by a vote of 49-0. It was the result of a compromise entered into by both parties in the Senate and following tacit approval by the municipalities in their earnest desire to obtain quick action on this very important measure.

For some unknown reason, despite this agreement and compromise in the Senate, we have had word that the Governor's office has asked for a non-concurrence in these amendments.

We say it is high time that the local municipalities receive what has been promised them for local highway construction and maintenance, and it is high time that the Legislature asserts itself and calls the Governor's bluff in this instance.

I will tell you what I think the opposition to the bill is as far as the Governor's office is concerned. I believe he says we have not provided the money, that is to say, we have not raised the license fees from $10 to $15 nor have we raised the ceiling on the Highway and Bridge Authority which would give the Motor License Fund additional monies to make up for the allocation during this biennium of $60 million to the municipalities for road building and maintenance.

Our answer to this argument that we have not furnished the money is as follows:

In the first place, we say that the total income, or total budget, of the Highway Department this biennium will be $653 million, not $603 million as estimated by Secretary Lawler recently and not $494 million as the Governor estimated in his budget.

This increase is due mainly to several things. One is that the gasoline and fuels tax will bring in $316.8 million, not $242.4 as budgeted, and the Motor License Fund, that is, for truck license and car licenses, we estimate from figures received that the take will be $190 million, not $127 million as estimated in the Governor's budget.

I am not casting any reflections on the figures in the Governor's budget because since his budget was announced we have raised substantially the truck fees, there has been a tremendous increase in the registration of new and used cars, also, we have put an other penny of gasoline tax and there is approximately a 10 per cent increase in the consumption of gasoline with a corresponding 10 per cent increase in the revenue from the gasoline tax.

For instance, Secretary Gleeson the other day said he is very proudly mailing out 750,000 applications for truck licenses and tractor-trailer licenses during May as compared with 658,000 last year, which means that during this month of May there will be $25 million received from truck licenses alone, which is a big increase over last year not only because there are more of them, but because we have raised their fees.

Here is another reason why we say you have the money and we do not have to raise the ceiling on the Highway and Bridge Authority or raise registration fees. On May 1, 1956, this May 1st, the balance in the Motor License Fund was $93.6 million, being government bonds of $71 million and cash of $22.6 million, which sum is the greatest balance in the Motor License Fund in peacetime history. Anyone of you can go and call the State Treasurer and he will, I am sure, verify that figure as of May 1st of $93.6 million in the fund.

But, you will say, what is the contract liability of the Department? I have also checked on that. That at the present time is around $96 million. You say, well, we need the $93 million to pay the $96 million. Our analysis of that is that this year only 60 per cent of that money will be due and payable as the contracts progress, the other 40 per cent will be payable over a period of from two to three years, because contract settlements we find are running from 18 months to three years behind, partly because you do not have anybody over in the Highway Department right now that can figure a final contract settlement. I ask you to check that and I think you will find that is true.

Here is another thing, they estimate that the money coming in currently will be more than enough to pay this contract liability as it accrues each month, which leaves us $93.6 million available for this particular purpose.

We are further informed as to the lack of necessity for raising new monies for the Motor License Fund for this reason: the contract liabilities will not increase appreciably because the Highway Department is fresh out of plans and no large lettings are contemplated. There are no plans ready and available to build Federal Aid highways for which $40 million will be received from the Federal Government. There are no plans available to match the 10 per cent Eisenhower road building program. As you know, Pennsylvania will only have to match that Federal money by 10 per cent for repairs or improvements to the interstate highway.

Another reason why the money is going to be required, we have heard there is a shortage of steel, which means that bridges contemplated to be built cannot proceed because of the shortage of steel.

We have heard another reason why you are being asked not to concur in this bill, which is that Act 18A is not on a current basis. But we find in reading the Act that it is on a current basis by its very terms, and this bill 1311 on page 15 expressly makes 18A, the appropriation for that, currently available. Also there are amendments to 18A in Senate Bill 1038 on our calendar, and if you want to change 18A you can do it with Senate Bill 1038 presently on today's calendar.

I have shown you that the money is available this biennium without increasing registration fees or the ceiling of the Highway and Bridge Authority. Let us look at the bill itself. As you know, last session we allocated $18 million a year. This bill gives permanently $30 million, that is an increase of 66-2/3 per cent. To be eminently fair, if we took last session's bill and allocated the money on the same basis as last session, each municipality would receive two-thirds more money, but under the bill that is not true. Second class townships are getting just 53.9 per cent and Philadelphia city is getting 93.4 per cent more money in the way this is allocated. I have been infromed that the second class townships, even though they are not getting 66-2/3 per cent but just 53.9, are willing to go along on the bill as is for this reason, they have been promised this $30 million. No township, city or borough in this state right now can adopt a realistic budget because they do not know how much money they are going to get. Now is the time they should be doing this road work, and we are down here dilly-dallying with this bill and the people back home are demanding they get this money so they know just what they can do. So the townships, even though they are not getting what they think they should get, are willing to go along on the bill as is because of the urgency of the situation. They feel this 60-40 basis gives a pretty good break to everybody when you are considering that it is all now on a mileage and population basis, whereas in other bienniums almost all of the money was on a mileage basis, which gave the townships a greater break. As I say, everybody is agreeing on this bill, so there is no reason why we should not concur in it today.

May I repeat again that the Motor License Fund is at the greatest peak at the present time in peace-time history. Let us make the Governor keep his promise to municipalities despite his threatened veto of this bill. Let us call his bluff, and if he sees fit to veto the bill then the fault is his and not the Legislature's. He has promised the money to the municipalities, and today we can give them their money. How can we go back to our districts and explain our refusal to allocate this money at this time?

Here is another thing, even though this bill is signed, say tomorrow, it will take several months before the Highway Dpeartment can get around to making the necessary allocations. That is another reason for the urgency of agreeing on 1311 at this time. Let us put the bill today on the Governor's desk. I realize, as the Speaker said, that the burden today is that we get 106 votes for concurrence. I am asking everybody in this House. whether you are from a city, a borough, a township, no matter where you come from, in the interest of fairness, as a result of the compromise that this bill represents. let us vote on this bill now. Let us vote for concurrence in these amendments because it gives everybody a square deal as we see it. Nothing can be accomplished by voting "no" and throwing this bill into conference. It will just merely delay the matter.

This bill affects Democrats as well as Republicans back home in your districts, so let's go ahead and vote on the bill. This is, you might say, a non-partisan bill in front of us here today. We have an opportunity to gladden the hearts of all our people back home when they know that today we passed a bill which will once and for all give them the $30 million which you, the Democratic party and others, promised them in the campaign. I thank you.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, at the outset I want to say that it is my firm belief and my honest opinion that this House on January 23rd of 1956 passed an allocation bill out of the Motor License Fund for the use of each and every municipality in this Commonwealth, that was fair and equitable. That factor was expressed by the vote by which that bill passed 201 to 1.

Now, there were agreed concepts in the bill in relation to Motor Fund allocations. No. 1, it for the first time put the Motor Fund allocations to the local municipalities on a permanent basis.

No. 2, it increased the allocations from $36 million a biennium to $60 million a biennium, and those facts were proven on this floor on the day it passed finally.

No. 3, it eliminated the matching features of any allocation bill such as we have had in prior administrations.

Now, if you want to go back to the road reward days of yesterday and all the bugs that we have had in that legislation as to certain allocations for the various municipalities, that is all right. But we in this administration do not want to do that. We want to eliminate also the matching features which the various political subdivisions, represented by their associations here on the Hill, have all remonstrated against, because it imposed a hardship for matching money upon various communities.

As stated to you from the outset we approached this highway program in its entirety, as passed by this House of Representatives, on a bipartisan basis. We felt that we should give the people of the Commonwealth the best possible program because it was Republican and Democrats alike using those highways, and we should build them to the best possible advantage of Pennsylvania

We have found that every time something comes up in relation to the road system under this administration, the gentleman from McKean gets up and he exudes nothing but political hogwash out into the picture to becloud a situation that we are trying to place in good light for the users of the highways of Pennsylvania.

Eevry action that has been taken so far against the Governor's highway program has been one of political significance. Each and every movement that is being made is being made with an effort toward depleting the funds in the budget of the Highway Department, so that a good job cannot be done.

I do not believe that the people of the Commonwealth want it that way. I know they do not want it that way. We want to oppose the request of the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, because every concept that the administration did not believe in heretofore is now written into this House Bill 1311.

He says he is calling the Governor's bluff. He is not calling the Governor's bluff. The Governor stated that he is for a $30 million a year allocation. He was for it yesterday. He is for it today and he will be for it until it is finally enacted in its proper form, with a fair and equitable distribution of the money from the license fund.

The gentleman rattles through a maze of figures and you know as well as I do that you can take figures and make them suit whatever purpose you want. However, right in the annals of the Journal of this House are the figures from the Highway Department in relation to the Budget and with commitments. And you will find that they are accurate and true.

The thing that I believe is apparent by the activities is that the opposition is only politically concerned with the highway program, and we are not. We were not yesterday, we are not today and we are not going to be politically concerned with it tomorrow. We are out to do a good job for 11 million people in Pennsylvania in the Highway Department. The figures he has used are a lot of tommyrot.

I want to say in conclusion that we can place this bill in a conference committee and work these things out. It seems that the Senate has changed the bill into a position where they state that certain money is to be used to make up the $30 million per year, and then on the other hand they took a bill known as Senate Bill 1038 and extended the provisions of it for taking care of disasters in future periods, so that they could deplete the amount that originally was to go under Act 18A into the allocation fund.

Then they wrote into the bill a provision that further depletes the budget of the Highway Department in order to make up the $30 million per year. They seem to think that they can use the same money that has been appropriated twice over. You know and I know that that is not possible.

I say to the membership of the House that we can work out a good coordinated highway program on a bipartisan basis. I am willing to sit down and work that kind of a program out even at this late date.

Not too long from now you will hear more about the attempt to deplete the budget of the Highway Department by the opposition in order to try to discredit them. I suppose the reason for trying to use these political tactics to discredit the Highway Department is because they are doing such a splendid job, and the physical makeup of that job is going to be seen. When the people see it, they will know that a good administration is good government. It will mean the return to power for the Democratic party.

Mr. Speaker, I ask the Members of both sides of the House to oppose concurrence in these amendments.

Mr. ISAACS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Petrosky.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Petrosky, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PETROSKY. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ISAAC. Mr. Speaker, on January 23, when House Bill 1311 was before this House on third reading, I interrogated the gentleman from Westmoreland, advising him I represented a number of townships and boroughs which have tremendously increased in in population. In answer to the interrogation at that time he advised that a political subdivision could take a new census, provided the census were taken by the Federal Bureau of Census, and as soon as it was completed and certified to the Department of Highways, the political subdivision or subdivisions in question would receive their refunds based upon the new population figure. I want to ask the gentleman if that same proposition stands today?

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, it is my understanding that page 5 of the bill, as amended, still carries that wording that we had in the original bill and these amendments say "the official population." I have been advised that a decision to be rendered on this would recognize a population taken by the Federal Bureau of Census as being an official population. Does that answer the question?

Mr. ISAACS. Yes, then you can answer it today.

Mr. PETROSKY. But that still does not make it a fair and equitable bill in its distribution.

Mr. ISAACS. But your answer today is the same as it was on January 23rd?

Mr. PETROSKY. That is correct.

Mr. ISAACS. Now, Mr. Speaker, I refer to the record of that interrogation, as a matter of fact the Journal of January 23rd. one of the political subdivisions involved was the Township of Marple in the County of Delaware.

I would like to read a letter I received under date of April 24, 1956 from the Township manager, one Mr. Charles M. Melchior, which says:

> Dear Mr. Isaacs:
> Thank you for the copy of the Legislative Journal of Monday, January 23, 1956, containing the interrogation of Mr. Petrosky which you made concerning the possibility of municipalities having their State aid grant for road work increased through an official Federal census.
> On April 10, I wrote the Secretary of Highways making reference to said discussion on the House floor, and asking whether the Department would in fact administer the Legislation in this fashion, Secretary Lawler replied on April 16, stating in part:
> "The calculations involving population shall be made by the Department of Highways and shall be based on the latest available official census figures." This means that the latest official figures is the 1950 census. The act further provides "where a population of any municipality or townships changes by reason of annexation, withdrawal or dissolution, the department shall not be presumed or have notice of such changes until furnished with a statement approved by all affected political subdivisions or with an order of the court of competent jurisdiction." This means that changes can be made within a county where there is an annexation or the annulment of a charter or withdrawal when the population is absorbed by an adjacent municipality. The act does not mention a revision of the population figures by a later census even if it is taken by the Federal Bureau of Census. We, therefore, believe that it would be of no value in having a recount of the population at this time.

Now, Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Westmoreland a three pronged question: Who in this administration can we believe, one, can we believe the Chairman of the Highway Committee who made this statement on January 23rd and reiterates it today; two, can we believe the Secretary of Highways, Joe Lawler, or three, can we believe anybody? And I would like him to answer the question.

Mr. PETROSKY. I will answer the gentleman's question, by saying this, that until such time as there is a formal request made for an opinion from the Attorney-General's office, no opinions are given. However, in speaking to the gentleman personally, he requested such information from me and I procured an opinion without the formality of requesting one. He must recognize that a formal opinion can be requested from the Attorney General, either from the Department, or from other persons interested in that particular problem. I assure the gentleman that the answer I gave him was an informal opinion of a person who was in a position to give it to me. That is the basis upon which he requested the information from me individually when we spoke before the passage of 1311.

Might I say this to the gentleman, that I believed in that principle at that time, and if it is not so worded in this bill I would be the first to insist that it be worded so that the municipalities with an influx of population could take advantage of it with an official census.

Does that clear the matter up for the gentleman?

Mr. ISAACS. I will ask the gentleman if he conferred with the Secretary of Highways.

Mr. PETROSKY. I will say to the gentleman that for an opinion on the legal aspects of a proposal before the House I go to people of legal talent—may I say it that way. I did not confer with the Secretary of Highways.

Mr. ISAACS. Mr. Speaker, I will ask the gentleman if he conferred with the Attorney General?

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I procured an informal opinion for the gentleman in light of the individual discussion we had prior to the passage of 1311. I think it is sufficient and it is to the point. There is no formal opinion that can be given until such is requested by interested persons at the time of application for such an opinion.

Mr. ISAACS. Mr. Speaker, may I defer the interrogation for one moment and make a parliamentary inquiry?

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. ISAAC. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will state is.

Mr. ISAACS. Mr. Speaker, under the statements that have been made by a spokesman for the administration, the Chairman of the Highways Committee, would that signify the intent of the bill if it came to a question of intent?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. It is the opinion of the Chair that the answer as given in the informal opinion would be relevant to the question but would not fully determine the question.

Mr. ISAACS. I thank the Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Petrosky, what the return to the township and boroughs would be under this bill as presently written per mile and per capita?

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I do not have the figures before me, but as I understand it, the gentleman is referring to boroughs and townships?

Mr. ISAACS. That is right, sir.

Mr. PETROSKY. First class or second class townships?

Mr. ISAACS. Both, sir.

Mr. PETROSKY. The return under this bill, and I must be general in my statement inasmuch as I do not have the figures before me, they are on my desk up in the Committee room, I must tell the gentleman, will be considerably less for the highly populated townships and will be slightly higher for the very sparsely populated townships. If the gentleman will look through the thin veil he will see between the bill as it passed the House and as it came from the Senate, a lot of politics.

Mr. ISAACS. I am not looking for politics, Mr. Speaker. I am looking for figures. The gentleman as Chairman of the Committee on Highways, with an important bill coming up like this, I think should have them.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I had given the figures heretofore on the bill as it passed the House. The bill as it came from the Senate is so different from the way in which it passed the House, it includes several very repulsive conditions of allocation that I have not taken the time to compute what returns would be made.

However, I can assure the gentleman that in event he wants the figures they are at my office.

Mr. ISAACS. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker. I would like to make one short statement.

I heard the gentleman from Westmoreland say that the figures of the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, were a lot of hogwash. From this interrogation I do not believe he knows what the figures are.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Petrosky.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Petrosky, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PETROSKY. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman was saying that he wants this bill to go into a conference committee for various reasons. Will he please tell the House why he wants this bill to go to conference, and why we should not concur in these amendments today?

Mr. PETROSKY. Because I told you originally that the bill which passed this House, 1311 on January 23rd was the most fair and the most equitable in the distribution of the Motor License Funds and allocations to the various municipalities throughout the state.

Mr. JOHNSON. May I ask the gentleman this question, in what shape was the bill when it left the House to go to the Senate, how was it eminently fairer?

Mr. PETROSY. It eliminated the matching provisions, it based the allocations, 55 per cent on mileage, 45 per cent on population, it was a permanent allocation system, which of course, still exists in this bill today.

However, there are differences here from the version of the bill which passed the House. You have 80 per cent of this money directly allocated and 20 per cent of it, which is $12 million, over $6 million for each year, on a matching basis, which was not incuded in the House bill whatsoever.

Mr. JOHNSON. Then if this bill goes to a conference committee, what you propose to do is to seek to have the 55-45 provision again inserted into the bill and you also want to eliminate any matching whatsoever, is that it?

Mr. PETROSKY. I did not say that. The purpose of a bill going into conference committee is to resolve the differences between the House and the Senate, as the gentleman well knows.

Mr. JOHNSON. Does the gentleman know what the vote was on this bill when it passed the Senate?

Mr. PETROSKY. 49-0, or something in that order.

Mr. JOHNSON. Would you repeat what the vote was on the otner bill when it left the House?

Mr. PETROSKY. I think I heard the Speaker earlier this afternoon say that a vote in the Senate certainly does not guide decisions in the House.

Mr. JOHNSON. You did not answer. What you said was not a responsive answer.

Mr. PETROSKY. What was your question?

Mr. JOHNSON. My question was, what was the vote on the bill as it left the House?

Mr. PETROSKY. 201-1.

Mr. JOHNSON. Are you familiar with conferences which were held in the Senate by representaitves of both parties wherein this bill was drafted as a compromise bill, and then the vote was finally 49-0?

Mr. PETROSKY. 47-0, I believe was the vote. But may I advise the gentleman that I do my work here in the House.

Mr. JOHNSON. Then here in the House you are seeking to repudiate the agreement and work that was done by your own Democratic leaders in the Senate, is that right?

Mr. PETROSKY. Did not the Senate Members repudiate the vote of the Republican membership of the House when we voted to pass this bill 201-1 in the first place?

Mr. JOHNSON. I am not admitting that the vote on the bill when it left the House was a true expression of House feeling. We felt the Senate would make a proper bill of it, which they seem to have done.

Mr. JOHNSON. Will the gentleman agree with the fact that this so-called matching money can be matched by the municipality not only out of existing tax money, available monies of the township, but also from monies received from the 80 per cent that they will receive from the Commonwealth?

Mr. PETROSKY. May I ask the gentleman a question in return?

Why did he not sponsor such legislation when his administration was in power?

The very first premise upon which matching funds were placed in the bill was to try to promote more and better roads in the rural areas. Now you tear that premise down and you say you can use the money that is given to match other monies that you are going to give them. Who is kidding who in this instance? Let us quit playing politics and vote this bill into a conference committee.

Mr. JOHNSON. In regard to this matching money, as I have stated, the municipality can use monies out of the 80 per cent, but they can only use it for road improvement, that is to say, new construction. It really means there will be some enforced local effort in addition to receiving $60 million from the Commonwealth during the two-year period.

I do not believe the townships and the municipalities are too unhappy over this situation. This bill, as I stated, gives everybody a pretty fair break. Under the 55-45 deal the townships only received 46 per cent of the money, even though we are raising it 66-2/3 per cent. What is fair about that?

Now they have gotten together and compromised the bill and are giving the townships 53.4 per cent of the money and the cities approximately 92 per cent of the money. I could take your time and explain how that works out, but I will not do it now. I say those are the actual figures.

I think to be fair with everybody we should vote "aye" on the amendments inserted by the Senate in this bill.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, we have been entertained and enlightened by a welter of facts and figures. Lest we lose sight of the main point, I am again asking the Members of the majority party today to vote against concurring in these amendments for the reason that we want this bill in a conference committee. I assure you it will come back out of a conference committee in the very near future.

If it becomes necessary, the bill might even come back out of conference committee exactly as it goes in. I say that because some of our Members on this side may be apprehensive about changing formulas, and so forth, and I say that if the Senate persists in the position it took when it passed this bill 47-0 the bill will probably come out as it was put in. But there are other related matters connected with financing this program which make it desirable that the bill does go into conference committee.

Mr. MOSCRIP. Mr. Speaker, I am glad to see the Majority Leader recognizes the need for speed here.

Just to bring some of the Members up to date. The delay of the Legislature, and here I am talking as a Legislator and not politically, has caused a great many subdivisions to be in the same spot as our fourth and third class school districts are in, and that is, due to the delay in the appropriation of state funds they have been forced into the position of borrowing money when it is not necessary, and thereby expend the taxpayers money for interest, even though their budgets are balanced. I think it is the benefit of all of us concerned to keep that in mind when we are dealing with this bill.

Also I would like to point out that one point in the bill that came back from the Senate in my opinion it is much stronger than the one that left the House in that this bill as it now stands guarantees at least $30 million per year for this fund. The bill as it left the House carried no such guarantee.

Further, Mr. Speaker, I fail to see where it is so necessary to bring about the raise in registration fees to get this bill through. This should be a bill to truly make better roads for our rural areas and not say to the farmers, "We are going to give you more road money, but we are going to charge you $5.00 more on your pickup truck to do it.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. READINGER asked ad obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, since the days are becoming very important to us in relation to the end of this session, I plan to call up in a minute the school teacher bills on page 3 of today's calendar.

I would like to state before we do that that tomorrow will be a working day and all controversial bills of any nature are liable to be called up. It will probably result in clearing our calendar to the extent that Thursday of this week can be a consent calendar day at least we hope so.

We have been informed that the hotels cannot accommodate the Members next Monday, so we are planning at the present time to meet starting next Tuesday and work at least Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week. Whether we can complete the session or not remains to be seen, but those are the present plans.

I do want to emphasize the fact that we want the Members here tomorrow because there are still a great many controversial bills on this calendar which should be disposed of. These two bills we are now about to call up are House bills and it is necessary that we move on House bills so that we do not prolong this session any longer than necessary.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

HOUSE BILLS Nos. 583 AND 584 MADE A SPECIAL ORDER

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 583, Printer's No. 1754 and House Bill No. 584, Printer's No. 1747, on page 3 of today's calendar, bills on third reading, be made a special order of business immediately.

The motion was agreed to.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair lays before the House the first bill on special order, being House Bill No. 583.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 583, entitled as follows:

An Act amending the "Public School Code of 1949" approved March 10, 1949 (P. L. 30) * * * providing for the payment of minimum salaries and increments of county and district superintendents assistant county and district superintendents principals supervising principals teachers and other employes.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, House Bill 583 which is commonly known as the "School Teachers' Salary Schedule," has been a bill that has caused a considerable number of headaches for a great number of peope who have worked faithfully and diligently to try to work out this schedule that we have in front of us today.

I think we would be rather remiss if we devoted too much time to cover all of the details in the bill, since we have discussed the bill in its entirety in each of our respective caucuses. I know the sponsors of the bill who originally introduced the salary schedule were very seldom ever consulted as we changed this bill many times.

I would like to say that the conferences and the meetings we have held throughout a number of weeks have resulted in what we believe to be the finest salary schedule for those in the school teaching profession and one which will one day place Pennsylvania in its proper category as being one of the top-ranking states in that field.

Basically the bill has done many things, but it has made a great number of changes in starting salary schedules. We have changed the proposed law from the present $2,400 per year to $3,000, starting with the coming school year of 1956-1957, and are advancing that starting salary schedule of $200 a year until 1959-1960 it reaches $3,600, and from there on it would remain at that figure.

We have tried diligently to work out a formula regarding the appropriation that was part of Act 29A, which was really Senate Bill 785, that we acted upon in this House and the Senate last December. In that formula we have tried to come up with a proposition which we think is just and equitable both to the school teachers, the school directors and the taxpayers of the Commonwealth.

We have proposed in this bill a $100 bonus to those engaged in the teaching profession for the present school year, which is 1955-1956.

If we may at this time discuss both bills together to complete the action a little faster this afternoon, we find that the official records today indicate there are 69,596 people in Pennsylvania engaged in that profession who would fall under this bill and it would cost a total of $6,959,600 right to the penny. We have provided an additional increment for the 1956-1957 school year. We have written the amendment in such a manner that all of those engaged in the profession who may be at their maximum, or even over, will be entitled to the additional increment. We have calculated carefully in an effort to try to work out the formula to help those who are in the profession for a great number of years and this particular item was written for their advantage. We find we will have at that time in 1956-1957 64,090 teaching units and that it will cost the Commonwealth $13,010,000 to pay that reimbursement formula. So in this biennium of 1955-1957 covering the $100 bonus and the $200 additional service increment we find that we have spent $19,969,600 of the appropriations allocated in Act 29A.

In the additional Section 1142 of the public school law as proposed in House Bill 583 we granted an additional $200 increment in the year 1957-1958 and that $200 additional increment is written in identically the same manner as the first additional increment, so that those who are at their maximum, or have reached their maximum, would still be entitled to the additional $200 to be a part of their permanent salary schedule.

We find that in the 1957-1958 school year we will have 65,004 teaching units, estimated. The mandated carry-over schedule from the first year, which is a part of the permanent salary schedule, will cost us $26,764,570 to reimburse our respective school districts and by making that a permanent salary schedule and carrying that into 1958-1959 we find that we have expended taxpayer's money to the extent of $41,382,753, or in the 1957-1959 biennium an additional cost of $68,147,323.

We find that we can only do this by providing the revenue to pay for our school teaching and our school teachers' problems.

We have labored carefully and diligenty to work out this formula. We have applied every possible thought in working out the salary schedule, and basically those are the items that are of the greatest importance in this bill which you are voting upon here today.

True enough there are many other features, including the teachers who would teach the mentally retarded and physically handicapped classes, which would be a part of the program enacted by previous legislation that we passed here.

We have provided an additional $200 above the other starting salary for those engaged in teaching those classes, which would mean in that particular field the starting salary would start next year at $3,200 and move to $3,800 in 1959-1960.

We hope that as we have tried to solve this problem as we present it to you, the Members of this House will realize the many thoughts and many worries we have had in finding a solution which will be satisfactory to the school directors, the school teachers and the taxpayers themselves. We had to face the problem and I think we faced it realistically.

May I at this time take the opportunity to sincerely extend my kind and courteous thanks to every Member of the Committee on both sides of this aisle who helped me when the help was really needed.

May I say to you humbly that you have discussed this bill, you have covered it point by point, and these are the major points. If we could move along rather rapidly here this evening, I would ask that we pass with a unanimous vote House Bills 583 and 584.

Mr. MOSCRIP. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Green, Mr. McCann.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCANN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MOSCRIP. Mr. Speaker, am I correct in my understanding that the $100 will be paid to the teachers before the close of the present fiscal year, that is, the school fiscal year?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the bill is written in such a manner that the money must be paid by the state to the school districts before June 30th, which closes the school year books for the present year.

Mr. MOSCRIP. Mr. Speaker, am I further correct in assuming that the $100 does not carry on in the salary schedule for future years?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, that is correct. It is commonly called a bonus. Once it is paid it stops entirely.

Mr. MOSCRIP. Briefly, as I understand it, for the following two school years there is in effect a double increment for the teachers? Is that correct?

Mr. McCANN. Where they are entitled to it, yes, but the bill is written to cover two increments, two additional increments in two given school years, as part of a permanent salary schedule.

Mr. MOSCRIP. Just to confirm my figures, am I correct when I understand you to state that it would take $19,969,600 for the Commonwealth to finance this increase for the current biennium?

Mr. McCANN. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MOSCRIP. Mr. Speaker, there has been considerable talk in the papers from the Governor about salary bills, that he was concerned about them and worried about them. Can the gentleman from Greene tell me whether the Governor will sign this bill if we pass it?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair would state that that is not a proper question at this time.

Mr. MOSCRIP. Very well, I will withdraw the question. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker, and I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Polen.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Polen, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. POLEN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MOSCRIP. Mr. Speaker, it is my understanding that under Act 29A $31 million was appropriated for teachers salary increases, if and when the enabling legislation is passed. That enabling legislation is apparently before us now. I would ask the gentleman if I am correct when I state that $11,030,400 of that $31 million is unexpended by this program?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, I would say that is correct.

Mr. MOSCRIP. I would further ask the gentleman what will become of that surplus or difference, whatever you wish to call it?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, as to what will become of it, I think the first question is, is it there? There seems to be some doubt whether the $31 million is available. The mere making of appropriations does not create the money. But answering the gentleman's question, the amount in the appropriation would lapse.

Mr. MOSCRIP. Mr. Speaker, not being quite as familiar with the techniques of the budget as the gentleman from Washington, if the appropriation lapses, then what becomes of it? Is it figured in as a surplus, or is it used for other purposes?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, I think in the first place the money does not exist by the mere making of an appropriation. I think that is the concern of the administration, that possibly even the amount that is included—Mr. McCann mentioned approximately $20 million—may not be available. I do not think that can finally be determined until the final figures on the estimated tax yield are available.

Mr. MOSCRIP. Mr. Speaker, am I correct in assuming that in all the conferences concerning the raising of revenue, as to how much money would be needed as balanced against the various tax plans, the full $31 million was computed in those conferences?

Mr. POLEN To the best of my knowledge, Mr. Speaker, the $31 million was used and each time we came up with a large deficit.

Mr. MOSCRIP. Assuming, Mr. Speaker, that fortune smiles upon us and our tax program would actually raise enough money so that there would be $31 million in cash to be allocated for this purpose, what then could be done with the $11-odd million that is left?

Mr. POLEN. I would say, Mr. Speaker, that if that would develop the next session of the Legislature, which meets in January, would dispose of that question.

Mr. MOSCRIP. Mr. Speaker, I am not concerned with the disposing of the question, I am concerned with the disposing of the money. Would it be possible, Mr. Speaker, for the Governor to allocate that $11 million say, to Public Assistance before this Legislature convenes in 1957, just as a hypothetical question?

Mr. POLEN. It could not be allocated to Public Assistance, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MOSCRIP. Mr. Speaker, could it be allocated to any other purpose, or how would it be carried?

Mr. POLEN. It could not be allocated to any other purpose without legislation.

Mr. MOSCRIP. Further, Mr. Speaker, could the Administration in rendering an accounting of their financial management of this Commonwealth for this biennium use that $11 million in computing a surplus which they might have at the end of the biennium?

Mr. POLEN. I believe if the estimated tax yield produced more money than is now anticipated and if after paying all bills there would be a surplus left, this amount of course would be available.

Mr. MOSCRIP. As far as the matter of surplus is concerned, apparently it would be a result of good fortune rather than good management.

Mr. BANKER. Mr. Speaker, I have no desire to debate the bill, but I have a tear sheet here from the Daily News, April 24th, Huntingdon, Huntingdon County, the classified ad section. I wish to read an ad here. I think everybody should know I was quite startled when I saw it in our paper.

TEACHERS

Would you like to teach in a school where the average class size is 20?

Would you like to be on a salary schedule that pays from $4100 to $6800 to fully qualified teachers? Would you like to work near New York City so that you could pursue graduate studies while you teach?

We are interested in men or women with two years of successful teaching experience.

At present we have openings for Science, Music, French-Spanish, Commercial and fifth Grade teachers.

For information blank write to L. E. McKee, Supv. Prin., Chester High School, Chester, New York.

I think that should be a good indication of "Sailor take warning." Let's do something within our state to keep our own teachers to help to educate our children.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, I will be very brief in trying to get across the point I want to make. I am not going to try and convert or change anyone's mind. I think everyone has made up his mind as to what he wants to do.

However, we allocated $31 million for the school teachers. Suddenly we wake up, we find the people on the other side in a dilemma. They cannot produce enough votes to pass their own bill, so they are going to fish out and put on the calendar a bill that we will almost be forced to vote for.

In the first place, I have no axe to grind with the school teachers. I am of the opinion that they are underpaid. Having a brother in the profession, I am pretty close to it and I know what is going on. But for us to allocate $31 million, give them $19 million, and then reach out into the next session of the Legislature we do just what we have done in the past, ever since I have been in this House, or almost as long. We passed bills in this House giving increments as the years went by and every time we come in here for a new session we are immediately faced with new taxes. In my opinion that is bad government. There are three sets of people involved in this bill today. The school teachers are involved, and they are rightfully entitled to their increase. The taxpayers are involved, because immediately upon enactment of this bill they can look forward to another cent on the sales tax seven months from now. That will have to be, you cannot deny it. It must be done.

In the third place, you have the Legislators who are going to be elected, and no one in this House knows whether they are going to be reelected. They are going to come into this House and immediately have to enact an additional one cent or two cents, or an income tax, to pay this bill.

I say to you fellow Members of this Legislature this is bad government. It is at its worst. Let us give the school teachers today what they are entitled to, then if they want to come back to us at the next session of the Legislature, if we are fortunate enough to be here, let them come back and ask for an additional raise. I think we will give it to them. But let us not tie the hands of future Legislators and make them come in here and immediately increase taxes. I am opposed to that.

I have thought this thing out as thoroughly as I can. For that reason and that reason only, the fact that we are going farther than we should go, the fact that we are going to impose something on the next Members of this Legislature who are going to be elected by the people of this Commonwealth, I have decided I am going to have to vote against this bill.

Mrs. HENZEL. Mr. Speaker, I wish to make a brief statement.

Over a century ago the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania began to finance a program for the support of the public schools. The state Constitution charges the General Assembly with the duty of maintaining "a thorough and efficient system of public schools." And through the years our lawmakers have heeded this admonition and supported this aspect of our state program.

Despite this effort, however, the relative position of Pennsylvania, as compared with the average salaries paid in surrounding states, has not been a favorable one. Neither our mandated minimums nor mandated maximums have been such as to either dissuade, or discourage, our teacher-trained young people from seeking positions in those states which remunerate to a greater degree or encourage them to pursue the profession for which they trained rather than continuing the exodus into the business world. Both of these situations has created a dearth of high type, qualified teachers so needed to serve our increased school population.

The bill now before us is an honest and conscientious effort to hold the line for the educational standards of Pennsylvania—a bill with increased minimums and maximums that will make potential teachers realize that Pennsylvania's lawmakers are sincere in their efforts to make the teaching profession one to be sought after rather than avoided.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, we on this side of the House are supporting this bill because we believe it establishes a program for public education in Pennsylvania which must be established if our public school system is to go forward.

We know that this program will cause a great deal of additional money in years ahead, but there is no program which the state participates in financing that is more important than our public school system. The Republican party of Pennsylvania has always been in the forefront of the parade to improve public education.

If the gentlemen on the other side of this House want to make politics out of this I don't think much of their idea. I think it is bad taste, I think it is bad taste for the teachers of Pennsylvania and the children of Pennsylvania.

It was Thaddeus Stevens, one of the founders of the Republican party and the great commoner, who first fought the fight to have free schools and he won the fight in these very legislative halls. It has been a cardinal principle of the Republican party ever since.

I believe we have been for free schools for everybody, for equal educational opportunities for everybody, without regard to race, creed or color. This has been our stand for more than a century and that is why the Republican party today is supporting this bill.

The Governor says there is no money to finance this program and that is not a secret. We say he is wrong. We say every cent of the money which is required to pay what this program will cost in this biennium has already been apporpriated, and if it is not available the Governor should not have signed the bill, and he knows it and you and I know it. It is now laid aside. $31 million dollars has been earmarked by legislative action for this very purpose. The legislation enacted by this Legislature last December and signed into law by Governor Leader, decided that question. We are no longer concerned with that, but what we are concerned with here today is whether this is the proper legislation to carry out that decision. We believe it is, the educational organizations believe it is and the legislative leaders of the Democratic party apparently believe it is. If the Governor thinks otherwise, then I say he is one man that stands alone and he should bow to the wishes of the elected representatives of the people.

We believe the question goes even further than that. We believe the only issue here today is not only this educational program, but whether a Governor or any elected official can make a scrap of paper of a law of this State.

We believe it goes to the very heart of responsible government. We believe that once a law is passed, unless that law is repealed, we are all bound by our oaths of office, the Governor included, to carry out the provisions of that law.

But the Governor tries to tell us there is no money. This is simply not true. When he signed this appropriation bill last December the Legislature had not yet passed the three per cent sales tax. When we Republicans voted for that tax, we voted in the affirmative with this commitment in mind. We counted it in our tabulation of the financial needs of the Commonwealth.

Certainly the Governor must have taken it into account at that time. If he now says there is no money available it is because he must have other purposes in mind for the use of this money. He must be thinking of the possible 5,000 additional payroll jobs which have been added to the various departments since he took office. What else would he be thinking of if he wants to have $12 million more to play with. Let us sny on an average salary of $3,000 a year for 5,000 jobs, and that is low, 5,000 jobs at the rate of $3,000 a year are costing our taxpayers $15 million a year, figure it up and see what it amounts to, or $30 million in a biennium. He must be thinking of the millions he promised to save through the reorganization of our state government, which has turned instead to millions of dollars of increased costs. He must be thinking of the millions and millions of dollars—

The SPEAKER pro tempore. For what purpose does the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Filo, rise?

Mr. FILO. Is the gentleman debating the bill or is he making a political speech on the floor of the House?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair is trying to be as fair as possible. Will the gentleman please confine his remarks to the bill?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I believe I am comparing the amount of money available in this bill against other comparisons. I think that is proper procedure at this time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I thank the Chair.

He must be thinking of the millions of dollars being plunged into political projects desired primarily to entrench the Democratic party in power in Pennsylvania. Let me say to you people that there is no political patronage in the teachers' salary bill.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. LOPRESTI. The gentleman certainly is not discussing the bill.

The SPEAKER por tempore. The point of order is well taken. The gentleman will confine his remarks to the bill before the House.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. There is no political patronage in teachers' salary bills. No invitations to a "Hundred Dollar Dinner" can be sent to teachers, but they can and are being sent to the rest of the 5,000.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will please confine his remarks to the bill before the House.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I believe that in any discussion we have the right to compare, and I think as long as the other side evidently seems to be playing politics with the bill, which I have never thought we should play politics with, and there has been no accounting as to where the additional money is going, we must know where the additional money is going. I say it is a wrong thing to play politics with.

I can say this, and I think I am talking about the teachers' bill, there is no political advantage to the Governor in increasing teachers' salaries because in doing so he is only carrying out pledges that go back years and years, pledges which have been kept by both parties, and particularly the Republican party when they have been in office.

There are some of you who are going to say these school bills are only going to use part of the $31 million which this Legislature appropriated for teachers' salaries. That is true, and we all know it is true, it was just admitted on the floor of the House.

We could offer amendments at this time, as has been done in the past by the present majority party, to increase the amounts proposed in these measures. However, we do not want to give the Governor any possible reason for vetoing this bill. We are not going to accept any responsibility for a veto. We think it is more important to us, it is more important to our school system, that it be placed on a sound foundation for the future than that we should win some temporary political advantage through a Governor who evidently has not made his decision as to what he is going to do with the bills. We do not want to give the Governor any partisan excuse whatsoever behind which he can hide when this legislation reaches his desk.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. FINEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. FINEMAN. Is it in order for the gentleman from Philadelphia to discuss the contemplated action of our Governor on this bill? We do not have that kind of decision before us today.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman's point of order is well taken. The Chair has told the gentleman that he should confine his remarks to the bill before the House.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I believe I am perfectly right in making that statement. There were articles in the paper from the Governor himself regarding the bill before it had been placed on his desk.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. FINEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. FINEMAN. I think the Chair ruled that the gentleman from Philadelphia was out of order in making references to the contemplated action of the Governor on this bill. I think the gentleman from Philadelphia should adhere to the ruling of the Chair.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair thanks the gentleman and requests the gentleman from Philadelphia to confine his remarks to House Bill 853.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, it is perfectly O. K. There will be future legislative days around this House. I am sorry to see that politics is entering into it.

Mr. Speaker, we are going along on this bill for the one reason that I told you, and there isn't another man on the other side of the House that ever had the guts to do it.

You know you sat here year in and year out and tried to raise salary bills to an impossible position, and you cannot deny it. For the sake of the gentleman that just stood up, as a new Member let him ask the older Members beside him.

We are sitting here today and we are not going to jeopardize this bill by a veto. For that reason alone, we are voting for this legislation as it has been presented. We are not going to change a word, we are not going to change a comma. Let me say to you, it is not politics, at least as far as we are concerned, and I say that with all the sincerity I can convey to you. We will continue on this side of the House to place the welfare of our children, our schools and our teachers above the realm of partisan politics, and we are proving it today by supporting this bill and not trying to put you on the spot by trying to raise it like you people have done in the past. It has been you who have been playing politics, and you know it. When it is thrown back in your faces by an honest and sincere statement, you don't dare have the courage to admit to it. We are not playing politics today. We are supporting the bill 100 per cent and, if the Governor vetoes it, it is his responsibility and yours. It will never be ours.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, may I say that this is one time in my life that I am deeply disappointed in the gentleman from Philadelphia. I think those who are Members of my Committee knew every move from the first day the bill ever moved in any direction, and I publicly thank the members of that Committee on this floor for their splendid support. If politics were ever a part of that discussion, or whether this bill would be worth anything politically, they are well aware, I am sure, of what I have been through.

I think for the gentleman from Philadelphia to place me in that category, to put me in a position of admitting that we, and I am a Member on this side of the House are playing politics is wrong. I have been sincere from the day I ever started.

It has always been my hope that the bill would be a bill we could all agree to. True enough, there are many who would like to make it a beautiful political football, but if there is any item in that bill that is political, I would like to have it pointed out to me section by section.

May I say to the gentleman from Philadelphia, who is well aware of the situation, that the accusations certainly must be coming back home, because I am a candidate the same as he is and I do not think that he or I should be trying to use this bill upon which to be either elected or defeated.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, it is late and I do not want to prolong this debate, but some of the statements made by the gentleman from Philadelphia in that prepared political speech, which I presume his ghost writer wrote for him to debate this bill, must be challenged.

When the gentleman says the Governor was playing politics when he signed the $31 million appropriation bill last December, he certainly is not being fair, because the Governor at that time could not know, he did not know, what revenues would be raised by this legislative body. It was not until March that the three per cent sales tax was forced upon us, and the question of how much that is going to yield has never been an agreed upon figure. The gentleman well knows, and I am sure I do not have to point out to him that signing a $31 million appropriation bill does not put $31 million in the treasury. If the revenues which are estimated to be raised by the sales tax fall short there will be a deficit if the $31 million, or even if it is $19 million, is allocated and used for teachers' salaries. We are always in the position of having to face a deficit. Then again we could have a surplus.

There has been much said today about what is to be done with the balance of the $31 million if only $19 million is to be used in this biennium or charged against this biennium. The gentlemen on the other side, and all of them I am sure, know that the money will lapse and go back into the General Fund if the funds are there. If the revenues are not sufficient, there will not be a surplus. Whether we pass a $31 million appropriation bill or pass a $19 million appropriation bill, it is all a matter of how much money we are going to get from our taxes. I think everybody in this House, practically everybody, believes that this is a good bill, that this money is deserved by the teachers and is a necessary step to keep our educational system moving forward.

There may be a few votes against it, I believe Mr. Hocker said he was going to vote against it, but all this talk about politics, who is going to get the teachers' vote and who is not going to get the teachers' vote, or whether the Governor is going to be solely responsible if he vetoes this bill, is a lot of hodgepodge to me and a lot of political talk.

I think the teachers will appreciate what is being done by this legislative body. I fervently hope there is enough money that the Governor can sign this bill into law and that the teachers will receive this money.

We all feel the same way I think about our teachers, our teaching profession. We believe they should be raised in economic standards and we should be able to retain our good teachers and to get more teachers to come into Pennsylvania. But I do not think this should be made a political football by anybody, and certainly the Members on this side of the House do not intend to make it such.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON SENATE BILL No. 249

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I present the report of the Committee of Conference on Senate Bill No. 249.

The SPEAKER. This being a Senate Bill, the report will lie over for printing by the Senate.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. McCORMACK asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, during the debate on 583 the statement was made by the Minority Leader, Mr. Smith, that the Republican party placed the welfare of the children beyond and above partisan politics.

Mr. Speaker, I say to the House today that the vote, the unit vote, which defeated the Municipal Court judges bill demonstrates beyond any question that the minority party in this House is not interested in the welfare of the children.

It is regrettable, Mr. Speaker, that that bill should have been made a political football. I think the situation in Philadelphia today with respect to juvenile delinlinquency is a grave one. No one will deny it, regardless of party.

The Philadelphia Bulletin recently ran a series of articles on crowded conditions in the juvenile court, the bar association has come out in favor of additional judges for the Municipal Court, and yet this House today, the minority party, made a political football out of this bill.

I think that they should seriously reconsider their action and when the bill is called up again—I might add that votes were changed today in order to bring it up again—I hope the Minority Leader from Philadelphia will release some of the people who have no desire to vote against the bill so that they can join in helping to alleviate this serious problem of juvenile delinquency today. I ask that they give consideration to this bill which is certainly not a political one.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCORMACK. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I was very interested in the gentleman's statement that the fact that you do not have enough municipal judges is contributing to juvenile delinquency. I would like to ask the gentleman some questions about the situation.

Does he know if there are any petitions that have been presented and served on parents and children wherein the court is asked to declare a child a dependent and neglected child? How many such petitions are outstanding on which you have not been able to have hearings by reason of the Municipal Court judges being so busy they cannot hear them?

Mr. McCORMACK. I do not know whether the gentleman from McKean is familiar with the practice that prevails in the Municipal Court of Philadelphia, Mr. Speaker, so in answer to the question perhaps I can better answer it by describing the circumstances under which the court acts with respect to juvenile delinquents before the court.

Mr. JOHNSON. No, I want the gentleman to tell me about how many cases are pending involving juvenile delinquents that the courts have not been able to dispose of?

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I believe if I said less than hundreds I would be underestimating it. At the present time there are daily lists before the juvenile court in which perhaps fifty or sixty cases involving delinquent children are before the court, and the court because of the tremendous backlog is not able to give the time to each case that the additional judges would be able to give to the cases.

Mr. JOHNSON. Would the gentleman be able to bring into the Hall of this House an accurate statement of the number of undisposed of cases involving juvenile delinquency at the present time in the Municipal Court in Philadelphia? Would he do that?

Mr. McCORMACK. May I answer that question by asking the gentleman whether, if we prove to his satisfaction there is a dire need for additional judges to handle these cases, we would get some votes on his side of the House?

Mr. JOHNSON. That is not a responsive answer. Can he bring in here the number of undisposed of cases involving juvenile delinquency before that court right now?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentlemen please address the Chair in their questions and their answers?

Mr. JOHNSON. I beg your pardon, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to further interrogate the gentleman.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman permit himself to be further interrogate?

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I will answer the gentleman's last question by saying that I will be very happy to bring into this House next week, or the next time we convene, figures and supporting data from the president judge of the Municipal Court, Hazel Brown, who is a Republican, or who was a Republican, before she was appointed to the court. I should be glad to do that, Mr. Speaker, yes.

Mr. JOHNSON. Would the gentleman for our information state the number of municipal judges that the law now provides in Philadelphia?

Mr. McCORMACK. I believe the present law is thirteen associate judges and one president judge, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. JOHNSON. That would make a total of fourteen judges?

Mr. McCORMACK. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. JOHNSON. Is the court at the present time up to its full complement?

Mr. McCORMACK. No. Mr. Speaker. I believe there was a recent death in the Municipal Court, so there is one vacancy.

Mr. JOHNSON. Was not that death of a judge on the Municipal Court Judge Willits?

Mr. McCORMACK. Judge Willits, yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. JOHNSON. Was not that death about two months ago?

Mr. McCORMACK. I would say so, and the Governor is contemplating an appointment I understand.

If the gentleman is going to ask me whom is he going to appoint, Mr. Speaker, I could not answer that.

Mr. JOHNSON. No, I am going to ask the gentleman whether the Governor is not also contributing to juvenile delinquency by not appointing this judge?

Mr. McCORMACK. No, Mr. Speaker. I am not interested in what the Governor is going to do. I am interested in what this House is going to do with the bill before it and what this House has done. I am not interested in the executive branch of this government. I am not responsible. We are responsible as Legislators.

Mr. JOHNSON. I thank the gentleman and I would like to make a few remarks with the unanimous consent of the House.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. JOHNSON asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I thoroughly resent the accusation thrown against this side of the House that by our refusing to increase the judges on the Municipal Court in Philadelphia we are thereby contributing to juvenile delinquency. There has not been a scintilla of evidence brought before this House today or any day which would show that we are in any way doing that. There have not been any figures to show how many cases of juvenile delinquency the courts have been unable to dispose of in Philadelphia.

We know nothing about the situation. We do not know how often these judges sit, whether they are sitting at all times; how many people they have investigating juvenile delinquency at the present time; how many police officers there are investigating and bringing these young people to private court or how many of them are out on bail.

I think that is an accusation here today which casts a bad light on certainly everybody that voted against that bill, and I think it is an unjust accusation in light of the very, very skimpy evidence that you have brought here today. I think a bad light has been thrown on our Governor. If the situation is so bad in Philadelphia, surely the very next day or two days after the death of that municipal judge he should have appointed a judge and brought these courts up to their full complement. If any of them are loitering on the job they should be brought to time and demanded that they serve from 9 to 5 every day and be on the job. They should appoint enough policemen down there to correct that difficulty rather than coming up here and casting a shadow on us that we are contributing to laxity down there. I think you better clean up your own house in Philadelphia before you get after us.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. LOPRESTI asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I have before me some information that was readily available to the gentlemen on the other side of the House if they wanted to avail themselves of it, information that could have been made available by simply requesting it.

Here is a copy of a letter from the Municipal Court of Philadelphia, Director of Probation, John Otto Reineman:

> One of the most spectacular increases is occuring in the juvenile division where cases of juvenile delinquency alone increased from 6497 in 1951 to 10, 145 in 1955.

And now I want to read a paragraph from a letter written by Adrian Bonnelly, Judge of the Municipal Court:

> With such a tremendous load of cases, even if each judge sat every day of every month of every year, an obvious physical impossibility, it would be impossible to keep current. As a result the court is constantly running behind by thousands of cases. The backlog continues to grow, bearing in mind the increasing and expanding needs of the great urban complex of Philadelphia, it is readily understood why this back breaking backlog gets bigger daily.

Any of this information was available to the gentlemen on the other side of the House if they had made a sincere effort to find out.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. WATERHOUSE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to know how the gentleman expected us to know he had this information when he did not tell us. But what I really want to say is that I would like to take the Republican Members of the House out from under a cloud that they have been placed under here. It really grieves me to hear the gentleman accuse us of playing politics in voting on this Philadelphia bill.

You know two years ago there was a similar bill introduced in this House and by a practically solid vote the other side voted against it, they insisted that they did not need another judge down there. So we just thought, well, that is it. So we stuck to it. But now we are convinced that they just need more policemen. I am hoping for a job, too.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. AUKER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I desire to speak briefly, if I may, on the Municipal Court and their case load. If you break that down, it amounts to about 714 cases that each judge would handle per year. Break that down to the week, and it is about 14 to 15 cases per week. In other words, about two or three cases a day.

If they want to know how judges should work, come up to the rural counties and we will show them how these judges really work. They handle their cases properly and dispense justice. To my mind the judges in Philadelphia are simply loafing on the job. That is why I did not vote for their bill.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair returns the gavel to the Speaker at this time.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) IN THE CHAIR

The SPEAKER. The Chair wants to thank the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Helm, for the fair and impartial way he has presided over a somewhat trying situation.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, there have been several times in this session that I have facetiously accused the present occupant of the Chair of being a cantankerous old gentleman. But today I would say that he is the most gracious, loving gentleman that I have ever seen in the position of the Chair.

The SPEAKER. The Chair simply revealed his irascrible nature by proxy.

INTERROGATION

Mr. ISAACS asked and obtained unanimous consent to interrogate the Majority Leader.

The SPEAKER. Will the Majority Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, very reluctantly. May I say as a preface to my affirmative answer, that I believe in a working session but not an over-working session.

Mr. ISAACS. Mr. Speaker, I listened attentively to the Majority Leader tell us we would convene next week on Tuesday because there were no hotel accommodations on Monday. I wonder if the Majority Leader is aware that there are no more hotel accommodations on Tuesday than there are on Monday. At least, that is true of the Penn-Harris Hotel where we cannot get a room until Wednesday.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I will answer the gentleman by saying that I made inquiry at the Penn-Harris Hotel and was informed that the hotel could take care of about 100 of the Members who usually stay there on Tuesday, the 15th. So my information must be incorrect. May be he is the 101 person, I do not know.

Mr. ISAACS. There is a Lion's Club convention. The same condition exists, I am told by some of the Members at the Harrisburger. Our own delegation, we stay there all the time, none of us can get a room Tuesday. We were told there would be no rooms available until Wednesday, and I wish the Majority Leader would check into that a little further, consider it and possibly bring us back here on a Wednesday when we can get accommodations.

The SPEAKER. The Chair suggests that the Majority Leader over the evening make inquiry and be in position to report the hotel situation when the House convenes tomorrow.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I made inquiry within the last two hours and was informed that the Penn Harris could take care of about 100 of the Members on Tuesday, the 15th. I do not have any idea how many Members stay there, but I respectfully suggest the Members who cannot get their rooms for that night get accommodations elsewhere. There are some fine motels around and I am sure the Chief Clerk's office will cooperate in obtaining other accommodations for you. We should work on the 15th, 16th, and 17th of next week. If we do not want to run into the middle of June.

I have been informed also that the hotels of this city cannot accommodate us during the week of May 21, which means that we will probably not be able to have a session at all during that week. So I think it is highly imperative that we do come back here next Tuesday and if at all possible, finish by Wednesday or Thursday.

Mr. ISAACS. Mr. Speaker, three of us tried to reserve our room there before 10:00 o'clock this morning, which was much longer than three hours ago. I might say for the benefit of the gentleman that a park bench on one of these nights would not be too good, particularly on a cool evening like the last one. And I still wish the gentleman would check further and if possible convene this House on Wednesday.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, might I suggest that the gentleman might sleep in my double bed, if he does not snore.

The SPEAKER. The Chair is informed that the Chief Clerk's office will try to obtain accommodations on request of any Members for Tuesday.

RESIGNATION

The SPEAKER. The Chair has received a letter from the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Polen, in which he resigns as a Member of the Benjamin Franklin Sesqui Bicentennial Commission appointed in compliance with the provisions of Senate Concurrent Resolution, Serial No. 114.

The Chair regretfully accepts the resignation and appoints the gentleman from Philadelphia, Francis X. Muldowney, to fill the vacancy occasioned by Representative Polen's resignation.

RESOLUTION

CONGRATULATIONS

Messrs. BELL, ISAACS, LIPPINCOTT and MURPHY offered a resolution which was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 8, 1956.

The Honorable Joseph Warren Bullen, Jr., has served energetically in this House of Representatives during two sessions of the Legislature and has given full measure of himself to the people of his county and State. That he could do more seems incredible, but the citizens of Delaware County, with confidence in his ability, integrity and willingness to serve have called upon him to give even more of himself. On May 4, 1956 he was appointed a County Commissioner of Delaware County.

The courts have shown great wisdom in his selection and his work in that office will be of inestimable value to the people he serves; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Members of the House of Representatives extend our congratulations to the people of Delaware County on their good fortune in acquiring the services of such a man and that we congratulate Josph Warren Bullen, Jr., for his fortitude and patriotism in assuming the great responsibility of another office, and wish him the success that goes with a dedication to duty; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk be instructed to deliver a copy of this resolution to Joseph Warren Bullen, Jr.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Delaware. We will be glad to hear from the Commissioner.

Mr. BULLEN. Mr. Speaker, I would like from the bottom of my heart to thank the membership for their kind words in the resolution.

SENATE MESSAGE

CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE RESOLUTION SERIAL No. 185

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution from the House of Representatives as follows:

In the House of Representatives, March 6, 1956.

The Honorable William Flinn (1851-1924) was the father of the first chemically prepared hard surfaced road in Pennsylvania. While a member of the State Senate from Allegheny County, this man of extraordinary character, originality and courage, originated and introduced in 1879 in the General Assembly the first recommendation to amend the State Constitution to permit and provide a State-wide improvement of its rural highways. His recommendation as to surfacing highways, like the recommendations of many great men before him who offered new and progressive ideas, was met by the opposition who voiced the opinion that surfacing highways was an impossible engineering feat. However, Senator Flinn, who was a fearless fighter no matter how strong the opposition, never gave up. In 1895 through his untiring efforts and devotion to his progressive concept, and after he solved all the problems to the satisfaction of both the Senate and House as to administering the act, such legislation was passed.

When the first hard surfaced road was laid in Washington County under the "Flinn Road Bill" there were very few people, besides Senator Flinn, who could envision the impact such surfacing would have on the commercial advancement of this great nation. Within a relatively short time, every state followed the example set by the genius from Pennsylvania and paved their highways.

Today beautiful highways are taken as a matter of course. In the passage of time, great achievements and contributions made in realizing such highways by such men as Senator Flinn are sometimes forgotten, except by the few. These few, led by their chairman, Colonel Charles C. McGovern, the county controller, conducted a memorial service in 1926 at which they dedicated a monument, which they placed on the dividing line between Allegheny and Washington Counties, known as the "William Flinn Highway Memorial" in memory of the ingenuity of a great Pennsylvanian who devoted his entire-life to the betterment of this Commonwealth. This memorial to Senator Flinn should be made known to and recognized by all the citizens of this Commonwealth in honor of this great man; therefore be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring), That the monument known as the "William Flinn Highway Memorial," which was erected in 1926 by the public at the dividing line between Allegheny and Washington Counties, be accepted by the General Assembly and dedicated to the perpetual memory of the late Honorable William Flinn, who in 1895 as the father of hard surfaced roads, built the first such road in Washington County, Pennsylvania; and be it further

Resolved, That the General Assembly, when accepting the monument on behalf of the Commonwealth, shall give it such supervision as will be necessary to carry out the spirit and intentions of the public donors in preserving for posterity a perpetual historical monument in memory of the Senator who contributed to the perfection of a rural highway system in this Commonwealth; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to Charles C. McGovern, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, for the benefit of members who served on the dedication committee and for the benefit of any surviving kin of Senator Flinn.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. TOLL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I want to offer a four-page letter for the record in order to settle the problem relating to the quantity of cases and the need for Municipal Court judges, because the question was raised by the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Auker, concerning the number of cases which a Municipal Court judge has to try. Since the number of cases is 32,984, if you divide that by 14 judges, each judge has 2,350 cases. If Mr. Auker ever lives long enough to become a judge let him try that.

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the letter will be printed in the Legislative Journal. The Chair hears none.

January 16, 1956.

Honorable George M. Leader
Governor
State Capitol
Harrisburg, Pa.

My dear Governor:

May I take this opportunity to comment upon the present urgent need for increasing the number of Judges of the Municipal Court of Philadelphia. You will, I am sure, realize that my views are based after 17 years of experience in all the divisions of the Court; a length of service which has qualified me as Senior Judge of the Court. The necessity for additional Judges, I can assure you, is concurred in by all of our Judges, including the President Judge, Honorable Hazel H. Brown. I might state that this Court is the only Court in Pennsylvania wherein the President Judge is elected by the Board of Judges of the Court.

A few years back I appeared before the Judicial Committee of the House, requesting at that time additional Judges. I believe I was able to convey to that Committee the tremendous impact our Court has had in the past fifteen or twenty years, which has increased litigation to an unbelievable high. There are now fourteen Judges of the Municipal Court. Basically, the distribution is as follows: Civil Division, five Judges; Criminal Division, one Judge; Domestic Relations Division, three Judges; Women's Criminal Division, one Judge; Adoption Division, one Judge; Motions and Rules Division, one Judge; Juvenile, Older Juvenile and Misdemeanants Divisions, two Judges. The magnitude of the task facing the Court is perhaps better understood when the breakdown of fourteen Judges is placed aside the 54,221 cases disposed of by the Court in 1954. Of these 54,221 cases, 32,984 required Court hearings or trials.

With such a stupendous load of cases, even if each Judge sat every day, every month of every year (an obvious physical impossibility) if would be impossible to keep current. As a result, the Court is constantly running behind by thousands of cases. The back log continues to grow. Bearing in mind the increasing and expanding needs of the great urban complex of Philadelphia, it is readily understood why this backbreaking back log gets bigger daily.

Quantity alone does not tell the whole story. The complex of cases coming before the Court must also be considered. In addition to the very broad civil and criminal jurisdiction exercised by the Municipal Court, it has exclusive jurisdiction in Domestic Relations cases; over all juveniles under eighteen years of age; certain minors under twenty-one years of age, and over all Adoption cases.

Instituted primarily as a Social Court, questions are daily decided which affect the millions making up our population. The Court is, indeed, sensitive to the heavy impact of social, political and economic changes occurring in the dynamic history of our City, State and Country. Most of the social cases are continuously recurring. The Domestic Relations Division cannot keep abreast of the thousands upon thousands of problems daily affecting families, their support, maintenance and guidance, and the judgment in all those cases will affect not only the present social relationship of the parties, but the future conduct and outlook of their children.

Ever since I have been a member of this Court, and having reference particularly to the Domestic Relations Division, the daily cases for hearing range from thirty to sixty in number. I have often asked myself "shall Judges become mere automatons; hearing and disposing of cases on an 'assembly line' basis?" The people of this great City are entitled to more than mere assembly line justice. Yet, that is inevitable under present case loads. Callousness is a poor substitute for genuine humane sympathy.

To remedy this critical situation, I respectfully suggest that there be at least five additional Judges created for this Court. This would permit the assignment of one additional Judge to the Civil Division, two Judges to the Domestic Relations Division, one additional Judge to the Criminal Division, and one additional Judge to the Juvenile Division. In other words, it is my considered judgment that the Domestic Relations Division should have at least five Judges, one Judge to be in Chambers, sitting in Special Term, and four Judges to be in open trial Court. The Judge who is sitting in Special Term, should be ready, after hearing, to enter a temporary or preliminary order of support immediately after complaint has been filed and then, if objection is made to such order, to set the case down for a full investigation and hearing as early thereafter as feasible. In this way, the wife who charges her husband with willful desertion of herself and children would not be required to wait three, four and, sometimes, five months before a hearing is had in her case. Unfortunately, this is now the situation and has been the situation for sometime. The Judge who sits in Court would then be in a position, after hearing, to make a final Order from which, if exception is taken, an appeal may be taken.

As to the Juvenile Division, the case load is entirely too heavy for one Judge. It can only be adequately handled with the active coordination of three Judges; bearing in mind that it is humanly impossible for all Judges to be at all times able to carry on the daily responsibilities.

Philadelphia, for years, has been importing substitute Judges from other counties, practically all of whom have been assigned in the Criminal Division of the Common Pleas Courts. A perusal of the cases to which they have been assigned convinces me that ninety percent of them can be tried by Judges of the Municipal Court of Philadelphia, because this Court has concurrent jurisdiction with Quarter Sessions Court in all criminal cases with certain definite exceptions.

As a matter of fact, I have sat in the Quarter Sessions Divisions of the Common Pleas Court, although a Judge of the Municipal Court, summer after summer, in Room 653 City Hall, and disposed of thousands of cases in the Quarter Sessions Division. Yet, to import a Judge from any other county, necessitates traveling expenses and extra compensation to be paid by the Commonwealth.

It is my mature judgment that this Court could handle ninety percent of the criminal cases of Philadelphia, such ninety percent being within its authorized jurisdiction. We could, as conditions required, assign additional Judges in the Criminal Division, and in that way eliminate the terrible back log of criminal indictments.

Moreover, I am also of the strong opinion that the name of this Court has outlived its purpose. The words "Municipal Court" may have been proper when this Court was created in 1913; but in the past fifteen or twenty years, many States have changed the name of their magistrates and justices of the peace, to "Municipal Court Judges." This has diminished the importance, by value, of the judgments of this Court. I believe that the name should be changed to "Philadelphia County Court." Since there is an Allegheny County Court, these two Courts could be recognized as strictly additional Courts for the two largest counties in Pennsylvania.

The next point I would like to call to your attention is the Judicial salary. I submit to Your Excellency that there should be no discrepancy of Judicial salaries in the same Judicial District. A cause of action involving the life of a family, the future of a juvenile or the civil rights of an individual should not be placed in a second class category simply because the actual money value may be less than the jurisdictional amount granted to the Court. There is now pending in the Legislature, Bills to increase the salaries of Judges. I submit that there should be no difference between the salaries of the Judges of the Common Pleas Court, Orphans' Court and Municipal Court of Philadelphia. When you create second class Judges, you have a tendency to create second class Justice.

My next point is the question of administrative power of this Court. The historical background as to why the President Judge of this Court is elected by the Board of Judges is well known. In my opinion, this is wrong—It does not foster friendly feeling among the Judges; rather it permits the infiltration of political influence. What would happen if the Supreme Court, or Superior Court of Pennsylvania were required to elect the Chief Justice and the President Judges respectively.

It is my opinion that in order to foster a better administration of Justice and to bring harmony among the Judges, the President Judge should be commissioned as in the other Courts of the Commonwealth. There is no reason, except the political one, to single out the Municipal Court as an exception to this historic and general rule governing Pennsylvania Courts.

May I assure you that it will be my pleasure to appear before the proper Committees of the House and Senate to describe more in detail any of the propositions herein suggested.

Assuring you of my highest esteem, I am

Very respectfully yours,

ADRIAN BONNELLY

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. YOSKO asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, under the liquor control laws and under the liquor license quota portion of it, the Liquor Board is bound by the Federal census in the issuance of the number of licenses in a municipality. At one time, as I understand it, if the population of a municipality increased after the Federal census was taken and a certification to that effect was submitted to the Liquor Control Board, the Liquor Control Board would accept the figures that were so certified and if the population increased to the extent that one or more licenses could be granted under the quota system, such licenses were granted.

I understand that recently, however, the matter was taken to the Superior Court, and the Superior Court decided that the Liquor Board was bound by the Federal census. Therefore, under the present situation, which is prevalent in many, many communities in Pennsylvania where the population is increasing between the ten-year period that the Federal census is taken, the Board cannot accept a certification from the local officials on the increase in the population.

Mr. President, I am, therefore, submitting this bill which would authorize the Board to accept such a certification in between the ten-year periods that the Federal census is taken. I think this is important, Mr. President, so that the Liquor Board can comply in spirit and in fact with the quota license law. In a great many municipalities, as I said before, the population is increasing to the extent where some municipalities are entitled to more liquior licenses than are now allocated to them.

I trust we will get speedy action on this bill so that the Liquor Board can meet the spirit of the law.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Messrs. YOSKO and SCOTT read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1107, entitled:

An Act amending the act of April 12, 1951 (P. L. 90) entitled "Liquor Code" prescribing the method of determining population of municipalities for the purpose of limiting number of retail licenses.

Which was committed to the Committee on Rules.

Mr. SCOTT read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1108, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 24, 1939 (P. L. 872) entitled 'The Penal Code" permitting persons who are the lowest responsible bidder among competitive bidders to sell supplies to State-aided institutions of which they are an officer or member of the board of managers.

Which was committed to the Committee on Rules.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, when an automobile dealer attempts to sell a car to a prospective customer, he sometimes puffs up his sales talk and makes it sound as though his is the only car that is of any value on the road. In the law and in the trade, we call that "trade puffing." It is something which you sometimes cannnot sue on and recover, because they figure that everybody in the trade has the right to gild the lily a little bit. However, Mr. President, when I read the account of the speech made by Governor Leader at Easton last night, I wondered if he had not carried this theory of trade puffing just a little bit too far.

Mr. President, the Governor said that despite Republican political maneuvering, the Democratic Administration has been successful in its efforts to help Pennsylvania's people. He did not tell his audience that without cooperation from the Republican Majority in the Senate, it would have been impossible for him to have helped anybody, regardless of whether he wanted to or whether he did not. All of the legislation, to which the Governor points with pride, definitely had to have the cooperation of the Republican Members of the Senate or it would not have been passed and gotten on his desk. We feel just as proud as he does of the Wokmen's Compensation Act amendments, the Unemployment Compensation Act amendments and the various other labor legislation which we have passed, together with other worthwhile legislation that we have helped to pass during this Session and which has been laid on his desk.

However, in no place in the Governor's speech does he give any credit of any kind whatsoever to the Republican Majority of the Senate in legislating these bills. He heaps abuse upon us at every turn. He says that the Administration was blocked in its efforts, at every turn, by Republican political maneuvering and partisan chicanery. He also said that the Democratic Administration has brought new industries to the Commonwealth and has set up special training programs in our schools for handicapped children. Mr. President, we did that during Republican Administrations for many years. We have been cognizant of the fact that we should do that. He took up where the Republican Administrations left off. If he added a great deal to the program that was already on the books, we feel that the Republicans in the Senate and in the House aided him in that effort.

The Governor said in his speech that the goals in the Republican Party have been to make "this the longest and most laborious legislative Session in the history of the Commonwealth, to keep the State bogged down in financial morass and to gag the people of Pennsylvania with another sales tax." We plead guilty not of gagging the people of Pennsylvania with another sales tax, but giving the people of Pennsylvania what we thought was a tax program that the majority of them wanted, and to keep from being placed upon the backs of the people of Pennsylvania a socialistic income tax program which the Governor espoused.

As far as continuing this Session for these many months is concerned, Mr. President, I do not think we can plead guilty to that. Certainly, the Governor took a long, long while in getting his first tax program through the House. I think we received it in the Senate toward he end of July. Usually, we are out of the halls of the Capitol at that time of year. Very few Sessions have lasted beyond the end of July. I think only one in the history of Pennsylvania lasted longer and that was the 1951 Session, which lasted beyond the end of July in the year in which it started.

Mr. President, we received the classified income tax program over here and we gave it speedy action. In fact, we wanted to act upon it with such speed that the Speaker of the House who is a Democrat, was fearful of giving it to us because he was afraid we were going to act on it too fast. He held it up on us for about a week and, finally we got it and we acted upon it within three or four days from the time we received it. We defeated it, as we said we would. Then, it should have been very evident to His Majesty—or, as he is called in Mr. Cummings column, "His Unserene Highness"—that the only tax program he was going to get through was one which the Republican Majority in the Senate would go along with. However, he continued talking against the sales tax after we had told him that we would go along with the sales tax. He then kept saying that he would veto a sales tax and there was no use in putting it through. Therefore, the Governor kept the House from passing a sales tax. He then came up with another brain child called the manufacturers' excise tax, which did not take very long to get through the House. It came over here and we acted upon that with great speed and celerity. We defeated that program after we had heard from people all over the State of Pennsylvania as to what that tax would do to them, that it would drive industry out of the State, and we defeated that program. One would have thought, by that time, that certainly the Governor would have decided that it was high time that he should bow to the inevitable and say, "Well, I tried not to have a sales tax, but it looks as though I have no alternative." However, he sulked in his tent for months and, in the meantime, we lost all of this money that should have been coming into the coffers of the State by way of a sales tax. He left the other one expire and would not allow it to be re-enacted.

They talk about how much money will be lost by the stamp plan, but if he had the sales tax on the books at the time the other one expired, we would not now be in a position where we have to cut down on a great many worthwhile projects. We would have been able to give many of these people, these institutions and various other projects the extra money that they want. However, as I told someone this morning, a gentleman from Philadelphia who came up pleading for more money for his pet project, I said, "Mr., we have been like a man who has been unemployed for some years, or some months, and who has now gotten a new job. As soon as he gets the job, you cannot expect him to start paying off everything as he formerly did and keep up with the same standard and add more to it. He must retrench for awhile until he can get back to normalcy." That is what we are faced with.

I think the Governor should be a little bit more realistic. He should surely give credit where credit is due. Lots of people have said that Secretary of Labor and Industry, John Torquato, is a ruthless politician and so forth. However, I will say this about John Torquato. I say he is a politician and perhaps a good one. He has produced some results. I would say that even John Torquato, in his speech when he dedicated the new Labor and Industry Building, gave some credit to his predecessor, a Republican by the name of Secretary Walker. He said that Secretary Walker had made some good plans for this building and he gave much credit to his predecessor. I would say to the Secretary of Labor and Industry, John Torquato, that my hat is off to him in the regard that, at least, he was a big enough man to give some credit where credit was due. However, it seems that Governor Leader is not that big. He has to heap abuse on everybody that does not see eye to eye with him. He gives no credit to anybody for the things that he points to with pride. All he wants to do is to make a lot of political speeches which do not ring true.

Mr. President, I have been working night and day, together with many of my Republican and Democratic colleagues in both the House and the Senate, in trying to work out a program. It does not do our efforts any good for the Governor to make this type of speech. For instance, this morning, in my office, we had many Republican Senators and Republican House Members, we had Democratic Senators and we had Democratic House Members, including the Speaker of the House, the Majority Leader of the House and the Minority Leader of the House, the Majority Leader of the Senate and the Minority Leader of the Senate in attendance. We worked for over two hours to try to work out a satisfactory program so that we might adjourn this Session of the Legislature in the foreseeable future. I think we accomplished a great deal. I certainly regret the fact that the Governor does not seem to want to go along with our attempts to get some cooperation.

If the Governor wants to look at the record, he will find that we have been trying to get out of here for some months or, at least, for some weeks. We considered putting in an Adjournment Sine Die Resolution in March. According to the History, we adopted a Sine Die Adjournment Resolution on March 20th in the Senate. It was sent over to the House and it has been on the table ever since that time. With that particular resolution, we tried to adjourn by the sixth day of April. We also adopted another Since Die Resolution and that has laid on the table over in the House. How can the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, who is supposed to know a little something, possibly accuse the Republican Majority in the Senate for holding up this Session of the Legislature?

Mr. President, I want to tell the Governor and everybody in Pennsylvania that no Governor in the history of Pennsylvania has had any more cooperation from the Republicans than what the present Governor of Pennsylvania has received. Nobody has had more cooperation from the opposite party than he has. We have worked night and day to try to make him see some light. We have worked night and day in order to satisfactorily conclude the affairs facing this Session of the Legislature.

I did want to read an editorial from yesterday's Evening News. It is quite lengthy and I would like to have it printed in the record. It is a very factual editorial, which points out the problems which face us in relation to education. Sometimes I criticize editorials in the various papers, but here is one that I think is written by a person who really knew what he was talking about. The writer of this editorial says we are not only faced with present problems, but we are going to be faced with future problems in relation to education.

I just want to read the last part of this editorial, as follows:

"Pennsylvanians, when it comes to their schools, are face to face with an old reality that has been around as long as the human race. It's this:

"They can't eat their cake and have it, too.

"And they can't get something for nothing."

Mr. President, I want to put that in the record as an appendix to my remarks, and I want to close by pleading with the Governor of Pennsylvania to at least get the facts before he makes these trade puffing remarks of his when he comes to addressing the various groups throughout the State of Pennsylvania.

The PRESIDENT. Does the Senator from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, wish to make the complete editorial a part of his remarks?

Mr. MAHANY. I do, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, asks that the editorial, a portion of which he just read, be made a part of his remarks. Is there objection?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, is it an editorial from a recognized newspaper of good or bad repute?

Mr. MAHANY. Well, it is in good repute today, Senator.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I want to make sure it comes from a paper of good repute, although we know that changes daily here in the Senate.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears no objection, and the editorial will be spread upon the Legislative Journal as a part of the remarks of the Senator from Crawford, Mr. Mahany.

FRILLS, FROTH, TAXES AND YOUR LOCAL SCHOOLS

Get any group of average Pennsylvanians together, start up an argument on the ever-increasing problems of public education and, sooner or later, one of them will express this angry opinion:

"I know the schools need more money. I know they're overcrowded. I know they need more teachers, and I'd like to see the teachers get more money. But tell me, if the schools are in such a jam, why don't they cut out a lot of the expensive frills and froth and get back to the plain, old-fashioned essentials? Why do they have to have great big football stadiums Why does every single school have to have its very own, refusing to join with other schools in its area in building and using just one? And those expensive gymnasiums which will seat a thousand or a couple of thousand! Why do they have to have such fancy auditoriums? Why do they have to have such things as classes in ukulele playing, when some of their essential classes are so big, the teacher is overwhelmed? And why do they have to pour all the time, effort and money into so many extracurricular activities, both during school hours and after, when they are having such a struggle to make ends meet?"

A month ago, during a panel discussion in the skyrocketing needs and costs of schools, a Pennsylvania editor fired a question just like this at Dr. John R. Rackley, a top official in the U.S. Department of Education.

Define what is "frill" and what is "froth," Dr. Rackley answered and you'll get a real argument going in any school district. "What is froth and frill? What is froth to one person is a way of living to another."

What are you saying to yourself right now? Something like this: "What would you expect an educator to say? Naturally he'd try and justify all of this stuff!"

Take a look at what happened in St. Paul, Minn., last week.

The St. Paul School District has run out of money. St. Paul will need 169 new teachers at the start of next fall's term, to fill vacancies of teachers who are leaving and to take care of new hundreds of children who will come flooding into the school system. So far, it has been able to find only 25. New graduating teachers, school officials say, all give the same answer: They have their choice of jobs at higher starting salaries elsewhere. One of the "elsewheres" is just a stone's throw away in neighboring Minneapolis.

To raise teacher salaries $50 a month to get even with the "elsewheres," the St. Paul School Board announced that effective with the 1956-57 school year, it is discontinuing high school athletics, dropping all extra-curricular activities such as drama, debating, school publications and choral groups, eliminating all "frill" subjects to teach only the essential courses and ending all free use of school buildings by outside groups.

St. Paul got into its desperate financial situation because only the week before, in a special election, St. Paul's taxpayers defeated proposals to allow their school district to increase its tax levies and borrow $1 million.

Are St. Paul's parents and taxpayers satisfied with their School Board's decision on bare essentials and no more "frills and froth?"

Not so you could notice it!

They are organizing committees of protest. They are demanding reconsideration. They are threatening to take their sons and daughters out of public schools and transfer them into parochial and private schools.

St. Paul's teachers, in formal meeting, have come out for retention of the present school program, plus the salary increases. They propose to force the issue by running the schools until the money runs out, then closing them.

We'll hazard this opinion:

The parents and taxpayers in most Pennsylvania school districts are no different in attitude than those of St. Paul.

They're grumbling and groaning about high local school taxes and the walloping tax load at the State level, because the State is financing one-half of the costs of their local schools.

The sales tax, from which much of this multi-million-dollar financing now comes, today stands at the maximum rate of 3 per cent (only one of the 32 other sales tax States has a higher rate, and it is 3¼ per cent.) It should be as plain as the nose on anyone's face that with higher State spending for schools pledged for the future, by 1960 at the latest there will have to be an income tax, too.

Yet Pennsylvanians and their politicians in both parties continue a wild and ripping controversy over the sales tax vs. the income tax.

There's an alternate: Move the tax load back onto the local districts. Answer this question: How many Pennsylvania voters would ballot for the soaring local school taxes to make up the difference? Two years ago, when Pittsburgh was in a situation approaching that of St. Paul, Pittsburgh's voters overwhelmed a special question on allowing a tax incerase, 4 to 1.

Answer this question, too: How many parents and taxpayers in the various districts would stand still if the "frills" and "froth," now available for their children, were eliminated?

Pennsylvanians, when it comes to their schools, are face to face with an old reality that has been around as long as the human race. It's this:

They can't eat their cake and have it, too.

And they can't get something for nothing.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I am quite confident now that we are about to adjourn sine die, because the Republican Party seems to be hurt that a Democratic Governor has not heaped praise upon them.

It seems to me that we are now in the stage where we point with pride and view with alarm, as John Walker used to say. I think the Senator is trying to point with pride and he is viewing with alarm what the Governor said the other night. Actually, I do believe that the Governor of Pennsylvania told the people the facts. I said on this floor many, many times that the Republican Party started to filibuster the first Monday of January of last year here in the Senate. All they wanted to do was obstruct all the way down the line until they threw us into a heavy deficit. The Republican Party knows that this is the case today. They are upping appropriations and you are voting for everything which will cost us money, with the idea of telling the people of Pennsylvania, "Well, the Democrats were in Session for a year and a half, and they do not know how to run Pennsylvania and are ending up with a deficit."

Mr. President, in all my experience in local and State government, I have never heard any leading Republican praise the Democratic Party. As a matter of fact, I remember, under the Administration of Senator Duff, that he teed off one time in Pittsburgh and took all the Democrats apart and it was the Democrats who actually saved his program, because over on the Republican side it was divided. We stood up and fought for Duff's program and all we received was abuse. The same thing happened under Governor Fine. You fellows over there started fighting with Governor Fine right down the line as soon as he took office, and what happened? We tried to help him and we were again abused. Now you are crying because Governor Leader is telling the actual truth. I am glad he made that speech because I believe that maybe you fellows will get on the ball, at least at the next Session of the Legislature.

The Republicans talk about the sine die resolutions on adjournment. That was just so much publicity because the Republicans knew we could not adjourn. They wanted to let the people know that they were willing to get out of Harrisburg, but they knew very well we could not adjourn because we had not completed our job. You fellows on the other side have defeated a number of tax programs and at the last minute, you came up with a sales tax. You did that deliberately to embarrass the Governor. We know that and I have heard Republicans back home say, "Well, Leader was against the one per cent sales tax and now he has a three per cent sales tax." However, the people forget that it was the Republican Majority here in the Senate who were responsible for that sales tax.

You talk about your labor legislation. You fellows knew very well that you had to go along because you were in trouble and were looking for votes. Sure, you went along with the labor legislation, but not because you wanted to in your hearts. You went along with it because you had to, because you are trying to take over this State again. If you keep on, you will be out of office for the next twenty years.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I was at that dinner last night and I heard the Governor's speech. Frankly, I think he was mild. I think he could have made a more vicious speech, if Senator Mahany calls the one made last night a vicious one. I believe that everything the Governor said was the absolute truth.

First, Mr. President, the Governor said that the Republicans had two aims when this Session began. I said that very same thing in the floor of the Senate before. The first aim was to keep us in Session for a period longer than the previous record, and the Governor said that the Republicans, through obstructionism here in the Senate, accomplished that end. The Governor then said that instead of giving the people a tax program based on ability to pay, the Republicans carried out their other aim, and that was to stuff a sales tax down the peoples' throats. That, too, is a fact. It is also a fact that the Republicans not only stuffed a sales tax down the peoples' throats, but the stamp plan which accompanies it which will cost the people an unnecessary amount of money, between $10,000,000 and $12,000,000 that could be saved and used for other purposes. The Stamp plan the Republicans are forcing upon the people of this State, and probably trying to force upon the Governor of this State, is a plan that not one single State having a sales tax in the United States uses and the only State that does use the stamp plan is trying to get rid of it.

Although I never said this to the Governor, if I were to discuss that factor with him, I would advise him that if the amended sales tax bill goes over on his desk with the stamp plan in it, to veto the bill because I do not think we should saddle the people with a cumbersome stamp plan that nobody in the Nation wants. As I said before, the one state that has the stamp plan has been trying to get rid of it. As a matter of fact, officials from that State came here to Pennsylvania and warned Members of this Legislature not to take the stamp plan because it is not workable, feasible, efficient and it is too costly.

Mr. President, I am not going to review what Senator Lane already said about the tax program. However, we could have been out of here last September if the Republican Majority in the Senate would have taken either one of the two tax programs which the Governor submitted, the first being the income tax based on ability to pay and the other being the excise tax.

The Governor also said in his speech that labor was given benefits to which it was entitled in the form of unemployment compensation increases, workmen's compensation increases and a liberalization of the occupational disease laws. What the Governor said was that the Republican Majority in the Senate was reluctant to pass those bills, but because of public sentiment created by the labor groups it became necessary to build a fire under the Republican Majority here in the Senate and compel them to go along with that labor legislation.

Mr. President, the Governor talked about the benefits that the mentally retarded children have derived from legislation passed during this Session and told the gathering there that for the first time in the history of Pennsylvania, every child of school age will have an opportunity to step into our public schools. He said there were no second class citizens in Pennsylvania and that by depriving the mentally retarded of an opportunity for an education, this was making second class citizens out of them. He said that in order to get that legislation, it required another fire under the Republican Majority in the Senate because it was through editorials and through public spirited citizens and public spirited groups that created the enthusiasm and sentiment for that legislation, which finally helped it to be enacted into law.

Then the Governor talked about what we are trying to do with our mental institutions. He did not tell anything that was false about that problem. I have been here since 1949 and I think I made at least a dozen speeches on the floor of this Senate, calling attention to conditions in our mental institutions. I said, time and time again, that our mental institutions were nothing but four walls where people were sent to die, where our people were given merely custodial care and that our mental institutions were not places of cure but purely places of confinement. That has been a fact and the Republicans did nothing about it except talk about the Duff mental health program, which was a fake and everybody knows it. What the Governor said was that the Secretary of Welfare was attempting to remedy that situation by making our institution places of cure instead of merely places of confinement. The Governor called attention to the fact that a $26,500,000 appropriation was pending and he hoped that the group he was talking to, plus all other public spirited citizens, would join together in calling upon everybody in the Legislature, including the Republican Majority in the Senate, to approve that appropriation in order that Secretary Shapiro could carry his program to a successful conclusion on behalf of the mentally ill.

Mr. President, I certainly saw nothing wrong or nothing false concerning the remarks that the Governor made last night. I think it is only fair that I stand here and defend those statements.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, last week, I rose in place and expressed my views pertaining to pending legislation affecting the teaching profession of our Commonwealth. My good friend, Senator Mahany, took the occasion to criticize me and stated that I was making political capital because I am supporting the schoolteachers of our Commonwealth. Again, on a number of occasions, Senator Mahany has risen in place and read into the record parts of my column which appears in a number of newspapers back in my county that I write. I told Senator Mahany, last week, that the next issue coming out would be a kindly one.

I have spoken kindly of Senator Mahany, Mr. President, and, therefore, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Crawford, Senator Mahany.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. HALUSKA. Senator Mahany, did you have occasion to read my column of last week in one of the Johnstown newspapers?

Mr. MAHANY. Not as yet, Senator Haluska. I have been quite busy on a lot of other matters. I am sorry, but I have not had a chance to read it as yet. However, I assure you that I will do so within the next twenty-four hours, especially if it has anything good to say about me.

Mr. HALUSKA. I wondered about it and have been somewhat disappointed, because on a number of occasions you have read into the record criticisms of my column. In this particular column, I spoke very kindly of you and your colleagues. Since you are somewhat peeved at the Governor, this would be the appropriate time to tell about one Democrat who paid homage to you people. I thought perhaps you might read that into the record.

Mr. MAHANY. Thank you, Senator Haluska. I have just sent for that very fine newspaper, called "The Johnstown Observer," to which you are a regular contributor. I expect to have it within the next five minutes. I will read it over and if it says as nice things as you say it does, I will be happy to put your column in the record.

Mr. HALUSKA. Thank you.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, approximately nine months ago this Body, together with the Members of the House, did honor to one Jonas Salk, the man who discovered the cure for polio. At that time, all of us were so enthused about this man, particularly because of the fact that he was a Pennsylvanian and affiliated with a Pennsylvania medicl school, that our generosity was unbounded and we were prepared to make all types of contributions toward the polio vaccine foundation and the University of Pittsburgh.

On September 12, 1955 in the House, House Bill No. 1787 was introduced. It was introduced by Doctor Sarraf, a Democrat, and Representative Haudenshield, a Republican. That bill proposed to set up a seat of preventive medicine at the University of Pittsburgh, and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania was going to contribute the sum of $50,000 for the biennium in order that we might subsidize such a seat of medicine. In the original draft of the bill, it was to be in honor of Doctor Salk, although his name was not mentioned. Doctor Salk is a very retiring sort of gentleman and he did not care to have his name known as part of the seat of preventive medicine and, therefore, the bill was amended making this seat to be known as the Commonwealth's Professorship of Preventive Medicine, to be filled by a member of the medical profession who, in the opinion of the Trustees of the University of Pittsburgh, has done the most for preventive medicine.

Mr. President, as I stated, that bill was introduced on September 12th, in the House, and was finally passed on September 28th, sixteen days later, by a vote of 208-0. That bill came over to the Senate and on October 5, 1955, it was referred to the Committee on Appropriations. That was seven months ago, and this bill still remains in committee.

I would like to know from the Members of the Senate whether or not it was just a gesture on paper to Doctor Jonas Salk or whether we, of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, desire to honor this gentleman for the marvelous contribution he has made to humanity and whether we, in Pennsylvania, intend to establish such a chair and provide a $50,000 biennial appropriation for such a professorship.

I think it is money that would be well spent and should be spent, not only as a token of respect to Doctor Salk, whom I feel will be chosen as the professor, but to the work that he and his staff have accomplished.

Therefore, Mr. President, I ask the Members of the Senate to prevail upon the Committee on Appropriations and let Senator Chapman know that we agree with this bill. I think that is all he wants to know. He wants to know that we want this bill and I think we do want it. I think the bill should come out and that it should be passed before this Senate adjourns, which I understand will happen in the very near future. I ask you all to join with me in requesting that the Committee on Appropriations reports this bill out so that we may have a seat of preventive medicine at the University of Pittsburgh.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I have just had the first opportunity of reading a very fine column written in the Johnstown Observer, under date of Thursday, May 3, 1956. I note that this newspaper was formerly owned and operated by the Speaker of the House, Hiram Andrews. I have been getting it for the last couple of years. I got acquainted with the editor of the newspaper, Mr. Martin, when I was up in Johnstown about a year ago. I found him to be a very fine man, a man who is interested in his community, and a very worth-while citizen. I do not even know what his politics are, but when I talked to him, he talked like a statesman and I am very proud of my friendship with Mr. Martin.

I also note that Senator Haluska writes regularly for this very fine newspaper. I also want to add that I am a paying subscriber. The newspaper is not sent to me free of charge; I send a check for this subscription. I am always pleased to read Senator Haluska's column; that is how I keep up with him.

Mr. President, I am just going to read the last couple of paragraphs in Senator Haluska's column because it does bring in Senator Dent. I read as follows:

"A number of the Senators, of which I am one, have definitely made up their minds that they shall press for a $200.00 increment payable in the next two years commencing as of September of this year. These two increments will not be a bonus but a permanent increase in addition to the mandated increments that the teachers shall receive for the corresponding years. That much I feel definitely will be accomplished which in reality is a great break for the teaching profession.

"However, in addition to that part of the program, Senator Dent and myself are spearheading a drive to give the teachers a bonus for the present school year. We have been pressing for a $200.00 bonus for this year but probably we will have to settle for less but we feel strongly about our position and are ready to go to war if need be to accomplish our point.

"The position held by Senator Dent of Westmoreland County, the Democratic Floor Leader, my position as Democratic Senate Caucus Chairman, Hiram G. Andrews, as Speaker of the House of Representatives, Representatives, Lopresti, Rovansek, and Farabaugh as highranking members in the General Assembly, is going to pay great dividends to the teaching profession of this Commonwealth."

I have read a couple of paragraphs and Senator Haluska still has not caught up with me.

"Together we play a major part in molding Pennsylvania's future and the people of Cambria County should be justly proud we hold that position on Capitol Hill." Now, we get down to me.

"Now please remember we do not discredit the positions of other at the State Capitotl. Republican Floor Leader, Senator Mahany from Titusville, also feels strongly about our position and many of his colleagues under his leadership I predict will link arms with us to accomplish our point. In other words, partisan politics will play no part in this great battle. It must be a meeting of minds and determination to win if the school teachers are to get the program as outlined—above and this we hope to do."

Mr. President, I am glad that Senator Haluska, and Senator Dent and the rest of us are going to work for this program and go to war. Senator Haluska might have to get his battle armor on before long. I understand that the schoolteachers' bill is coming over from the House and it is going to be referred to the Rules Committee, if it has not already been done. We are going to report the bill out today. It is going to have First Reading today, Second Reading tomorrow and on Friday we are going to pass it finally just as it came from the House. We are going to do this not only for the teachers of Pennsylvania, but also as a little birthday present to Senator Haluska. I understand this is his birthday and we congratulate him and hope that he has many, many more years of prosperity and success. We hope that the good people of Cambria County—I do not want to put in any plug for him. I noticed that he put enough plugs in this article for himself. I would suggest that Senator Haluska run this column again just before Election Day of this year.

As a little birthday present to Senator Haluska, I would ask unanimous consent to have this entire column, entitled, "As I See It," by State Senator John J. Haluska, printed in the Legislative Journal.

The PRESIDENT. At the request of the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, this newspaper article will be spread upon the Legislative Journal.

Predicts Teachers Will Get Pay Increase

This week's article was released just as we left for the state capitol Monday morning to renew our fight in the legislative halls pertaining to the financial condition of our Commonwealth. The legislature was recessed during the past week for the purpose of permitting candidates to go back home and get acquainted with their constituents and be able to cast their vote at the recent primaries. We hope that the final touches to this session will not be far away and if the legislature gets down to hard work we should be able to adjourn since die by June 1st, but the work they have before them just makes one shudder.

First, something must be done immediately to give the state-aided hospitals money for services rendered which is now long past-due. This is a must and action must be taken this week. Then we have the universities and public institutions who are waiting for their appropriations, but their case is somewhat less important than that of the hospitals. Then, the issue of passing legislation pertaining to the teaching profession is most important and paramount.

There is no question that something must be done to give our educators a half decent break and in this respect I wish to assure the teachers of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that I personally shall leave nothing undone and will be satisfied to remain in session an additional month if that will bring about satisfactory results. Regardless of what the daily papers have stated pertaining to the doors being closed on any additional help to the school teachers, I now make this prediction—that before we adjourn the minimum for the school teachers will be raised to $3,000.00 and the maximum will be increased to $5,200.00 and then in the 1957 session, it is the intent of the legislators to raise the minimum to $3,400 and the maximum to $5,600.00. That is the pattern set on that phase of the program.

A number of the Senators of which I am one have definitely made up their minds that they shall press for a $200.00 increment payable in the next two years commencing as of September of this year. These two increments will not be a bonus but a permanent increase in addition to the mandated increments that the teachers shall receive for the corresponding years. That much I feel definitely will be accomplished which in reality is a great break for the teaching profession.

However, in addition to that part of the program, Senator Dent and myself are spearheading a drive to give the teachers a bonus for the present school year. We have been pressing for a $200.00 bonus for this year but probably we will have to settle for less but we feel strongly about our position and are ready to go to war if need be to accomplish our point.

The position held by Senator Dent of Westmoreland County the Democratic Floor Leader, my position as Democratic Senate Caucus Chairman, Hiram G. Andrews as Speaker of the House of Representatives, Representatives Lopresti, Rovansek, and Farabaugh as high-ranking members in the General Assembly are going to pay great dividends to the teaching profession of this Commonwealth. Together we play a major part in molding Pennsylvania's future and the people of Cambria County should be justly proud we hold that position on Capitol Hill.

Now please remember we do not discredit the positions of others at the State Capitol. Republican Floor Leader, Senator Mahany from Titusville also feels strongly about our position and many of his colleagues under his leadership I predict will link arms with us to accomplish our point. In other words, partisan politics wlil play no part iin this great battle. It must be a meeting of minds and determination to win if the school teachers are to get the program as outlined—above and this we hope to do.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. STIEFEL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I had the privilege and signal pleasure to appear today as a guest at a meeting of the Committee on Rules. I got a genuine thrill when I saw those omnipotent Members of the Senate sitting there in judgment. Here, therefore, is more grist for their mills. It surprises me that for seventeen months we have searched everything. I hardly believe there is a subject which escaped our attention and our searching eye. However, there is one field which is a challenging field and, in my humble opinion, requires a timely study and that is the Blue Cross and the Blue Shield. It is about time that somebody makes an evaluation of the relationship of the benefits which the people derive from the Blue Cross and the Blue Shield and what is paid into those funds.

It seems to me that somewhere in this entire picture there is what we call in latin a lacuna, a gap, pertaining to disaster insurance. Sometimes when disaster insurance strikes, the Blue Cross and the Blue Shield are not there. They accomplish this by certain devious calculations.

Therefore, Mr. President, in order to cope with the situation and to be ready at the opening of the next Session with adequate legislation, I am presenting this resolution on behalf of Senator Chapman, Senator Lane and myself and I hope that it merits immediate adoption.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS

DIRECTING THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO INVESTIGATE THE RATES AND BENEFITS OF BLUE CROSS AND BLUE SHIELD PLANS IN PENNSYLVANIA

Messrs. STIEFEL, CHAPMAN and LANE offered the following resolution, which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, May 9, 1956.

Whereas, In recent years, socialized medicine has been the subject of much discussion and considerable controversy; and

Whereas, Members of the medical profession have decried the institution of governmental programs which they believe to be moves in the direction of socialized medicine and have urged the public to give its support to private plans for health insurance coverage; and

Whereas, The Blue Cross and Blue Shield group coverage programs for hospitalization and medical and surgical insurance have grown tremendously over the years since their inception; and

Whereas, The nonprofit Blue Cross and Blue Shield plans throughout the Commonwealth annually receive millions of dollars in subscription payments from Pennsylvania citizens; and

Whereas, Benefits and rates under Blue Cross and Blue Shield plans have been adjusted from time to time, purportedly to permit these plans to provide the greatest possible coverage for the greatest number of subscribers in the face of a vastly increased demand for hospital care and medical and surgical treatment; therefore be it

Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring), That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to investigate the rates and benefits of Blue Cross and Blue Shield plans in Pennsylvania to determine if an equitable relationship exists between subscription payments and benefits, and report its findings to the next regular session of the General Assembly.

RULE 39 SUSPENDED

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Mr. MAHANY. They were referred to the Committee on Rules earlier today, the Committee on Rules had a short meeting just a little while ago and we have decided to report both of these bills from committee.

An Act amending the act of July 18, 1917 (P. L. 1043) entitled "Public School Employes Retirement Law" providing additional disability and super-annuation retirement allowances.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to.

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, I wish to state for the record that of all the increases this Legislature has given during this biennium, this bill, House Bill No. 653, allowing some $912,000 to teachers who had retired prior to the year 1951, is perhaps the most justifiable and most deserving increase. While this bill was pending in the Legislature I received, I would say, hundreds of letters from teachers who had retired prior to 1951. Some of these teachers stated that they had taught school as long as forty years. The retirement checks of these teachers ranged anywhere from thirty-seven dollars a month to something like $125 a month. These teachers are at an age where they need medical care, hospitalization, and after having given all those years of service they found themselves in a most needy condition.

Mr. President, I wish to state that of all the bills we voted for giving increases, I feel more justified and get more satisfaction in voting for this bill than for any other.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, we are working on some amendments which we do not have ready. However, we plan to put them in next week.

BILL ON THIRD READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1077, entitled:

An Act amending the act of March 31, 1949 (P. L. 372) entitled "The General State Authority Act of 1949" increasing the power of the Authority to borrow money and issue evidences of indebtedness therefor and allocating the proceeds of the increased borrowing

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

REQUEST THAT BILL GO OVER IN ORDER

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 1077, Printer's No. 679, on third reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I have an amendment which I planned on offering to this bill.

REQUEST THAT BILL GO OVER IN ORDER WITHDRAWN

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I withdraw my request that this bill go over in its order.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, in order that there be no misunderstanding, the amendment is on behalf of Senators Mahany, Taylor, Pechan and myself. This amendment represents the thinking of the Department and the Senate in that instead of the construction of two hospitals for mentally retarded children, this will specify that three be built, in line with the Department of Welfare's original request.

We are not increasing the allocation except by approximately $60,740. The original $42,000,000 will, of course, remain. We believe this will give us a better round-out program for the mentally ill in Pennsylvania.

Therefore, Mr. President, on behalf of Senator Mahany, Senator Taylor, Senator Pechan and myself, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Sec. 2, page 5, line 8, by striking out "$42,000,000" and inserting in lieu: "$42,060,740"; Amend Sec. 2, page 5, lines 9 to 19. by striking out all of said lines, page 6, lines 1 to 20, by striking out all of said lines, page 7, lines 1 to 18, by striking out all of said lines, page 8, lines 1 to 20, by striking out all of said lines, page 9, lines 1 to 19, by striking out all of said lines, page 10, lines 1 to 16, by striking out all of said lines and inserting in lieu thereof: "A. Construct Three (3) Institutions for the Mentally Retarded and Emotionally Disturbed; "B. Existing Institutions Allentown State Hospital, Allentown, Lehigh County; Add One (1) H. P. Boiler and Plant Corrections; Complete Conversion from D C to A C Current, including Motors, Wiring, Safety

Switches and Control Panels; Connelsville State Hospital, Connelsville, Fayette County; Replace Building and Boiler for Steam Plant; Danville State Hospital, Danville, Montour County; Provide Dual Power Installation and Correct Distribution System; Farview State Hospital, Waymart, Wayne County Construct Two (2) Buildings for Patients; Revamp, Alter and Add to Sewage Disposal System; Harrisburg State Hospital, Harrisburg, Dauphin County; Construct New Building in order to accomodate in sequence, patients from Male Buildings 7, 8, 9 and 10, and Female Buildings, 7, 8, 9 and 10; Polk State School, Polk, Venango County Replace Stokers and Related Furnace Equipment; Retreat State Hospital, Retreat, Luzerne County; Replace, Correct and Add to Electric Distribution System; Torrance State Hospital, Torrance, Westmoreland County; Replace and Correct Steam Distribution; Warren State Hospital, Warren, Warren County; Install Electric Automatic Alarm System in Attics of Old Male and Female Sections; Revamp and Add to Sewage Disposal System; Wernersville State Hospital, Wernersville, Berks County; Construct Two (2) Buildings for Regressed Patients (one for regressed males and one for regressed females.)"

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2087, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 1, 1929 (P. L. 905) entitled "The Vehicle Code" further regulating applicants for registration changing annual registration fees for certain commercial motor vehicles trucks tractors trailers and semitrailers prescribing certain engine capacity and additional equipment requirements for certain vehicles changing the maximum gross weights allowed for certain vehicles providing a formula for determining the gross maximum weights and prescribing penalties

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

MOTION TO RECOMMIT BILL

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, there have been many suggested amendments to House Bill No. 2087 and rather than have them presented from the floor and perhaps have to go through a series of different printings on this bill, which would be costly to the Commonwealth, we feel it is better to recommit the bill, for the purpose of amendment, to the Committee on Highways and then that committee can come up with suggested amendments and report it out as amended.

Mr. President, I want to stress that this recommittal is not being done for the purpose of killing the bill, but for the purpose of further study and possible amendment.

Therefore, Mr. President, I move that House Bill No. 2087, on third reading, be recommitted to the Committee on Highways, for the purpose of further study and possible amendment.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Crawford, Senator Mahany.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. Senator Mahany, as you know, the people in western Pennsylvania are vitally concerned about this particular piece of legislation and, just for the record, I want it understood that we are agreeing to recommittal solely on the basis that the Committee on Highways is planning to amend this piece of legislation and report it to the floor for floor action.

As you probably know, we have had a number of serious accidents in the hilly sections of Pennsylvania and we, from western Pennsylvania, including yourself, cannot let this bill die.

It is my understanding then that the bill will be reported out as amended, is that correct?

Mr. MAHANY. As far as I know, Senator, that is correct. I am a Member of the Committee on Highways and I only have one vote there, but I will vote for it to be reported out as soon as we have the committee meeting and the amendments are agreed to.

Mr. LANE. Thank you, Senator.

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I rise to a point of information.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Washington, Mr. Lane, will state his point of information.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, is this bill being recommitted to the Committee on Highways or to the Committee on Rules?

The PRESIDENT. The motion is that the bill be recommitted to the Committee on Highways.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Crawford, Senator Mahany.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. Mr. Mahany, do you have any idea when the Committee on Highways is going to hold its next meetings?

Mr. MAHANY. You should direct that question to the chairman of the committee, Senator Wade.

Mr. LANE. Well, if you will yield, I will ask Senator Wade that question.

Mr. MAHANY. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Cumberland, Senator Wade.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Cumberland, Mr. Wade, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WADE. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. Senator Wade, you probably heard the conversation here across the floor today and I am wondering if you could tell the Membership of the Senate when you plan to hold a meeting of your Committee on Highways, because we are concerned about House Bill No. 2087. If you will tell the Membership this, I think we would all be enlightened.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I would be glad to inform the gentleman as to when we are going to have a Highways Meeting, but we have no schedule at present. I assure him, however, that it is the full intention of myself, as chairman, to hold such a committee meeting.

I, personally, am opposed to this motion and want to vote against returning the bill to committee because I think the amendments suggested to the bill could easily be put in the bill on the floor. However, as Senator Mahany has said, he thinks there may be other amendments in addition to those that have been suggested.

I want to assure the gentleman that it is the full intention of the chairman to call such a meeting for the purpose of considering this bill only.

Mr. LANE. Senator Wade, since you have no scheduled meeting of your committee, would you object to this bill being referred to the Committee on Rules for the purpose of amendment?

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I would have no objection whatever.

Mr. LANE. Oh, I see. Thank you, Senator Wade.

Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Crawford, Senator Mahany.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. Senator Mahany, would you be kind enough to amend your motion and request that the bill be recommitted to the Committee on Rules? We know that the Rules Committee is meeting about every day, and we could be pretty sure then that the bill might be reported out.

Senator Wade has stated that he has no scheduled meeting and that he has no objection to the bill going to the Committee on Rules.

Mr. MAHANY. The reason that I decided to make the motion to recommit this bill to the Highways Committee was because I thought they would have more time than we, in the Committee on Rules, would have to study this bill and to come up with the correct amendments.

As the gentleman knows, every day we have a meeting of the Committee on Rules and we spend a lot of time not only on rules, but also in trying to work out a time schedule in order that we may adjourn this Session within the near future. Many of the members of the Committee on Rules are also on many Conference Committees. We also have many appointments with others, who have bills which they want to get through the Senate, and also have many conferences with the leadership of the House, both Democratic and Republican. We have General State Authority meetings to attend. Therefore, I cannot find enough hours in the day to do all the things that I am supposed to do. If you really want a job done on this bill, I suggest that you let it go to the Highways Committee. I feel sure that Senator Wade, who is very much in favor of the bill, will give it early and prompt action.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I am afraid that a job is being done on the bill right now. I am very serious about this thing. I do not think we should be foolish and permit this bill to be returned to committee, when Senator Wade is not planning a meeting right away. As a matter of fact, Senator Wade is not in sympathy with your motion. I think probably we could do a better job by leaving the bill on the Calendar and having it go over in order, and those who wish to amend it can then amend it. There will be no objection from our side.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I want to call the Senator's attention to the fact that this bill has now been amended three times. I am now holding in my hand amendments which Senator Dent was going to offer today. I have heard of others who wish to amend it tomorrow. If you want to have a ten per cent sales tax to pay for the printing of all these bills, why you might have to have one. Every time one of these bills is reprinted it runs into money, Senator. Sometime we ought to find out just exactly how much it costs us when we reprint a bill of this size.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I agree that it runs into money to reprint these bills, but I cannot stand idly by and let a piece of legislation, as important as this one, be recommitted and probably killed in the closing days of this Session.

I am very serious when I make that statement. I feel that if Senator Dent has amendments there to offer, why do you not offer the amendments? Senator Dent says that all those amendments do is change the effective date. Offer Senator Dent's amendments and let the bill go over in order, and let us try to do something with it. I do not think this is partisan, not by a long shot. We should pass something like this, and I do not want to see the bill killed.

Mr. MAHANY. Senator, the bill will not be killed. The only reason that I am doing this is to save the taxpayers some money. As I say, we can amend it today and it will then have to be reprinted and if there are amendments offered tomorrow and the next day, then the bill will have to be reprinted again and again. I am trying to work this out so that at least it would involve the expense of only one more printing.

I am not fearful that this bill is going to die in committee, because I know that Senator Wade is very much in favor of, it. I can well imagine that he will call a meeting, maybe at 12:01 a. m. tomorrow morning or Friday morning, and get the bill out. Sometimes it has been known here to get bills out without even bothering to call a committee meeting.

Mr. LANE. Senator Mahany, would you and Senator Taylor guarantee that the bill will be reported out?

Mr. MAHANY. If I were a betting man, Senator, I would be willing to wager a little bit of money that the bill will come out by next week.

Mr. LANE. I wish to thank you, Senator Mahany.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I want to assure the gentleman from Washington that it is the full intention of the Highways Committee to consider the bill further

May I also suggest that any one who has amendments which they think would improve this bill, to get them into the hands of the Chairman of the Highways Committee. We will then call a meeting and consider all the amendments that are suggested.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, we seem to have a very unusual situation here. I have heard many speeches about the sanctity of committees at times when efforts were being made to discharge them. This is the first time, however, I have ever heard of forcing a bill back into committee when the chairman, apparently, is not anxious to receive it.

I do not know whether or not a roll call is going to be requested. However, just in the event that we do not have a roll call, I wish to be on record as being opposed to recommitting the bill, because I feel that it can very easily be amended on the floor. There can be conferences preceding the amendments so that we only need to amend it once. This will not make any more reprinting than by sending it back to committee.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

MOTION TO RECOMMIT BILL WITHDRAWN

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I have never tried to give anybody anything they did not want. As long as the chairman of the committee does not want this bill back, I withdraw my motion to recommit and Senator Pechan, I think, will withdraw his second.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

SENATE MESSAGE

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION SERIAL No. 177

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

SENATE RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 177

In the Senate, May 8, 1956.

The two National cemeteries located in Pennsylvania have been closed to additional interments of veterans of our wars, and closing them in their entirety is imminent due to lack of sufficient space.

Since neither of the two present National cemeteries can be considered appropriate for possible last resting places for those who fought for our Commonwealth and our Country, and who may die today or in the future, it is the sincere opinion of the great majority of the veterans in Pennsylvania that a new National cemetery should be established within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania at an entirely new location, and that cemetery be associated with the present and future requirements of those who fought in the wars of our Country.

It is known, from official sources, that there is available within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, a tract of one hundred acres to three hundred and fifty acres situated at the Indiantown Gap Military Reservation, and this could be made available to the United States Department of the Army, for the purpose of establishing a new National cemetery. Bills to accomplish this purpose have been introduced in the House of Representatives and the Senate of the Eighty-fourth United States Congress therefore be it

Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania memorialize the Congress of the United States to support and enact into legislation measures establishing a new National cemetery in Pennsylvania; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the presiding officers of each house of the Congress of the United States and to each Senator and Representative from Pennsylvania in the Congress of the United States.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

GEORGE M. LEADER.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, at the request of certain constituents in my district I communicated with the Secretary of Revenue. I requested that I be furnished 100 copies of exemption certificates under the Sales Tax Act, and this is the answer I received from the Secretary of Revenue:

> Reference is made to your letter of April 26, 1956, requesting one hundred (100) copies of exemption certificates for the Selective Sales and Use Tax.
> To date the Department of Justice has not given official sanction to a form of this nature and we are therefore unable to comply with your request at this time.
> With respect to this type of certificate I looked up the Sales Tax Act and find under Section 546 (c) the definition of the exemption certificate. It reads:
> "If the tax does not apply to the sale or lease of tangible personal property the purchaser or lessee shall furnish to the seller or lessor a certificate indicating that the sale is not legally subject to the tax.
> The certificate shall be in such form as the department by regulation shall prescribe."

I then read Section 531, and this reads:

> "Monthly Payments. The tax imposed by this act and collected by a licensee shall be due and payable in monthly installments on or before the last day of the month succeeding the month during which the purchases subject to the tax were made and shall accompany the return for such preceding month."

Now that is the background. For purchases made in March reports had to be filed as of April 30th with the Department.

Under the Sales Tax Act, charities, religious groups and educational institutions are exempt, together with other people like boroughs, townships, and so on. These people are exempt from paying the tax. Yet this administration, Governor Leader's administration, has failed to furnish the exemption certificates. I called this morning and they still do not have these certificates available. This is not fair to the people of Pennsylvania.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is not proceeding on personal privilege question. I do not think this comes under the rule of personal privilege. This does not affect the speaker's conduct or reputation.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Wide latitude is given to Members of the House in discussing under personal privilege matters that might be of interest to the individual Members. There is no bill before the House. The gentleman is discussing a matter of interest to him personally in his own individual district.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, may I say under the Rules of the House the question of personal privilege is limited, and I think this is outside the limitation.

Certainly he can address the House without question, but whether the subject of his speech comes within that personal privilege I very seriously question.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. BELL. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

I do not see why the Governor's administration desires to muzzle a bona fide complaint that is coming from throughout the Commonwealth.

On this item the merchants throughout Pennsylvania whether they be Democrat, Republican or independent are entitled to have proper administration of this Sales Tax Law. They should not be harassed by the Attorney General in his failure to approve a form for an exemption certificate. If he does not have the qualified personnel in his office to prepare it, we can get volunteers to prepare the certificate in five minutes.

The reason I bring this up is because these merchants are the backbone of our Commonwealth. They are the people who have made this Commonwealth, together with the workmen and the other people. They have the right to have their complaint heard.

When I look into the background here, I find on March 15, 1956, a Press conference report from the Governor's office. Now, Mr. Majority Party, here is what your Governor said:

> I want to make it very clear at this point that I intend to devote a great part of the next three years in trying to unburden the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania of a sales tax, stamp plan or no stamp plan.

Mr. Speaker, I charge that this is one act in a deliberate plan to scuttle a tax statute enacted by this House and by the other house and signed by His Excellency. It is merely a harassing movement and it us unjust, it is unfair to the merchants.

INTERROGATION

Mr. TOLL. I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Bell, who spoke under a question of privilege and raised a problem relating to the sales tax.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Bell, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BELL. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, was the gentleman referring to Section 546 of House Bill 2101 when he referred to the exemption certificate?

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, I have just given my notes to the reporter of the House.

Mr. TOLL. At any rate, does the gentleman know that the section relating to the exemption certificate is now under-going amendment of the bill which is now in conference committee?

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, we are talking about law, not contemplated law. Whether there are amendments being prepared or not, those exemption certificates should have been issued when that law was passed, because—all right, my blood pressure is high, I'll admit—

Mr. TOLL. Will the Speaker ask the gentleman to confine himself to answering the question? Being a lawyer, he ought to know how to answer a question.

Mr. BELL. Being a lawyer, I am answering it.

Mr. TOLL. Stick to the question.

Mr. BELL. Will you allow me to stick to it?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Members will address their remarks through the Chair. The gentleman will confine his answer to the question that is asked him.

Mr. BELL. Will the gentleman please repeat the question?

Mr. TOLL. The question is, is the gentleman aware of the fact that this particular section is undergoing amendment now?

Mr. BELL. The answer is, no.

Mr. TOLL. Has the gentleman read the amended bill which is now in the conference committee?

Mr. BELL. The answer is, no. The only thing I have read has been the law of Pennsylvania, and I stand on the law of Pennsylvania.

In answer to your question, Mr. Toll, you read these one-sided questions into the record. Let us have the other side of it. When a law is passed in this House and in the other house and signed by the Governor, it is to be enforced whether the majority party wants to or not. It is the law of Pennsylvania.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1517, entitled:

An Act amending the "Municipality Authorities Act of 1945"  further regulating the membership of the governing body of Transit Authorities

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WALSH. Mr. Speaker, the purpose of this bill is to eliminate the dangerous road crossings in the city of McKeesport. We have twenty-seven dangerous crossings. Our railroad runs right through the heart of the city. At the last session we had an authority bill created allowing us to sell bonds. The City of McKeesport's share will be close to $6 million.

Now, in order for us to have a committee or an authority membership that is familiar with this condition, we find it necessary to ask that this law be amended to allow us to add two members that do not live in the confines of the city of McKeesport. They live right outside the city of McKeesport, in what is known as White Oak. These two gentlemen have been working for the last ten or twelve years in order to get these crossings eliminated. The city of McKeesport for the last fifty years has been trying to get these crossings eliminated. They have caused a lot of loss of life and inasmuch as this applies only to the city of McKeesport, the authority has never sold bonds for grade cross eliminating, so they are going to have a hard time and we wanted to go to bat with the best men possible, so I am asking the Members on both sides to vote for this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken anod were as follows:

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

I desire to be recognized for the purpose of making a brief statement concerning House Bill 2098.

I am not bringing this bill up for action but I desire to make a statement concerning it.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. ANDREWS. And I desire and crave principally and especially the attention of the lawyers who are Members of this House.

This particular measure has been questioned on the ground of the authority that it would grant to a proposed State Personnel Board. I want to call the attention of the Members to the fact that with one exception, with a single exception, the Governor can exercise all of the powers it is proposed to confer upon this State Personnel Board. The Governor can hire and fire. The Governor can by his directive, by executive action, with the approval of his Executive Board, increase salaries. He can classify persons now in the service of the state. He can do everything through executive action that the proposed personnel board can do with a single exception, he cannot give tenure to those persons who compose the unclassified employes of the state. Now, it is to give tenure to the classified employes of the State that this bill is proposed.

Various bureaus and departments of the state government at the present time are seriously handicapped by reason of their inability to purchase in the market the type of services the state needs. And it is not always a question of money, although the wages paid in Pennsylvania are too low, and very often the determining factor insofar as a person who is asked to serve the state is concerned, is tenure. Physicians and technicians of all kinds say, why should I enter the service of the state when I do not know from one day to the other, from one month to the other, from one year to the other, from one administration to the other, whether or not I will be retained in the state's service even though I work my heart out rendering a devoted service?

In the unclassified realm of state employes, there is no tenure. They serve at the present time at the pleasure of the Governor.

This bill moreover to my mind would remedy various objectionable features in present Civil Service practices. I do not want to go into that because I do not want to take up your time discussing the bill.

I believe that the Members, the leadership of the Republican party in this state over the years, has favored the principle that technical and professional employes of the Commonwealth should be given tenure protection, and that is the basis of all of the Civil Service classifications. In theory and in actual practice this bill would simply extend the realm of tenure in civil service, if you like, of certain definite professional and technical employes. I will admit the classifications that might be decided upon are not included in the bill and so I am rising to speak at this time because the Republican leadership has very graciously appointed a committee to consider this bill, and I am laying this bill in the laps of that committee. I am outlining correctly and sincerely the objectives to be served by this bill. I believe they are objectives that you and many of our Members on this side desire to attain. If those objectives are served, I will support any bill that they may originate, or I will support the amendments they might propose that are in line with the objectives which we have sought to serve through House Bill 2098.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. GOLDSTEIN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I was one of the members of the committee on the Republican side that was asked to examine House Bills Nos. 2097 and 2098. These bills are vast in scope and devastating in character. With the principle that we should have civil service in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and by that I mean legitimate civil service, I am wholly in accord.

This bill 2098 is fifty-seven pages in length and before I discuss what I believe to be some of the salient features of the bill, I wish to say that we believe that a bill which would satisfy the needs of the Commonwealth should be passed and should be studied. However, it is late in the session and we do not believe that a bill of this character can be successfully amended.

Now, what do I see in this bill that caused me to hesitate to be in accord with it? On page 2 of the bill, under Section 1, as I interpret it, classified service includes all offices and positions under the State Personnel Board and the Executive Director, and then on page 6, I read in conjunction with that the unclassified service means all positions now existing or hereafter created in the service of the Commonwealth, which are held by heads of departments, members of boards and commissions, a confidential secretary to each state appointed authority and any such person temporarily appointed.

Now, my reading of this bill convinces me that if it were passed, every member of the 65,000 or 60,000, odd members on the payroll of the State of Pennsylvania would be subject to its terms. I am not debating the merit of whether or not the whole 60,000 should be on the payroll. I am merely calling that to the attention of the people who are the proponents of the bill because, as was presented to me, the main purpose of this bill was to protect 1100 people who are on the technical staff on the state payroll.

I also refer to page 37 of the bill and in this particular section is the thing that disturbs me to a great extent. This refers to the status of employes holding positions when the act takes effect. This section reads as follows, and I wish you would bear with me:

> "Any employe who holds a position which is in the classified service herein defined and who was in the classified service under the law in-force immediately preceding the effective date of this act shall, if he has been appointed after appropriate competitive promotional examination become a classified service."

Now, what is an appropriate examination? Under this act, as I interpret it, the State Personnel Board could go back ten, fifteen or twenty years and say that John Jones or Mary Smith did not have an appropriate examination. The effect of this bill is a civil service ripper bill, and therefore, I say the bill must be studied. It cannot be put across in this particular manner.

When you read in conjuction with the bill, House Bill 2097, which reads that the board shall be attached to the office of the Governor for administrative and budgetary purposes, you will realize that this is not a true civil service or personnel board that is an adjunct of the Governor's office.

Because I am in favor of legitimate civil service, because I want to protect the people who are under civil service rules today, and for the reasons I have indicated heretofore, I believe that a bipartisan body should be selected to determine first of all, should the civil service laws be limited to technical and scientific employes and those required by the federal act. Secondly, should it be extended to every person on the state payroll?

If we come to the conclusion that everybody on the state payroll should be on civil service, I perhaps would be in agreement with it. But we must understand what we are voting upon. We must understand that this is a possibility under this act.

Above all, I oppose this bill in its present condition because the interpretation of the word appropriate, as a lawyer in my opinion, could be used to rip out every man who is on civil service today. I am in accord with good civil service, I am willing to sit down with the leaders on the other side and work out a bill, but I do not think that a bill of this character should be presented to us in the dying days of this session.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, evidently I was muddy in my speaking and perhaps thinking. Every objection the gentleman raises I am willing to regard as valid.

I am willing to support a bill that will be an initial step to protect tenure in the case of professional and technical personnel. I am willing to let the committee representing the Members on the other side of the central aisle decide and I am willing to accept their classification as to who is and who is not technical personnel. The remainder of the unclassified service represents a constituency that can be included at a later date.

I was not, when I arose, disposed to request support of the bill in question which the gentleman from Allegheny considers obnoxious. I toss, as I said, in the lap of the committee a new measure, a simple measure, which will simply guarantee tenure under proper machinery. I will let them devise the machinery which will guarantee tenure to professional and technical employes, and I will accept.

I was not proposing in any way directly or indirectly to thrust this particular bill down the throat of anyone.

HUMMELSTOWN GRADE STUDENTS WELCOMED

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair welcomes to the Hall of the House a delegation of sixth grade students from the Hummelstown Grade School under the direction of their teacher, Mrs. Foltz. They are the guests of the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Hocker.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE POSTPONED

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. Readinger,

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1176, entitled:

An Act defining and relating to installment land contracts and providing for and regulating the rights and obligations between parties to such contracts under certain terms and conditions.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. STANK. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Toll vote on the third reading of this bill?

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I voted with the prevailing side.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Northumberland, Mr. STANK, vote on the third reading of this bill?

Mr. STANK. Mr. Speaker, I voted with the prevailing side.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Title, page 1, first line of Title, by inserting after "contracts" "in cities of the first class."

Amend Sec. 3, page 3, line 3 by inserting after "dwelling" "situate in any city of the first class."

Amend Sec. 3, page 3, line 7 by inserting after "structure" "situate in any city of the first class."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. MOSCRIP. Mr. Speaker, I wish to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Toll.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Toll, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TOLL. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MOSCRIP. Mr. Speaker, I would ask the gentleman if in his opinion the effect of these amendments is to restrict the operation of this act to cities of the first class?

Mr. TOLL. I believe it will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have unanimous consent of the House to call this bill up for final passage at this time as amended, without printing.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. For the information of the gentleman from Philadelphia, the bill must lie over for printing.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Spekaer, I want to move that the Rule by which it is required to have a bill lie over for printing be suspended so that this bill can be debated at this time. In view of the limited nature of the change—

The SPEAKER pro tempore. It is a constitutional provision that the bill must be in print before it can be considered.

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair requests the Speaker of the House to return to the rostrum.

THE SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) IN THE CHAIR.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman from Armstrong for presiding.

The SPEAKER. For what purpose does the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Auker, rise?

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I had hoped to be recognized before the Speaker resumed the rostrum. There were several moments—

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Armstrong return to the rostrum? The gentleman from Blair evidently anticipates kinder treatment from his colleague then he might receive from the Chair. The Chair asks the gentleman from Armstrong to continue presiding.

Mr. HELM IN THE CHAIR.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I wish to address the House on House Bills 2097 and 2098 which are sponsored by the Speaker.

My remarks were not seeking any favor from my own colleague, but out of fairness to the Speaker that he would still be on the floor when my remarks were made. After I am through I intend to yield to another member of the same committee, Mr. Tompkins.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. If the gentleman is asking unanimous consent to make a statement, that permission can be granted. The particular bill he desires to debate is not before the House at this moment, it is on the final passage postponed calendar.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. AUKER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I too was one of the members of the committee to consider House Bills 2097 and 2098. I want to say that I am in accord with everything the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Goldstein, said. In fact, I believe it may be said that this committee was in unanimous accord with the remarks made by him.

I too feel that the idea sought to be accomplished and the purpose sought to be accomplished by the bills is good. Practically speaking, I made a very thorough study of the bills, I read them very carefully and I can see in various sections of the bills where there would be much confusion, a great deal of misuse and probably a great deal of abuse if the bills are not properly drawn.

We had to keep in mind that we were dealing with some sixty to sixty-five thousand state employes. If such a bill is to be drawn that it should be entirely outside of political pressure by both parties, or by either party controlling the executive branch of the government and I would say the purpose sought to be accomplished by these bills should be carried out.

Up to now I cannot see where the executive director, the board and various advisory members of the board would be subject to the control of the governor, be he either Republican or Democrat or how we are going to keep it away from political pressure. I do not see, therefore, that it would be of any advantage to pass such a bill over the present civil service acts that we now have in force and effect in the state.

Possibly it might be well to keep the civil service acts and bring all departments under them, particularly the Highway Department where the lack of technical and professional employes is felt more than in any other department of the Commonwealth, where the greatest amount of money is being spent without any check whatsoever by the Members of the Legislature.

Therefore, I feel along with Mr. Goldstein that a great deal of study should be given to this, more time than we have now to give to it in the remaining days of the session.

I assure the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, that I am in accord with the purpose sought to be carried out by the bill. I would certainly endorse a resolution that the Joint State Government Commission be empowered to make such a study. As far as possible they should get non-partisan advisors to consult with them between now and next January as to the best kind of a bill to be drawn, if one can be drawn without being subject to political pressure, and report back to the next session of the Legislature, which after all is only seven months away.

Mr. Speaker. I yield to the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from Blair, Mr. Auker, yields to the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I want to get my thinking straight on this thing. Was House Bill 2098 on page 3 of today's calendar called up?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The bill was not called up.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Do I understand that everybody is speaking under unanimous consent on this bill?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. That is correct.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I wanted to get my thinking straight on that because up to this point I have misunderstood it. I was wondering if we could discuss the bill by calling it up from the calendar and then not acting on it.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is correct, the bills are not under consideration and unanimous consent was given for discussion.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Then, Mr. Speaker, all I desire to do is concur in what the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Goldstein, and the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Auker, have said and suggest further that I think this matter should be made the subject of intensive study by the Joint State Government Commission.

In addition to the items which have been raised by the previous two gentlemen, you will find on page 24 a statement to the effect that a person to hold a job in this state must be a resident of the United States and a one-year resident of the state of Pennsylvania. But then immediately following they proceed by stating "the board may in any case waive the above requirements pertaining to residents," which means that the board in the initial instance if it sees fit can go abroad and hire anybody it wishes to come in and operate and run the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

I very much favor that any civil service program in the state of Pennsylvania require that the attempt first be made to recruit personnel from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania before the requirements in any instance be waived. If they cannot find the personnel among the 10 million of our own people, then waive it and go on the outside.

There are other matters which might be brought up at this time, but that is one important item I ran across in this bill. They try to give them legal status at the end of six months, and I think our law requires a year. That is just some more of the many loopholes that appear in this bill.

I know the Speaker is going to say, why don't you put the amendments in and I'll go along with it, redraft the bill, and do all of these things. But this is such a comprehensive program which goes to the entire reorganization of the government of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that I do not attempt to say that in a matter of two or three weeks we can sit down and devise a workable program to get the kinks worked out of it. That is the reason we suggest the study at this time instead of this bill.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, the responses of the lawyers who have spoken have not been responsive as far as the issue I raised is concerned. I admitted this bill was a "dead duck." I suggested that perhaps the very able committee serving on the other side of the House might be able by means of a new bill, or amending this one, to serve at least part of the purposes this bill was designed to serve.

If we could do nothing more than assure tenure for the employes of the Highway Department, the technical employes, if we could do nothing more than that, we would be rendering a service of real value to the Commonwealth.

However, and I will conclude with this observation, if the House does not desire to work out this problem and if the committee does not desire to work at this problem, there is a very "eager beaver" sort of person serving in the executive department who will proceed with a classification plan, who will have the power during this administration to hire and fire, who will have something to say about pay schedules, and who, in effect, will do for the immediate future all the things that we desire to do through this bill during future years.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Rules for the purpose of further study and possible amendment.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1943, entitled:

An Act to add section six hundred thirty-five point one to "The Penal Code"  by regulating the serving and selling of milk in which chocolate cocoa or cacao products are used as an ingredient and prescribing penalties.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, this bill would make it an offense to sell any product labeled as chocolate milk unless the product contained not less than 3.25 per cent of butterfat and less than 12 per cent of milk solids. In other words, many of the drinks now being sold as chocolate milk contain less butterfat than that and have other materials in them which may be good or bad. I suppose they are good, or the people would not continue to buy and drink them, but if this bill passes, and the administration urges that it does, then anyone who wants to sell the product labeled "chocolate milk" would have to comply with these standards or suffer some penalty.

I understand several school cafeteria will not take a product unless it contains whole milk and chocolate, and I suppose many other people prefer drinks which do not contain that much butterfat. However, this bill seeks to give the public notice that when they are buying chocolate milk they are going to have a certain amount of butterfat in it. When they are buying something that does not have that amount in it, it will not be called chocolate milk.

Mr. LIGHT. Mr. Speaker, I should like to discuss House Bill 1943, Printer's No. 1733. According to the title, this bill would consolidate, amend and revise the penal laws of the Commonwealth by regulating the serving and selling of milk in which chocolate. cocoa or cacao products are used as ingredients, and prescribing penalties.

It is Section 635.1 on page 2 of the bill to which I want to call special attention and this is the amendment:

> Whoever sells or offers or exposes for sale or has in his possession with the intent to distribute or sell milk flavored with or colored by chocolate cocoa or cacao products or labeled as chocolate milk containing less than three and one-quarter per centum of butterfat and less than twelve per centum of milk solids shall upon conviction in a summary proceeding be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding fifty dollars for the first offense and not exceeding one hundred dollars for every subsequent offense and in default of the payment of such fine and costs shall be committed to jail one day for each dollar of the fine and costs imposed.

Let us consider first that the present standards for food such as milk, ice cream, bakery and meat products and so on are established through specific laws and regulations and are administered by the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture. It has not been explained why these regulations should now be placed under the Penal Code, Act 872 of 1939. The enactment into law of this bill would simply shift the responsibility now placed in the Department of Agriculture to another department.

If a change in standards for chocolate products is desired at this time, it could be done through amendment of the present law.

For the information of the Members of the House it should be pointed out that at present two distinct chocolate products appear on the market, one is labeled "chocolate milk" and the other is called "chocolate drink." Chocolate drink usually sells anywhere from one cent to three cents less per quart than chocolate milk depending on the area and the content.

Just a word about the distribution and the sale of chocolate milk. According to the Pennsylvania Association of Milk Dealers, a 1954 survey of more than 300 milk dealers in Pennsylvania, indicated about 80 per cent of the fluid chocolate was sold as "milk," the other 20 per cent falling in the "drink" category.

I want to impress upon you this fact. The Pennsylvania Association of Milk Dealers makes the statement that the average butterfat test for chocolate milk was 2.95 per cent for drink and 1.9 per cent for drink. The present minimum is 2.5 per cent for chocolate milk, with no minimum on drink. It can be readily seen that the industry has not been using the minimums as the basis for processing their products, but it has left the answer up to the buying public. The milk dealers are putting out what the public wants at the price and with the contents which have the greatest appeal.

As a result these 300 milk dealers sold better than 33 million quarts of chocolate products during 1954. For this the farmer received the top Class I price. Through promotions and other merchandising efforts sales of chocolate products have generally been increasing, as have other sales.

Instead of giving you my personal reaction and study of this bill, I want to report to you what the industry thinks about this bill.

Let us first refer to the Pennsylvania Association of Milk Dealers and I quote: "If a change in standards for chocolate products is desired, why is it not accomplished through the usual standards?" New regulations of this type always bring enlarged enforcement problems, but when there are split responsibilities, the administrative headaches are multiplied manyfold.

A survey of more than 300 milk dealers, as I have stated, shows a test of the chocolate milk sold as 2.95 per cent. Just recently the four largest milk associations of Pennsylvania had a meeting in Harrisburg and they agreed to oppose this bill on the basis that they had been serving chocolate milk anywhere from 2.75 to 2.95 per cent.

The Pennsylvania State Grange with a membership of 80,000 members has taken action against this bill. Also, I would like to read into the record a letter which I received from the Keystone Dairy of Reading, Pa. On January 19th a form letter was distributed to the membership of this House by the Keystone Dairy, and I am reading into the record the letter that was submitted to the membership on this same bill. After I had received this letter, I wrote to them and asked their permission to us these facts if they wanted them used. This is their letter to the membership of this House:

> House Bill No. 1943 amending section 635.1 to the act approved the 24th day of June, 1939, making it mandatory for chocolate milk to contain not less than 3.25 per cent of butterfat by weight and not less than 12 per cent of milk solids is in process of passage, I believe.

This is what the Keystone Dairy said and I quote the following:

With thirty years of experience in the milk business I am certain this product will not have public acceptance. The product as described is not new. Years ago we sold a chocolate flavored milk made with whole milk and a settling type of chocolate. There was so much grief with it that the chocolate industry spent much time developing a certain non-settling type of chocolate, which of course is done by a type of stabilizer.

When this stabilized chocolate was developed we used it with whole milk just exactly as described in this bill. Chocolate milk sales went to a new low immediately since the drink was so thick that it was not palatable. Much time was spent in developing the chocolate milk now being used which contains approximately 2.75 per cent to 3 per cent butterfat. The law now allows us to go as low as 2.5 per cent, but every milk dealer keeps well above the minimum and if the same dealer keeps as well above the 3.25 per cent minimum it will develop a non-salable chocolate milk.

The question is not whether it protects the producer or the consumer, but completely resolves itself to the fact that the public will not, first, accept the old-fashioned type of settling chocolate milk; second, will not drink the chocolate milk produced by adding the stablized chocolate to the whole milk because it is too viscous a product to be palatable.

Now therefore, if you would like to see chocolate milk hit a new low in sales, whether it benefits the producer or not, passage of this bill will do just that.

During 1955 we at the Keystone Dairy spent literally thousand of dollars to make chocolate milk available to the public through vending machines; something which the lawmakers of both state and nation have begged for to rid themselves of some of the huge surplusses of milk and now comes a bill to destroy all this.

Before I wrote this talk I addressed the Keystone Dairy and asked them whether they still stand on what they said. This is their reply under date of March 9th:

It is the raise from 2.5 per cent to 3.25 per cent butterfat content that we object to. Even then it is not the dealer who might object to it as much as the public because we still contend that the finished product too viscous to make it a good and palatable drink. We now sell a chocolate milk that approaches 3.00 per cent butterfat, but that is the highest you may go without approaching viscosity danger. If the minimum were set at 3.25 per cent fat we would go beyond that to be safe and thereby create the viscosity danger.

In view of the fact that the milk companies, the milk producers' organizations, the farmers' organizations and the Keystone Dairy with the experience I have just cited are opposed to this bill, I think that should appeal not only to the Members of the House to oppose the bill, but it should certainly be an appeal to the sponsors of the bill to desist from pressing this bill.

Every Member of this House and every leader of this House knows that no law is any good unless it has public acceptance and, according to the letter I have from the Keystone Dairy according to the opinion expressed by the milk associations, if you go through with this and pass this bill, it certainly will not have public acceptance.

Mr. FARABAUGH. Mr. Speaker, I think the membership of the House should know some things about this milk situation of which I doubt very much they are at all familiar.

The present law in this state requires that milk as such have 3.25 butterfat. The present law on chocolate milk allows them to put in only 2.5 percent butterfat.

We have heard recently a lot of talk about a surplus of butter and dairy products on the market. The facts are that the milk dealers are buying this milk within the state and encouraging and forcing the producers to furnish a product that contains more butterfat than the law requires to go in the bottle. That additional butterfat is paid for by the dealers at a considerably less cost to them than that fat could be bought on the open market.

Therefore, the dealers are gaining, making additional money on the farmers' products, by buying butterfat in the milk higher than they sell to the consumer in the bottle.

This talk about a 3.25 butterfat in chocolate milk making it unpalatable is a lot of tommyrot. I would guess a great many people in here have drunk chocolate milk while they were in Harrisburg which has 3.25 fat in it, and I venture to say it is very palatable.

Who is the previous speaker representing? I notice on the list he is listed as a farmer. He certainly is not speaking for the farmers of Pennsylvania, especially the dairy farmers. I am confused to know whether he is representing the farmers, or the chocolate people, or the milk dealers. It certainly is one or the other, because his argument against this bill is distinctly an argument against the benefits to the dairy farmers of Pennsylvania.

I say we should have a decent product put out to the consumer, and when we put in a little more butterfat and when there is so much fuss made today in the open market about additional butter, I say they should put it in the chocolate milk. Let people have a decent product, and in so doing simply put in a little less chocolate. It does not change the drink insofar as being palatable is concerned, it improves the quality.

I beg you to support this bill, because it definitely is in the interests of the dairy farmer in this state. I have found in the past that in some instances the membership on the other side of the House seemed to be very eager to do something for the farmer in this state. They have demonstrated that on several occasions. Now if you want to do something for the farmers in Pennsylvania, the dairy farmers, support this bill.

Mr. GARLOCK. I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Lebanon, Mr. Light.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lebanon, Mr. Light, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LIGHT. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GARLOCK. Mr. Speaker, I believe the gentleman mentioned the Grange as having about 80,000 members in the state of Pennsylvania. Is that correct?

Mr. LIGHT. That is correct.

Mr. GARLOCK. Could the gentleman tell me what percentage of the Grange members live on farms or are farmers?

Mr. LIGHT. Mr. Speaker, I should like to answer the gentleman's question in this manner. The Pennsylvania State Grange membership is composed of farmers and their families, 14 years and older, and persons who have no interest adverse to agriculture. The Grange admits a doctor, admits a lawyer or admits anyone in the community in which they reside if they have no interest adverse to agriculture.

May I say just one word. Grange policies are developed in a peculiar way. There are a little better than 600 units and each of these subordinate branches adopts resolutions and passes them on to the State Grange, where they are screened, and out of those resolutions come the policies of the Grange. The policy of the Grange is always developed from those resolutions. There are not a few men or any number of men in the Grange organization who say this is this or that is that. That is the manner in which the policy is developed.

As to just how many members live on farms, I cannot say. I live in a house on my own farm, but not in the farmhouse.

In answer to the gentleman who just preceded Mr. Farabaugh I wish to say that presently I operate three farms in Lebanon County. I have always owned and operated farms. I have always tried to speak for agriculture and the benefits that have come to agriculture. I have never represented anyone else but John H. Light, the interests in which I believe and things which are sound. I have spoken to no one about this bill, no one has spoken to me about it, but I have studied the bill as I saw it from the facts I could gather, and that was the basis for the remarks I have made.

As to the gentleman's question, I cannot tell him exactly how many members of the Grange are actually farmers, that is, operating farmers, I do not know.

Mr. GARLOCK. Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman a dairy farmer?

Mr. LIGHT. Not now. I sold my dairy herd because I could not get the help to operate it. I have always bred cattle and had dairy herds until four years ago.

Mr. GARLOCK. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, it is my understanding that the Grange is made up of a considerable number of members who are nonfarmers, being business people, city residents and people who have never lived on a farm in their lives, yet they claim to be a farm organization.

This bill, I feel, will definitely benefit the dairy industry in the state of Pennsylvania, and I ask all Members to vote for the bill.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, as the sponsor of the bill I am almost drowned in the welter of words whcih have been emanating from the three honorable gentlemen. I would like to compliment them on the very able way in which they have debated the bill, but I would like to point out to you before you vote that this bill does not stop anybody from selling anything. All it does is say you must change the name of your product from chocolate milk if you are selling it with less than a certain amount of butterfat in it.

I would like to see the farmers sell a great deal more of their milk as fluid milk. I would like to see the chocolate milk producers sell, whatever their number of millions of quarts was, I would like to see it tripled. I think the people of Pennsylvania should drink more milk and more chocolate milk, it would help that industry.

I still say all we are doing today is simply saying that you cannot use a certain name. You cannot be stopped from selling chocolate drinks, no matter what the butterfat content is. Even if it is down to one-half of one per cent, you can still call it a chocolate drink.

I hope we can vote on this big, momentous matter soon and get it out of the way.

The SPEAKER. The Chair appreciates the gentleman's interest in chocolate milk.

Mr. MOSCRIP. Mr. Speaker, just a word on this matter of chocolate milk.

I went out of my way to talk to two dairymen in our county who buy directly from our producing farmers, and two things were brought to my attention. The first was that the margin of profit in chocolate milk as presently produced is very thin. They felt if the additional butterfat was put in as a general practice throughout the state it would probably require that the dairy either sell it at a loss or request a price rise.

Concerning this matter of putting more butterfat in, it necessarily raises the quality, but I do not believe it would necessarily increase the consumption. We all know that sometimes the best quality products are not those which are consumed the most, and I am afraid the result of this bill, while its object may be meritorious, would actually mean a reduction in the sale of chocolate milk, particularly if the dairyman was forced to ask for a price increase in order to put in the added ingredients.

Secondly, I was also advised by these dairymen that it is very difficult to ascertain the butterfat content in the milk after the mixture is made. As a lawyer, it would appear to me it would be possibly on a spot check, take a bottle of chocolate milk and find out on the test that it did not comply, while the whole batch from which it was run off would comply with the test. Therefore, you might have some injustice in your prosecutions.

Thirdly, in answer to the gentleman, Mr. Garlock, I happen to be a lawyer by profession and I am also a member of the Grange. I can assure Mr. Garlock that there are a lot of people in the rural areas who recognize the importance of farm life. We know in a great many areas that our economy depends upon it. We who belong to the Grange, who are not primarily farmers, are very happy to lend our know-how, our approach to the problems from outside, to help the farmers and to bolster their economy.

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, I have listened to a lot of pleas for the farmer, the producer and a person that sells this milk, but I have not heard any plea for the children of this Commonwealth who have to drink this low grade chocolate milk.

Now, let us think a little bit about the consumer, the person who has to drink this milk, and lets all vote for this bill.

Mr. FARABAUGH. I am very much pleased to learn that a friend over here, Mr. Moscrip, is a member of the Grange. I had not desired to bring that into this discussion but since it is here I think I would be justified in making a few remarks.

I had been a granger myself for forty-nine years. I know something about the policies. I know something about how this sort of information comes about. As to the Members standing up here and saying these remarks represent a certain number of people is a little misleading. Information goes out to subordinate granges that influence all of the requests that possibly come to you

Members. I think that should not have been brought here.

I want to say a little further, the gentleman has just spoken of information he got from milk dealers. I believe I know a little bit about this milk business. I have been in it for a good many years. They have yet to show me where any dealer is going to charge extra money for putting a little butter fat in this chocolate milk.

All this bill does is require that they do put the same amount in as the law requires for milk in this state. I have no objection to their selling a chocolate drink made of skim milk if they desire to do that. The fact of the matter is I was opposed to this bill originally because it would not permit them to do that.

The farmer gets very little for that skim milk, but I still have no desire to prohibit people from buying it, or the dealer from selling it, if people are foolish enough to buy it. I stil lbelieve that in a bottle of chocolate milk, sold as milk, they are entitled to what the law calls for in other milk, which makes it a decent product to drink.

Mr. MOSCRIP. Mr. Speaker, for the information of the gentleman from Cambria, I thought I was careful enough. The two dairymen to whom I spoke, the two milk dealers, one of them owns his own herd, the other one buys all his milk from farmers within a radius of five miles of his processing plant.

They give our farmers in Bradford County a better price for their milk and provide quite a lot of employment.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2108, entitled:

An Act amending the "Public School Code of 1949" approved March 10, 1949 (P. L. 30) removing certain limitations on the taxing power of school districts of the fourth class

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I ask the sponsor of the bill to explain just exactly what this bill does.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, the lady from Lehigh will yield to the gentleman from Greene Mr. McCann.

The SPEAKER. The lady from Lehigh yields to the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, if possible I will try to explain to the Members of the House this particular piece of legislation.

House Bill 2108 on page 3 formerly provided that when school districts desired to increase an additional five mills in their school tax, there was a provision with which they had to comply.

The basic law provides for 35 mills, and if you will notice beginning on line 4 and continuing to line 19, inclusive, in that section of the School Code which is Section 672 on tax levy limitations, all of that has been deleted and the substitution in this bill permits the financially handicapped and distressed school districts to authorize an additional levy of ten mills, where the former law provided for five mills. This would be a five mill increase, or an additional ten mills, which we would be dealing with. Thirty-five mills and five mills now would be thirty-five mills and an additional ten mills, or forty-five mills. They could have this ten mills additional tax providing the Department of Public Instruction, first, determined by an investigation that the district is financially handicapped and distressed; second, that all the taxable property in the district had been levied upon; third, that all other taxes available to the school district and deemed advisable by the Superintendent of Public Instruction had been utilized; and, fourth, that the district had complied with the economical standards set forth by the Department of Public Instruction.

This particular bill does grant an additional five mills in taxing power under the tax limitation section of the School Code as it exists in the present time, but it also provides for certain things that must be done and determined before this can be applied, if this were the law.

I would like to say that this particular piece of legislation has been asked for the school districts which are held down by the present law in meeting their commitments at the present time.

I believe that is all this particular bill does as far as applying to tax limitations under the Public School law.

Mr. STROUP. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann, for just a moment, please.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCANN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. STROUP. Mr. Speaker, did I understand the gentleman to say that in addition to the ten mills increase which would be authorized by and with the approval of the Department of Public Instruction there is also another five mill increase that would be authorized?

Mr. McCANN. No, sir. May I say to the gentleman that the present law provides for a five mill increase and that is being deleted. In place of that a ten mill increase is being inserted. I think I explained that, I hope I did, when I referred to the basic law which provided that you can now levy thirty-five mills and under this section in the former law it provided for five mills additional taxes. That is being deleted and in place of it, ten mills is being inserted into the Code, which would make a total of forty-five mills under this bill.

Mr. STROUP. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman. From the context of his address I gathered he was telling us there was a fifteen mill increase.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCANN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. McCann, in cases where the school district has not used the means of the equalization board on assessments, are they permitted to use the increase?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, even where counties have not utilized the means of the reassessment law, they are permitted at the present time, and many school districts are using the additional five mills that is provided in the Public School Law of 1949 under Section 672.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. McCann, may I ask you if there is not another additional five mills now that can be used for that same purpose?

Mr. McCANN. That is correct. The law at the present time provides for an additional five mills over the thirty-five mill limitation.

Mr. LOVETT. But you are now asking for another additional five, is that correct?

Mr. McCANN. That would be correct, although the section is being eliminated on five and a new section being inserted which provides for ten mills, which would be an additional five.

Mr. LOVETT. Why confuse the issue? It is an additional five mills, is that correct?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I am not confusing the issue. The section is being deleted and in place of it it does grant an additional five mills, but it sets forth the provision under which the new ten mills can be handled, which exists in the present law, sir.

Mr. LOVETT. Is the gentleman telling me in one breath that under the original law they could use that five mills in districts which had not availed themselves of the equalization board for an increase of the assessment?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, no school district in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania up to this present session had any power to do anything about equalization. That fell within the jurisdiction of the county commissioners of the respective counties. In this session we passed a law which provided that a school district could take the county commissioners into court if they did not avail themselves of this law by 1958. This law pertains to school districts. Assessment pertains only to county commissioners. No school district in the Commonwealth was able to use that law because it was not for their purposes.

Mr. LOVETT. May I further ask the gentleman, Mr. Speaker, as regards this particular increase of five mills if he has not stated that it is to be used in distressed school districts regardless of whether that distressed school district has used the equalization law to increase their assessment?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, as the gentleman stated the question, I will have to answer that that is correct.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman and I would like to interrogate the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee, Mr. Polen.

The SPEAKER. Will the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee, Mr. Polen, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. POLEN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Polen, is it your understanding that there are now no distressed school districts?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, I would not say there are not any distressed school districts at this time, but they are getting to be very few. Those appropriations in the past have run into the millions. I believe in the budget we have appropriated only $300,000 for this biennium.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, we defeated a bill just a few days ago which practically increased the millage in districts where the assessed valuation had not been increased to the extent that it should be. We now have this same condition in this bill.

As I understand, there are only certain school districts in certain counties in this state which have refused to raise their assessed valuations to where they should be raised as has been done by the rest of the school districts throughout the State of Pennsylvania. We are now passing this additional five mills to protect those districts which refuse to increase their assessed valuations and giving to these other districts an opportunity to increase it five mills more. I think it is bad legislation.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to clarify some of the thinking of the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Lovett, on this particular bill. If I am wrong in this, I wish the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann, would correct me.

May I interrogate the gentleman from Greene Mr. McCann?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCANN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, do I understand that the provisions of this bill require that before the ten mills, or any portion thereof, can be imposed over and above the basic thirty-five mills approval must be obtained from the Department of Public Instruction?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to say that I tried to follow this as carefully as I could due to the fact that I am filling in for the sponsor.

It was my understanding, Mr. Speaker, that the ten additional mills on page 4 dealing with the financially handicapped or distressed school districts must, before they can get this, have an investigation by the Department of Public Instruction, and by that I mean it has to be certified to from their investigation that the district is financially handicapped and distressed; Second, that all the taxable property in the district has been levied upon; Third, that all other taxes available to the district, under whatever laws may exist, are being levied; Fourth, that the district has complied with economical standards. I will admit to the gentleman from Cameron I do not know exactly what that means.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

The point I am trying to make is this: some years ago there was one of the school districts in my jurisdiction which became financially handicapped temporarily and they came to Harrisburg for some financial handicap funds. The Department of Public Instruction did exactly what the gentleman from Greene has stated, they made a survey and they said, before we can give you any handicapped funds at all, you will have to increase your assessments to a certain figure. This means that this whole problem, so far as I can understand it, would be under the control of the Department of Public Instruction and would answer in the main the objections of the gentleman from Westmoreland.

The financially handicapped districts, if the Department of Public Instruction follows the program throughout the state that they followed out in my county, are going to compel them, if they have not gone through the tax equalization program, to raise their assessments in that district enough to try to help themselves before they come to Harrisburg for help.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to bring to the attention of the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins, that that was one of the purposes for which we inserted the amendment in the assessment law.

When the school districts were asked to increase their assessment, all they could do was go to the county commissioners, and there was no way to force them. But now with the other law that we passed, when they are asked to do this very thing they can go to the county commissioners, and if the county commissioners will not reassess by 1958 the school district itself can take them into court and demand that the program be instituted.

We continue to use "school district" regarding assessment. At the present time there is no law which has anything to do with assessment as far as school board members are concerned. They cannot assess, they can only request action to be taken by the county commissioners.

Mr. MOSCRIP. Mr. Speaker, I wish to further interrogate the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I shall.

Mr. MOSCRIP. Mr. Speaker, Want to make it clear that I am not here in any effort to confuse the gentleman, I am here in an honest effort to get some information because I am confused.

As I read the School Code the general limitation on taxing power of a fourth class district is 25 mills. Is that correct?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I believe it is 35.

Mr. MOSCRIP. I am speaking, Mr. Speaker, of leaving off the additional 10 mills which this section authorized for rentals and mandated teachers salaries. Generally our ceiling is 25, is that correct?

Mr. McCANN. When you state the question that way, that is correct, 25 mills is the basic law. The 10 additional mills covers those particular sections which I thought you meant, but the total is 35.

Mr. MOSCRIP. Prior to the introduction of this legislation we could go, in a fourth class district, up to 35 mills providing the additional 10 was used for mandated salary increases, which had to be raised at the local level, and building rentals, is that correct?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, that is correct, mandated salary increases and rentals.

Mr. MOSCRIP. As I read the bill under consideration, that deletes all the provisions concerning the 35 mills, so that now, as I understand it, theoretically a fourth class district even though it might not be distressed could, as long as the additional mills over and above 25 were used for rentals and mandated salary increases, go to 40, 42 and 43 mills, is that correct?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I can't answer the gentleman, I do not know. You put a question which I have never covered. Can someone else who is really versed in Section 672 tax limitations step up and help us? I will admit I am just substituting for the sponsor of the bill. I did not study all the provisions of 672. We have a lot of men here who know tax limitations, they can help us out.

The question he has raised may be the very question that needs to be answered. I will admit that I do not know the answer.

Mr. MOSCRIP. Mr. Speaker, as I said before, I am here in no effort to embarrass the gentleman, this is entirely non-political on my part.

On page 3 of the bill, Printer's No. 1738, it says, "Neither of said taxes (referring to your salaries and rentals) shall be invalidated or affected by reason of the fact that it may increase the total annual school tax levy of any school district beyond the millage fixed or limited by this section."

Then the old act went on, provided, et cetera, et cetera, and put in the 35 mill limit. But the bill on page 3 deletes all that. So that the way the bill would read now would be, "Neither of said taxes shall be invalidated or affected by reason of the fact that it may increase the total annual school tax levy of any school district beyond the millage fixed or limited by this section."

It seems to me we have a very serious piece of legislation here because as I read it I see that in one sense the taxing power of a fourth class school district is unlimited. Maybe that is desirable and maybe it is not.

If the gentleman from Greene can verify it for me, I will be very much obliged to him.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, as I mentioned before, he has raised a question about which I am not sure. I believe, as near as I can read on page 89 of the School Code, that perhaps the gentleman from Bradford is right under Section 672 of the tax levy limitations.

Mr. MOSCRIP. Mr. Speaker, this is a very fundamental problem and the school district law involves schools such as Mr. Lovett mentioned where it is perhaps dangerous to increase too much the local taxing authority.

Somebody must have been behind this bill. Perhaps it is a departmental bill. Even though it is late in the session—and I want to reiterate that this is entirely non-political on my part—I feel this bill should be passed over until we can get an interpretation of it.

I can also see where it might happen in a fourth class district that we would be thrown back to 25 mills and could not go any farther unless we were distressed.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I believe the question the gentleman raised is important enough that this bill should be passed over, if it is satisfactory with the Majority Leader, because I do not have the answer.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the third reading postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

Senate Bill No. 26 Printer's No. 684

was passed over at the request of Mr. READINGER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 151, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 20, 1919 (P. L. 521) entitled as amended "An act providing for the imposition and collection of certain taxes upon the transfer of property passing from a decedent who was a resident of this Commonwealth at the time of his death and of property within this Commonwealth of a decedent who was a nonresident of the Commonwealth at the time of his death defining and taxing transfers made in contemplation of death defining as a transfer and taxing the right of survivorship in property as to which such right exists and making it unlawful for any corporation of this Commonwealth or national banking association located therein to transfer the stock of such corporation or banking association standing in the name of any such decedent until the tax on the transfer thereof has been paid and providing penalties and citing certain acts for repeal exempting certain persons corporations and organizations from tax on the transfer of property inherited or received by them

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MOSCRIP. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the Majority Leader?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. READINGER. I consent to be interrogated.

Mr. MOSCRIP. Mr. Speaker, can the Majority Leader tell me whether the exemption contained in this bill would apply to a local cemetery association?

I realize that he is not the sponsor of the bill, but he is a learned gentleman in the law.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, after that comment I will answer the gentleman even if I have to make up the answer.

The gentleman speaks of a local cemetery association. Is he speaking of a non-profit association or a profit association?

Mr. MOSCRIP. A non-profit association organized by a small rural church.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I would say that is not exempt. It is not religious, it is not charitable, it is not scientific, literary or educational in purpose.

Mr. Speaker, I realize that this bill will probably pass unanimously. The Members, of course know that what it does is repeal part of the law, or change the law, which now imposes a 15 per cent transfer inheritance tax on gifts to charitable, scientific, literary, religious and educational institutions, also to certain veterans organizations, and so forth.

I cannot let the bill be voted on without calling attention to the fact that prior to 1951 there was a 10 per cent inheritance tax on these various gifts. At that time the now minority party in this House saw fit to raise it to 15 per cent in order to raise money to balance the budget.

I argued vigorously at that time that it was a bad thing to do as far as charitable and educational institutions were concerned for the reason that it might deter the making of gifts of one size or another to these organizations. However, apparently the need for money was so great that we were ruthlessly brushed aside and the bill was amended to raise it to 15 per cent.

I now find the minority Members are probably in agreement with us when we said it was a bad thing and would join with us in eliminating this tax entirely.

I would like to point out to the House that it is nice to know how generous you are when you are looking for money to balance the budget. It just so happens that we agree that this should be done, otherwise we would accuse you of a few things that you might well be accused of.

At any rate, we are happy to have you join us in voting for this bill. It is a worthwhile thing to do, and I think it will benefit the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania rather than harm it in any way.

I think the revenue loss for a full biennium will be somewhere around $6 to $8 million, but since the effective date of this bill is June 1, 1957, it will not affect the revenues of this biennium.

Mr. McCORMACK. I just want to say briefly, Mr. Speaker, that this is one of the most humanitarian bills that has come before the House this session. I think it will go a long way toward encouraging those benefactors who desire to make contributions to religious and charitable organizations, but who were deterred by the fact that there was such a large amount of money to be paid over to the Commonwealth.

I think this is a much desired bill, and we have been trying to get it through for several years. Therefore, I ask for unanimous approval of the bill.

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, this bill before the House today is one of the finest pieces of legislation that we can pass. There are only three states that have a tax like this and I hope within a couple of days, there will be only two.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I realize that it would be very unpopular to oppose such a bill, but let us not forget or lose sight of certain things.

I agree that the 15 per cent was terrible. I suppose ten per cent is too much. I have always felt that we should have graduation of this kind of taxes the same as every other tax that we have in Pennsylvania.

I realize that these institutions, charitable and religious institutions, that receive these gifts are good institutions. They must realize also that this great state of Pennsylvania protects and upholds the right of those institutions that you do not have in many other places.

I am not going to vote against the elimination of this tax, but I do say to you that in this day and age we need to tax even the poorest of our people, and because some of those cannot afford to pay the tax without reducing their standard of living, then I hestitate to say that this kind of tax should be eliminated entirely.

You tax the gift, you tax the inheritance of an individual to a son or daughter, not very heavily, but you tax it. My friends, I think that we should hesitate when we wipe out entirely this form of taxation.

Mr. MOSCRIP. Mr. Speaker, I am inclined to share the views of Mr. Lovett to the extent even of risking the unpopularity of voting against this bill.

I agree that 15 per cent is a pretty big bite out of a charitable bequest, but if, as the gentleman says, we are going to have to tax people, if the little cemetery that we leave $300 to for their general purposes has to pay it, what about the bachelor brother and sister or the sisters and brothers who have a family farm in joint ownership who have to pay the 15 per cent. I think you can make out as good a case for them. It seems to me that if we are going to take it off or reduce it, it should be done across the board, or else be let alone.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate Mr. Lovett.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Lovett, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LOVETT. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, I believe the gentleman knows that this bill has been on the calendar for some time. Has he ever thought of offering amendments to eliminate all the percentages out of the bill? If he had I would have supported the measure.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman, I might say that I discussed the bill in Committee at the time we took action on this bill. I did not offer amendments at that time, but I discussed the possibility of amending it. I want to say honestly to the gentleman that I did not avail myself of the opportunity to offer any amendments because I felt it would be very unpupular and I, therefore, did not offer those amendments.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

On the question,

Will the House agree to the Bill on third reading as amended?

Mr. SARRAF. Were amendments offered to this bill, Mr. Speaker?

The SPEAKER. Amendments were offered to this bill.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, was there a vote on the amendments?

The SPEAKER. There was a vote on the amendments. The House gave its unanimous consent to the consideration of the amendments.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, have the amendments been read?

Mr. SARRAF. The Chair asked us if we were in favor of the amendments?

The SPEAKER. For the information of the gentleman from Allegheny, the amendments were offered. The Chair called the number of the bill distinctly. The Chair asked, will the House give its unanimous consent for the consideration of the amendments? The Chair paused very perceptibly. The House by its silence gave its unanimous consent to the consideration of the amendments.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I agree with you to that point. Did the Chair ask if the House accepted the amendments?

The SPEAKER. The Chair did.

Mr. SARRAF. Were they read?

The SPEAKER. The Chair stated "will the House agree to the amendments? Agreed to."

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask if the amendments were read for the consideration of the House? I am positive that they were not read.

The SPEAKER. The House gave its unanimous consent to the consideration of the amendments.

Mr. SARRAF. I believe that.

The SPEAKER. The Chair asked, "Will the House agree to the amendments?"

Mr. SARRAF. No sir, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The Chair is not inclined to engage in a controversy. The gentleman has his parliamentary remedy. If a majority of the House is not in favor of the action of the House then there is a parliamentary course that can be pursued.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which these amendments were inserted in the bill on third reading be reconsidered for the purpose of voting against these amendments.

Mr. READINGER. I second the motion, Mr. Speaker.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The motion was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, it was the intention of the leadership on this side of the House to allow the gentleman to have unanimous consent to offer the amendments. My attention seemed to have been diverted at the time they were offered and read and I was not aware of the fact that they were read. I intended to speak on the amendments.

I am still going to ask the House to allow the gentleman to have unanimous consent to offer them and then debate them and vote on the amendments themselves.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Filo, who has offered the amendments.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Berks yields to the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Filo.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, I certainly did not intend to slip anything over on the Members of the House. I understand that everyone is tired and I certainly would not want a thing to go through like that.

Actually the amendments that I am offering are simple amendments. I will read just about five lines of the amendments:

> "A bank or a bank and trust company shall credit and pay interest of not less than one per centum per annum on the funds in any checking account if it makes a charge for checks or for the cashing of checks by the depositor. If no charge is made for check service no interest need be paid."

I believe they are fair. I can say this, many banks do not charge for checking accounts. The Chairman of the Banking Committee is a member of a bank that does not charge for checking accounts.

I know that many Members have checking accounts in these banks. Maybe the totals are small. Some may go as high as thousands of dollars.

There are banks that make it mandatory that you have anywhere from $200 to $300 in the checking account before you can get free checking. Now, remember this, that while your money is in the bank, they can use your money for short term loans and make a tremendous profit. I am only asking for one per cent in return. If they do not charge for checks then they do not pay any interest. So what is more fair than that?

This way you are going to give that worker back home a break. He will not have to pay ten cents for every check. As it is right now they are charging for everything under the sun. Let us give these little fellows a break.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose the amendments offered by the gentleman. Not because I do not want to give a little fellow a break too, but there are right ways to do it and wrong ways to do it.

This bill 933 comes before us with the approval of the Department of Banking. I assume that the Department of Banking knows something about the banking business.

If we accept the amendments of the gentleman we will do so without any idea of what we might do to many banking institution in this Commonwealth. The matter of paying interest on checking accounts, the matter of charging for the use of checking accounts and so forth, is certainly a matter of economics.

I dare say that any bank that can afford to allow its people to use checks, and it does require a lot of work, without charging them anything will certainly do so. Because every bank is interested in having more business and more deposits and taking care of its customers. But for us to now, without any thought, without any previous consideration vote in an amendment of this kind might very well mean the end of this bill.

I do not think it is wise to do it. I think the gentleman could any time during this session have offered such an amendment to the banking code, could have asked the Committee to consider it, bring it out and bring the matter before us. But this bill which contains, as I understand it, a number of amendments to the baking code which the Banking Department thinks are good, should pass as it is and not with this amendment in it.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, I would like to remind the gentleman that there is such a bill in the Banking Committee, reposing there very nicely. As far as I can learn it is a dead duck.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the Majority Leader.

The SPEAKER. Will the Majority Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. READINGER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, if the Majority Leader would take out his House History, could he tell me just where this bill is at the present time and how it got there?

Mr. READINGER. Which bill?

Mr. FILO. Senate Bill 933. It is on third reading today.

Mr. READINGER. I am informed that this bill had been recommitted to the Committee on Banking, which is shown by the History of Senate bills, and was reported from the Committee on Banking, I believe, two days ago.

Mr. FILO. Was the bill ever on second reading, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. READINGER. I assume it was.

Mr. Speaker, the History does not show it because the History was printed before all that action took place.

Mr. FILO. If the Majority Leader would take his calendar, yesterday's calendar, he will find that the bill was not on second reading. I am questioning him as to how the bill got on third reading.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, my recollection is that the bill was referred back to the Banking Committee after second reading and when it was reported out, it came out on third reading.

Mr. FILO. Your History does not say that, Mr. Speaker, and we go by the History.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, the History might be right and it might be wrong, but I think those are the facts. We go by the facts, not what the History might show.

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Filo.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Filo, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FILO. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Allegheny state whether his proposed amendments would also apply to National banks?

Mr. FILO. I doubt very much, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BELL. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GIBSON. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose these amendments. They would discriminate between National banks and State banks and trust companies for one thing. Another thing is that thousands of people throughout Pennsylvania have small checking accounts through the benefit of a service which the banks offer by means of a check book which is sold for a small fee.

Many of these people like to pay bills and have a check record, a cancelled check to show as their receipt. The practical effect of these amendments would deny those thousands of people, and they are the people who have small bank accounts, the services of the bank.

There are many reasons why these amendments are bad. But our time is short and I will ask the membership to oppose and vote down these amendments.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a division on the vote.

Mr. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, I think for the last ten years I have been using a check account system as a matter of convenience for my family. I have always had one at their disposal. In this particular bank where I have a savings account, we also have a checking account. As you have heard the figures, it is $300, or $200, or $400. In the bank I am doing business with it is $100, and if your checking account is below $100 they make a charge for every check you sign.

I am only one of maybe thousands or millions in this state who probably have a savings account. I am familiar with the institution where I do business.

There are a lot of poor people who come out of my district, and as I say, as a matter of convenience I think these people if they have a checking account must also have a savings account in the particular bank where they are doing business. I say this, I think it is very unfair, with the rates they are charging, for a bank to say you have to pay a fee of a certain amount that they give you.

I am asking everybody in this House to vote for these amendments. They are all right. They will mean a savings to the poor people of our state. We are not for the banks, we are for the poor people. I say, let us vote for the amendments.

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to say a few words concerning the parliamentary situation which the Chair hopes will not be recorded in the books as a precedent.

The Chair asked, "Will the House give its unanimous consent to the consideration of the amendments?" That unanimous consent was given. The proper course when the Chair asks, "Will the House give its unanimous consent," is to refuse unanimous consent, and then the gentleman who offers the amendments must move to reconsider the vote by which the bill passed second reading.

However, the question is on the amendments offered by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Filo.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

On a rising vote, twenty Members having voted in the affirmative and eighty-eight in the negative the question was determined in the negative and the amendments were not agreed to.

Mr. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, I did not think the bankers would have so many friends on both sides of the House.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which Senate Bill No. 991, Printer's No. 658 passed finally be reconsidered.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Smith vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I voted with the prevailing side.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Helm vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I voted with the prevailing side.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I am asking all the Democrats to vote for this motion. I believe this bill passed when the leadership on the minority side was unaware of what was going on.

I certainly think they are entitled to a proper roll call to vote the way they desire. So I am asking the Members to vote for this motion to reconsider.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, the leadership on this side of the House knew what was going on, but we were trying to work out a plan with the leadership on the other side of the House for offering amendments this afternoon. So I think we were sort of trapped. I do think we were at fault. I do think the Chair should have been informed that we desired a roll call vote on all these bills, which we do. I do not blame the Chair.

On the question, recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

On a rising vote, more than a majority of the Members having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative, and the motion was agreed to.

On the question, recurring

Shall the bill pass finally?

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 68

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I call up on page 16 of today's calendar, House Resolution No. 68.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 3, 1955.

One Harry (Jerry) Butler filed an appeal from the unanimous decision of the Luzerne County Court in the election contest involving the 2nd Legislative District of Luzerne County

As a result of the appeal there was brought to the attention of the members of the House Committee on Election and Apportionment the record in the proceedings which showed a flagrant abuse and disregard of the election laws in Luzerne County by the officials acting by or on behalf of the Luzerne County Board of Elections and the Luzerne County Registration Commission

The record indicates that this disregard of the election laws in Luzerne County has existed to such an extent that this is an open and notorious scandal

The record indicates that there were obvious erasures on the official election records in the custody of the election officials of Luzerne County therefore be it

Resolved That a committee be appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives to investigate election frauds and conditions and registration frauds and conditions in Luzerne County and be it further

Resolved That the entire record in these investigation proceedings be referred to the Attorney General of Pennsylvania for such additional action as he shall deem appropriate

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. JUMP. Mr. Speaker, my two Republican colleagues from Luzerne County, Mr. Mikula and Mr. Parry, and I want to assure our Democratic colleagues from Luzerne County on the other side of this House that we are in favor of this resolution.

I would like to quote from an article which appeared in The Sunday Independent, a newspaper of Luzerne County, last Sunday. The article reads as follows:

> County's New Regime Insures Fairer Elections.
> Willing to Open Voting Machines to Settle Disputes Over Results.
> A new order indeed has come to the Court House since a new administration took over affairs last Jan. 2. A development last week highlights the change, since it reversed a county policy going back more than 10 years.

> Last week, without argument, the new commissioners, Bowden Northrup and Newell Wood, agreed to canvass the vote of machines in several districts on the mere petition of a Democratic lawyer. To persons who had been watching court house doings for a long time, this was a first-class indication of the change in attitude that has come to the temple.
> The promise of the new administration to give the county a new deal in fiscal affairs thus has extended to its attitude on political affairs too—to remove a policy of obvious discrimination against Democrats, as individuals and collectively as a party.

The attorney for the Democratic party for a good many years in Luzerne County had this to say in the same article:

> Attorney James L. Brown, who fought many of the election battles with the former regime, expressed his pleasure at the change in atmosphere at the Court House.

My colleagues and I feel sure that if our Democratic colleagues will take this matter up with the County Commissioners and the District Attorney of Luzerne County they will cooperate wholeheartedly to correct any discrepancies that might exist in the registration office.

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to inquire of the Majority Leader whether it is essential that this resolution pass today?

The resolve clause reads that a committee be appointed by the Speaker. What size committee to investigate election frauds? Speaking as the Speaker, the Chair thinks the resolution should be more definite in its commitments. Will it be a committee of three, a committee of five, a partisan committee, a non-partisan committee?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I am at a loss to answer the question of the Speaker.

The SPEAKER. I think the resolution should be amended by the Rules Committee and brought back before the House.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I would suggest to the sponsors that they do not object to the passing over of this resolution at this time, and we will look into the questions raised by the Speaker and bring the matter before the House again next week.

Mr. MUSTO. Mr. Speaker, I shall accept the advice of the Speaker, but I ask permission to comment for one minute upon the remarks of our colleague on the Republican side of the House from Luzerne County.

I thank the gentleman from Luzerne County for the attitude he and his colleagues have taken. I do wish every Member of this House would realize that the resolution is very specific in its purpose, with no desire to discriminate against any one political party.

I will accept the advice of the Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The resolution is not called up.

The PRESIDENT. This report of Committee of Conference will appear on tomorrow's Calendar.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, in the 1953 Session, I believe Senator Taylor sponsored a bill which made an allocation to municipalities that constructed sewage disposal plants. The allocations were made to these municipalities and in setting up their budgets for this year, these same municipalities included an item they expected to receive from the State to cover the financial responsibility I am talking about.

There has been some delay in the passage of a bill and, as a result, a number of municipalities, including one I represent, the city of Bethlehem, because of the delay in the passage of the bill, had to go to banks and borrow a sum equivalent to what they would get from the State that was set up in the budget. In the city of Bethlehem, it happens to be $100,000.

Mr. President, I see the distinguished gentleman from the House here, Mr. Readinger, and I want to call his attention to the fact that the bill for this subsidy passed the Senate on December 12, 1955, and it has been in the House Committee on Appropriations since that time.

Since plans are being made to adjourn the Legislature probably next week, or the week after, I am suggesting that Mr. Readinger take it up with the Committee on Appropriations in the House, with the hope of having this bill released so that it could be passed and the municipalities involved will get this subsidy from the State as soon as possible. If Mr. Readinger will do that, I am sure the municipal officials around Pennsylvania will be very grateful.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I cannot yield to the Majority Leader of the House, but if you will allow me, I will give the answer to that after I hear from him.

Mr. President, the House now informs the Senate that it has passed a bill, House Bill No. 1635, which is now in the Senate, that does exactly the same thing. It is in the form and shape that the Department of Health asked for in the first instance. This bill is now in the Appropriations Committee and I am assured by the chairman, who is not here, that there will be some action taken.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Dent.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DENT. I will, Mr. President, if he promises not to treat me as roughly as he treats the fellow who usually stands here.

Mr. YOSKO. Senator Dent, I understand there are three bills on the subject that I just brought up. One is House Bill No. 1635, Printer's No. 914; the other is Senate Bill No. 38, which already passed the Senate and is over in the House Appropriations Committee. Then there is a third bill, House Bill No. 537, which is still before the House Committee on Public Health and Sanitation.

I would like to know, if it is possible for you to tell me, which of these three bills are going to be considered as the bill to take care of these municipalities.

Mr. DENT. In answer to the gentleman from the other side of the aisle, I can assure him that the Republican version of the bill was Senate Bill No. 38, which we returned to the House with an amendment in it, setting the date for consideration of the sewage disposal plant reimbursements back to 1920. That bill is now in the House Appropriations Committee, having passed the Senate. House Bill No. 1635 passed the House and it is now in the Senate Appropriations Committee.

The spokesmen on this side, speaking with authority as usual, want to assure you that that bill will be considered at the next meeting of the Rules Committee. Every assurance is that the bill will come out, probably amended to the Senate version again.

House Bill No. 537 is completely buried over in the House and will stay dead.

Mr. YOSKO. Thank you, now we know where we stand and what is what and where is where.

Mr. DENT. It does not matter where you stand, just as long as you tell the truth.

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 675, Printer's No. 1655, on third reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, House Bill No. 675 has been on our Calendar now for some weeks and I am hoping that whatever amendments are necessary will be placed in this bill by the first of next week. I understand that Senator McMenamin has some amendments which he would like to introduce. I hope that the leadership on the other side will prevail upon Senator McMenamin to be here next Tuesday and offer his amendments so that we may act upon this bill. The Republican Majority in the Senate does not wish to be responsible if a censorship bill is not passed.

Therefore, I hope that you can see to it that Senator McMenamin is here next week so that this bill may be acted upon.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I wish to advise the Majority Leader, and the population of Pennsylvania as a whole, that the Democratic Minority in the Senate is very anxious to have legislation passed which will provide censorship. However, we must make sure and do our very best to see that the bill is constitutional.

It is true that Senator McMenamin has some amendments. We have them over here and we have been working on them. As a matter of fact, I think the Majority Leader realizes that everyone has been very, very busy. I am just as anxious as he is to have censorship legislation passed. We are not carrying this bill over for the purpose of delay. We are carrying the bill over for the purpose of trying to work out proper amendments which will be acceptable to everyone. I can assure the Majority Leader that we are just as anxious as he to have censorship in Pennsylvania.

The PRESIDENT. There being no objection, the Bill will go over in its order.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 1077, Printer's No. 723, on third reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2017, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 1 1939 (P. L. 905) entitled "The Vehicle Code" further regulating the passing of school buses and prescribing penalties

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, from all the activity here, it looks as though we are going to try to pass this bill. I want the Membership to know that I want to be recorded as voting "no" on this piece of legislation because, in my humble opinion, it is going to jeopardize the lives of a lot of small children going to school. Even though it may be part of a Nation-wide program as far as school buses are concerned, I feel that I cannot possibly vote for this bill.

Therefore, Mr. President, I am going to vote "no" in the event the bill appears on Final Passage.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, if there is some objection, I was going to have the bill go over in order. I want to assure Senator Lane that I, nor any other Senator in this Body, certainly do not want to be responsible for risking the life of one school child. When Senator Lane made that statement, I thought perhaps it would be better if we took another look at this bill to see if it does what he says.

The State Police have asked me to see that this bill is passed. It is something that they are interested in. Perhaps Senator Lane and I, and anyone else, can have a conference with them and if this is a risky bill, certainly we do not want to pass it. I was one of the people who got the school bus stop laws on the books. I think we have saved a great many lives due to the fact that we have a school bus stop law in Pennsylvania. It was only done, however, after a great amount of work and much effort. Certainly I would be the last one to weaken it in any way whatsoever

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Therefore, Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 2017, Printer's No. 1681, on third reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2087, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 1 1929 (P. L. 905) entitled "The Vehicle Code" further regulating applications for registration changing annual registration fees for certain commercial motor vehicles truck tractors trailers and semi-trailers prescribing certain engine capacity and additional equipment requirements for certain vehicles changing the maximum gross weights allowed for certain vehicles providing a formula for determining the gross maximum weights and prescribing penalties

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, yesterday in a very brief debate on this bill, it was suggested that anyone who would have amendments to offer should get them into the hands of myself, as Chairman of the Highways Committee, so that this bill might be put in final form. Senator Mahany very graciously assured Senator Lane that there was no opposition on our side to the bill.

All the amendments that I have received up to date are amendments of Senator Dent, which merely change page 26 of the bill and make the law, if this bill passes and is signed by the Governor, operative as of January 1, 1957. The Department of Revenue maintained that they cannot be prepared to enforce this law prior to that time.

Therefore, Mr. President, on behalf of Senator Dent, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Bill, page 26, by inserting between lines 7 and 8: "Section 6. Notwithstanding any of the provisions of this amending act, all vehicles originally titled prior to January 1, 1957 shall thereafter be registered in the same class as originally registered." amend Sec. 6, page 26, line 8, by striking out all of said line; amend Sec. 6, page 26, lines 15 to 18, by striking out "AS TO ALL NEW" in line 15, all of lines 16, 17 and 18, and inserting in lieu thereof: "Section 7. This act shall become effective January 1, 1957."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading, as amended?

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 2087, Printer's No. 1735, on third reading, go over in its order as amended.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY MAJORITY LEADER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, yesterday I announced that it was our intention to act finally on House Bill No. 583 and House Bill No. 584 on Friday of this week. SENATE BILL No. 201.

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Property and Supplies for the payment of certain moral claims providing for the examination adjustment and payment of moral claims of persons injured by reason of falling down the main staircase of the Capitol Building as a result of negligence of the Commonwealth in maintaining the same

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. TOMPKINS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I have an invitation from the Board of Trustees of the Eastern Pennsylvania Psychiatric Institute of the Department of Welfare to a Dedicaton Ceremony to be held in Philadelphia on Wednesday, May 16, 1956.

The budget breakdown for the current biennium for this Institution shows $30,000 for initial stock of stationary and forms and "programs for dedication." $10,000 is set up for "mailing expense of programs and invitations incident to dedication."

For an Administration that delights in scandalizing Dedication Ceremonies—let all those who attend (and at three cents postage per person, $10,000 will invite a lot of people), I repeat all ye who attend, beware of that fair young maiden receptionist, she may be a Conover Model—and don't eat that sandwich, drink that coffee or smell those flowers—they may all be loaded with future scandal—particularly of the one man political propagandising committee type.

And while on this subject—The Phihladelphia Inquirer of May 9, 1956 and the Harrisburg Evening News of the same date, carried a story that the Chairman of the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission Investigation Committee was named as one of those who was the recipient of favors and entertainment from the Bridge Commission.

Despite the accusations of "a lie" and the self-serving declaration of innocence by the Chairman of the Investigation Committe, Joseph J. Yosko,—none of his statements were made under oath.

In addition, the Chairman as an accused has no ethical or moral right to continue as such Chairman, or as a member of the Committee until such time as his innocence is established. In a Court of Law, a Judge thusly accused would be required to retire from the case.

I therefore call upon the Chairman of the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission Investigation Committee, Joseph J. Yosko, under the circumstances, to withdraw and resign from the Committee and its Chairmanship; upon his failure to do so, that the Governor recall him from the Committee as his appointee; and upon failure of the Governor to so act, that this House take action to discharge this Committee from further performance of its duties until such time as the Chairman retires or is removed.

This House, this General Assembly, this Commonwealth, is entitled to an unbiased, unprejudiced investigation and report, which I question can be accomplished with the Chairman under accusation.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DONOLOW asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DONOLOW. Mr. President, we read in the Philadelphia newspapers a few days ago that because of the Commutation Act of 1901, within the next few months, released from prison and put upon the streets of Philadelphia will be the most vicious man who ever partook of the narcotics racket and traffic. The people of Pennsylvania and the United States now recognize the great job that has been done by the Philadelphia Police Force and the District Attorney's Office of Philadelphia during the past five or six years in reference to this narcotic trade. I think that Philadelphia stands as an example for the method of handling this vicious business which has perpetrated into the schools and into all phases of our life.

Therefore, Mr. President, at this time, I would like to introduce an amendment to the Commutation Act of 1901, which will deny the reducing of sentences for those who have been convicted of violating the Narcotics Act and who have been convicted of same.

I ask, Mr. President, that this bill be given immediate attention by the Committee on Rules, to which committee I assume it will be referred, so that we can pass this bill which is so important before final adjournment.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Messrs. DONOLOW and CAMIEL read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1110, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 11, 1901 (P. L. 166) entitled "An act providing for the commutation of sentences, for good behavior of convicts in prisons, penitentiaries, workhouses and county jails of this State, and regulations governing the same," denying commutation or diminution of sentence to persons convicted of the unlawful possession, selling, dispensing or giving away of drugs.

Which was committed to the Committee on Rules.

HONORABLE EUSTACE H. BANE PRESENTED TO SENATE

Mr. LANE. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, it certainly is my pleasure today to present to the Membership one of the former Members of this Senate who has now graduated and is presently a Judge in the Court of Common Pleas of Fayette County. The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair welcomes the fourth grade class from the Wilson Borough School, of Easton, and we certainly hope that you will enjoy your visit in the Senate today.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

RECALLING SENATE BILL No. 1002 FROM THE GOVERNOR

Mr. LANE offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, May 15, 1956.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That Senate Bill No. 1002, Printer's No. 651, entitled "An act amending the act of January 8, 1952 (P. The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair is happy to note that the Lieutenant-Governor is present, and is pleased to turn the gavel over to him.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Roy E. Furman) in the Chair.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WEINER asked and obtained unaimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, there is a bill which was introduced in the House quite some time ago, came over to this body, was on the Calendar and was then sent back to committee. Since the recommittal of this bill, we have seen and heard nothing of it. I would like to point out to the Members of the Senate who are not aware of it that the bill I am speaking about is House Bill No. 655, which is the county health code. All this bill does is include Philadelphia with the sixty-six other counties that are now under the act.

I understand this bill will be given some consideration tomorrow before the Rules Committee. I feel that in all justice, Philadelphia, despite what some of the Members of this body say, belongs to the Senate of Pennsylvania and should be treated as such. Either include Philadelphia with the sixty-six other counties or I will be very happy to sponsor legislation, along with one of the Members from the other side who feels that we do not belong under this act, repealing the entire act. I think there are enough days left in this Session to do that.

I, therefore, am asking either the persons who are holding this bill, or the committee that has it, to give us favorable consideration. Philadelphia very badly needs this act. If some one here can give cogent reasons why Philadelphia should not be included under this act, I will be very happy to not mention it any more and will also be glad to either vote the bill down or ask the people on our side, who are members of the committee, to not vote for the bill.

STUDENTS OF BANGOR AREA JOINT JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL PRESENTED TO SENATE

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, because of the large number of school children here from Northampton County, I can probably say that this is "Northampton County Day" at the State Capitol. During my absence, I want to thank Senator Lane for introducing the fourth grade students from Wilson Borough, under the leadership of Miss Jane Brader.

In addition to that class, we have 150 members of the ninth grade civics classes of the Bangor Area Joint Junior High School, under the leadership of Mr. Williams Miss Englers, Mr. Wagner, Mrs. Bishop and Mr. Zaludek. I welcome them there and I certainly hope their tour here was informative and educational. I want to wish the group a safe journey home.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair, on behalf of all the Members of the Senate, also welcomes this fine group of students here this afternoon. We hope you enjoy your short visit with us today.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments in which concurrence of the House is requested.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1990, entitled:

An Act authorizing and directing the Governor on behalf of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to execute an interstate compact concerning mental health and for related purposes

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

MOTION TO RECOMMIT BILL

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I move that House Bill No. 1990, on third reading, be recommitted to the Committee on Public Health and Welfare.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Acting Floor Leader from Armstrong, Senator Pechan.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Pechan, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PECHAN. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. Senator Pechan, will you tell us, if you can, why this bill is being sent back to committee?

Mr. PECHAN. Well, the bill is being sent back to committee, Senator, for the usual answer you get, "further study," but to be a little more explicit today, we are not certain on this side of the intent of the bill. We have had several interpretations of the bill. The office of the Attorney General has sent over some work indicating there is a compact between the State of New York, which has already passed a similar bill. Connecticut, New Jersey and Maryland, I believe, are in the process of passing similar legislation whereby the five or six States in this area would have a compact to take care of patients from one State to another. However, there is so much misunderstanding on our side that we thought we would wait until the next Session of the Legislature, which will be, of course, in January of 1957, when the other two States have done something definite about the compact.

Some of our Senators feel that under this bill it could be used for political purposes by shipping a man to Alaska, let us say, if the Federal Government builds a mental hospital in Alaska.

We have not received a clarification of this bill, and even the Attorney General's Office has sent over a memorandum about some of the discrepancies which have arisen so far as discussion is concerned.

Mr. DENT. Would you tell this State Senate whether or not Alaska is a State of the Union in the United States?

Mr. PECHAN. Will I tell them if it is a State of the Union?

Mr. DENT. Yes.

Mr. PECHAN. I know that Alaska is not a State.

Mr. DENT. Then how could you ship patients to Alaska? This is only a compact between the States.

Mr. PECHAN. I did not say you could ship them to Alaska. I said that some of our Senators feel that if the Federal Government builds a mental hospital in Alaska, a person could be railroaded from Pennsylvania to Alaska.

Mr. DENT. Well, I am very fearful that somebody on your side—at least those whom you speak about—has not read the bill. There is nothing in the bill that makes it possible for anybody to send anybody to Alaska or to send them any place. The real purpose of the bill is to, and I quote from Article III where it says in clear-cut language:

"Whenever a person physically present in any party State shall be in need of institutionalization by reason of mental illness or mental deficiency he shall be eligible for care and treatment in an institution in that State irrespective of his residence settlement or citizenship qualifications."

Now, the purpose behind this bill is that when a person, for any of the many reasons that some of us lose our minds, should happen to find themselves in a State other than their home State and be in need of hospitalization, it makes it possible for that State to hospitalize them and receive payment for their care from the parent State. This is a compact which has been worked on for a number of years among the representatives of the various States.

Mr. President, either we start following along a cooperative schedule with other States or let us dissolve the Council of State Governments. Either we do these things between the States on a compact base or the Federal Government will step in and do them for us. We cannot neglect problems which are of long standing and problems which require very little study, but do require a little courage. It is not a question of study; it is a question of whether you have courage to make changes when changes are necessary.

The question of mental health is one of the paramount problems in these United States today, and ofttimes the delay in hospitalizing a patient may cause a permanent injury to take place. We believe, we who have attended these various meetings all over these United States, that this is an important piece of humane legislation and should not be discarded so readily and so summarily.

Mr. President, I believe this bill ought to stay on the Calendar and ought to be voted for. I believe it is an important step forward.

Why do we have to wait to see what New Jersey or New York does about this problem? What happens is that New Jersey and New York then set aside their pending legislation to see what Pennsylvania will do eventually, and then the problem becomes acute and the Federal Government steps in, passes legislation and we stand on the floor of this Senate and scream about state rights. If we want state rights, let us take state responsibilities and do the job that has to be done.

Mr. President, I oppose the motion to send this bill back to committee.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Dent.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DENT. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. MAHANY. Senator Dent, you stated that when someone left, let us say, the State of Michigan and came to Pennsylvania and became insane and we would put them in one of our hospitals after a doctor's examination, the parent State, or the State of Michigan, which was the residence of that particular individual, would reimburse the State of Pennsylvania for the care of this patient. That is the thing which we could not find in the bill. Would you mind telling us on what page and section that obligation appears?

Mr. DENT. Only if the State is a party State to the compact would that be possible.

"Whenever pursuant to the laws of the State in which the patient is physically present"—if you will turn to Article IV, on page six of the bill, you will find that it provides for the care and then under section (c) on page seven it is stated:

"A receiving state shall employ the same standards of visitation examination care and treatment that it employs for similar local patients." This Article sets up the procedure by which the State has to qualify for the payment of its bills.

Mr. President, I do not see any changes in the bill and when the bill was first drafted, a resume was sent over from the Department of Welfare stating that unless we have a bill of this nature we cannot be paid for those whom we are taking care of now in the State of Pennsylvania.

Mr. MAHANY. Senator, you have done a nice job of side-stepping my question. I would just like to have you point out the place in the bill where it provides that the parent State will reimburse us for the care of a patient. Where do we find that in the bill, Senator?

Mr. DENT. If it is not contained in the bill specifically, the compact calls for it and if the gentleman will wait for five minutes, I will prepare amendments to clearly make it so state. It is our understanding that it is a pay-as-you-receive commitment.

Mr. MAHANY. I would say, Senator, that if you can prepare an amendment which will do the things you say you want done, I would say that that would help this bill immeasurably. However, under the present wording we could not find that particular feature in the bill and that was the reason why we were going to recommit it.

Mr. DENT. I will not agree or disagree with you on that, because I have not had a chance to read all of this bill. I only know the purpose for which the bill was drafted. If you will hold your motion to send it back to committee, I will prepare amendments which will meet with your objections.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Dent.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DENT. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. PECHAN. Senator Dent, on page 5, line 13, under section (d), it would give priority to patients coming in from other States over our own Pennsylvania patients. We are also fearful that some of the other States which do not have adequate facilties—and heavens only knowns that we in Pennsylvania do not have them for our own people—might come in with a priority higher than ours and we must admit them under section (d).

I am willing to withdraw my motion and let you prepare the amendments to our satisfaction, and we will discuss the bill again tomorrow.

Mr. DENT. That is perfectly all right, but if you will read section (d), about which you are talking, you will find that they are not given any top priority over Pennsylvania patients. I will read it to you and perhaps you will understand it as I understand it. Section (d) says:

"In the event that the laws of the receiving state establish a system of priorities for the admission of patients an interstate patient under this compact shall receive the same priority as a local patient and shall be taken in the same order and at the same time that he would be taken if he were a local patient"

There could not be any fairer language written into an act if you are dealing on the basis of equality with a neighboring State. We do not give them any special priority. We only say that in the receiving of the applications if we have a priority set up, because of the nature of the disease or the nature of the affliction, that same priority shall prevail for interstate patients as it prevails for our in-State patients. It is the same and not a special. However, I will prepare the amendments if the Senator will agree to hold the bill.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT BILL WITHDRAWN

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I withdraw my motion to recommit House Bill No. 1990 to the Committee on Public Health and Welfare.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I withdraw my second to the motion.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, prior to requesting unanimous consent to offer an amendment to this bill, I would like to say that I think both sides of the Senate are in full agreement that we are anxious to make this as safe a bill as possible, if enacted into law. At the same time, we do not want to penalize this industry. This amendment that is offered today is along the line of the amendments that we offered the other day, except that the ones of the other day have now been interpreted as not being explicit enough.

This amendment today would simply add the following words on page 26, after the word "registered," on line 12: "and this amending act shall apply only to vehicles originally titled on and after January 1, 1957."

Therefore, Mr. President, on behalf of Senator Lane and myself, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend Sec. 6, page 26, line 12 by inserting after "REGISTERED": "and this amending act shall apply only to vehicles originally titled on and after January 1, 1957."

SENATE RESOLUTION

BIRTHDAY FELICITATIONS EXTENDED TO HONORABLE ANTHONY J. DiSILVESTRO

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. LANE, BARR, RUTH and DENT offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, May 15, 1956.

Today, May 15, is the anniversary of the birth of one of the most distinguished and esteemed members of this Senate.

Anthony J. DiSilvestro, the son of A. Giuseppe and Mary DiSilvestro, was born in the city of Philadelphia where he attended the public schools. He was graduated from Temple School of Pharmacy (Ph.G. 1926) and Temple School of Law (L.L.B. 1943). In 1938 he received the Temple award.

He is editor and publisher of the Italian-American weekly "La Libera Parola" and conducts a pharmacy in Philadelphia. He is a member of the Knights of Columbus, B.P.O.E., Mazzini Society, Unione Abrizzese, Lodge Iwo Jima No. 138, Philadelphia Association of Retail Druggists, Graduate Club, Tailors' Club, Circolo Recreativo Club, Law Alumni of Temple University and Pharmacy Alumni of Temple University.

He is married to the former Mary Angela Perseo, a teacher and pharmacist.

"Tony" as he is known to his many friends and associates, is a comparatively quiet and unassuming person but when basic principles are involved he is not one to sit back but rather rises to the occasion with thunderous oratory and a sincere will to defend. As with all men of honesty and intelligence, he has a keen sense of humor and a ready wit, both well known to his colleagues here; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Members of the Senate wish "Tony" DiSilvestro a happy birthday and express our hope that he spend 100 more, each one as a Senator from Philadelphia; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be presented to the gentleman representing the First Senatorial District of Pennsylvania.

SENATE RESOLUTION UNANIMOUSLY ADOPTED

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I move that the resolution just read by the Clerk be adopted.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I would like to add my personal congratulations to Senator DiSilvestro on his birthday. Also, on behalf of all the Republican Senators, I wish Senator DiSilvestro many happy returns of the day, good health and all that goes with a happy life. He is one of our very best friends and we hope that he will find it possible to come back with us in the Senate before we adjourn finally.

I understand that Senator DiSilvestro has not been feeling so well lately. We sympathize with him in his ill health, and we hope that he will recover rapidly and will be able to join us before we adjourn, we hope, at the end of this week.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The motion was agreed to and the resolution was unanimously adopted.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

ADJOURNMENT SINE DIE

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, in order that Senator DiSilvestro receives a very fine birthday present, I ask unanimous consent to offer a privileged resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I offer this resolution on behalf of Senator Mahany, Senator Berger, Senator Barr and myself and I am sure the rest of the Membership of the Senate and I hope the entire Membership of the House. This is an Adjournment Sine Die Resolution and I think that Senator DiSilvestro will be very happy to know that we are commemorating his birthday with a Sine Die Resolution for 8:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time, on Friday, May 18, 1956.

Messrs. DENT, MAHANY, BERGER and BARR offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, May 15, 1956.

Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring), That this Regular Session of the General Assembly adjourn sine die, May 18, 1956, at 8:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. STIEFEL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, in introducing the Adjournment Sine Die Resolution, Senator Dent coupled it with a gesture to our colleague, Senator DiSilvestro, saying that it would make him happy. I want to suggest something else that will make Senator DiSilvestro happy.

Senator DiSilvestro lives just within about fifteen blocks of the Independence Hall Mall. He is very much concerned about the progress of the Mall. Many times, I have seen him strolling along the benches and enjoying the atmosphere. I am afraid that, since this adjournment resolution was adopted, if we do not have a Conference Committee to settle our differences about the appropriation for Independence Hall Mall, Senator DiSilvestro will be much grieved. I do not want to see his birthday celebration marred by any further delays in resolving this problem.

Therefore, Mr. President, to please Senator DiSilvestro, I hope that this appropriation matter will be resolved very soon.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 1176, Printer's No. 1769

was passed over at the request of Mr. READINGER

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 2098, entitled:

An Act regulating and improving the personnel service of departments and agencies of the Commonwealth vesting in the State Personnel Board a Rules Committee and an Executive Director certain powers and duties providing for classification of positions adoption of compensation schedules and certification of payrolls imposing duties upon certain officers and employes of the Commonwealth authorizing service of State departments or agencies and political subdivisions of the Commonwealth in matters relating to personnel service defining certain crimes and misdemeanors imposing penalties making certain appropriations and repealing certain acts and parts thereof.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, without recognizing the validity of the arguments against this bill and without agreeing with any of the criticisms to which it has been subjected, I am moving, or will move, that House Bill 2098 on page 4 of today's calendar and House Bill 2097 on page 5 of today's calendar be recommitted to the Committee on Rules.

There is a bill pending in the Senate relating to civil service. We have reason to believe, or at least we have reason to hope, that by means of a single paragraph the major purposes contemplated in this bill, House Bill 2098, can be served in part. I cannot guarantee, of course, at this time that the bill which is now pending in the Senate will come to us amended in such a manner, but I am sure there are those who serve in another place who realize the extremity to which those persons responsible for skilled personnel have been reduced.

If the amendment which we hope will be embodied in the bill pending in the Senate is embodied there, when the bill reaches the House it will be at least possible under civil service regulations to give tenure to such employes as engineers. That was the only purpose which would have been served had this bill been enacted and sent to the Governor's desk.

I Just want to make one reference to criticism of the bill before I make the motion. One Member of the House argued that the personnel bill made it possible to hire people from outside the state. That has been the practice and is the present law.

Another Member criticized that the bill was subject to abuse. Goodness knows, if I had the time and the House had the patience, I could point to many and many abuses which presently exist under our present civil service and which I hope will be cured.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. ANDREWS. At any rate, because of the approaching sine die resolution, to save time and in the hope that we can accomplish by one paragraph the major portion of this bill, I move, Mr. Speaker, that House Bill 2098 on page 4 of today's calendar be recommitted to the Committee on Rules.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE POSTPONED

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. Andrews.

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 2097, entitled:

An Act to further amend the "Administrative Code of 1929 * * *" by abolishing the State Civil Service Commission creating the State Personnel Board and establishing duties of that board.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Rules.

The motion was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1956, entitled:

An Act authorizing the Department of Property and Supplies to sell and convey 57.8 acres more or less of land situate in Hanover Township Beaver County Pennsylvania with the approval of the Governor.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I should like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Petrosky, in the Hall of the House?

Mr. TOMPKINS. All I am interested in, Mr. Speaker, is if somebody can tell me what land this is, whether it is land belonging to the Highway Department, or to whom it belongs, and what it is now being used for.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there any other Member who will answer the interrogation?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Is there somebody from Beaver County who might be able to answer that question?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the Majority Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I will yield to the gentleman from Beaver, Mr. Smith. I believe he will have a lot more information than I have.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger, yields to the gentleman from Beaver, Mr. Smith.

Will the gentleman from Beaver, Mr. Smith, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WILLIAM B. SMITH. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, just what does this 57.8 acres of land consist of? What is it now being used for?

Mr. WILLIAM B. SMITH. It is adjacent to a park that is known as Raccoon Park in Beaver County. As I understand it, 5 acres of that 57 acres of picnic ground has a couple of buildings on it and the state did not want that part of it, they wanted the remaining part of the acreage. For the remaining part of the acreage they were to receive aproximately $5,000. They wanted $17,000 for the whole piece of ground and, of course, they did not need the whole thing, they did not need the part with the house on it. So they are buying the remaining part of it for $5,000. It is to be made part of the park.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker. I have no objection to the bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2079, entitled:

An Act to amend the "Fiduciaries Act of 1949" * * * by further limiting the powers of registers of wills to issue letters testamentary or of adminstration in certain cases and providing for further duties of personal representatives

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I ask the Members to oppose this bill.

This bill amends the Fiduciaries Act of 1949 by changing the law concerning the issuance of letters of administration in certain cases. Under the present law if no spouse or other relative is found to take out letters of administration, the local register of wills can issue the letters to a creditor or to other fit persons.

This bill would change the law by requiring that any such person desiring to take out letters of administration must first notify the Department of Revenue in Harrisburg at least ten days before the letters are issued. The result will be, of course, that the Commonwealth will then come in and have the letters issued to it or to its representative.

As far as I can see, the bill is primarily a patronage bill. It will, of course, eliminate the chief fees that are now being paid to persons, and also it will see that they are properly channeled.

I say it will completely remove the power of the local register of wills and in many respects it will seriously hamper the administration of estates where, for example, in the case of a going business there might be need for haste in getting letters of administration.

Furthermore, and in conclusion, all of these decedents' estate bills, at least for the last few sessions, have been considered first by the Joint State Government Commission and its very capable committee on decedents' estates composed of eminent lawyers and judges throughout the state. I have been advised by the eminent counsel for that commission that this subject has never been considered by the Joint State Government Commission.

I therefore ask all Members to vote against this bill and suggest that perhaps it should be considered by the Commission at a future time.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, this bill was introduced at the request of the Department of Revenue for the reason that many times letters are granted to creditors and to other persons under the Act and there is property which would be properly escheatable to the state. Many times the department is not notified of that fact until after the money has been collected and an attempt made to administer the estate. All this bill will do will be to give the Commonwealth proper notice that there is likely to be some escheatable property as a result of the death of one of its citizens.

There are two amendments in this bill. The first provides that the register of wills give ten days notice to the Secretary of Revenue before issuing letters.

The second part provides that notice to the Secretary of Revenue shall be given by the personal representative to whom letters have been issued if he has reason to believe there is property which would descend to the Commonwealth.

I believe this is a good bill. It does no one any harm. It does not affect the heirs of any particular decedent because this applies only to those cases where there are no heirs to receive letters of administration. It applies only where creditors or other persons come in and ask for letters because there is no other person qualified under the Act to receive them.

We feel under the circumstances the Commonwealth is the most interested party. The Commonwealth, therefore, should have notice of these cases and it will make for better collection on the part of the Commonwealth of escheatable property.

I think this is a good bill. It can do absolutely no harm to any person, but it will protect the interests of the Commonwealth.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Lopresti.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Lopresti, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LOPRESTI. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, when letters of administration are granted to a creditor or another person, isn't such person required to put up a bond in double the amount of the estate to see that the estate is properly administered?

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, that is correct. However, I want to explain that by saying that the amount of the bond is generally fixed by an estimate given by the person seeking the letters of administration and oftentimes the amount, or the extent of the property, is not revealed until long after letters of administration have been granted.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, as a matter of fact, is it not true that the bond must be increased when the inventory is filed if the inventory shows assets above the amount set forth initially?

Mr LOPRESTI. That is correct. However, I might say in explanation again, unless the Commonwealth or some other interested person has access to the same information that the administrator has, there is no way of determining just what he did get. This will preclude the administrator from getting certain assets which the rest of the world would know nothing about.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, in whose favor is the bond that is given made payable ?

Mr. LOPRESTI. I presume ordinarily it would be made payable to the Commonwealth.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Is it not true, also, that the Commonwealth appears at the audit of various estates and as a matter of practical effect has a representative at the audit in every county?

Mr. LOPRESTI. That may be, but the point which I have tried to make, Mr. Speaker, is that when an administrator is appointed he has immediate access to the assets of the particular decedent, and from the time he is appointed until the audit is made there is no way of tracing those assets. If the Commonwealth is notified in advance, they have an opportunity of going in initially and finding out what the assets are and thereby stopping perhaps the waste of those funds.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I am glad to say that the gentleman frankly answered the statements put to him and stated very clearly that the intention of this bill is to permit the Commonwealth to get in first. As I said before, it seems to me it is clearly a patronage bill, no matter how you look at it. There is a bond usually in double the amount to insure that the Commonwealth gets its taxes.

I say this subject is so far reaching that it should be studied by the Joint State Government Commission.

I, therefore ask the Members to vote against it.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I want to state that under the circumstances where there are no heirs and where the property is likely to descend to the Commonwealth, the Commonwealth then is the primary person interested and should get there first.

I think that is the very purpose of this bill, to stop the individual who goes in and takes out letters and then dissipates money which ordinarily should come to the Commonwealth.

Since the Commonwealth is the primary party, since the Commonwealth is the person to whom the property would ordinarily descend, they certainly should have notice that letters are being granted.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Lippincott.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Lippincott, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, always being interested in the patronage angle, Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman where in these amendments does he read into the bill any patronage?

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. As the gentleman will clearly see, if he reads the bill, under the present law a person who is a fit person can apply to the Register of Wills and be granted letters in certain cases.

This amendment will provide that no letters can be granted until the Commonwealth gets ten days notice. So clearly within that ten day period the Commonwealth will notify the local person to whom the letters are directed or should be directed, that person will apply to the register and the register has no discretion in such case to refuse to grant letters.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman said that the Commonwealth will notify the person who should or would be entitled to letters?

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. I assume that is the way the patronage works. That is the way it has been working in our county in other instances. I suppose that the same logical plan would be followed if this bill were adopted.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman not reading something into these amendments that isn't actually there?

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Well, that is true. It does not say that only Democrats shall get these letters. You do have to use your imagination a little bit.

Mr. McCORMACK. I thank the gentleman Mr. Speaker.

The language as I read it in this amendment, is that those particular persons will still be entitled to apply and be granted letters of administration and the only qualification is that they have to give ten day's notice first to the Department of Revenue. I think the gentleman from Delaware is reading something into the amendments that is simply not there. I think it has a salutary effect and I think we should vote in favor of it.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Rules for the purpose of further study and possible amendment.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. DOUGHERTY. Mr. Speaker, I oppose this motion to recommit due to the haphazard method used by the Philadelphia Housing Authority in the selection of their housing sites.

For instance, if one should ask to build a garage in any particular neighborhood, he would have to appeal for a change in zoning and proper notices would be posted on numerous days notifying the citizens just what change there would be in the neighborhood.

City council was not even notified as to the 21 sites which had been proposed in the city of Philadelphia.

In my own district in a radius of a half mile eight different units have been proposed and no one, not a neighbor or city council, knew any thing about them.

I ask the Members to vote down this motion.

in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2113, entitled:

An Act amending "The Pennsylvania Occupational Disease Act" approved June 21, 1939 (P. L. 566) changing liability provisions with respect to certain diseases.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. READINGER. I would like to read to the membership of the House a memo which I received from the Secretary of Labor and Industry today relative to this bill.

> House Bill 2113 is introduced as an administrative measure because of the fact that under the Occupational Disease Act the only diseases for which partial disability is not compensable are silicosis, anthraco-silicosis and asbestosis. The only diseases for which there is a limitation in amount of $10,000 are these three same diseases.
> In the soft coal industry there is claimed to be an occupational disease known as coal miner's pneumoconiosis, the result of rock and coal dust, but which contains no silica. If a substantial number of claims are filed for this coal miner's pneumoconiosis and if awards for partial disability are obtained, this could easily bankrupt the Occupational Disease Fund, if they are required to pay either all of it under Section 301 (g) or forty per cent under Section 308 (a). The only justification for the Commonwealth's contribution under these two sections is that the anthracite industry is very sick financially and if the Commonwealth does not assume this burden, it might well result in distress areas in the anthracite region. This reason does not apply to bituminous mines, most of whose production is from captive mines owned by large corporations. The bituminous miners recently won a $2.00 a day wage increase. There is no reason, therefore, for the Commonwealth to subsidize any other industry than anthracite coal.
> These two amendments were introduced in order to limit the Commonwealth's subsidy to the particular diseases for which it was intended. It is recommended that this bill receive administration support.

I am asking that it receive support from the membership of this House today.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the Majority Floor Leader.

The SPEAKER. Will the Majority Floor Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. READINGER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, does the state government at the present time have an appropriation to cover and help pay for workmen's compensation under the Occupational Disease Act?

Mr. READINGER. I understand that the state does have such a fund.

Mr. JOHNSON. How much is the biennial appropriation of the Commonwealth for this fund?

Mr. READINGER. I have no knowledge of that fact at the moment.

Mr. JOHNSON. Is it $7 million?

Mr. READINGER. It is $7 million, I am informed.

Mr. JOHNSON. That is to cover silicosis and what other diseases?

Mr. READINGER. I suppose asbestosis and anthroco-silicosis.

Mr. JOHNSON. Does this bill plan to take out of this $7 million fund the liability that the Commonwealth would have under any of these new occupational diseases?

Mr. READINGER. I presume it does plan to take out some of the liability which would be imposed if this bill were not passed. In other words, the law now says,

> When compensation is awarded because of disability or death caused by silicosis, anthroco-silicosis or asbestosis, or any other occupational disease which developed to the point of disablement only after an exposure of five or more years.

Those last few words are being taken out by this bill, the words "or any other occupational disease which developed to the point of disablement only after an exposure of five or more years."

In other words, the Act of 1955 added some new occupational diseases. This seeks to limit liability in these coal dust cases to those in which there has been an exposure of five or more years if the burden is to be thrown on this fund.

Mr. JOHNSON. I would like to ask the gentleman a few more questions about it before you attempt to roll the bill. Maybe I will ask you to pass it over for say fifteen or twenty minutes until I get the real information.

Mr. Speaker. I would like to further interrogate the genleman.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I will agree to five minutes delay while the gentleman studies this memo which I have read.

Mr. JOHNSON. I would like to see the memo. Does the gentleman know, Mr. Speaker, how much it will cost industry by reason of this type of coverage?

Mr. READINGER. I do not think anybody can possibly know until they know how many cases are affected by the diseases we are talking about.

There would be no way to determine it, but the Department of Labor and Industry is concerned about having this burden thrown on it which it did not expect to have. It cannot know, even private industry cannot know, what amount of dollars would have to be paid to the people who became disabled through an occupational disease.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to yield to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Smith, who has a question to ask.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, the information we get on the bill just does not seem to "gee up" with what we have been told. We do not want to vote against or for a bill, until we come to some understanding.

By looking at the bill, not being a lawyer, it seem to put the basis of the responsibility of exposure at one day. You are taking a period of time out and not putting in any amount of exposure time in any of these silicosis cases, am I right on that? You take out the clause which says "or any other occupational disease which developed to the point of disablement only after an exposure of five or more years." Therefore you have no time period in this bill.

Mr. READINGER. I request we defer consideration of this bill for five minutes, Mr. Speaker, while we both study it.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, why not make it fifteen minutes and let us have an opportunity to examine it. Maybe we could work out something.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I want to object to 15 minutes, I think five is ample. It is getting quite late. I suggest that we move on to another bill.

The SPEAKER. If there are no objections, action upon this bill will be deferred for fifteen minutes until the purpose of the bill can be more accurately ascertained.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the final passage postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2115, entitled:

An Act relating to branches of banking institutions; directing the Joint State Government Commission to study and investigate the establishment, maintenance and operation of such branches and to report to the next regular session of the General Assembly its findings and recommendations, with drafts of legislation necessary to carry such recommendations into effect, and prohibiting the establishment of branches by banking institutions in certain cases for a limited period of time.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. A. PATRICK BRENNAN. Mr. Speaker, this bill is a compromise bill that has been worked out at a recent convention of the Pennsylvania Bankers Association, along with the State Secretary of Banking, Secretary Myers.

The bill merely sets up a period of time, until December 31, 1957, at which time there will be a moratorium as far as establishing branch banks across county lines is concerned. In addition to that it provides that the Joint State Government Commission will study the problem of state banking further, branch banking.

In the meantime, the applications that have been filed with the Banking Department, the only ones that will be given cinsideration under this bill will be those that have been filed and have already been heard by the Banking Department. Secretary of Banking Myers is in favor of the bill and as I said at the recent convention of the Pennsylvania Bankers Association, they also agreed to this compromise bill and voted in favor of the bill.

I am asking the Members on both sides of the House to do a service to the industry and support this type of legislation.

Mr. OLSEN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose this bill. It hinders progress and I hape the Members on both sides will vote it down.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I have before me a memorandum, dated May 10th, which I received from the Secretary of Banking. It is addressed to the Legislative Secretary, Henry Leader, and by him turned over to me, in relation to House Bill 2115.

I am not going to read at as it is rather lengthy, but the Secretary of Banking speaks about the large number of applications which have been made, or are intended to be made, for branch banking across county lines.

He points out that the bill which is now before us will not affect pending cases. He speaks about some in the Philadelphia, Bucks County and other areas in the state. Also, one in Monroe County.

He states in conclusion that the Department of Banking considers the passage of this bill, and the resulting study which should be made by the Joint State Government Commission, of branch banking of great importance to the Commonwealth and the Banking Department gives its unqualified support to the bill.

I understand that the vote at Atlantic City at the Convention of the Bankers on May 3rd was not unanimous, but that the vast majority of those participating were in favor of it. That was true of large city banking people and small city banking people.

There is no question that there are some bankers in the state of Pennsylvania who are not in accord with this moratorium.

In view of the decision of the Banking Department which should know what the situation it, and also the bankers of Pennsylvania who after meeting in convention decided this would be a good thing, I do think that we should be guided by their thoughts in the matter and at this time pass this bill.

Mr. WALSH. Mr. Speaker, I thoroughly agree with the Banking Department that there should be a study made by the Joint State Government Commission, but I do not feel these banks that want to expand should be penalized while this study is being made.

I ask that this bill be voted down and I ask for a slow roll call.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. READINGER.

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 2108, entitled:

An Act amending the "Public School Code of 1949" approved March 10, 1949 (P. L. 30) removing certain limitations on the taxing power of school districts of the fourth class.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MOSCRIP. Mr. Speaker, this is the bill we discussed the other day and nobody seemed to know what it did. As yet I have not had any clarification. There was an agreement, I believe, that we would try to find out the purpose of the bill and what it does.

I will yield to the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Bradford yields to the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, last week the gentleman from Bradford, Mr. Moscrip, asked me a question I was unable to answer at that time. Immediately following that discussion, the following day, I contacted the Department of Public Instruction and discussed with them House Bill 2108, which is the present bill on the calendar.

I would like to say I was in error in a statement I made on the floor here at that time regarding what this bill did.

This bill actually places the fourth class school districts in the identical category as the third class districts as far as limitation of taxing power under Section 672 is concerned. In addition, it changes the additional millage they may impose from 5 to 10 mills, which I believe was discussed very thoroughly.

I would like to say to the gentleman from Bradford, Mr. Moscrip, or to Mr. Tompkins, the gentleman from Cameron, I believe I may have answered him incorrectly —I am not sure which one of the gentlemen it was—but I would like to clarify the statement and tell them that this bill does precisely that and that alone.

Mr. MOSCRIP. I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Greene.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Greene permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCANN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MOSCRIP. Mr. Speaker, am I correct in this assumption, we have a basic limitation on the taxing power of fourth class districts of 25 mills?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, we have a basic limitation of 35 mills, do we not? Did we not go over the same point before?

Mr. MOSCRIP. If the information is the same as it was the other day, we went back to the basic ceiling of 25 mills.

Mr. McCANN. And then 10 additional mills, or 35 mills.

Mr. MOSCRIP. Mr. Speaker, as I follow this, under another section of the Code fourth class school districts may levy millage up to 25 mills. Under the Act as it is proposed to be amended for rentals and mandated school teachers' salaries they can now go theoretically to an unlimited number of mills, is that right?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I believe they can go to 10 additional mills.

Mr. MOSCRIP. Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman still under the impression that the taxing power under this bill of fourth class school districts is limited to 35 mills?

Mr. McCANN. No, sir, I did not say that on the statement I corrected. You are asking me as the law exists now. This bill removes those limitations and places it on the same basis as the third class districts.

Mr. MOSCRIP. My question, Mr. Speaker, was that presently we have a limitation of 25 mills. Under the law as it is proposed to be amended if this act passes, the fourth class district may then levy additional mills for rentals and mandated teachers' salaries in an unlimited amount. Is that right? Is that what this bill does?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, theoretically the gentleman is correct. They may impose an unlimited amount, depending upon the agreement they are a part of, in paying their tuition or rental amounts into the State Building Authority or teacher increases and salaries that are a part of that program.

Mr. MOSCRIP. Then, Mr. Speaker, over and above that, if the district was subsequently declared to be distressed to meet all the qualifications set up by the Department, an additional amount of 10 mills on top of that could be levied, is that right?

Mr. McCANN. They could levy an additional 10 mills, that is correct.

Mr. MOSCRIP. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

There is a question here that I think all members of fourth class school districts should seriously consider. I am not going to try to sway anyone one way or the other. Traditionally our ceiling has been 35 mills, unless we were distressed. The basic question is whether it is a healthy condition to put the fourth class districts in a position where theoretically, at least, they could go to 45 or 50 mills in their taxing power.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I discussed this bill somewhat the other day and I gathered from the statements of the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann, that the county commissioners had control over whether the equalization tax assessing board would have the power to raise the assessment in these school districts.

Therefore, if the county commissioners refuse to allow the assessments to be made, then the school districts would come to the Department and ask for additional money due to the fact that they have no power over whether that assessed valuation shall be raised.

Therefore. I think this is bad legislation and we should not pass it.

Mr. STECKEL. Mr. Speaker, this bill treats with fourth class districts, many of whom distinguished in the past from the larger districts because they did not contain the school population of the larger districts.

Recently, however, because of the law which permits jointures and union districts and also because of the adoption of the single salary schedule, fourth class districts have found themselves required to meet competition in the way of salary schedules and pay and also the school facilities of the third class and larger districts.

Many of these fourth class districts are hard put to supply enough funds to contribute their share of a school building program where there is a jointure consisting of third class and fourth class districts.

In the interest of allowing local funds to support the schools, in addition to those provided by the state, it appears to me this would be a good bill and would allow fourth class districts to come up and meet those of the third class districts because the reason for the distinction hardly seems to exist any more.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. MOSCRIP. I rise to a question of information, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. MOSCRIP. Am I correct in my belief that there was a bill defeated here this afternoon which would have put an additional tax on trailers up to three dollars? That was House Bill 1153 on page 4?

The SPEAKER. House Bill 1153 on page 4 fell by a vote of 85-84.

Mr. MOSCRIP. In considering this bill I would remind the Members of the House, Mr. Speaker, that they defeated earlier in the afternoon a bill which would have given the fourth class districts additional power to raise funds at the local level by raising the limitation from 15 to 20 mills of the assessed valuation and allowing an additional dollar a month on trailers.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, we discussed some of the merits of this bill at a previous session of the House last week. I would like to say that time and time again various Members of this House have stated there must be given to the school directors the right to raise their share in an effort to carry on their educational problems.

This afternoon House Bill 1153 did fall, and it was a step in the right direction, and now this second bill very likely falls in the same category.

I think each of us should consider carefully the question of granting to those people who are the elected officials the right to raise money and help to pay the costs they want to pay but they cannot because of the law here in our Commonwealth.

I would like to say that time and time again bill after bill has fallen because they fall under the "tax anything" law.

This particular piece of legislation, even though I was not well acquainted with it last week, I believe the Members of the House should consider very carefully and give to the school directors of this Commonwealth, particularly those of the fourth class districts, an opportunity to meet the needs of education, which they certainly must share as well as those of the third, second and first class school districts.

I do believe in that light this bill would have an opportunity to pass.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I call up on page 10 of today's Calendar, House Resolution No. 68.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 3, 1955.

One Harry (Jerry) Butler filed an appeal from the unanimous decision of the Luzerne County Court in the election contest involving the 2nd Legislative District of Luzerne County

As a result of the appeal there was brought to the attention of the members of the House Committee on Election and Apportionment the record in the proceedings which showed a flagrant abuse and disregard of the election laws in Luzerne County by the officials acting by or on behalf of the Luzerne County Board of Elections and the Luzerne County Registration Commission

The record indicates that this disregard of the election laws in Luzerne County has existed to such an extent that this is an open and notorious scandal

The record indicates that there were obvious erasures on the official election records in the custody of the election officials of Luzerne County therefore be it

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 176, REPORTED FROM COMMITTEE AND LAID ON THE TABLE

Mr. RUTH, from the Committee on Rules, to which was referred resolution offered by Messrs. Stiefel and Lane on May 1, 1956, reported the same without amendment as follows:

DIRECTING THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO STUDY AND INVESTIGATE ALL LAWS AND REGULATIONS PERTAINING TO DAY CAMPS, RESIDENT CAMPS AND OTHER OUTDOOR FACILITIES OPERATED AND CONDUCTED FOR RECREATION, GROUP LIVING, EDUCATION AND SOCIAL ADJUSTMENT

In the Senate, May 1, 1956.

Whereas, during the disastrous floods of 1955, the civil defense authorities of Pennsylvania as well as its National Guard could not come to the rescue of children at many summer camps because of the total lack of a systematic registration of the names and locations of such camps. Only the miraculous aid of the United States Navy helicopters averted at the last moment, horrendous catastrophies and a staggering loss of life, by saving hundreds of campers from amidst deadly swirling torrents; and

Whereas, the lack of a systemic and central registration of summer camps for children also hampers the effective enforcement of many salutary laws now in effect in this Commonwealth; and

Whereas, acollation of the various statutory provisions applicable to summer camping for children is long overdue and is imperative for the detection of numerous lacunae as well as inadequacies in coping with deficiences whenever and where ever they may exist in summer camps for children in Pennsylvania; and

Whereas, the promised "voluntary code" which is now being evolved by many agencies generally, and the Pennsylvania Camping Federation in particular, concerned with child welfare and the promotion thereof, as well as by responsible camp owners, may be unduly delayed in assuming final shape and even if adopted by many camps, church groups and charitable and civic organizations may be flayed by recalcitrants; now therefore be it

Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring), that the Joint State Government Commission is hereby directed to study and investigate all laws and regulations pertaining to day camps, resident camps and other outdoor facilities operated and conducted for recreation, group living, education and social adjustment; the operation, conduct, control, and management of such camps; and the feasibility of further regulating, licensing and registering the same; and be it further

Resolved, that the Joint State Government Commission report to the next regular session of the General Assembly its findings and recommendations together with drafts of legislation necessary to carry the recommendations into effect

Laid over for one day under the Rules.

An Act amending the act of June 19, 1931, (P. L. 589) entitled, as amended, "Barbers' License Law" authorizing the registration of barbers who practiced twenty or more years.

Which was committed to the Committee on Rules.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, a few weeks ago in the Senate I was privileged to address the Senate in reference to an investigation made at Broadmeadows Prison, Delaware County, by the Attorney General, Herbert Cohen. To this day, I would like to advise the Members of the Senate, I have had no reply or response at all to my speech which, to me, vindicates the Broadmeadows Prison and everything that I said on the floor of the Senate. In my opinion, the Attorney General could not have answered it or he would have.

Today, Mr. President, I again would like to take the time of this Senate to discuss another matter which is headed by the Attorney General's Department and which concerns my county.

Last week, I found that a Gestapo squad, members of the State Police, appointed by the Attorney General, again invaded my county. I would like to say, too, Mr. President, that in speaking of the State Police of the State of Pennsylvania, from the Colonel down to the lowest Private, I think it is the finest group of men that any State could ever organize and place in charge of law and order for the State of Pennsylvania and the policing and handling of our highways. I have the highest respect for these men; I think they are doing a wonderful job and I think the job they are doing in Pennsylvania excels the job of any other State that I might know of. Therefore, Mr. President, my talk today is not addressed to the State Police. My speech today will be based upon what I think and, as I stated a few weeks ago, it is based upon a political campaign started by the Attorney General and certainly with the approval of the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, our State Police, as we have been told here, have been undermanned. We have supplied additional men; we have supplied what we thought were fair wages. However, in my opinion, the wages do not amount to enough as yet. The thing that amazes me, though, is that the Attorney General can take time out to demand of this fine group of men that they form a squad, hide in the hotels of our State, at the expense of the taxpayers, and spend numerous days, weeks and months investigating Republican counties, of which Delaware County happens to be one. The fruits of their efforts to date, in my opinion, have been nil.

Last week the State Police broke up a little card game in one of our most exclusive clubs. They went into our colored district and they arrested our colored people who were having a little bottle of "Sneaky Pete" and perhaps a little gin, and who were having a little fun on a Friday and Saturday night. To top the whole thing off, they not only distrusted the police in the city of Chester, the District Attorney of Delaware County, the Sheriff of our county and our own State Police for whom we have the highest regard and respect, but they bypassed them with this Gestapo squad.

I say to you, Mr. President, that it seems to me as though this Administration would like very much to create the Hitler tactics, which were so despised by the whole world, of having one policeman watching another, one trooper watching another. They even stooped to a new low in bypassing the aldermen and the magistrates in the districts in which they made their arrests. I can say to you that this was resented most highly by the Magistrates Association which is comprised of both Republicans and Democrats in Delaware County. In order to give these men a fair trial, they found a disgruntled magistrate over in a district which was far away from the place where they made the arrests. The arrests were made in the city of Chester. They brought the magistrate in. He not only was a witness to what was going on, but he became the prosecutor, the judge, the jury and the whole works. They held the hearings in the places in which they found the violations. To me, that is a new low. They have distrust for everybody in the State of Pennsylvania. The only faith they have in anyone is in this great Attorney General Herbert Cohen, and his Gestapo squad. The State Police in the districts do not even know who is in the squad. I ask you gentlemen, how long are we going to condone, how long are we going to permit, how long are we going to let the laws be stretched to do some of the things that are being done by this Attorney General?

We, in Delaware County, feel that our county is one of the cleanest, one of the best run, with the finest police department, one of the finest sheriffs, and a district attorney who is well respected, is serving his second term and who was elected by the people with a big majority. Our judges are of the highest caliber. They are among the highest regarded men to be placed upon the Bench to hear the evils of our people and to hear the causes for which they are to be tried. They are fair and they are honest. We are at a loss in our county to know just what is going on. If it is not dirty politics, what would you call it? If it is not crucifixion because you are a Republican and not a Democrat, what it is I would like to know.

I will say to you that the Democrats and the Republicans alike do not like this business that is going on. Why would they knock off a little "Sneaky Pete" joint and pick out ten or twelve men whom they find playing cards and maybe selling a little number? I do not know whether they found a numbers slip or not. If I were a working man and one who only had so much to look forward to and I thought I would have a chance of winning something with a ten-cent number, I think I would take a chance on it. I know of a lot of big people who took a chance on Woody Glen yesterday and lost, and they did not bet ten cents on him either. I happened to be at the Garden State Race Track on Saturday when 33,000 people wagered $3,000,000 legally. I would say that out of those 33,000 people, 30,000 of them were Pennsylvanians. Yet, in our State, we cannot even have a little card game.

The men down in my county do not crochet or knit; they play cards once in awhile. They do not just go into our clubs to drink; they go into them to relax. I say to Senator Ruth that they do not play cards on Sunday. If they did, I would not think it fair either.

I would like to pass a little tip along to the Attorney General and his Gestapo squad, which is hidden in the hotels in Philadelphia and are spending their time checking in our county. I would like to give them a little tip. This Saturday night, in my home in Birmingham Township—I think they will be able to find it—there is going to be a little poker game. One of my good neighbors down there is a very prominent Democrat and one whom I love very much. He is ahead of me about $4.50 and I know another one who is ahead about $8.00. I am going to try to get it back Saturday evening. I would like to pass onto the Attorney General that this game is to take place at my home. Let him send his goon squad; send in this young trooper by the name of Cohen. Whether he is a relative or not, I do not know. If he does send him in, it will be all right. It is nothing out of the ordinary here for an officeholder to put his whole family on the payroll. That has been happening for a long while around here. I do not charge that against the Attorney General. However, tell this young man, Cohen, about this poker game that is going to be held at my house. We will not have a pot in the center of the table to cut in order to pay for the food and drinks which they are going to have. I will give that to them free.

Mr. President, I think we have stooped to a new low. I know that this talented friend of mine, Senator Dent, is certainly going to give me an answer when I get finished. I know it is coming from him. I respect him, I do not think Senator Dent or any other Member on that side would condone the action and methods that are being used in my county. I think Senator Dent would stand up on this floor and yell and scream just as loudly as I am.

When the Attorney General, so I am advised, has one Assistant Attorney General assigned and the taxpayers of this State are paying him to find out what is wrong in Delaware County, I think it is time we put a stop to it. I think it is time that we define the laws for the magistrates, too, so that they will not shift from one district to another to persecute people instead of sitting as judges in their own districts where they should be, where they have been elected, and holding hearings. I do not think the Members of this General Assembly ever intended the magistrates to have that power. If they do have that power, I think we should do something about it to change it so that they can only serve in their own districts unless they are invited elsewhere.

Mr. President, I am informed that action of this type was most unfair, unjust and uncalled for. I say, too, to this young trooper who is heading up the raids for our Attorney General, that he can trust our magistrates; he can trust them. I can give him the names of a few Democrats whom I trust very much. I would stand before them for my judgment if it had to be meted out, and I could give him the names of a lot of Republicans. I could tell him not to go out of my county and bring in some fellow who is disgruntled. Ladies and gentlemen, I could tell you why this gentleman is disgruntled. However, I shall refrain from telling you because it is a heartbreaking story. It is a heartbreaker to even think about it. I hate to think about why this man feels badly. One of his family has to serve a long term in jail due to his misbehavior in our county. I do not think that he wanted to persecute us from that angle. However, that is the type of man whom Herbert Cohen is looking for. He wants somebody who is good and mad at every Republican.

I would like to inform the gentleman, too, that even though he raided our clubs, he has not helped society at all. Even though he went into a few or our little "Sneaky Pete" drinking places and found poker being played and people drinking beer, and a little cheap wine because they cannot afford good whisky, he has not helped society at all in our county. They have done nothing that they cannot find right back there today or tomorrow. I say they will find it in Senator Dent's county, in my county and in every other Senator's county in the State of Pennsylvania. I do not think the men crochet and knit in those counties either.

Mr. President, I ask that the newspapers, which ran headlines in both newspapers, also have something to say about this talk. We do resent it; we hate it; we think it is unfair; we think it is unjust. We think that the Attorney General of Pennsylvania is wasting the taxpayer's money. We think it is creating a state where the State Police will be driven into something that the people in the State of Pennsylvania do not want, another Hitler's Gestapo. When he cannot trust his own men in his districts, then it is time to fire them if he has something on them. When the Attorney General cannot trust our officials, it is time that he comes down there and impeaches them if he has enough on them and if they do not enforce law and order as it should be enforced.

As I said the other week to the Attorney General, and I say again today, he should either act and take steps against the officials of Delaware County or cut out his dirty tactics that he is applying there.

I would also like to call to the attention of the Members of the Senate that we have a seven per cent better rating on crime in our county than in any county in the State of Pennsylvania. If it were not for my good neighbors on the other side of me, the City of Brotherly Love, we would have eighty-seven less inmates at Broadmeadows than what we have today. Our neighbors come over once in awhile and get in trouble and we put them in jail. However, when they are innocent, we turn them loose. When we prosecute them, we do not take them before a magistrate who is disgruntled. We do not call in someone who is going to persecute them. We do give them a fair chance.

Another thing amazes me, Mr. President, and I do not think this is hitting at all low. While the Attorney General is so busy knocking off the little card games, the little numbers games, the little "Sneakey Pete" drinking affairs, his Parole Board or Pardons Board, or whatever you want to call it, are so busy turning out the high top criminals, whom we do put in jail, that we cannot open the cells fast enough. We had the key numbers man, we had the king jailed and put away safely in Broadmeadows. Over the protest of Judge Bretherick and over the protest of the District Attorney, they set him on the streets as a free man. They said, "Here is a man who does not belong in jail." Here is a man who is head of the numbers racket, the kingpin, the fellow who walked off with eighty per cent of the profits, whom the Pardons Board turned out of jail and said that he should be free. He was from my county. Yet, the Attorney General is interested in this little fellow down there who held the card game. What is it all about?

I do not want to insinuate; I do not want to say something that is not right. I do not know how to talk about things that are not right. I only talk about what I know about. However, I say to you that it is creating a great suspicion in my mind. I am beginning to wonder how the big fellows can go free by the orders of the State of Pennsylvania and the little fellows have to be picked up, at a high cost with Gestapo methods. I am not insinuating and I do not want you to take it that way. I ask you, however, to tell me what is going on, when you let the big boys out and you pick the little ones up who have no connections.

I guarantee you that in the poker game I am going to have Saturday night, I will have no connections or protection. We in our county feel as though the privacy of our homes will be invaided by this man, the places where we live and which we respect. Our families who live there will no longer be able to do the things that we should be able to do in a free country if these methods continue. I ask the Attorney General to give me an answer on this one and not hide behind the newspapers and not answer me as he did on Broadmeadows.

Yes, you can say that these arrests might be legal; that it is against the law to play cards and that it is against the law to have a little bottle of "Sneaky Pete" which does not bear a license on it. It is against the law and I do not condone it. However, I do not think it is necessary for the Attorney General to go in with a goon squad. I think if he has that information, he should pass it on to our District Attorney and give him a chance to clean it up. We do not want him to do any favors for us. We do not ask for any help for any crime that occurs in our county. We ask for help from him to prosecute if it is a real crime.

I have heard here, too, all through this Session—and day after day I have had to sit and listen to it—and I have read in the newspapers about when this Administration is over, when we close up finally sine die, how you are going to campaign in Pennsylvania and tell the people what type of government we have and what the Republicans have done. I want to say this, and this will probably bring my good friend, Senator Seyler, to his feet, too. I want to say to Governor Leader, whom I respect and who I hoped would have made a fine Governor—I am not going to say it today because I do not want to take up the time of the Senate on it. That would be another speech. Nevertheless, I intend to say to Governor Leader that I intend to go all over the State of Pennsylvania, anywhere anyone will invite me and certainly in my own county where I will have the privilege, and tell the people why our hospitals have not been paid off. I intend to tell them why our schoolteacher payments have been delayed and I intend to tell them a lot of things that have been going on around Capitol Hill. I expect to talk a lot about the things George Leader said when he was campaigning and about what he did not do while he was here. I intend to tell them about all the drones that I heard him say—and this was on a day that I almost froze to death, in front of the Capitol here, while paying respect and listening to him—he was going to cut from the payroll and how every man on Capitol Hill who received a dollar of State money, how that man was going to account for every bit of his time on the job that he was going to do. Anything that is said by the Democrats will all be answered in the coming election. We will answer Governor Leader on anything that he wants to come up with.

I am also going to personally ask the Governor to account for his Attorney General. I am going to ask the Governor if he intends to turn this into a Gestapo State. I intend to find out those things, too. I intend to find out whether that is his thinking and whether it is his principle in government.

I hope this time that I will hear from the Attorney General. I hope that I will have the courtesy of letting him tell me in a letter just how bad my county is and give me an account of why he has to stoop to the low tactics that he has in employing people at the taxpayers' expense, in taking the State Police from the highways of Pennsylvania and having them go around and worry about a county that is the cleanest in the State of Pennsylvania.

I would like to have a report from the Attorney General on the conditions in the balance of the counties in the State of Pennsylvania. If we are to be crucified, then he should go in and crucify the rest of them and give us an equal report on what has happened. If he wants to declare them all holy, with no card games, no numbers, no gambling, no nothing going on, then I would like to know about it.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I do not know whether this is a petition or a remonstrance but, first of all, I am sure all of us enjoyed the remarks made by the gentleman from Delaware regardless of whether we agreed with him or not. It is a strange phenomenon now days to see a man stand up and speak about things which are too delicate to be mentioned very often in public and the kind of things that usually men talk about in a closed room.

He is talking about human behavior and the question of whether or not human behavior is a subject of the State Administration's activities. He is talking about whether the degree of a person's participation in certain illegal and illicit pastimes has anything to do with the right to do these things. He then took a forthright position on the question of whether or not the State Constabulary or the State Police have a right to supersede local police.

Mr. President, many men in this room I suppose have their private opinions of such matters, but it is not very often that any of us stand up on the floor and give a clear-cut enunciation of our personal position in this delicate matter. For that part of the gentleman's remarks, I have respect for the gentleman from Delaware County.

It is not easy for a man to stand up and say the things he said, knowing full well that he will be subjected to a great deal of criticism. Yet, I suppose, deep down in everyone's innermost feelings we find that most of us agree there are certain illegal situations which are not always wrong morally. I do not know whether his "Sneaky Pete" is the same as they use in my county called "white lightning," but I imagine it is the same concoction and to say they do not have it would be a deliberate lie.

Mr. President, I do not know whether the gentleman from Delaware is right, though, in using the name Gestapo when dealing with the Constabulary of the State. I am sure they were obeying what they believed to be their bound duty. I am not sure that I understand the procedure in Pennsylvania State Police work enough to agree with him that the Attorney General is at the masthead of this. I do not know, of my own knowledge, that the Attorney General has ordered these particular series of raids in Delaware County. I might say, too, that I know it is not a political campaign unless I, too, am selected for the ash can politically because, Mr. President and Members of the Senate, if you will read the papers you will find that the same raids are going on in Democratic counties and in Westmoreland County particularly.

Mr. President, I have often said on the Senate floor that on an average, and by and large, the people of my county are as good as the people in any county and are as bad as the people in any county. They are no worse and they are no better. Therefore, if you are having a little poker game Saturday night, Senator, and you are advising the Attorney General to that effect, if I felt competent enough to play with that great poker player from Delaware County, I would accept the invitation. I have never felt that any police have a right to invade a man's home. If they are doing that, then I join in the condemnation. However, if the places are public, they are subject to the laws of this Commonwealth and the degree to which that law is administered is one that lies directly in the hands of the Administration.

I do not know too much about Delaware County. I do know that it returns tremendous Republican majorities both in the primary and in the general elections and usually, if the count is held up long enough, you can almost guess who is going to win. That is not too bad a situation if it is your friend who wins.

Mr. President, the thing I am trying to get across is this; that the question at stake and before us is whether or not whoever is responsible for the action in Delaware and other counties is overstepping their bounds and their legal rights and their administrative duties. We, in the Senate, I do not believe can at any time take a public position of condoning any lawbreaking, no matter what the degree of the crime may be.

I do not know enough about the Pardons Board and its action to stand up and condemn it nor do I know enough about it to stand up here and condone what they do, I only know that throughout the years, we have had a Pardons Board and this board has met and has always had to deal with criminals. As I understand it, no one but criminals come up for pardons. Whether or not the Pardons Board has released an obnoxious person in Delaware County, remains for the Senator to say. I only know that they are guided by the laws of propriety and the laws of decency, backed up by the laws and the evidence in the case which is before them. I believe that on the basis of records, this board is probably no worse than any board we have ever had and in some degrees may be better than some. I am sure that the Lieutenant-Governor of this Commonwealth, who is the respected friend and President of this body and, as I understand it, is the Chairman of the Pardons Board, would never knowingly release any criminal whom he believed to be a continuing menace to society. I am sure that Miss Blatt, a lady who is held with a great deal of respect by members of both the Democratic and Republican parties and the citizenry of this State, would never knowingly vote to release a criminal who is a menace to society. I am very well acquainted with Jim Finnegan, who was a member of the board by virtue of holding the office of Secretary of the Commonwealth, and I am equally sure he would not knowingly release any person of dangerous habits. I do believe that Herbert Cohen, the Attorney General, has the same qualifications of character as those whom I have named. The new man is better known to most of you than he is to me but having been selected by the Governor to act in his Cabinet, and by virtue of that appointment to sit upon the Board of Pardons, I am also convinced, at least until proven to the contrary, that he would follow this concept of good judgement in good government and good judicial procedure.

Senator Watkins, so far as your problem in Delaware County is concerned, I do not know whether your memory goes back over the years far enough to remember the procedures in the past. Maybe under the sixteen years of Republican rule you were not visited by State Police. Maybe you had no occasion to learn that this was the rule of the day for sixteen years. The State Police have always raided numbers and slot machines in the places where they have these devices but it is peculiar if this is the first time it has happened to you in sixteen years, that it has been a commonplace thing in most of the Democratic counties for that period of time. This Administration may now be going to make it a State-wide proposition and include Republican counties for the first time. I can understand how you would resent that, but you must remember that when we were returned to power in Pennsylvania after sixteen years, we believed that the people meant us to be the administrators of the laws for all of the people and that includes all of the counties. Therefore, if my county is to be raided and is being raided, I see no reason for exempting Delaware although, from the conversation here on the floor, it was exempted for a long time.

As the Senator has admitted, Mr. President, if the State Police went down tomorrow, they would find the same things in Delaware County that I am to assume have been going on for the past sixteen years. I believe, too, that perhaps whoever was the Attorney General, if that is the man who is at fault, if you call it fault, or is to get the credit if you deem it a credit, then he apparently was looking only out of one eye and could not see directly in front of him and when they hit Delaware County they stopped, but somehow or other they had plenty of policemen for western Pennsylvania, which is the Democratic section of the State. Therefore, if the complaint is that they are raiding Delaware County for the first time in sixteen years, viewing it from your viewpoint, you have a legitimate complaint, but viewing it from where I stand, I am happy to see that all of the counties of the State are now getting the same treatment.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, the zeal of the gentleman from Delaware in defense of the great county of Delaware is well known and I certainly have no objection to it. He seems to get into areas lately and phrase his remarks, however, in a manner that, as he says, almost forces me to get to my feet, too.

One of the complaints the gentleman made was that the Attorney General failed to answer him on a previous occasion when he took the floor and spoke of Delaware County, and he infers that he will be disappointed if the Attorney General does not answer him and perhaps he will be disappointed if the Attorney General does not attend that card party which he has invited him to. I would suggest that he should not assume that all of the people in Pennsylvania read the highly interesting matter in our Legislative Journal as closely and attentively as we do here in the Senate. I have no doubt that the gentleman from Delaware reads the Journal closely and I do, partciularly when the gentleman from Delaware speaks because it is highly entertaining material. However, not everybody in the Commonwealth reads the Journal that closely and I suggest if he wants to get a personal answer from the Attorney General or wants to invite him to a social event at his home, he either address a personal letter to the Attorney General or at least mail him a marked copy of the Legislative Journal. In that way, I think he would have a much better chance of getting an answer.

Mr. President, the argument of the gentleman, while I admire his zeal and the manner in which he defends his native county, on the face of it seems to me to be a bit peculiar. He referred to the fact that these are Gestapo tactics and Hitler tactics and such similar epithets, and he seemed to base that, to a large degree, on the fact that a Republican county was being persecuted. That just is not so and Senator Dent has already mentioned the record in that respect.

I wish I had known that the gentleman from Delaware was going to bring this matter up today because I would have brought him a little clipping from a York newspaper of a couple weeks ago, where there was a very similar situation, a very similar type of raid, within the city of York, in which city, Mr. President, I assure you there is no finer government in the State of Pennsylvania and no finer and highly moral people. We are not second even to the great county of Delaware in that respect. We had such an incident occur in York, and I suggest to the Senator from Delaware that this is no evidence of any persecution. This is a duty of the State Police. When Senator Watkins ties the Attorney General in with this, he knows he is doing this without any evidence that the Attorney General instituted this raid. I presume that information was given, indicating there were some things going on which needed attention and the State Police acted on that information. This, to my mind, is not Gestapo or Hitler tactics. It is simply seeing to it that the law of the Commonwealth is enforced uniformly.

As far as bypassing some of the local enforcement officers, I think the gentleman knows, too, that sometimes in order to get impartial and good enforcement, it is necessary to have perhaps a more objective approach to the matter than local authorities sometimes are willing to give. That is not new and has been going on for a long time.

Mr. President, the defense of the gentleman seems to me to chiefly rest on the moral code which he describes as preailing in Delaware County, and it is a rather peculiar one. Apparently, from what he said, in Delaware it is entirely moral and legal—or at least it is not proper to consider these things illegal—to have sale of numbers, gambling and the selling of spirituous beverages without proper licensing. I do not believe that the gentleman can extend that moral or legal code much further than the county of Delaware. I think most of the State of Pennsylvania would hold that those things are illegal. I do not know whether the gentleman is against all law enforcement or whether he is only against law enforcement within the boundaries of Delaware, but it is an untenable argument. If the law is broken, it is the duty of the law enforcement officers to see to it that it is enforced if information is furnished to them.

They do not only crochet and knit in my county and, as a result, sometimes such conduct exceeds the bounds and law enforcement from outside agencies is necessary.

Mr. President, the gentleman mentioned the lower crime rate in the county of Delaware. I do not know what his source or authority on that is, but I am amazed that it is lower than the county of York. However, maybe he is right. Even if it is true, this is sometimes a function of the way the law is enforced by the local authorities in a county. Obviously, if the moral code he describes and the legal standards he describes are in force in Delaware County, the crime rate would be lower because they would be overlooking quite a few of the offenses which we in York County would feel we should proceed against legally, such as numbers, illegal selling of liquor and so forth.

I do not know just what the gentleman is asking of the law enforcement agency of the State. Is he saying that Delaware County should be immune from this type of law enforcement? Is he saying we are wrong in Pennsylvania to have such things as part of our penal code? I am not sure what his argument is, but I am sure that in laying this at the door of the Attorney General and insinuating that in some way Delaware County is being singled out for persecution, he is wrong. The facts do not support this theory.

As far as his last statement is concerned about going through the State of Pennsylvania and telling the people things about Governor Leader, I assure him that that is his privilege. As a matter of fact, I think if he persists in that, he can probably get an invitation to speak on the same platform as the Governor or some of our candidates. I know such invitations have been issued in the past, but we have not had anyone with the intestinal fortitude of Senator Watkins and perhaps if one of those invitations is issued to him, he will have more courage than some of the other campaign orators of his party in the past and we may be able to make a place for him either on a television program or on the platform to engage in such debate as he indicates he would be willing to engage in.

Mr. President, I like Delaware County. I have only an idling acquaintance with the county in passing through it and stopping overnight, but I think it seems like a fine county. They certainly have a very fine Senator, but to stand here and infer that for this reason there is nothing happening in the county of Delaware which is worthy of the attention of the law enforcement officers is a position which I am afraid we cannot allow the talented Senator from Delaware to maintain. Therefore, without rising in defense of any individual, I would simply point out to him that while I appreciate what he is doing, nevertheless, I cannot allow the reflections he has cast upon our law enforcement officials to stand.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, you will forgive me if I digress from Delaware County for a few minutes and take up the neighboring county of Philadelphia. The only reason I rise to do that today is because I know some of the Members of the Senate, especially the Members sitting on the other side of the aisle, may be venturing down to the City of Brotherly Love to a meeting of the State Committee, which they are going to have this Saturday. I know some of the gentlemen on the other side are quite interested in the State Committee from time to time and sometimes make an appearance and their voices are heard in Philadelphia. However, I want to warn them that they are going to a somewhat inappropriate place for their meeting because Philadelphia is a rather unhealthy place. As a matter of fact, the Senate Members sitting on the other side of the aisle, who happen to make up the majority of this body, have fully demonstrated that they do not consider Philadelphia to be a part of the Commonwealth and have even excluded us from House Bill No. 655. Therefore, it cannot be a very healthy city to be in because that happens to be the County Health Code. Of the sixty-seven counties, Philadelphia is the only one excluded from the Code.

On a more serious vein, Mr. President and Members of the Senate, Philadelphia is one of the most shortchanged cities in the Country today. A survey was made very recently by the President of these United States, who happens to be of the same political faith as the gentlemen sitting on the other side of the aisle, and Commerce Secretary Weeks. They came up with some figures and Philadelphia was put at the very bottom of the list for State assistance.

Not to bore you or be laborious about the figures, but on per capita payments received, Philadelphia receives four dollars and six cents per capita as compared to twenty-six dollars for New York City, thirty-four dollars for Los Angeles and fifty-six dollars for Detroit.

The Republican Majority in the Senate and the House until very recently have continued to place Philadelphia in the role of a second class city even though we are the only city in the State that comes under cities of first class. One-fifth of the people of this State, who pay one-fifth of the taxes collected in this State, which is more than all the other counties pay individually or even in groupings, receive not one cent under the County Health Code.

You have cut our appropriation for the Independence Mall from $1,000,000 to exactly one-half of that figure.

The highway allocation bill, which the Democratic House passed and sent over here, went through a number of frightful maneuvers and cuttings so that Philadelphia was very badly shortchanged on that as was every other city, borough and first class township. Therefore, about twenty-five per cent of the population of this State is receiving a lion's share of that fund. In the past twenty years, the motorists of the city of Philadelphia have paid $363,000,000 into the motor fund. They have received exactly, during that same period, $83,000,000. I believe you can come to your own conclusion as to what the ratio is.

Mr. President, the people of Philadelphia have been so badly cut down in every appropriation, and have been so badly hurt over a period of time, that I am not only suggesting to you that you do not hold your State meeting there, but I would like to further suggest that you do not bring your State-wide candidates in there because that is likely to be a very unhealthy place come November. I believe this story will be made part of the record and told to the people very effectively. I have fears for your State Committee but they are not as bad as the fears I have for your candidates come November.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I listened with great interest to Senator Dent and Senator Seyler, and I would like to say just this to Senator Dent in answer to his question that my talk was based upon the methods which the State Police are using in my county at this time. I would like to advise him that during all those sixteen years of Republicanism which he is talking about, we did have State Police come into our county on many, many occasions. We never felt as though they did not have the right to come into our county, but we have never, during those Republican Administrations, had the State Police come in with a hidden goon squad, sent out of Harrisburg. I can never recall that happening in those sixteen years. I can recall when men were sent from the Philadelphia Barracks and when our local State Police entered into various districts and made investigations which they thought were necessary. I say to you that we do welcome the State Police in our county and we welcome assistance from the Philadelphia Barracks and we welcome anything that will help law and order, but we want it done on a fair and decent basis. We do not ask the State Police to make any concessions to our county that they do not make to other counties, but we do ask for the same consideration. I think that after this Session, we may very possibly have sixteen more years of Republicanism.

I would like to say to Senator Seyler that due to the fact that he is so learned in the operations of the State government and in just what the Attorney General and State Police are doing, I desire to call to his attention now and ask him that if it was so important for the State Police to come into our county to make these trifling raids, then why could we not obtain the State Police when the very lives of our people were in danger, when steel balls were shot through the windows of our homes, when buckets of paint were thrown through the windows and our children woke up at night crying from fright and not knowing what had happened? We did request the State Police to come in and help and they refused to come in at that time. Senator Seyler, can you answer that question for me? Would you say to me that you think the little gambling the State Police have picked up in Delaware County is more important than protecting our public, whom we are having a terrible time trying to control at this time?

Mr. President, this request for protection was refused by the State Police. Can Senator Seyler give me an explanation, with his great knowledge, of why we could not obtain a little help on that basis?

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Senator Watkins.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Watkins, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WATKINS. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. STIEFEL. Senator Watkins, where will that game take place? Where will that poker game take place?

Mr. WATKINS. The friends whom I have invited will be there on Saturday. However, you do not happen to be on the list, if that is what you are looking for.

Mr. STIEFEL. I just want to know when it will take place and how long it is going to last.

Mr. WATKINS. I cannot tell you just how long it is going to last. We are barring professionals.

Mr. STIEFEL. What are your chances of winning during that game? Are you a good player?

Mr. WATKINS. I just cannot understand you, Senator Stiefel. Maybe my hearing is bad.

Mr. STIEFEL.I want to ascertain whether on the day following your game you will be in a good mood.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, what was the gentleman's question?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair would call to the attention of both Senators that in any interrogation the question should be directed to the Chair.

Senator Stiefel, the gentleman from Delaware did not understand you. Therefore, would you please repeat your question?

Mr. STIEFEL. I will repeat my question as follows. It happens that Senator Watkins is a member of the Conference Committee which will have to decide the fate of the appropriation for the Independence Hall Mall. I want to know whether, at the time when this will be considered, he will be in a good mood. Since he contemplates a poker game and it may last until the wee hours of the morning, he may not be in a mood to consider the appropriation. He may also be a loser and come in in a sour mood. I want to know that so I will be prepared when the Conference Committee Meeting is held.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Senator Watkins, the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Stiefel, wants to know what your mood will be when you meet on the Conference Committee to consider the Independence Hall Mall appropriation.

Mr. WATKINS. I could not answer that, Mr. President. I have so many different moods. Some people down home say I am like Doctor Jekyll and Mr. Hyde. I really would not know just what my mood will be when we meet on that. I would certainly have to study the bill if we were going to discuss it. At the present time, I do not know what it is all about.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I am going to pray that Senator Watkins will be the winner.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I would like to answer the question directed to me by Senator Jekyll and Hyde." As I understand it, the question had to do with the events which took place during a labor disturbance. If that is what the gentleman referred to, I think the record is very clear and he knows, if he read the newspapers, that the Governor, upon application being made, instructed the head of the State Police to see to it that surveillance was made of the situation and instructed them to use whatever resources of the State Police were necessary to see that order was preserved. I think the head of the State Police did exactly that.

As far as asking the State to intervene or take sides or act as strikebreakers or something of that sort, that, of course, is inappropriate and I am sure the Senator would agree. As far as keeping order is concerned, I believe the instructions of the Governor were explicit. They are a matter of public record and I am personally convinced that the State Police did just what the Governor had instructed them to do.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from York, Senator Seyler.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from York, Mr. Seyler, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SEYLER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I would like to know whether Senator Seyler thinks it is more important to run down these people who are smashing our homes and molesting our people while they sleep at night or to work on these raids. Which is the most important, in his opinion? Does he feel it is more important to protect these people or does he think it is more important to run down the low card games?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I would answer the gentleman by saying that functions of the State Police include both of the things he mentioned. They should preserve order in the Commonwealth, and they should also see that the laws of the Commonwealth are enforced.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, would you ask Senator Seyler why they have not made an arrest of these men, why they have not done something and given us a report on what they are doing?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I do not understand the gentleman's question.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I would like to know why they have not done something. I would like to know why they have not spent their time in running down these culprits and bringing them to justice. Would he know why? Would he happen to be in a position to know why they have not? Are they too busy with these raids?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I cannot speak for the State Police. That is a part of the Executive Branch; I am a part of the Legislative Branch. I would suggest to the gentleman that such a question directed to Colonel Henry would probably receive a prompt and courteous answer.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I would like to say that in my opinion, if the Senator from York is so interested in defending this great Attorney General that we have here, will the Senator persuade him to get the State Police to give us the help which we have requested to run down the people who are shooting these balls, buckets of paint and smashing windows and molesting our civilians whom we, at this time, have not been able to run down? Will Senator Seyler solicit their help for us? We will deeply appreciate it.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I have not been defending the Attorney General. I think his actions have needed no defense. However, I would say to the gentleman that if the law enforcement agencies in his county have broken down to the extent that they cannot control the situation, and he makes the proper approach to the law enforcement agencies of the State, he will receive prompt action. I advise him to address a personal letter to the head of the State Police and I believe he will get prompt action.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I would like to write finis to this particular argument today by stating that up in the beautiful county of Crawford there are absodutely no violations of the law of any kind whatsoever.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

RECALLING SENATE BILL No. 1018 FROM THE GOVERNOR

In the Senate, May 16, 1956.

Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring), That Senate Bill No. 1018, Printer's No. 581, entitled "An act amending the act of July 25, 1955 (P. L. 273), entitled 'An act authorizing counties, cities, boroughs, incorporated towns, townships, school districts, poor districts and county institution districts to file tax and municipal claims not filed within the time specified by law and to amend such claims when the property affected is not sufficiently described and to file suggestions of nonpayment and averments of default or to sue out writs of scire facias on certain tax or municipal claims and to revive judgments where the lien of such claims or the judgments thereon have been lost and providing for the reinstatement of the liens of such claims and judgments,' extending the time during which political subdivisions may act under the provisions thereof," be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 176, TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I call from the table at this Juncture Senate Concurrent Resolution, Serial No. 176, which was reported from committee today.

The Clerk read the resolution as follows:

DIRECTING THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO STUDY AND INVESTIGATE ALL LAWS AND REGULATIONS PERTAINING TO DAY CAMPS, RESIDENT CAMPS AND OTHER OUTDOOR FACILITIES OPERATED AND CONDUCTED FOR RECREATION, GROUP LIVING, EDUCATION AND SOCIAL ADJUSTMENT

In the Senate, May 1, 1956.

Whereas, during the disastrous floods of 1955, the civil defense authorities of Pennsylvania as well as its National Guard could not come to the rescue of children at many summer camps because of the total lack of a systematic registration of the names and locations of such camps. Only the miraculous aid of the United States Navy helicopters averted at the last moment, horrendous catastrophies and a staggering loss of life, by saving hundreds of campers from amidst deadly swirling torrents; and

Whereas, the lack of a systematic and central registration of summer camps for children also hampers the effective enforcement of many salutary laws now in effect in this Commonwealth; and

Whereas, a collation of the various statutory provisions applicable to summer camping for children is long overdue and is imperative for the detection of numerous lacunae as well as inadequacies in coping with deficiency whenever and wherever they may exist in summer camps for children in Pennsylvania; and

Whereas, the promised "voluntary code" which is now being evolved by many agencies generally, and the Pennsylvania Camping Federation in particular, concerned with child welfare and the promotion thereof, as well as by responsible camp owners, may be unduly delayed in assuming final shape and even if adopted by many camps, church groups and charitable and civic organizations may be flayed by recalcitrants; now therefore be it

Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring), That the Joint State Government Commission is hereby directed to study and investigate all laws and regulations pertaining to day camps, resident camps and other outdoor facilities operated and conducted for recreation, group living, education and social adjustment; the operation, conduct, control, and management of such camps; and the feasibility of further regulating, licensing and registering the same; and be it further

Resolved, that the Joint State Government Commission report to the next regular session of the General Assembly its findings and recommendations together with drafts of legislation necessary to carry the recommendations into effect.

RULE 39 SUSPENDED

A motion was made by Mr. STIEFEL and Mr. McGINNIS,

That rule 39, which requires resolutions reported from committee to lie over for one day, be dispensed with and the Senate proceed to the consideration of the foregoing resolution.

Which was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

SENATE RESOLUTIONS

TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON STATE GOVERNMENT FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF HOUSE BILL No. 1026

Mr. LANE offered the following resolution, which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, May 16, 1956.

Resolved, That House Bill No. 1026, entitled "An act authorizing and empowering any administrative department of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, when so designated by the Governor, to cooperate with the United States in the distribution and use of surplus foods and commodities," having been referred to the Committee on State Government on March 5, 1956 and the committee not having reported the same to the Senate for a period of over ten days, the committee is discharged from further consideration thereof.

MOTION TO ADOPT DISCHARGE RESOLUTION

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I move that the resolution just read by the Clerk be adopted.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I merely rise to object to this discharge resolution. From time immemorial, toward the last days of each Session of the Legislature, we have these discharge resolutions which over the past years have certainly been futile and have never been adopted. However, for some reason or other, it is thought that they should be presented.

Therefore, Mr. President, I ask my colleagues to vote "no" on this discharge resolution.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, the subject matter contained in House Bill No. 1026 actually has a far-reaching effect upon the population of Pennsylvania in regard to the actual distribution of surplus foods. As most of you know, the county institution districts generally make a contract with some department here in Harrisburg in regard to the distribution of these foods. The status has never been established definitely and none of us know where we are. This legislation should be adopted. It has been in the hopper for a long, long time and we are coming to the closing days of the Session.

Therefore, Mr. President, I have asked that this committee be discharged and I request a roll call.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

(During the calling of the roll, the following occurred):

Mr. LANE. May we be at ease a few moments, Mr. President?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senate will be at ease.

(The Senate was at ease.)

Mr. DENT. Mr. President I desire to change my vote from "aye" to "no."

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Westmoreland will be so recorded.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, in view of the fact that the Committee Chairman plans to report the bill out, I am changing my vote from "aye" to "no."

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Washington will be so recorded.

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, I desire to change my vote from "aye" to "no."

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Philadelphia will be so recorded.

Mr. DONOLOW. Mr. President, I desire to change my vote from "aye" to "no."

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Philadelphia will be so recorded.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I desire to change my vote from "aye" to "no."

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Allegheny will be so recorded.

The roll was called and was as follows:

TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON LABOR AND INDUSTRY FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF HOUSE BILL No. 1399

Mr. LANE offered the following resolution, which was twice read as follows:

Resolved, That House Bill No. 1399, entitled "An Act requiring employers to pay for medical examination fee where such examination is a condition of employment" having been referred to the Committee on Labor and Industry on December 6, 1955, and the committee not having reported the same to the Senate for a period of over ten days, the committee is discharged from further consideration thereof.

So the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I now yield to my colleague from Philadelphia, Senator Weiner.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WEINER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, these three resolutions which I am about to offer ask for the discharge of the Committee on Labor and Industry from further consideration of two bills and for the discharge of the Committee on Judiciary General from the consideration of one bill.

These bills are very fair and basic; the type of law which all of us like to think we now have in effect in the State but actually these acts are not in effect. One of the bills involves the mechanics' lien law which is a rather technical type name for a law which insures a workman, who has worked on any kind of construction work, that he will be paid ultimately when the job is completed. As we all well know, before any kind of construction work can begin, the general contractor must obtain from all his subcontractors a release of lien before any loans will be granted for the commencing of this work. Every subcontractor, therefore, in order to take these jobs and commence his work, must sign a release of lien. Subsequently, the job may be completed and if the general contractor happens to be a dishonest person, or for some other reason best known to the general contractor, and the subcontractors are not paid, there is no way for them to get paid other than to go through a long and drawn out suit, which may take two or three years after the job is completed and which also may be two or three years since the date they commenced the work. It, therefore, may be four or five years before the subcontractor is paid for the work he has done, and the person who ultimately accepts the job has the benefit of this labor by an individual and he has not received what is justly due him.

Mr. President, one of the other two bills deals with work for women in industry, which requires that after six days of continuous work they are entitled to the seventh day off. We like to think that we live in an enlightened society and that we have come a long way since the days of the sweat shop, but in our State at the present moment we do not have an act which requires women to have the seventh day for rest after six consecutive days of work.

I believe that if I pointed to the Bible, Mr. President, it would uphold the proposition that I am proposing here. I am sure the Committee Chairman has overlooked these two bills in his committee in the rush of work, and I am sure he would be very happy to bring these bills out now that I have brought them to his attention. He can certainly do so without any difficulty, and I would be very happy to withdraw this resolution if he considers doing so.

SENATE RESOLUTIONS

TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON LABOR AND INDUSTRY FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF HOUSE BILL No. 1234

Mr. WEINER offered the following resolution, which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, May 16, 1956.

Resolved, That House Bill No. 1234, entitled "Female Labor Law," having been referred to the Committee on Labor and Industry on August 3, 1955, and the committee not having reported the same to the Senate for a period of over ten days, the committee is discharged from further consideration thereof.

MOTION TO ADOPT DISCHARGE RESOLUTION

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I move that the resolution just read by the Clerk be adopted.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, in connection with the remarks just made by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Weiner, I believe it is incumbent upon me, as Chairman of the Committee, to say to the Members of the Senate that the bills to which he has referred have been considered by the committee unfavorably. Therefore, it would not be the prerogative of the chairman, even though I might wish to do it, to bring the bills to the floor.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The roll was called and was as follows:

YEAS—19

Barr,	Hays,	Miller,	Silvert,

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, at this time I would like to yield to my colleague from Philadelphia, Senator Donolow.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DONOLOW asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DONOLOW. Mr. President, the first discharge resolution which I am about to offer relates to House Concurrent Resolution No. 171. I am surprised that this House Concurrent Resolution was not brought out of committee due to the fact that in the House it had bipartisan sponsorship, by Mr. Readinger and Mr. Johnson. This resolution provides for a study by a Joint Committee, to be composed of three members appointed by the President pro tempore of the Senate, three members appointed by the Speaker of the House and three members to be appointed by the Governor, for the purpose of studying the effect of State laws on employer-employee relationships between the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the political subdivisions. This Joint Committee was to make a study and report back to the next General Assembly as to its findings.

I think this is a very important bit of study and bit of information that the next General Assembly could use.

Mr. President, the next discharge resolution is relative to House Bill No. 429, which passed the House by a vote of 156 to 27 and which is known as the anti-injunction bill. This bill does away with the ex parte proceedings in injunctions, and the courts of common pleas in the various counties now hear these labor disputes as any other matters which might come before them where both sides would present their case before the injunction would be issued.

House Bill No. 1768 is the public utility bill, which repeals the Act of June 30, 1947 and permits the employees to take measures against public utility companies where there are labor disputes.

House Bill No. 1996, Mr. President, permits, where there is a contract providing for arbitration, either side to go to the courts of common pleas to seek remedies and force the use of the arbitrators, as well as to enforce the arbitrators' decisions as in any other cases in equity.

I feel that all these bills are meritorious to the people who work and the little people of the State of Pennsylvania. These bills should have been brought out of committee and should have been brought to the floor for consideration.

SENATE RESOLUTIONS

TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON RULES FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION No. 171

Mr. DONOLOW. Mr. President, I now yield to my colleague from Allegheny, Senator Schmidt.

TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON LABOR AND INDUSTRY FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION HOUSE BILL No. 1057

Mr. SCHMIDT offered the following resolution, which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, May 16, 1956.

Resolved, That House Bill No. 1057, entitled "An Act to provide for the safety and to protect the health and morals of persons while employed; prescribing certain regulations and restrictions concerning places where persons are employed, and the equipment apparatus, materials, devices and machinery used therein; prescribing certain powers and duties of the Department of Labor and Industry relative to the enforcement of this act; and fixing penalties," having been referred to the Committee on Labor and Industry on August 30, 1955, and the committee not having reported the same to the Senate for a period of over ten days, the committee is discharged from further consideration thereof.

MOTION TO ADOPT DISCHARGE RESOLUTION

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, I move that the resolution just read by the Clerk be adopted.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, in the year 1937 this Legislature, realizing its responsibility toward the employees of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania when they were engaged in highly dangerous occupations, prescribed certain safety regulations. By later amendment, it was provided that the employees engaged in very dangerous occupations should be supplied with certain types of safety glasses, leggings, gloves and so on. The bill read, "shall be provided with." At that time, the employees were firmly convinced that "providing" meant that the employer should pay for the same. The employers have not done so and in order to clear up this misunderstanding, House Bill No. 1057 was introduced stating that not only shall they be provided, but also added "free of charge by employer."

Mr. President, we know that this is a responsibility of the employer to see to it that all types of safety devices are placed around machinery which might be dangerous to the employees. Just as important is the case where fine particles, for instance, might injure the eye or the type of product handled might cut or in any way injure the hand and the gloves and the glasses, which are necessary for protection, are just as much a part of the safety equipment as the actual safety equipment which you have around machinery, and those items should be provided by the employer.

That is the reason for this bill, Mr. President, and I ask each and every Member of this Senate, regardless of political affiliation, to consider it a responsibility of the employer toward the employee to furnish this equipment free of charge.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The roll was called and was as follows:

YEAS—19

TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON LABOR AND INDUSTRY FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF HOUSE BILL No. 1209

Mr. SCHMIDT offered the following resolution, which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, May 16, 1956.

Resolved, That House Bill No. 1209, Printer's No. 1017, entitled "An Act prohibiting discrimination in rate of pay because of sex; conferring powers and imposing duties on the Department of Labor and Industry; prescribing penalties, and making and appropriation," having been referred to the Committee on Labor and Industry on October 14, 1955, and the committee not having reported the same to the Senate for a period of over ten days, the committee is discharged from further consideration thereof.

MOTION TO ADOPT DISCHARGE RESOLUTION

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, I move that the resolution just read by the Clerk be adopted.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, in this enlightened day of labor relations between the employer and employee, both from a Federal as well as a State standpoint, we recognize the equality of women in industry. In other words, sex is not to be any barrier in so far as the payment of wages for like types of work performed in like municipalities.

In the bill in question, House Bill No. 1209, the meat of this bill is contained in Section 2 which reads as follows:

"No employer shall discriminate in any way in the payment of wages or salaries as between the sexes or pay any female in his employe at any location salary or wages less than the rates paid to male employees for the same work at the same location"

I believe this is a part of the advance outlook in the relationship between employer and employees and the treatment of employees regardless of sex.

Mr. President, I, therefore, ask the Members of this Senate to discharge the committee from further consideration of this bill.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The roll was called and was as follows:

YEAS—19

TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON LABOR AND INDUSTRY FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF HOUSE BILL No. 1802

Mr. SCHMIDT offered the following resolution, which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, May 16, 1956.

Resolved, That House Bill No. 1802, Printer's No. 1349, entitled "An Act relating to public works contracts; providing prevailing wages; imposing duties upon the Secretary of Labor and Industry; providing penalties; and repealing existing laws," having been referred to the Committee on Labor and Industry on February 6, 1956 and the committee not having reported the same to the Senate for a period of over ten days, the committee is discharged from further consideration thereof.

MOTION TO ADOPT DISCHARGE RESOLUTION

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, I move that the resolution just read by the Clerk be adopted.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, there is an old saying in politics as to whether or not you will want me after election as you did before election.

Both major political parties in Pennsylvania, in their attempt to woo votes, appealed to labor for their support. During the last gubernatorial campaign, representatives of organized labor appeared before the Platform Committee of both major parties and submitted to those committees their request that in the labor plank, each party declare itself in favor of the payment of the prevailing wage in the locality in which all public works were to be performed.

Mr. President, the Democratic Party in its platform set forth its pledge to bend all its efforts to see to it that prevailing wages would be incorporated in all contracts by municipal corporations dealing with labor.

I have been told by representatives of labor that when they appeared before a like committee of the Republican Party they, too, assured the labor group that the Republican Party would look with sympathy upon this request.

Mr. President, there was introduced in this Session

House Bill No. 1802, which is the bill in question. The bill passed the House and is now in the Committee on Labor and Industry in this Senate. This bill provides that when any municipal body enters into a contract for public works, there shall be incorporated in the contract a provision that there shall be paid to all labor, and various crafts, the minimum average pay prevalent in that locality. This is merely the carrying out of an expressed pledge, plus an implied pledge, by both parties to labor.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The roll was called and was as follows:

TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON JUDICIARY GENERAL FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF HOUSE BILL No. 726

Mr. SEYLER offered the following resolution, which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, May 16, 1956.

Resolved, That House Bill 726, entitled "An Act to define and prohibit unauthorized interception, divulgence or use of telephone and telegraph communications; providing criminal penalties and civil damages, including attorney's fees, for the violation thereof, and limiting the admissibility of evidence," having been referred to the Committee on Judiciary General on June 2, 1955, and the committee not having reported the same to the Senate for a period of over ten days, the committee is discharged from further consideration thereof.

MOTION TO ADOPT DISCHARGE RESOLUTION

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I move that the resolution just read by the Clerk be adopted.

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, House Bill No. 726 is a bill about which I have a great deal more than routine interest. I was the sponsor of an identical Senate Bill. Both of these bills, the one I presented and the one in question here, deal with the subject of wire tapping. I think most of the Senators are acquainted, and I will not go into detail, with the great abuses of this new technique that have been made and which constitute the invasion of the privacy of the individual, not only in our State but throughout the country. I think you also know of the difficulties they have had in New York City and other large cities with abuses of this.

Chief Justice Holmes once said that wire tapping is a dirty business and I think this is precisely true. I think possibly the only reason we have no prohibition against wire tapping in our fundamental law, in the Bill or Rights of our Constitution, is because, of course, at the time when that document was written, no such equipment existed. There was no telephone. However, it certainly constitutes an invasion of the individual's privacy comparable to those prohibited in the Bill of Rights. It enables people, who tap other people's telephone wires, to listen to communications of the most private nature, between members of the same family, privilgede communications such as those between an individual and his lawyer, his doctor, his priest or minister. It also is used ofttimes not only for law enforcement but for business advantage, for political advantage, by jealous wives or husbands to get cases against their spouses.

It is sometimes argued that wire tapping is necessary because it is so effective in convicting criminals. Of course, so is the rack, so is the thumbscrew, so is the third degree by using violence. All of these methods, however, as we all know, have been prohibited. They are not permitted by the law enforcement officers. I think there is no doubt that we can do without this new technique which is such a great invasion of individual privacy and such a denial of personal liberty.

Mr. President, this bill was brought from the House and presented to the Senate on June 2, 1955. Since that time, it has rested in the Committee on Judiciary General and has not moved. A resolution was adopted by this Senate, as sort of a substitute, which called upon the Joint State Government Commission to study this question and bring in recommendations. That resolution has not moved.

Therefore, Mr. President, I ask the Members of the Senate to vote to bring this bill to the floor so that we can end this practice which is justifiably called a dirty business.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The roll was called and was as follows:

YEAS—18

TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON ELECTIONS FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF HOUSE BILL No. 576

Mr. RUTH offered the following resolution, which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, May 16, 1956.

Resolved, That House Bill No. 576, entitled "The Permanent Registration Act for Boroughs, Towns and Townships," having been referred to the Committee on Elections, July 25, 1955, and the committee not having reported the same to the Senate for a period of over ten days, the committee is discharged from further consideration thereof.

MOTION TO ADOPT DISCHARGE RESOLUTION

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I move that the resolution just read by the Clerk be adopted.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, this bill would extend permanent registration in boroughs, towns and townships from two to four years. We know, in our rural areas, the inconvenience that is caused by a two-year registration. We feel it is only just to have that extended to four years.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The roll was called and was as follows:

TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON ELECTIONS FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF HOUSE BILL No. 1242

Mr. MULLIN offered the following resolution, which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, May 16, 1956.

Resolved, That House Bill No. 1242, entitled "An Act to amend subsection (b) of Section 1605 and Section 1843 of the act, approved the third day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1333), entitled "Pennsylvania Election Code," by removing prohibition against unincorporated associations making political contributions," having been referred to the Committee on Elections on March 14, 1956 and the committee not having reported the same to the Senate for a period of over ten days, the committee is discharged from further consideration thereof.

MOTION TO ADOPT DISCHARGE RESOLUTION

TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON CONSTITUTIONAL CHANGES AND FEDERAL RELATIONS FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF HOUSE BILL No. 1390

Mr. HAYS offered the following resolution, which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, May 16, 1956.

Resolved, That House Bill No. 1390, entitled "A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to section one, article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania excluding income taxes from requirement of uniformity; and limiting their rate and use of proceeds," having been referred to the Committee on Constitutional Changes and Federal Relations and the committee not having reported the same to the Senate for a period of over ten days, the committee is discharged from further consideration thereof.

MOTION TO ADOPT DISCHARGE RESOLUTION

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, I move that the resolution just read by the Clerk be adopted.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, this bill is the so-called graduated income tax amendment bill. We are assured, I think, that the people of the Commonwealth in the years to come are going to ask for many more services from the State Government, particularly in the fields of health, welfare and education. I think it is unfair for us to tie the hands of our successors by not opening up all the avenues of taxation, particularly that of ability to pay and not be held down by the dead hand of the past. I am sure we all know that our Constitution was written in 1873 and that we last voted on this question by popular vote, I believe, in 1938.

May I call to your attention, Mr. President, that since 1938, I would estimate that between 3,500,000 and 4,000,000 new voters have been added to the voting rolls of the State? Each year, as the Senator from Lackawanna can testify, about 250,000 potential voters are born. Therefore, it seems to me that we have an obligation in this year of 1956 to make as wide as possible the range of taxation upon which future General Assemblies may levy.

Mr. President, I ask for favorable consideration of this resolution and in that way remove this dead hand of the past from us.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The roll was called and was as follows:

(The Senate was at ease.)

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I wish to offer the following series of resolutions and would like to make an introductory remark or two on each one.

At this time, Mr. President, I would like to introduce a resolution discharging the standing committee from further consideration of House Bill No. 145. I think we have reached an enlightened enough stage in our civilized treatment of labor disputes that we no longer need to invoke the use of tear gas in labor disputes.

Mr. President, this bill which was passed by the House would eliminate the use of tear gas in labor disputes. There are a great many of us who have had some experience with the situation and with the trouble, the heartaches and the many miseries that are caused when a labor dispute gets out of order. However, when you have, with the sometimes normal disorders that occur when there is a serious labor dispute, the use of tear gas, you have reached a new low in the relationship between employers and employees.

I believe that this Senate has overlooked the opportunity to do justice to a situation that I am sure needs correction. I can promise that if there are sufficient votes next January when we reconvene to reconsider this legislation, I expect to make a fight at that time to enact this bill.

SENATE RESOLUTION

TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON JUDICIARY GENERAL FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF HOUSE BILL No. 145

Mr. DENT offered the following resolution, which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, May 16, 1956.

Resolved, That House Bill No. 145, entitled "An Act prohibiting the sale, transfer, purchase, ownership, possession and use of tear and noxious gas and tear gas guns; providing for certain exemptions; and providing penalties" having been referred to the Committee on Judiciary General on November 22, 1955, and the committee not having reported the same to the Senate for a period of over ten days, the committee is discharged from further consideration thereof.

MOTION TO ADOPT DISCHARGE RESOLUTION

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I move that the resolution just read by the Clerk be adopted.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The roll was called and was as follows:

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, the next resolution covers a subject that I believe, too, should have been passed by this Legislature without any degree of discussion whatsoever.

Mr. President, under the present law, the railroads pay their employees every two weeks. I believe some ninety per cent or better of all other industries in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania pay their employees every week. Some say, "Why does it have to be a matter of law?" This is simply because it is a matter of law at this time and I believe that this Senate arbitrarily took this legislation and defeated it in committee without giving consideration to the full import of what the bill means.

All it calls for is that the railroad workers be entitled to their pay after one week's work the same as most of the other employees of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. I see no reason whatsoever for this bill dying in committee.

SENATE RESOLUTION

TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON LAW AND ORDER FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF HOUSE BILL No. 783

Mr. Dent offered the following resolution, which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, May 16, 1956.

Resolved, That House Bill No. 783, entitled "An Act regulating the time of payment of wages and earnings to railroad employes," having been referred to the Committee on Law and Order on May 10, 1955, and the Committee not having reported the same to the Senate for a period of over ten days, the Committee is discharged from further consideration thereof.

MOTION TO ADOPT DISCHARGE RESOLUTION

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I move that the resolution just read by the Clerk be adopted.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, at this time, I would like to present another resolution. I would like to have the Members of the Senate pay some attention to these resolutions because they do represent very serious legislation.

Over the years, in many industries in this Commonwealth, there have been many labor disturbances. Fortunately, because of the situation that existed between the management and the employees of the railroads, there has been a minimum number of strikes and work stoppages. However, because of the great sense of responsibility of those who work on the railroads, they have been denied certain conditions of employment which have been gained in other industries that are not so restricted by the nature of the employment that they hold. The railroad employees have been forced, because of these circumstances, to come to the Legislature year after year and plead their case. For many years, their problems have not been taken care of. We felt, this year, that there would be some chance of some remedial legislation.

Mr. President, this resolution covers a very important and highly specific piece of legislation. It is House Bill No. 411. Years ago, this Legislature passed what was known as a full crew bill. That bill was declared to be unconstitutional. However, over the years, a practice has grown up and through negotiations in some instances, most of the railroads outside of the State of Pennsylvania have restored to what they call the minimum crew. This legislation would only call for the same consideration for railroad workers in this State as is given in other States.

House Bill No. 411 is not a full crew bill; it is a minimum safety crew bill. It calls for one engineer, one fireman and two brakemen on all yard switching locomotives. Those of you who have been around railroad yards probably are aware of the fact that eighty per cent or more of all railroad fatalities and injuries occur in the switching operations.

This measure is in effect in over eighteen States of this Union; all of the major States, New York, Ohio, indiana, Massachusetts and even including what sometimes has been called a backward State, Arkansas. Yet, we in Pennsylvania, through the great influence exerted in this General Assembly by the representatives of the railroad, have failed over a sixteen-year period to remedy the situation as it was contained in the original full crew bill and the findings of the Superem Court.

Mr. President, I assure you that the railroad workers of this State are deserving of more consideration.

SENATE RESOLUTION

TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON LAW AND ORDER FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF HOUSE BILL No. 411

Mr. DENT offered the following resolution, which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, May 16, 1956.

Resolved, That House Bill No. 411, entitled "An Act compelling common carriers by railroad to man locomotives, trains and other sef-propelled engines or machines with competent employes, providing for the minimum number and qualifications of men so employed, and providing penalties," having been referred to the Committee on Law and Order on May 10, 1955, and the Committee not having reported the same to the Senate for a period of over ten days, the Committee is discharged from further consideration thereof.

MOTION TO ADOPT DISCHARGE RESOLUTION

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I move that the resolution just read by the Clerk be adopted.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I second the motion

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

So the question was determined in the negative.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DENT offered the following resolution, which was twice read as follows:

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, this is another bill in the same category. When we were children, most of us remember the old paddy car or the little four wheel car that was used on the railroads, where two men pumped handles and caused the locomotion of that car. Because of the technical advancement, they have developed a car that is motor propelled. It is used mainly, of course, in the transportation of maintenance-way employees.

All this bill does is to put into the law in Pennsylvania the same requirements that are contained in the laws of twenty-six other States of this Union in that these cars must contain windshield wipers, headlights and some coverage overhead in order that the employees, going to and from their work and to and from the places where accidents have occurred and so forth, will have some protection from the elements. We could do no less in this Session of the Legislature than to give serious consideration to this kind of legislation.

Mr. President, I do not know how many of the Members of this Senate would like to get up on a good, cold, brisky morning, with the weather at about three or four degrees below zero, get into an open car traveling under motor propulsion, which is of much greater speed, of course, than a hand-propelled machine, and face the elements going to and from their work. I doubt if any Member of this Senate would survive one trip.

Therefore, Mr. President, I offer the following resolution.

SENATE RESOLUTION

TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON CORPORATIONS FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF HOUSE BILL No. 711

Mr. DENT offered the following resolution, which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, May 16, 1956.

Resolved, That House Bill No. 711, entitled "An Act requiring every railway car used for transportation of employes to have certain equipment, and providing penalties," having been referred to the Committee on Corporations on May 24, 1955, and the Committee not having reported the same to the Senate for a period of over ten days, the Committee is discharged from further consideration thereof.

MOTION TO ADOPT DISCHARGE RESOLUTION

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I move that the resolution just read by the Clerk be adopted.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The roll was called and was as follows:

YEAS—19

Barr,	Hays,	Miller,	Silvert,
Camiel,	Lane,	Mullin,	Stiefel,

Harney,	Pechan,	Wade,	Fleming,
Kessler,	Propert,	Wagner,	Presiding Officer

So the question was determined in the negative.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, this bill that I am going to ask for the discharge of probably could be better handled by someone better informed than I am on constitutional law. However, I do try to study the elements of law that are considerate of what might be termed right and wrong.

Mr. President, this resolution does nothing except put into the law of Pennsylvania considerations that have been handed down by the Supreme Court of the United States dealing with fines and penalties against the operators of engines and railroad trains in which, under old law in this State, in case of a wreck the engineer or fireman may be fined. The Federal court, after due consideration, has thrown out of the law these particular features, causing an imposition of fines and imprisonment upon the crews in case of accidents or wrecks on interstate travel. The decisions do not affect the crews operating in intrastate. We believe that these old antique laws which were written many, many years ago ought to be amended out of the act.

We have made particular effort for many years and I assure the Members of the Senate that although of late there has been no imposition of fines under these particular sections of the act of the Penal Code, they could be applied if someone so desired. In fact, back in the old days, these features of the Penal Code were used to make the crews the scapegoats in order that the railroads would not be liable for losses and damages to those injured and many properties that might have been damaged by any railroad wreck. With the advent of the great coverage of insurances and the many features of protective legislation now surrounding the life and liberty of persons, these laws are no longer needed.

I believe it was very shortsighted on the part of the Senate Majority not to bring this legislation to the floor for a vote. The House passed this legislation and it should have had a hearing on the floor of the Senate. I promise you that with all things being equal, if the Lord spares me and the people still want me and I am a Member of the Senate next term, I will make an effort to introduce this legislation again.

SENATE RESOLUTION

TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON LAW AND ORDER FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF HOUSE BILL No. 486

Mr. DENT offered the following resolution, which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, May 16, 1956.

Resolved, That House Bill No. 486, entitled "An Act to repeal Sections 662, 663, 664 and 730 of the Act of June 24, 1939 (P. L. 872), entitled 'The Penal Code,' relating to the imposition of penalties against railroad employes and other persons for certain activities during strikes and against transportation employes for injuries, or death, resulting from their actions," having been referred to the Committee on Law and Order on July 11, 1955, and the Committee not having reported the same to the Senate for a period of over ten days, the Committee is discharged from further consideration thereof.

MOTION TO ADOPT DISCHARGE RESOLUTION

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I move that the resolution just read by the Clerk be adopted.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The roll was called and was as follows:

So the question was determined in the negative.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I am not sure now whether this particular resolution deals with railroads or not. What it does is deal with the subject matter of the registration of lobbyists.

Mr. President and Members of this Senate, I do not know and cannot name offhand any State in the Union that does not require the regisration of lobbyists. There are a great many people in this Commonwealth who too often have the wrong conception of what a lobbyist is. Some think that this legislation is aimed at a particular type of person who is a little over-produced on weight, well dressed, smoking a big cigar and with a flask in each pocket trying to—I was going to say seduce, but looking the character of the Legislature over I do not think that would apply—induce the Legislature to do things which are not proper. The real secret behind lobby registration legislation is that it gives the legislators a guide as to who represents the particular interest that is involved in any special legislation.

Many times the legislators become confused because so many people come up to them and talk to them about one particular bill. So many people get in on the act that the legislator does not know whether he is talking to a duly selected representative of an industry or a business or whether he is talking to somebody who has ulterior motives.

Mr. President, we have for many years recognized the right of industry and business, or any of the activities of this State that are affected by legislation, to have representatives in the halls of the Legislature representing them in the matter of legislation. We have long ago learned that they save us many times from serious mistakes by giving us a great deal of information that we would not have otherwise which is of a specific nature dealing with any particular subject. It is foolish for any person in this Commonwealth to ever believe that every Member of this Legislature can become fully informed on the 3,000 to 4,000 pieces of legislation which we act upon in every Session of the Legislature. It is impossible for us to be as smart as the editorial writers. They write on all the subjects and they know exactly how we should vote. However, we have to be recorded and, therefore, we try to determine as we go along that which is best for the Commonwealth and its peoples.

The lobby registration act would put into our hands the knowledge which we need, not so much on the subject that is being lobbied for, but upon the person who is doing the lobbying. They in turn, then, would be subjected to some regulation as to their activities, as to the amount of money they spend. We get criticized many times because somebody says, in an off record remark, that they had legislators down to a big, sumptuous dinner or a party and that they provided all of the trimmings. Well, some of us are married and have grandchildren and we want a better definition of "trimmings." We do not like the insinuations that we are being wined and dined by everybody who comes to Harrisburg and that every lobbyist has an ulterior motive. Certainly, we eat with lobbyists. We eat with each other. We eat with the lobbyists who represent the schools; we eat with the lobbyists who represent the county commissioners; we eat with the lobbyists who represent the Seven Day Adventists; we eat with the lobbyists who represent the Christian League; we eat with anybody who will buy our meals and after sixteen months, we are looking for somebody to buy them.

Mr. President, I do not believe that the criticism aimed at the Legislature because of lobby activities is fair. I believe that if you will give us the opportunity to vote for legislation for the registration of lobbyists, we will be happy on this side to vote for it.

I, therefore, Mr. President, offer the following resolution and I would like for a moment to appeal to the Republican side and ask them if they would allow me to withdraw my motion for this resolution and give consideration right now to the lobby registration bill. When you figure exactly what it does and when you realize that this is a favor, if you please, to the legitimate lobbyists and does not in any way curtail the legitimate activities of anybody representing any activity in this Commonwealth, I believe that you are acting shortsightedly if you do not consider this particular resolution seriously.

SENATE RESOLUTION

TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON STATE GOVERNMENT FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF HOUSE BILL No. 501

Mr. DENT offered the following resolution, which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, May 16, 1956.

On the question,

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, I would like to be recorded as voting "no" on this bill. My vote is not to be construed to mean that I am not in favor of this appropriation. I certainly think that the Department of Welfare needs a good deal of money for its mental health program to give Pennsylvania the type of mental health program it deserves. However, I want to demonstrate by my "no" vote my lack of conviction that the present Secretary of Welfare will spend so large an amount of the taxpayers hard earned money either wisely or well.

THIRD READING CALENDAR

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1990, entitled:

An Act authorizing and directing the Governor on behalf of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to execute an interstate compact concerning mental health and for related purposes.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I have some information which I would like to give to the Senate regarding this piece of legislation at this time.

Yesterday afternoon, Mr. President, I was interrogated and my statement concerning the contents of this bill was questioned. The opposition to the bill seems to have been based upon a supposition that this State would not be reimbursed for any patients to mental institutions who were incarcerated in this State and were citizens of another State and vice versa. I stated, at the time, that it was my understanding this was not the case and that Pennsylvania was amply protected in the legislation as it was written. I asked that the bill go over in order, so that I might made amendments to it. When the matter was taken up with the Attorney General's Office, the Assistant Attorney General, Harrington Adams, who has been a member of the Compact Study Commission dealing with this subject told me that no amendments were needed; that my analysis of the bill was correct and that Pennsylvania would be reimbursed.

I have before me a letter from the State of New Jersey, the Department of Institutions and Agencies, written by Eugene T. Urbaniak, Deputy Attorney General. The letter is addressed to Harrington Adams and, with the permission of the Senate, I would like to give you the benefit of the contents of this letter:

> Mr. Crihfield, of the Council of State Governments, has asked me to communicate with you regarding the Uniform Mental Health Compact which I understand has passed one branch of your Legislature. He tells me that you are encountering the same difficulty in your jurisdiction that we are meeting here in New Jersey, to wit, misidentification of this bill with the Federal statute permitting the Alaskan territory to improve upon is own mental health facilities.
> I frankly cannot understand where this misunderstanding arose but apparently it is gaining widespread circulation. I attended a public hearing several days ago at which time a group of women were so adamant in their belief that we intended to deport New Jersey residents to Alaska that nothing I could say would dissuade them.
>
> Apparently, there is a desire on the part of some people to wish to believe this sensational distortion of the facts. If these people would stop to carefully analyze the two situations, they would immediately perceive that there is no similarity or connection.
> I have been trying to stress the fact that this bill is designed mainly to prevent the breaking up of families when a patient is in a mental hospital and has no legal settlement in that jurisdiction, although his family may be residing there.
> We are hopeful that the bill will pass in New Jersey, although I must confess that we are getting quite some difficulty.
> My point in writing you is to advise that there is absolutely no foundation to the rubbish and nonsense that is circulating about Alaska.

Mr. President, I have a further clarification which I believe to be very pertinent to this situation. These are the comments on the alleged possible misuse of the Interstate Compact on Mental Health. I believe it to be very important for all of us to listen carefully at this ime. I believe that most of use realize that we are embarked upon a program that will entail the spending of millions and millions of dollars in all of the States of the Union in an effort to alleviate the situation in the care of the mentally ill.

This last year, sometime toward the end of August when we were recessed, I had the occasion to take a short vacation for about six days and spent some time in Michigan and on up to Duluth, Wisconsin. In reading the papers of both cities, I discovered that both States have the legislative problem that we have had during this Legislature, in which both States received messages from their Governors calling for expanded expenditures in the care of the mentally ill and the mentally retarded. This bill before us has in it some of the elements of this great drive we are making to alleviate the situations we find in the care and cure of the mentally ill. Therefore, in order that there be no misunderstandings, I am willing to answer to the best of my ability any questions that any person on this floor has in relation to this particular act before us. If there are any questions on it, I have here a list of the allegations which are made and it is unnecessary to read them unless somebody in this room, on this Senate floor, has any misunderstandings or misapprehensions about the application of this compact.

I am seriously trying to impress you with the necessity of this legislation. I am hopeful that we will not hold party lines on a matter so serious, on a matter that I believe concerns all of the people in the Commonwealth and all of the children, whether they are children of Republican or Democratic families. I would ask you now at this time not to force me to read this long message on it. I will, however, be willing to answer questions, but I would appreciate very much if you would give a vote in favor of this legislation.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, in answer to Senator Dent's statement, I wish to state that I and, I believe, all of us are very much interested in this important legislation. However, while we are about it, I think we should, if possible, remove any uncertainties.

I think it is tremendously important that we do make certain that Pennsylvania pays the cost of hospitalization of any of our citizens who may be hospitalized in other States, and that sending States should pay their cost of hospitalization. I believe that we could make that certain by—if you will refer to page 8, in paragraph (b)—amending the bill and stating that the sending States shall pay the big cost which, naturally, will be the hospitalization cost and transportation. The transportation cost would be a small amount in most cases, but I would like to see in the bill, by spelling it out, that the sending States shall pay all hospital costs and costs of transportation.

Mr. DENT. Senator Mallery, I feel that when I asked for the amendments, I asked the proper authority when I asked the Attorney General, and it was turned over to that member of the staff who prepared this bill. As a member of the Compact, he informed me that no amendments were necessary to cover the very objection that Senator Mallery has. If Senator Mallery feels that a more specific clarification of Article VII, on page 8, is necessary, I will again ask for amendements to that section and have them ready later on today or tomorrow, if Senator Mallery will allow the bill to go over again.

Mr. MALLERY. It would be such a small task to do that.

Mr. DENT. I have no objection to that, Mr. President. I am just saying that I was told it was unnecessary but if you feel Pennsylvania will be better protected in this matter by putting in an amendment, I certainly will get one ready myself.

Mr. MALLERY. We will just be making the law certain.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Dent.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DENT. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. MAHANY. Senator Dent, how many States have now adopted this Compact?

Mr. DENT. Two.

Mr. MAHANY. How many States belong to this Council of States?

Mr. DENT. Forty-eight.

Mr. MAHANY. Therefore, only two States out of forty-eight have adopted it and you desire us to be the third one. Is that correct?

Mr. DENT. I remember you asking me to vote for the Commercial Code. We were the first State on that one.

Mr. MAHANY. I never asked you to vote for that.

Mr. DENT. We have a Commercial Code Bill on our Calendar today and everybody is trying to vote for it. This is the only State that ever will pass that.

Mr. MAHANY. Senator Dent, two wrongs do not make a right.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair would call to the attention of both Floor Leaders that they are experts in proper conduct and know that they cannot carry on a conversation.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, if you insist on the rules, I will go along with you, because the rules will prevail and I will have to converse with you and sometimes I would rather.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I now ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 1990, Printer's No. 1477, on third reading, go over in its order.

FURTHER CONGRATULATIONS OF THE SENATE EXTENDED TO THE HONORABLE HUGH J. McMENAMIN

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I wish that I might have the ability of my good friend, George Pennington, to frame what I have to say in the proper wordage. However, inasmuch as I do not have that ability, I will just try to express in my own simple way my appreciation for this cigar which I hold in my hand and which I obtained as a present from my good friend, Hughie McMenamin, who, in cooperation with his wife, had a baby boy a day or two ago. As yet, the baby has not received a name. They are considering whether to name it "John Dent McMenamin" or "Rowland B. McMenamin." We hope that the next birth will be twins, so that both John and I might share the glory of our names being used in that connection.

On behalf of my colleagues, I do wish to congratulate Senator and Mrs. McMenamin on this new production and hope that they may have many, many more.

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, I just want to thank very deeply my distinguished colleague, Senator Mahany, for his kind remarks, not only on behalf of myself but also on behalf of my wife. I known that she will be very pleased to know of them.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. MAHANY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, as all you gentlemen know, I come from Crawford County and we do not have a great many prize fights up in Crawford County. Whatever fighting is done up there is done outside the ring, usually. Therefore, I am not too much of an expert on prize fighting. However, I was interested during the first part of this Session to hear Senator Donolow, who seems to be an expert on it, criticize the activities of the former Boxing Commission and say that there was something wrong with boxing in Pennsylvania. Governor Leader then said he cleaned up boxing in Pennsylvania. We went along with the Governor in adopting a new boxing code and the Governor went to Detroit and other places to praise the new Boxing Code, as adopted in Pennsylvania, and told the people that they all should go along with Pennsylvania in following our lead in cleaning up the game of boxing in our State.

Mr. President, I notice in today's Evening Bulletin quite a long story on a fight that took place down in Philadelphia last Thursday night. The article is quite lengthy and I will read just a part of it. It is quite interesting to those of us who thought that boxing was cleaned up in Pennsylvania.

I would suggest to Senator Donolow that he investigate this story and find out whether or not it is true. I read from the Philadelphia Bulletin, of today's issue, a story written by Matt Ring, headed "K. O. Victim Says He Was Threatened Into Fighting at Cambria, Though Ill":

> Fred Terry, 19-year-old Germantown middleweight prospect, who was knocked out in the second round of a televised bout at the Cambria last Thursday, has disclosed that he was suffering from syphilis and was feeling ill before the bout.
> Terry said he was forced to go through with the match by State Athletic Commission officials under threats of life suspension.
>
> The boy appeared before Commissioner Alfred M. Klein yesterday, along with his manager, Anthony Graziano.
> After the hearing, Graziano said that Terry told Klein he was threatened by several commission representatives at the Cambria, pointing directly at secretary Jack Sanders as one of them.
> KLEIN BANS TERRY
> Graziano said that when Klein had completed the questioning of Terry he suspended the youngster. "When the boy left the room, the commissioner told me he (Terry) would never box again as long as he (Klein) is in office," the manager said. "I don't remember hearing the commissioner giving the reason for suspending the boy."
>
> The hearing was held in the privacy of Klein's office and no announcement was made by the commissioner about the suspension of Terry. On the telephone the commissioner told this reporter that the boxer had testified he went through with the bout last Thursday because he was afraid of being suspended, but did not specifically say that anyone threatened him with suspension.
> The commissioner also explained that the boxer was not asked whether anyone had threatened him.
> Klein said that secretary Saunders, deputy Sam Skversky and State Police Trooper Wilhere, on assignment to the boxing board, all assured him Terry was not threatened into going on with the fight. The commissioner added that he has full confidence in the truthfulness of his officials.
> HAD HOSPITAL TESTS
> Terry was brought to the hearing by Graziano shortly after he was released from St. Agnes Hospital yesterday. He was admitted to the hospital last Friday, the day after the bout, for a series of tests under the direction of Dr. Frank A. Mattei.
> Dr. Mattei said yesterday that the tests showed no new injuries or ailments, but did confirm that the boxer has "an active case of syphilis."
> "I'm surprised he was allowed to box with this condition," the doctor commented.
> Klein said he was aware of Terry's disease for some time but did not bar the boxer from last Thursday's match because he was advised that syphilis is not infectious and he knows of another boxer who was allowed to compete in that condition.
> Terry did not recall anything about his knockout defeat by Dick Kelly, of Spartansburg, S. C., after the first jab landed on him at the beginning of the bout.
> "The next thing I remember is when I was back in the dressing room and my manager arguing with Mr. Saunders," he told this reporter the day after the bout.

Now the story goes on and tells of the grief of the boxer's mother and so on. I will put the whole story into the record, but I do want to point out to Senator Donolow that if this sort of thing is true, certainly Governor Leader and the new Boxing Code has not cleaned up boxing in the State of Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, I request that the newspaper article, from which I quoted, be spread upon the record in its entirety.

The PRESIDENT. There being no objection, at the request of the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, this newspaper article will be printed in the Legislative Journal.

K. O. Victim Says He Was Threatened Into Fighting at Cambria, Though ill

By Matt Ring

Fred Terry, 19-year-old Germantown middleweight prospect, who was knocked out in the second round of a televised bout at the Cambria last Thursday, has disclosed that he was suffering from syphillis and was feeling ill before the bout.

Terry said he was forced to go through with the match by State Athletic Commission officials under threats of life suspension.

The boy appeared before Commissioner Alfred M. Klein yesterday, along with his manager, Anthony Graziano.

After the hearing, Graziano said that Terry told Klein he was threatened by several commission representatives at the Cambria, pointing directly at secretary Jack Saunders as one of them.

Klein Bans Terry

Graziano said that when Klein had completed the questioning of Terry he suspended the youngster. "When the boy left the room, the commissioner told me he (Terry) would never box again as long as he (Klein) is in office," the manager said. "I don't remember hearing the commissioner giving the reason for suspending the boy."

The hearing was held in the privacy of Klein's office and no announcement was made by the commissioner about the suspension of Terry. On the telephone the commissioner told this reporter that the boxer had testified he went through with the bout last Thursday because he was afraid of being suspended, but did not specifically say that anyone threatened him with suspension.

The commissioner also explained that the boxer was not asked whether anyone had theatened him.

Klein said that secretary Saunders, deputy Sam Skversky and State Police trooper Wilhere, on assignment to the boxing board, all assured him Terry was not threatened into going on with the fight. The commissioner added that he has full confidence in the truthfulness of his officials.

Had Hospital Tests

Terry was brought to the hearing by Graziano shortly after he was released from St. Agnes Hospital yesterday. He was admitted to the hospital last Friday, the day after the bout, for a series of tests under the direction of Dr. Frank A. Mattei.

Dr. Mattei said yesterday that the tests showed no new injuries or ailments, but did confirm that the boxer has "an active case of syphillis."

"I'm surprised he was allowed to box with this condition," the doctor commented.

Klein said he was aware of Terry's disease for some time but did not bar the boxer from last Thursday's match because he was advised that syphillis is not infectious and he knows of another boxer who was allowed to compete in that condition.

Terry did not recall anything about his knockout defeat by Dick Kelly, of Spartansburg, S. C., after the first jab landed on him at the beginning of the bout.

"The next thing I remember is when I was back in the dressing room and my manager arguing with Mr. Saunders," he told this reporter the day after the bout.

'Out Cold' in Second Round

Terry was floored at the bell ending the first round and again early in the second round. According to Pete Pantaleo, who refereed the bout, the boxer was "out cold" on the second knockdown and it took a little while to revive him after which he was helped back to the dressing room.

The boxer was engaged for the bout less than 12 hours before ringtime, having been asked through his manager to show up at the commission weigh-in at noon Thursday. The manager said he knew the boy was wanted as a substitute, but expected the commission medical examiner would make sure he had been cured of his disease before passing him.

On arriving at the commission office, Terry said he was told by Tommy Cross, matchmaker for promoter Al Copeland, that he would take the place of Jimmy Fisher, who was ruled out as too light for Kelly, being 15 pounds under the latter's weight.

Terry was then examined by Dr. Alfred Avella, Jr., and Dr. Wilbur H. Strickland, of the commission staff. He said Dr. Ayella asked him, "Are you over it?" and he answered, "I'm still going to a doctor."

Took Periodic Injections

The boxer said he was referring to his periodic visits to a city health clinic at 1408 W. Butler St., for injection for syphillis. The commission doctor passed him and then he signed a form attesting that he was concealing nothing about his health or physical condition that the commission should know.

When he went home after the weigh-in and told his mother about taking the match because he wanted the money (his purse was $140), Terry said she urged him not to go through with it because of his condition and the fact that he had done hardly any training for several months.

He said he refused to heed her pleas. Mrs. Mary Terry said that when her son insisted that day on going through with the bout she tried to telephone Anthony Graziano but was unable to reach him, so she called his brother, Carmen Graziano, former manager of the boy, and asked him to have the commission call off the bout.

Carmen Graziano said he had informed commissioner Klein about Terry some weeks ago, as a result of which the boxer was placed on the "ill and unavailable" list making him ineligible to box until he was cleared.

After receiving the call from the boy's mother, Carmen said he relayed the plea to Klein by telephone. He said the commissioner expressed appreciation for the call and said he would "take action."

Pains Before Bout

Though his mother continued pleading with him to stay home, Terry said he went to the Cambria early in the evening. While the preliminary bouts were going on, Anthony Graziano looked in on Terry in his dressing room. He said the boxer told him about pains in the solar plexus and being dizzy.

The thought came to him, the manager said, that he should report this at once to commission officials, as he remembered a similar situation a year ago which exploded into a national scandal —the Harold Johnson "doped orange episode" that blossomed into a 90-day gubernatorial ban on boxing in Pennsylvania and a full dress hearing that lasted for weeks.

A number of veteran boxing men were penalized drastically after that hearing mainly on a charge of failing to report to the commission that Johnson had complained of a headache shortly before a bout at the Arena with Julio Mederos, Johnson had been examined by a commission doctor and found in satisfactory condition only a few minutes before going into the ring that night.

Re-examined at Club

Anthony Graziano said he notified Skversky that Terry was ill. The boxer then was taken into a room reserved for commission officials and re-examined by Dr. Ayella and Dr. Strickland. They passed him again, but Terry said he was told to sign a statement that he was feeling all right. The boxer said it was a hand written statement and he signed it because he was threatened with suspension for life unless he went through with the bout. The manager also signed the statement "because I felt that I was under pressure," he said.

When he returned home, the boxer said, he told his mother about his pains, including a new one in the neck. Worried about her son, she tried to reach the Graziano brothers by telephone.. She was unable to find them, so she said she called another former manager of her son, Anthony Ferrante.

Ferrante said Mrs. Terry's call aroused him from his sleep. After talking with her, he said he was so angry that he called up Klein at his home—after 1 A. M.—and "told him off" for letting the boy fight.

While he signed two papers concerning his physical condition, Terry did not sign a contract for the bout with Kelly. Although a bout without a formal contract was formerly regarded as irregular procedure, Klein said that in cases of late substitutions, he permits matches to be held without signed agreements.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DONOLOW asked and obtained unanimous consent address the Senate.

Mr. DONOLOW. Mr. President, I do not very often gree with the Majority Leader, although I have deep spect for his sincerity and ability. However, tonight on is Senate Floor I must agree with him.

Mr. President, I was the first one to take the floor here the beginning of the Session and attack the Republican minated Athletic Commission at that time. I want to y here tonight if that article in the Philadelphia Bulle- is true, if the Commission's representative in Phila- lphia permitted that to happen—I know him and I ow the Governor appointed him— and if the Governor akes an investigation and finds that to be so, the only ty that the Governor has is to fire that Commissioner. at man had no right to be in the ring. There is no ex- se for a man who is suffering from syphilis to be in e fight business. If that is true, the Governor should e the whole force in Philadelphia immediately.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I listened to that part of the story that Senator Mahany read and as I followed it the best I could at this late hour, in reading from a newspaper, I could not find anything in the story except that some boxer had been forced to perform, according to one part of the story. Later, the boxer denied that he was forced to perform. I do not know what examinations they give in boxing, but I am just wondering whether it is possible that the examinations they give would not divulge the fact that the boxer had a veneral disease. I am wondering, too, how much that would affect his fighting abilities.

I do not know just how far this story goes. I am certainly sure that if Mr. Klein, whom I do not know, or any other member of the Boxing Commission felt that a boxer was going into the ring in a condition that would jeopardize his physical well-being, knowing the Governor's position and knowing the base upon which they were put on that board, that commissioner, if the first part of the story is true, did not jeopardize the boxer as much as he jeopardized his position on that board. I am not sure that the story is factual because long ago I decided that you have to read tomorrow's newspaper to make sure that what they wrote yesterday is what they meant. Today, that newspaper says one thing and tomorrow another writer may write it another way.

I will guarantee this Senate that the Governor will know the story and give us the facts. Before we adjourn sine die, I will be glad to read into the record what the Governor found out about the situation.

ANNOUNCEMENT CONCERNING SENATE ACTIVITIES ON THURSDAY, MAY 17, 1956

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, tomorrow—I particularly would like the Majority and Minority Leaders to listen for just a moment—we are planning to have a little bit of a celebration here in the Senate, at which time we will honor the leaders of the Senate, both Democratic and Republican. If at all possible, we would like to start at 4:00 o'clock, P. M., Daylight Saving Time. I certainly hope that Senator Mahany, with the cooperation of Senator Dent, will start the Session tomorrow in time for us to go into that part of the business at about 4:00 o'clock. We will have a brief ceremony here honoring our leaders at 4:00 o'clock.

At 4:30 o'clock, we will repair down to the committee rooms, on E Floor, where we will have a buffet and a reception for the Members of the Senate, the leaders and for the employees of the Senate, all of whom are invited. We certainly want any of the people who are here, the legislative engineers who have helped us, to come down and wish us well. We hope that the Newspaper Correspondents will join us down there. We guarantee you we will have an hour of good fellowship.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I would suggest to Senator Fleming that if we repair to the committee rooms, the committe rooms will probably have to be repaired the next day.

RECESS

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for twenty minutes for the purpose of holding a Democratic Caucus and a Republican Caucus.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

HOUSE BILL No. 583 CALLED UP

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I call up from page 3 of today's Third Reading Calendar, House Bill No. 583, Printer's No. 1793, which went over in its order temporarily earlier in today's session.

BILL ON THIRD READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 583, entitled:

An Act amending the act of March 10 1949 (P. L. 30) entitled "Public School Code of 1949" providing for the payment of miimum salaries and increments of county and district superintendents assistant county and district superintendents principals supervising principals teachers and other employes

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, by way of explanation, I would like to say that the remarks I make at this time, which I hope will be brief and I will try to make them to the point, will also cover the action on the amendments that I intend to introduce to House Bill No. 584. It will not be necessary to speak on the amendments to House Bill No. 584, because I am only offering those amendments which cover the agreements that have been reached between the Republican Senators and the Democratic Senators, in line with some conferences that have been held with representatives of the schoolteachers in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

All of us realize that we are dealing with a very serious problem. It is one that has been a bone of contention over the years. At this time, I would like to pay my respects to those who have worked toward this solution. I believe it opens up a new vista of relationship between those in the educational field and those of us who are in the legislative field of endeavor. We have been able to achieve, through mutual agreement between the Republican Membership in this Senate, the Democratic Membership in the Senate, and the representatives not only of the schoolteachers but of the school governing bodies, an agreement which gives to the educational field a longer range program than we had hoped to achieve in the early days of this Session.

All of us know and are cognizant of the fact that this has been a strenuous Session on the Membership and on the people of Pennsylvania. During these many hectic days that we have been together, there have been many moments of disagreement. Many times we have felt that we could not reach the kind of a solution that is only possible when there is an earnest desire to reach a solution. In this particular field, I am happy and proud to say tonight that I have enjoyed the full confidence of the Membership on the other side, as well as the utmos consideration from my own group on this side.

Before I present the amendments, I think it is only fai to say that the difference these amendments make in th original bill which came from the House is this. Th House passed a bill in which they gave a $100 bonu out of State funds for the year 1955-1956, a $200 in crement on the permanent salary schedule for the yea 1956-1957 and a $200 permanent increment for the yea 1957-1958 and nothing for the year 1958-1959.

The Senate Membership, in total agreement, and th schoolteacher representatives felt that it would be a bette program if we would take the $200 double increment fo the biennium of 1957-1959 and divide it into two equa increments of $100 each, thereby continuing the progres of increments on the permanent salary schedule, as wel as trying to solve the problem that has been hauntin Pennsylvania for many years; that of attracting teacher into the profession in Pennsylvania and of keeping th teachers that we have in the profession. We are raisin in these bills the minimum standards in this State i order that we can compete, in a very competitive field with those States around us that do not provide a sizable amount of money for teacher training and who have been able over the years, because they have saved i their budgets by not providing a sizable amount to educate teachers, to pay larger starting salaries and have therefore, been pilfering from Pennsylvania's great graduating classes the teachers that we train.

We are attempting in this legislation, in a move designed to keep our teachers in the State whom we helped to train, to raise the minimum by having a minimum starting salary in the next teaching year of $3,000 and on graduations of $200 each in succeeding years, to reach an eventual $3,600 starting salary. We are doing the same thing with our maximums. The idea of raising the minimums will attract to and keep in our State those teachers that we train, and the idea of raising the maximums is to keep in the teaching profession of this State the teachers that we have trained and who are now teaching our children.

All of us have recognized for a long time—and the votes over the years have proven—that when it comes to the educational problem in this Commonwealth, I believe the records will show that there has been less partisanship than on any other program that has ever faced us. I am hoping that for the good of the educational system, the elevation of our sights will redound to the benefit of the future generations of this Commonwealth. It is not going to be done cheaply. It is not going to be done without making sacrifices. It is going to be done at the cost of a great many millions of dollars. It is going to mean that the people in this State are going to have to reach down and pay for the services which they have asked for. We in the Legislature have never demanded anything other than that which the people have directed us to do, and that goes for both political parties.

Mr. President, I am happy at this time to offer these amendments and to read into the record a letter. This letter comes from the Pennsylvania State Education Association. It is addressed to Senator Dent and Senator Mahany. With Senator Mahany's permission, I will read it into the record.

You have asked that we give you a point of view on the amendments which are being presented for inclusion in H.B. 583, Printer's Number 1793.

Insofar as these amendments relate to teachers' salaries and the salary schedule, it is our understanding that the only major change has to do with the added increment of $200, which in H. B. 583, Printer's Number 1754, was payable during the school year 1957-58, and which under the proposed amendments will be paid in two installments of $100 each, one of which will become a basic part of the salary schedule for 1957-58 and the second a basic part of the salary schedule for 1958-59.

After consultation with our members who are in Harrisburg this week, we can report to you approval of this modification to the salary provisions of H. B. 583. In our opinion this is a desirable and most acceptable program.

May we take this opportunity to express our sincere appreciation to all members of the General Assembly for the deep concern evidenced by them for the educational welfare of the children of the Commonwealth and the teachers who serve them, and for the successful culmination of these efforts in the program which is now under consideration.

The letter is signed by Lucy A. Valero, President, and Kermit M. Stover, Chairman of the Legislative Committee.

This is the first time in the history of Pennsylvania hat I can remember that we have been able to cross the langerous shoals of political bickering in a frail canoe nd to have reached calm waters.

I present to the Senate at this time, Mr. President, the mendments to House Bill No. 583.

The Clerk read the amnedments as follows:

Amend Sec. 3 (Sec. 1142), page 19, by inserting between lines 7 and 8:

"(21) The maximum mandated salaries provided in nis section shall be applicable to all professional and emporary professional employes within their respective lass"; Amend Sec. 4, page 20, lines 12 and 13, by striking ut "two hundred dollars ($200)" and inserting in lieu nereof: "one hundred dollars ($100) for the school year 958-1959, professional employes of all school districts and ocational school districts and temporary professional emloyes who have satsifactory ratings shall receive an incease in annual compensation in excess of that paid for ne school year 1956-1957 and 1957-1958, which shall inlude any service increments to which the employes are ntitled under the provisions of the Public School Code f 1949, its amendments and supplements for the school ear 1956-1959 and an additional payment of one hundred ollars ($100)."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, it was the intention of ne Republican Caucus to pass both House Bill No. 583 nd House Bill No. 584 as these bills left the House and s the House voted on them. However, since we have had iem, a technical amendment was offered to each of the ills which was recommended by Doctor Swan, head of ne Department of Public Instruction.

Also, since that time, amendments have been studied y both Senator Dent and myself and others. These amendments have been agreed to. They not only have been agreed to, but were recommended by representatives of the schoolteachers of Pennsylvania, through the Pennsylvania State Education Association. Because we feel these amendments will improve the bill, we on the Republican side are willing to vote for them.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading, as amended?

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 347, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 15, 1874 (P. L. 186 No. 120) entitled "An act declaring what offices are incompatible" making elective county and city offices and members of the Legislature incompatible.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, the intent of House Bill 347 is to make county and city offices incompatible with membership in either branch of the Legislature.

Yesterday this bill was amended and the words "nominated or elected after the effective date of this amending act" were added.

This morning it is the opionion of a number of the Members of the House that the words "nominated or" should be left out of this particular amendment. I would suggest that this bill be passed this morning by the House and then it be called to the attention of the Senate committee that the words "nominated or" should be stricken from the bill, because as it stands now there is a possibility the bill might be construed to mean that if a man were nominated he could not hold any elective county or city office. I think the intent of the bill was to limit it to persons elected to either branch of the Legislature and to provide that they should not be permitted to hold county or city office.

Personally, I think this is excellent legislation because the sessions of the Legislature in the past years have been growing longer and a great deal of the time of the Members is required to perform their duties here in either the House or the Senate. By reason thereof the duties back home, if a man is holding an elective county or city office, must necessarily suffer. It stands to reason that it is very difficult for any one person now to fulfill the duties of either Senator or Member of the House of Representatives and that of sheriff, or county commissioner, or mayor of a city, or any other such office back home.

I think this is a good bill and it should be passed today with the understanding that the Senate committee will amend the same so it will apply only to elective personnel after January, 1957. Any person who is now nominated or who will be elected in this fall election will not come under the terms of this bill.

Mr. EILBERG. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Lopresti.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Lopresti, consent to be interrogated?

Mr. LOPRESTI. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. EILBERG. Mr. Speaker, I should like to know whether the word "elective" on line 5 of page 2 could possibly be construed to include elected committeemen of either party elected in the primary elections every two years.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, elected committeemen are not county or city officers, they are party officers. Committee people are party officers elected by ballot through the county commissioners' office.

Mr. EILBERG. Mr. Speaker, I am thinking about the fact that bills commonly do not have punctuation in them, and I am concerned that if the printer, if and when this bill passes, does not place a comma after the word "elective," it might in that case possibly include committeemen of the respective parties.

Mr. LOPRESTI. I do not know how I could answer that. The punctuation is left up to experts, and I am sure that anybody who punctuates this bill will know it is intended to cover county and city offices and will so punctuate it.

Mr. EILBERG. Mr. Speaker, I should like to be certain that the intent of this House is not to include party committeemen. Is that correct?

Mr. LOPRESTI. As I have pointed out before, party committeemen are not county or city officers, they are party officers.

Mr. EILBERG. Thank you, sir.

Mr. LOPRESTI. This bill does not cover borough or township officers, people who have the smaller offices and meet maybe once or twice a month. This does not cover those, just county and city officers.

Mr. MOODY. Mr. Speaker, I should like to interrogate the gentleman from Cambria.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Lopresti, consent to be interrogated?

Mr. LOPRESTI. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MOODY. Mr. Speaker, in reading this bill it is entirely possible there will be some person, some individual, holding an elective state office, say in the State Legislature, and maybe elected mayor in the city of Harrisburg, between the interim of his election in November and the taking of office in January should not that House Member be entitled to serve until such time as he is sworn into the office of mayor?

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, this bill does not become effective until January 1, 1957, and applies only to those persons elected after that date.

Mr. MOODY. I appreciate that, Mr. Speaker, but it is entirely possible in the future after the effective date of this act that some individual may be a Member of this House in November, when he is elected but does not take the office of mayor, or some other disqualifying office, until January. The point I am driving at is, between November and the time of the taking of office, the swearing in of the individual, should he not be permitted to serve until such time as he is sworn in to the incompatible office?

Mr. LOPRESTI. He would not be holding both offices. I think we had a situation in the House this year where a man was elected to the city council of Reading. Under the present law it was an imcompatible office and he is not a Member of this House.

Mr. MOODY. In other words, Mr. Speaker, as soon as the individual is elected, even though he does not take his office until two months later, he must resign his office upon election in November and not hold any office until the date of the swearing in in January?

Mr. LOPRESTI. I would not know the answer to that, but I do not see how it could do much harm anyway.

Mr. MOODY. I think perhaps it should be drawn to the attention, Mr. Speaker, of the appropriate committee in the Senate, if this House passes the bill, and have some clarifying amendment to that effect put in.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Lopresti.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Lopresti, consent to be interrogated?

Mr. LOPRESTI. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, is it the intention of this bill to make it applicable to aldermen in cities?

Mr. LOPRESTI. No, an alderman is not a city officer. The aldermen, I believe, are constitutional officers and the commission is given by the Governor.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. In other words, even though an alderman is elected in a city, it is the intention of this bill, or the intention of the House, that they are not to be included?

Mr. LOPRESTI. That is correct.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Would you state whether it is the intention of this bill to include justices of the peace inasmuch as they exercise county-wide jurisdiction?

Mr. LOPRESTI. Justice of the peace is not a city office in any respect, because cities do not elect justices of the peace. Justice of the peace are elected in communities other than cities.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. I have been requested to ask whether it is the intention to include members of the county or city election boards in this bill?

Mr. LOPRESTI. County or city election boards?

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Yes.

Mr. LOPRESTI. I do not see how that could be a city office or a county office.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. A member of the county election board is, as I understand it, elected to that office?

Mr. LOPRESTI. He is an elected officer under the election code, but is not a public officer as we generally regard them.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. I have also been requested to ask you whether it is the intention to include school board members in county school boards under this bill, or city school boards?

Mr. LOPRESTI. The school board would be separate from a city office. The city school board would certainly be separate from a city office. I do not know that there is such a thing as a county school board. There are county boards but not school boards, they do not hold any elective office.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. I would like to yield to the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Ziegler.

Mr. ZIEGLER. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Cambria?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Cambria permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LOPRESTI. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ZIEGLER. Will the gentleman accept an amendment to include school board members either city or county?

Mr. LOPRESTI. Frankly, I would not accept any amendments at this particular time. Any amendments which the Senate sees fit to put into this bill I would go along with. However, I cannot quite see the relevancy because school board members meet generally once or possibly twice a month and the interference with the duties of the school board by being in the Legislature would be very slight. Also, most of the school board meetings are held at night and a Member of the Legislature can go back and forth and attend one or two meetings of the school board.

Mr. ZIEGLER. Thank you, Mr. Speaker, the gentleman has answered the question. He is not willing to accept an amendment.

Mr. LOPRESTI. I do not want the gentleman to be putting words in my mouth that I have not said. I said that I will accept such amendment if it were inserted in the Senate. The only reason I suggested we do not do it today is on account of time. The gentleman well knows that we are shooting for an adjournment date, and the only purpose for not accepting amendments at this time in the House is in the interest of time in the passage of this bill.

Now on the merits of this bill, I think the gentlemen on the other side well know what this bill intends to do. There is much merit to it. It is something we should not be voting on today but something that should have been in the law many years ago.

It does not make sense that we should have Members of either this House or the Senate of Pennsylvania serving in the capacity of county commissioners, for example, back home in their own county. County commissioners' jobs are full time jobs if they are to be done right. This House and the Senate have also become full time jobs. It is impossible for a Member of the House or Senate to do a good job for his constituents back home in a county office and at the same time do a good job here in the Legislature.

I say this is good legislation, and while it needs some minor amendments perhaps, I think it should be passed.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I want to answer something that was raised by the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Moody. He was raising the question of whether a person who is a Member of the Legislature who gets elected to some city or county office in November, would be allowed to finish that particular year, at least that is the way I understood his question—from November until the following January. I think this bill clearly will allow him to do so because it provides that it is only incompatible to hold or exercise the city or county office while a Member of the Legislature. I think that any Member who would not take a city or county office until early in January of the year after his election would clearly be allowed to serve as a Member of this House until such time.

I agree with many things, practically everything, that the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Lopresti, has said. I think he is entirely right when he says he is unwilling to accept any amendments at this date because that is clearly a way to kill this bill, if anybody wants to kill it.

I agree with him also that if the Senate wants to make clarifying amendments, or sees fit to do so, I would be happy to go along with them also, because the office of alderman and the office of school director was never contemplated to be within the terms of this bill.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Lopresti.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Lopresti, consent to be interrogated?

Mr. LOPRESTI. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Is not the purpose of this bill to prevent dual duties? For example, a county commissioner is a full time office holder and also being in the Legislature today is practically a full time public job.

Mr. LOPRESTI. That is correct.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Then, would the gentleman be willing to accept an amendment in the Senate which would provide that a full time city and county employe should also not be privileged to serve in either House or Senate?

Mr. LOPRESTI. Full time county employes?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOPRESTI. No, I do not think so because they are appointed officials and can be granted leaves of absence. There are many valuable county employes who can be down here in the Legislature and return to their employment after they have finished serving here. My experience is that the men who work for counties are generally not paid for the time that they put in here, whereas, the elected officials collect their salary at both places and are certainly not performing their duties in both places.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, does not the Philadelphia Charter provide, because of the dual duties, that a man cannot be a Member of the Legislature and an employe of the city of Philadelphia at the same time?

Mr. LOPRESTI. That I do not know about. I do know that the Charter provides that the elected officials cannot be in the Legislature.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman not say that history has shown that if it is bad for the city of Philadelphia to have dual office holding whether elected or appointed, it would not be good for the state as a whole?

Mr. LOPRESTI. I am not familiar with the operation of the city of Philadelphia, except to know that they are doing a pretty fair job under the present Charter. Specifically, I am not acquainted with what is going on there.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman know of anybody in the House from Philadelphia county or in the Senate who holds an appointive office either in the city of Philadelphia or the county of Philadelphia?

Mr. LOPRESTI. I do not, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. There are in other jurisdictions, are there not?

Mr. LOPRESTI. Does the gentleman mean other counties?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Yes, there are a number of them.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. That's all, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FINEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the Majority Leader.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the Majority Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. READINGER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FINEMAN. Mr. Speaker, the Majority Leader made reply shortly before to the gentleman from Dauphin explaining this section of the bill that has to do with the time between November and January of the ensuing year. I would pose this hypothetical question to the gentleman and ask his answer to it.

Assuming in the year 1957, as of November of 1957, we have an elected county or city employe who runs for the state Legislature and wins. Under this bill as it reads now is it not incumbent upon him on the day after election to resign his office?

Mr. READINGER. I would say it is not, for the reason that he is not at that time holding or exercising any elective city or county office, and he would not do so until he was sworn into that office.

Mr. FINEMAN. The gentleman did not quite understand my question. Assuming that he took his elective county or city office on January 1st of 1957, and he continued to hold that office during the year '57, so that on the date of election in November he was then an elected county or city officer holding office. Under those circumstances, on the day of election to the Legislature, since he is thus at that time holding an elective office of the city or county, would he not have to resign?

Mr. READINGER. He would not until he was sworn in as a Member of this House. The day he was sworn in as a Member of this House, he would have to resign the city or county office which he was holding.

Mr. FINEMAN. But section 10 of this bill says that it is unlawful for any Member of either branch who is elected after the effective date of this act to hold an elective county or city office.

Mr. READINGER. To "hold or exercise." But you are not holding one or the other until you are sworn into it. The election does not mean you are holding or exercising it. In my opinion you would have to be sworn in on the official date for such action before you are either "holding or exercising."

Mr. FINEMAN. But the words "holding or exercising" refer, do they not, only to the county or city office? Not to the office of state Representative?

Mr. READINGER. That is correct.

Mr. FINEMAN. Therefore, as a matter of fact he is holding a city or county office on the day he is elected to the state Legislature and will continue to hold that office unless this bill goes into effect, under which it then would be unlawful for him after the day of election to hold that city or county office.

Mr. READINGER. I think the gentleman is not interpreting this bill correctly. Until a person who runs for this House is sworn in, he is not a Member of the House, even though he has been elected. He must take the oath of office before he becomes a Member of this Legislature, and until he takes it, in my opinion, he is eligible to hold a city or county office. The same would be true in reverse, if he is in the Legislature, until the day he is sworn into his city or county elected office, he may continue to serve as a Member of this Legislature.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman yield? Will the gentleman please address his questions to the Chair so that we can have more order in the debate?

Mr. FINEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I would state that my interrogatories are directed to the Chair only for the purpose of information and clarification. I am wholeheartedly in favor of this bill because it has a great deal of merit and should receive the favorable action of this House. However, I am against the situation that might result in an elected county official or city official having to give up as of November 3rd or 4th, or whatever the day of election might be, his already existing office and thus give up his pay under that office, and then not get a new office until January the following year, under which he will receive pay, so that in effect, he will be without income under either office for two months of the current year. I think that is what the effect of this bill is as it stands right now. This bill says it shall be unlawful for anyone who is elected after the effective date of this bill, to either branch of the Legislature, to hold or to exercise any elected county or city office.

Now, when a gentleman who is already holding a county or city office runs for the Legislature, he is as of that moment holding and exercising a county or city office, and under the terms of this bill, if he is elected to the Legislature, he would have to give up that county or city office. Thus he would be without either office until January 1st of the ensuing year and thus without pay for those two months.

Mr. READINGER. If the gentleman is still interrogating me, I would still say be is interpreting this bill incorrectly.

The thing that is being prohibited by it is the holding and exercising of the two offices at the same time. I say a Member of the Legislature who is elected to a city or county office does not taken that office until he is sworn in, which is usually in January. An elected city or county official who is elected to this Legislature does not become a Member of the Legislature until he is sworn in, usually in January.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the bill falls.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair requests the Speaker to return to the rostrum.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) IN THE CHAIR

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman from McKean for presiding.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. BANKER. I rise to a parlimentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

The BANKER. Can the Speaker tell me how many Pages are employed by the House?

The SPEAKER. Sometimes the Chair has imagined there were not any. The Chair is not officially informed as to the number.

Mr. BANKER. Sir?

The SPEAKER. The Chair has no official information as to the number of House personnel.

Mr. BANKER. I would like to suggest the absence of a quorum of the Pages.

The SPEAKER. The Chair appreciates the pertinence of the gentleman's remarks. The Chair understands there are six Pages in attendance and on the floor. There have been days when the Pages have been distinctly derelict in their attention to the Members of this House.

The Chair thanks any Member of the House who calls attention to any lack of service to which Members of this House are entitled.

Mr. BANKER. Twenty minutes ago I was denied Page service because there was only one boy in the House. That was merely the reason for the inquiry.

BILLS ON THIRD READING POSTPONED

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. READINGER.

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 2065, entitled:

An Act amending "The Game Law" approved June 3, 1937 (P. L. 1225) further regulating the issuance of antlerless deer licenses and imposing penalties for the unlawful issuance thereof.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, this bill amends the Game Law by changing the issuance of antlerless deer permits. It has been a source of contention in the city of Philadelphia, where you do not have deer hunting.

Under the existing law the county treasurers were the sole agents for the issuance of antlerless deer permits. In the past I am sorry to say when Philadelphia residents went up to the various counties where they sought permits they were denied permits solely on the basis that they were non-residents of the county.

I brought that to the attention of the House back in February when I had a nasty experience along those lines. There was a lot of political pressure on the county treasurers to issue these permits only to residents. Because of this pressure they understandably yielded, so much so that a Philadelphian would travel hundreds of miles on the particular day when the permits were issued only to be denied a permit.

This bill is designed to cure the inequities in the existing law. It gives to the county treasurer 50 per cent of the permits to be issued. It permits the Game Commission to issue permits to those who mail their applications to them, and they must be given out in the order in which they are received.

I think it is desirable legislation. Certainly it will cure the harmful effects of the present law. I think if the Members of this House recognize the inequities which exist they will vote in favor of the bill in order to give every resident of Pennsylvania who has a hunting license an equal right to obtain an antlerless deer permit.

I, therefore, ask the Members to vote for this bill.

Mr. MOSCRIP. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of the bill, Mr. Breth.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Clearfield, Mr. Breth, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BRETH. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MOSCRIP. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have the gentleman refresh our minds, since this bill has been on the calendar for some time, and explain briefly how it works on the 50-50 angle of the bill?

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, I think the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack, covered the essential part of the bill, but to run through it quite rapidly the number of licenses set up by quota by the Pennsylvania Game Commission for each county would be split half and half. Half would be held by Game Commission officers for mail applications and half would be retained in the county strictly and solely for personal applications.

The mail applications would be received during September in order that if none were available an applicant would have time to get one over-the-counter, because over-the-counter sale would not be permitted until the middle of October.

Also, another inequity in the bill, which permitted any applicant to get 15 licenses, has been amended to the point where a single applicant can only get a personal license, plus a license for any member of his immediate family residing at the same address.

Briefly, that is the story on the bill. Any applicant would have his choice on mail order of applying for any one of three counties, preference No. 1, 2 and 3. In the event he did not get No. 1 preference, he could get No. 2 or No. 3. In the event he did not get any, the application would be returned in time, as I mentioned, for him to apply over-the-counter in a particular county in which he wanted a license. Briefly that is it.

I would like to say that this bill is the result of a resolution passed in this House, Resolution 129, authorizing the Committee on Conservation and Wild Life to make a thorough study of the antlerless deer license system. After holding a hearing with the Game Commission, the county treasurers' representatives and sportsmens' representatives, we came up with this bill, which seems to meet most of the objections rather fairly.

Mr. MOSCRIP. Is there any way a person can secure a license through Harrisburg other than mail when the initial half is put up for sale?

Mr. BRETH. Under this bill, no.

Mr. MOSCRIP. I would infer then from the answer of the gentleman that the first fifty per cent on sale in Harrisburg is primarily for the benefit of non-resident hunters, is that correct?

Mr. BRETH. Non-resident hunters are excluded from applying by mail, or obtaining a license over-the-counter until thirty days prior to the season, which is approximately November 15th.

Mr. MOSCRIP. Mr. Speaker, as I understand the gentleman's explanation, when the first fifty per cent was put out in Harrisburg anybody could mail in for an application?

Mr. BRETH. If I gave the impression that non-residents could apply for those applications, Mr. Speaker, I wish to retract the statement and state that only residents of the Commonwealth may apply by mail or for the first thirty days of the over-the-counter sale of these licenses.

Mr. MOSCRIP. Mr. Speaker, I misled the gentleman by the use of "non-residents," I mean non-residents of the county to which the quota applies.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, any citizen, no matter where he is in the Commonwealth, may apply for an application anywhere. If I am from Clearfield County and desire to write in by mail order for Clearfield County, I am authorized to do so, or I can do so, under this bill.

Mr. MOSCRIP. Mr. Speaker, am I right in assuming that this special envelope in which you send in your application bears the return address of the sender?

Mr. BRETH. No, it will not. It will merely specify on the outside, "Pennsylvania Game Commission, Harrisburg, County 1, 2, 3." Those enevelopes will be available with the application in many parts of the state.

Mr. MOSCRIP. Mr. Speaker, assuming there were 300 licenses left in the first half of the quota for a county and on the last day of the sale 500 applications came in in a sack of mail, how would it be determined which 200 do not get licenses?

Mr. BRETH. The Game Commission has stated to the Committee at the hearing they would honor those by date of receipt as far as they could. In other words, they would go by postmark and by the mail bag they came in and sorting the licenses.

I think it is a fair system, Mr. Speaker. There may be a few bugs in it, but I think this answers most of the problems which arose during the hearings as to means of solving the antlerless deer permit question.

Mr. MOSCRIP. Mr. Speaker, am I correct in my assumption that last year when the quotas were given out to the treasurers the treasurers were given instructions by the Game Commission to honor non-resident applications, that is, non-residents of the counties, that were sent in by mail?

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, I know of no instructions that were given to any county treasurer by the Game Commission as to how they should honor either mail orders or over-the-counter orders. The law was specific on that, it gave the county treasurers the right of sale.

Mr. MOSCRIP. Mr. Speaker, it was my impression that last year the county treasurers were advised that if a non-resident of the county sent in an application for a license prior to the day on which the licenses went on sale, the treasurer was to hold those applications and honor them in order of receipt. Is that correct?

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, I think that is mostly hearsay. I know of no evidence presented to the Committee at its hearing where such a procedure was mentioned. At the hearing a representative of the county treasurers' association was present, and the members of the Committee at the hearing were a bit perturbed by the fact that each county treasurer seemed to have made up his own set of rules. Some of them said they would honor mail requests and some of them said they would not. Some of them said they would only sell to local county residents, some of them said they would sell to anybody. It was a hodgepodge. That is the reason for this bill.

Mrs. DONAHUE. Mr. Speaker, may I have the pleasure of interrogating the gentleman, Mr. Breth?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Clearfield, Mr. Breth, permit himself to be interrogated by the lady from Clinton?

Mr. BRETH. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mrs. DONAHUE. Mr. Speaker, I noticed that the gentleman in his statement said that the people, for instance, in Clearfield County, could apply to the Department of Revenue in September for permits rather in Harrisburg.

I have an article here, Mr. Speaker, given to a paper, the Harrisburg Evening News, on March 7th. I would appreciate if Mr. Breth would answer this. It says in this paper and this is in quotes as Mr. Breth has given it to the paper:

> "It is essentially very fair to all hunters. It will give those in populated areas first chance at 50 per cent of the available permits and then give the same chance to hunters in rural areas at the other 50 per cent.

Mr. Speaker, does this mean that the urban areas will receive 50 per cent of the licenses first from the Revenue Department?

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, I have already answered that question, either by mail or by over-the-counter sale from county treasurers' offices, these permits shall be available on a "first come, first served" basis to any citizen anywhere in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

As to the news story regarding the quote she mentioned, certainly by dividing them 50-50 the hunter from Pittsburgh and Philadelphia has first chance as well as anyone else by mailing an application. At a county treasurer's office certainly the local county hunter has first chance at those over-the-counter sales.

Mrs. DONAHUE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know how these applications will be obtained? Must the sportsmen first write in to the Department for an application before they can apply for a license?

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, that would just be procedure on the part of the Game Commission. By the way, the Department of Revenue does not issue mail orders, it will be the Pennsylvania Game Commission. Their manner of issuing shall be open for public inspection at all times, the way they handle them, the way they send them out and everything else.

As far as getting an application, you will get them any way it is possible to get them. In the past the Game Commission has made them available through their offices, through the county treasurers' offices, and agents where regular licenses are sold. I think it is merely a procedural matter. I do not think those things should be written into law.

Mrs. DONAHUE. Then, Mr. Speaker, I wold like to know in the districts that have a small quota, say 2,000 permits, 1,000 would be sold by the Department of Revenue with first chance, as has been said, to the urban districts and the other 1,000 in the rural districts.

Mr. Speaker, I am wondering if this is altogether fair because I would like to ask if the Game Commission takes care of the deer herd during the winter season?

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, in the matter of fairness which the lady mentioned, under the present system the fair angle is all toward the local county hunter. All licenses are issued direct from the county treasurers' offices. Under this system it is split 50-50, 50 per cent by mail, prior mail order sale, and 50 per cent over-the-counter, and it is eminently fairer to those who wish to hunt in distant areas to be able to send in and get a permit by mail. The local county hunter still has 50 per cent of the quota which he can obtain locally. I think it is eminently fair to split it.

Mrs. DONAHUE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to state that the Game Commission does not take care of the game herd because they find financially they cannot do so. Food is given out to the districts if they apply to their Game Commission, to feed the small game, and if they follow the specifications set up and build the feeders according to the specifications but no money is allocated for the feeding of the game or the deer herd.

In our county alone, I would like to state that the Sportsmens' Association this past winter spent $1870, feeding the game herd, so why shouldn't the counties that protect their deer during the winter months have the privilege of permits inasmuch as there are only a few given out to certain districts. I think it is only fair that the sportsmen who take care of their deer herd have the privilege of obtaining their permits first.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, I would like to add the words "let us be fair" in reply to the lady on the other side. If I recollect, she was the lady who stated that her county treasurer sold all his doe permits only to people in his County so that he could favor them and be re-elected.

Now let us be fair. There are 78,000 hunters in the county of Allegheny. Therefore if all these doe licenses are given to people in their own individual county, where is the money going to come from to help propogate game and improve the game land. 78,000 hunters in Allegheny County can supply sufficient funds for game and food.

Mr. McCORMACK. I would like to interrogate the lady from Clinton, Mrs. Donahue.

The SPEAKER. Will the lady from Clinton permit herself to be interrogated?

Mrs. DONAHUE. I will be happy to.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, is it your understanding under the present law that the county treasurers have the right or the privilege to discriminate between residents and nonresidents of the county?

Mrs. DONAHUE. Under the present law as I understand and I did inquire from the Game Commission, I do not believe there is any law to take care of that.

Mr. McCORMACK. In other words, under the present law then there is a possibility that the county treasurer could discriminate between the local residents and nonresidents, is that correct?

Mrs. DONAHUE. I believe he may do that at his own discretion unless the Game Commission would rule otherwise.

Mr. McCORMACK. Were you aware of any language in the present Act that would permit him to read into it that he can use his discretion?

Mrs. DONAHUE. No, I am not familiar with that.

Mr. McCORMACK. The lady from Clinton and I in the past have had a little discussion on this very point. I cited a specific illustration where nonresidents of a county were discriminated against.

In that connection I would like to read to the House excerpts from an article written by Joe Pancoast who I believe is a wildlife writer for the Philadelphia Bulletin and an outstanding authority in this field. I do not have the date but I do have the clipping and I would therefore ask permission to read it.

> Pennsylvania's two day antlerless deer season, December 12th and 13th, is causing more discord than all other hunting differences combined. The trouble stems from a political inspired law without biological or game management features. Under it the Game Commission can only prescribe antlerless deer seasons in a specific manner, there are no alternatives. The law states that antlerless seasons can only be on a quota basis by counties, that hunters must possess special permits that can only be issued by county treasurers and the permits are only good in the county of issue. The state wide quota is 240,250 licenses alloted to 66 of the state's 67 counties. Only Philadelphia is excluded. Some county treasurers have set themselves up as arbiters over who shall and who shall not receive the licenses. Clinton was among the first to adopt such a stand, decreeing that the permits would be issued singly and to local persons only. Scores of out of county applications have already been ignored by Clinton. Rumblings are beginning over the situation in Potter. The Game Commission's Reading office for the thirteen southeastern counties in the state is being snowed under with protesting phone calls and letters. Many are upbraiding the Commission which is blameless. They must abide by the laws enacted by the Legislature.
> This corner is also being chided for not doing something about the situation. The complainants overlook the key point. Their quarrel is strictly with the legislature which should repeal the present law."

All I ask in the interest of fairness is that we vote for the bill.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Clearfield, Mr. Breth.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Clearfield consent to be interrogated?

Mr. BRETH. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I am going to take a specific example, I am going to take Cameron County for instance. As I understand it, under the provisions of your bill, if 4,000 licenses are allocated to Cameron County, 2,000 will be sent to the County Treasurer for disbursement and 2,000 retained in Harrisburg for disbursement, is that right?

Mr. BRETH. Yes, Mr. Speaker, but this is not my bill. This is the Conservation and Wild Life Committee's bill.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I am not speaking for the series of hearings on the problem. I am speaking regarding the bill, will the gentleman answer my question.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, we have determined that in several ways. It is in the bill as determined by prior questions. Yes, licenses are split.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Well, in the case of 4,000, 2,000 would be retained in Harrisburg would they not?

Mr. BRETH. They are to be issued by the Pennsylvania Game Commission upon mail applications.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Supposing on November 15, 1956 there are 2,000 of these licenses retained in Harrisburg for hunting in Camerson County. On November 15, 1956 they receive in their mail in Harrisburg applications for 3,000 licenses in Cameron County. How do you make your selection?

Mr. BRETH. By that time, Mr. Speaker, the surplus licenses would have been mailed back to the county treasurer for issuance over-the-counter as provided in the bill. Did the gentleman read the bill?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I wish the gentleman would answer my questions.

Mr. BRETH. I wish the gentleman would read the bill and save the time of this House.

Mr. TOMPKINS. No, I am asking if there are 2,000 licenses retained in Harrisburg—

The SPEAKER. This exchange is not informative.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I am asking if there are 2,000 licenses retained in Harrisburg and on the first day for the issuance of licenses there are 3,000 applications received, what do you do?

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman can be answered in this way: under the present law which is not changed under this bill, no nonresident—is the gentleman speaking of nonresident of the State or nonresident of the county?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, just so we know exactly what we are talking about—

Mr. BRETH. I am in favor of that.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I am trying to get some information, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentlemen will be in order. The only way we could get a sharper difference of opinion would be to discuss fish.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I know the bill, I have read it. Under the provisions of this bill are licenses allocated on the basis of the counties?

Mr. BRETH. The original quotas are set up by counties. Then the conty quotas are split 50-50 for mail order and the other 50 per cent for issue over-the-counter. In the event more applications are received for any one county by mail, the second choice on the outside of the envelope will be considered. If that county's quota by mail is then exhausted, the third choice on the outside of the envelope will be considered. If, at that time, all three county quotas are exhausted for those particular counties, the bill provides that there will be sufficient time for the application to be returned to the applicant so that he will have plenty of time, prior to October 15th, when the over-the-counter sales start in county offices, to get to some county that he wants the license from and be there in person.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I want to take a specific example. Supposing the Commission sets up Cameron County and allots 4,000 licenses to Cameron County. Now, how will they handle those 4,000 licenses?

Mr. BRETH. Two thousand of them will be for mail order applications only within a prescribed two week period in September to be fixed by the Commission.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Where will those mail orders be sent to?

Mr. BRETH. They will be mailed as stipulated in the bill on page 4, to the Pennsylvania Game Commission, Harrisburg, Pa., with the preference of counties 1, 2 and 3 marked on the outside of the envelope.

Mr. TOMPKINS. All 4,000 are retained in Harrisburg?

Mr. BRETH. Two thousand out of the four.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Two thousand are retained in Harrisburg, 2,000 are sent to the county treasurer.

Mr. BRETH. If there are more than 2,000 applicants by mail for those 2,000 licenses, then the quota will be completed for Cameron County by mail, yet the 2,000 available for over-the-counter shall not go on sale until October 15th.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, there is just one more question I want to clear up. How will I get my applications for these permits?

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, the matter was cleared up in prior interrogations. Every licensing agent for hunting and fishing licenses will have application blanks and envelopes available long before the mail order period begins. County treasurers will have them, the Pennsylvania Game Commission will have them and in all likelihood the Department of Revenue will have them.

Mr. TOMPKINS. All right—may I ask this question? Can one person come in and pick up, say, 2,000 applications?

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, as far as the applications are concerned, I do not know of any limitations on them except when they are mailed in or where they are applied for over-the-counter at a county treasurer's office then each applicant is restricted to his own personal license or licenses for members of his own immediate family living at the same address.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BRETH. I deserve thanks.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Does it become something out of order to try to get information out of the House of Representatives, Mr. Speaker? I would like to know what I am voting on.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman has made one point very clear, that is, under the provisions of this bill when 2,000 licenses remain in Harrisburg and according to the applications they receive they have 3,000 on file, the Commission in Harrisburg will commit the same sins of which they are now accusing the county treasurers.

There is only one answer to this whole problem, so far as I am concerned, you can split them up in Harrisburg, split them up with the county treasurers, you can give them all to Harrisburg, or you can give them all to the county treasurers, you can do anything you want to about this problem, but there is only one solution. You cannot issue 150,000 permits when you only authorize 50,000 to be issued.

There is only one solution to this doe problem and that is to do away with the permit system. Let us hunt deer in the state of Pennsylvania. You will have this problem, I do not care how you divide it up, as long as you have this system.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, "Let's be fair Lovett" is somewhat confused. As to being fair, I have come to the conclusion that the only possible way we can make this fair would be to divide up these "dear" does. About a month before hunting season, put so many in each county. Then we could possibly be fair and divide up the "dear" does so that everybody would have an opportunity to hunt the "dear" does.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, I wish to clear up one matter raised by the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins.

The Committee in this bill, and this is a very serious bill, has endeavored to be completely fair and close all loopholes. On page five, lines 15, 16 and 17, it states that during the period when the Commission is issuing licenses under the provisions of the subsection, which means mail orders, the operation of processing the applications received by mail shall be open to the public.

Furthermore, the Committee placed the mail applications in the hands of the Pennsylvania Game Commission in order to make sure that the fairest and most equitable system of issuing mail orders would be followed.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I will only take a few minutes.

It was a resolution that I drew personally which resulted in the hearing and resulted eventually in this bill. It was brought about because of the fact that the issuing of these antlerless deer licenses was causing throughout the state a very serious problem and resulting in a very grave situation.

In some counties there was property damage through these long lines of applicants leading to the treasurers' offices to get their antlerless deer licenses. In one instance, I believe, there was conseiderable property damage done and in one instance, probably more, the state police had to be called to quell what had nearly become a riot, if not altogether a riot.

With this thought in mind I drew the resolution which was passed by the House and eventually came to the Conservation and Wild Life Committee. We had an open hearing and there everything was considered in every which-way possible that could bear upon the hunting of antlerless deer in Pennsylvania.

A lot of things had to be considered. I want to be fair to the Game Commission. They are there principally to try and furnish, as far as humanly possibly, as any commission must do, and I think they are doing just that, as much game as possible considering the number of hunting licensees in Pennsylvania. Then you must also consider the fact that there are only a certain amount of doe deer that can be shot in Pennsylvania in order to properly preserve the herd for hunters in future years. It is not just a matter of one or two years, it is a long-range program.

I believe it was the lady from Clinton County herself, who suggested this percentage system. The percentage may be a little too large, I do not know. There is probably room for doubt on that point.

However, it is questionable now, even at this late date, whether the Senate will touch this bill at all. I am sorry it was not brought up before in this session so it could have been considered by the Senate and possibly amendments drawn in the Senate to clarify one or two things that may need correction—I do not know. I think there is probably some merit in the fact that the percentages may be a little bit too large.

I want to bring out this point, there was a public hearing, we heard the County Treasurers' Association representative, we heard sportsmen's groups and we heard the Game Commission. Let me point out to you that the members of this Conservation and Wild Life Committee are Members from all sections of Pennsylvania, including the rural sections and the metropolitan centers, and they were all unanimously agreed, so far as I know, on the merits of this bill and on the points brought out at the hearing which resulted in this present bill.

For instance, up in Blair County the treasurer issued 15 licenses to each person and lots of people stood in line for a whole day at a time until 4:00 o'clock in the afternoon, only to be told that they did not have any licenses. There is one man in Blair County who owned a farm in Huntingdon County and he could not get a hunting license in Huntingdon County to hunt doe deer on his own farm.

These are some of the inequalities, injustices and inequities that exist under the present law. We do not say we have the entire answer to it, but we do believe it is a long step in the right direction to correct a very bad situation as it exists now in this State on hunting antlerless deer.

I sincerely hope the House will pass the bill so that if the Senate does not pass it we will have something to go on in the future years to remedy this very bad situation.

Mrs. DONAHUE. Mr. Speaker, may I have the privilege of asking Mr. Auker just one question?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Blair permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. AUKER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mrs. DONAHUE. Mr. Speaker, I understood the gentleman to state that at a meeting which was held I went along with the 50-50 plan. I did not for small quota counties, is that not right?

Mr. AUKER. It was my impression, Mr. Speaker, that the lady from Clinton County was the one who made the suggestion of using the percentage basis for out-of-county hunters as between those who lived in the same county.

Mrs. DONAHUE. Mr. Speaker, I think that is true as to going on a percentage basis, but I did not agree on 50-50 for small counties. I said probably around 20 for the small counties, is that not correct?

Mr. AUKER. That is right.

Mrs. DONAHUE. I thank the gentleman.

I would like the privilege, Mr. Speaker, of reading just a few sentences from a letter I received from the sportsmen:

> Sportsmen in their respective counties know where the deer herd is causing crop destruction and naturally can better regulate the hunting in those areas.
> This bill is unfair to all the counties with small quotas and in place of helping the present situation it will tend to cause more dissatisfaction and it will lead to the posting of more private lands.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

RECESS

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I suggest at this time the Chair declare a recess for the purpose of having lunch and also for the purpose of holding a Democratic and a Republican Caucus.

I would suggest that the House recess until 2:15 p. m. EST and that the caucuses meet in their respective caucus rooms at 2:00 p. m. sharp.

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the Chair will declare a recess until 2:15 p. m. EST. The Chair hears no objection.

AFTER RECESS

The time of recess having expired, the House was called to order.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) IN THE CHAIR

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,
The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 188, entitled:

An Act relating to the practice of Ophthalmic Dispensing providing for the licensure and registration of Dispensing Opticians authorizing the issuance of certificates to registered qualified Opthalmic Dispensers creating a State Board of Examiners for Dispensing Opticians to determine the respective qualifications of applicants and defining specific powers and duties thereof providing for penalties for violations of the provisions thereof and providing for appeals to Court.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. BOIES. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Sec. 3, page 4, lines 1 to 5 by striking out "as an" in line 1, all of lines 2 to 4 and "in the industry" in line 5.
Amend Sec. 4, page 7, line 1 by striking out "and."
Amend Sec. 4, page 9, line 14 by inserting after "persons" and to suspend or revoke the license or registration of such persons.
Amend Sec. 12, page 15, line 15 by inserting after "synonyms" or any abbreviations of "Ophthalmic Dispenser."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the amendments?
They were agreed to.
On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time which I believe are controversial.

The SPEAKER. Do the amendments bear any relation to the amendments offered by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Boies?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. None at all, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Section 2, page 2, line 8, following the word "dispensing," insert the word "spectacle"
Amend Section 2, page 2, line 8, following the word "lenses," by striking out the word "spectacles"
Amend Section 2, page 2, line 12, following the word "such," insert the word "spectacle"
Amend Section 2, page 2, line 12, following the word "lenses," by striking out the word " spectacles"
Amend Section 12, page 15, line 5, by inserting after the word "care" or to advertise in any manner that would tend to mislead or deceive the public or that would directly indirectly or by inference distinguish between or discriminate against others in the eye care field or to advertise any acts or services other than those permitted to be performed by ophthalmic dispensers in accordance with this act.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, I wish to explain these amendments briefly. The amendments are twofold in character. First, they prevent the optician from administering and providing contact lenses.

Secondly, they provide that the advertising of the opticians shall in no way be fraudulent.

The purpose of the primary amendment is to prevent the optician from fitting contact lenses for the reason that contact lenses are fitted to the physical tissue of the eye and the optician would be dealing directly with the eye tissues.

We feel that the mechanical ability of the optician is not sufficient to touch the human eye and that his right should be limited only to spectacles and not to contact lenses.

We, therefore, ask the Members on both sides of the House to make certain that the welfare of the patient is not endangered by opticians fitting contact lenses, which should be done strictly by a physician or an optomotrist.

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, I am very sorry that I will have to disagree with the gentleman from Allegheny on what these amendments do.

These amendments do not do exactly what the gentleman says they do. The medical profession is not opposed to this bill they way it is.

They are very well satisfied with the bill just as it is without the gentleman's amendments. So I am sure the amendments do not do what he says they do.

I ask the Members of this House to vote down these amendments.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Maxwell.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Maxwell, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAXWELL. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Westmoreland tell the House wherein I have misstated the purpose of these amendments?

Mr. MAXWELL. They do not do exactly what the gentleman says they are going to do.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, what do these amendments do if I am incorrect?

Mr. MAXWELL. I don't know, Mr. Speaker. They are his amendments. Let him explain them.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, a statement has been made upon the floor of the House that I have misstated the purpose of the amendment. I believe it is the burden of the gentleman to state wherein I am incorrect.

The statement has been made and now the gentleman from Westmoreland states he does not even know what the purpose of my amendments is.

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, I do not want to prolong the debate on these amendments, but will give you just a little illustration.

You all know that doctors prescribe. They write a prescription. A pharmacist fills that prescription, the same as a dentist would do if he were making a prosthetic appliance for a patient's mouth. He would take the measurements, write the prescription and a technician would fill that prescription.

According to this bill all the optician has to do is to fill the prescription that the physician or the opthalmologist writes without Mr. Goldstein's amendments.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. All I wish to say, Mr. Speaker, is I have learned nothing.

What I am afraid of is what will happen to the human eye. Our knowledge becomes darker from the remarks of the gentleman from Westmoreland. If we allow these opticians to handle contact lenses a human eye may be damaged.

I ask for a roll call on the amendments.

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, may I state to the Members of the House, that a laboratory technician does not fit any appliance that he makes. The appliance is made by him. It is sent back to the one who wrote the prescription to be fitted.

Mr. KOLANKIEWICZ. Mr. Speaker, I rise to speak in favor of Mr. Goldstein's amendments. The previous speaker just stated that a prescription is written and is taken back to the doctor who wrote the prescription. That is all well and good. That is what this bill should do but evidently does not do.

Years ago when we just had spectacles it was all right. The bill is written in that manner for spectacles. Today we are dealing with contact lense. Contact lenses come in contact with the delicate tissues of the eye and I believe the optician is in a position to do that today. He would be in the position, provided he were under the jurisdiction and working in this same room, fitting a contact lens under the jurisdiction of an ophthalmologist or an optometrist.

These amendments that are being offered by Mr. Goldstein are good amendments and they should be supported by the Members of this House. I say that because I do know what the fitting of contact lens is.

I, a practicing optometrist, would not dare to try and fit a contact lens unless I took a special course. This bill, if you read the bill, would give a great latitude in fitting contact lenses which I think would be very bad for any individual.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, the medical profession, with whom I consulted on this bill, take no stand. They are interested in this bill as it is written and with the amendments of Mr. Boies.

Various labor groups are very much interested in the bill as written, with the amendments only of Mr. Boies. The profession of ophthalmolgy, medicos like myself and others, who deal specifically with eye conditions are not opposed to this bill.

Mr. KOLANKIEWICZ. Mr. Speaker, I want it understood that we are not opposed to the bill eiher, but we would like to have those amendments approved.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

The yeas and nays were required by Messrs. GOLDSTEIN and Mr. AGNEW, and were as follows:

BILL ON THIRD READING POSTPONED

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. READINGER.

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 2100, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the committee appointed by the House of Representatives and the Governor to study and investigate all phases of the operation * * * under which the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission is and has been functioning and operating.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Polen.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Polen, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. POLEN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, when this bill was up for consideration a few days ago we asked for a breakdown of information on expenditures by this committee. I am wondering if the gentleman from Washington has been able to secure that information for us?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, I have certain information as to the breakdown of the expenses to date.

Mr. TOMPKINS. What do those consist of, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. POLEN. The information given me, is that the expenses up to May 7, 1956, are: Traveling expenses, $1,911.17; transcripts, $5,262.10; legal and auditing $5,500; or a total of $12,673.27.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, as I understand it, this bill asks for an appropriation of $25,000, is that right?

Mr. POLEN. That is correct.

Mr. TOMPKINS. What will the balance of these funds be used for?

Mr. POLEN. I believe the breakdown that I gave previously on the budget of the $25,000 was approximately $20,000 for transcripts, I understand that $1,000 of that would be used for reproducing records, and I believe there is $3,000 for traveling expenses and witness fees.

Mr. TOMPKINS. What was that figure you just gave in connection with the transcripts, Mr. Polen?

Mr. POLEN. $20,000, as I recall it.

Mr. TOMPKINS. $20,000?

Mr. POLEN. Yes.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Is that the amount additional which is going to be required for transcripts?

Mr. POLEN. No, that is the total.

Mr. TOMPKINS. $20,000 for transcripts?

Mr. POLEN. I am sorry, Mr. Speaker, but the information I used before I do not seem to have with me now. As I recall it, it was approximately $20,000 for transcripts. Yes, that is correct, I have it here now.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Do they propose to have anything additional for legal and auditing?

Mr. POLEN. The expenses to date have been paid by the Department to which the employes are assigned and I understand now that no additional amount will be required other than the regular salaries of the employes who are involved.

Mr. TOMPKINS. On this travel expense, is that for the members of the Commission, or is that for the Commission and witnesses, or how is that breakdown made?

Mr. POLEN. $1,911.17, that is broken down to the Department of Justice personnel, $823; the auditing fee, $779.05; and the State Police, $309.12.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Will there be any additional travel expense involved in the balance of the $25,000?

Mr. POLEN. I understand there will be additional traveling expenses, such as the expenses of members and witness fees.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Do you have any idea how much additional that will cost?

Mr. POLEN. I understand that the $3,000 as originally given will take care of that.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I am still confused, Mr. Speaker. He has given me a figure of $5,262.10 to date on transcripts. He states the total cost of the transcripts will be $20,000 additional, or will the $5,000 be included in that $20,000?

Mr. POLEN. The $5,000 is included. The $20,000 is apparently the amount budgeted.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I thank the gentleman. Oh, just one more question, Mr. Speaker. Has any part of the traveling expenses of $1,911.17 been paid?

Mr. POLEN. As I understand it, Mr. Speaker, none of the expenses of this Committee have been paid.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to call the attention of the House to several matters in connection with this request for appropriation.

No. 1, other committees operating on a similar or the same basis have not put in any appropriation bill, nor have we authorized any appropriations to the committees, until such time as their work had been completed and we had complete breakdown information as to what the money had been spent for. I see no reason why the House should deviate from that position in this particular instance.

Secondly, I have before me an official record of the number of meetings which have been held by this committee, marked "closed hearings," "open hearings," and "informal hearings." I find that in several of them the meetings have been conducted by merely the Chairman of the committee, or the Chairman of the committee and some other persons named therein who do not appear to be members of the committee. Some of the informal meetings listed on this sheet do not show any member of the committee being present. Therefore, I am against voting any appropriation to any committee that operates upon the semblance of a one-man affair or a no-man affair, as appears in some of this information.

No. 3, The Chairman of this committee is himself today accused. In our courts of law no judge would be allowed to sit in judgment upon anything in which he might be accused of having been a party in interest. Therefore, I think the Chairman should disqualify himself from further service on this committee until he has cleared the atmosphere regarding himself.

No. 4, I find that certain investigators for this committee have already been paid travel expenses and expenses for tips, hotel expenses and phone expenses to the extent of $900 out of the Motor License Fund. The reason why I questioned the gentleman from Washington as to whether any part of these expenses had been paid was to develop and be sure of myself on the ground that no part of these expenses had been paid. This is verified information that can be produced from the Auditor General's Department at any time.

The question that comes to my mind is, if we have them trying to finance this investigation from the Motor License Fund, there may be parts of it already coming from the appropriation of the Justice Department and they are asking for $25,000 from the Legislature from the General Fund. Just where is this investigation going to end? And how much is it going to cost the taxpayers?

I personally am going to vote against this appropriation for the four reasons which I have given. I am voting against it not because of any accusation of whitewash, but for thhe reasons which I have stated and for the reason that we should keep things where they properly belong, and not have somebody running wild on some of these things.

If they are trying to develop information for legislation, that is one thing. If they are trying to develop information for the use of a grand jury, that is another. We have grand juries to take care of that. We do not have our legislative investigating committees act in the capacity of grand juries. Therefore, anything that is attempted beyond the point of trying to develop legislation I think is improper on the part of this committee. That is an additional reason why I would vote against it.

An additional item is that two men who are the chief accused in this have already submitted their propositions to the courts of this Commonwealth. They have not tried to run away from the accusation, they are not trying to whitewash anything, they are perfectly willing to have the full light of an inquiry by a court of law placed upon it. That is another reason why we should not vote for this bill because tax monies are being used by the courts for the purpose of delving into those issues.

On the overall picture I cannot see any justification for this appropriation or the continuation of this committee for the reasons stated.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, in connection with the statement of the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins, about certain employes having been paid, it is entirely possible that some of them have been reimbursed through other funds. I said to the best of my knowledge they had not because of the reason that there are no funds available to pay these bills through the committee.

It was also stated that in the past, the investigation had ended before the appropriation was made. That is not entirely correct, because we have passed appropriation bills before we knew the total amount, in fact, in some of the cases we do not know them yet.

However, there is a difference between an investigation such as the Morganza investigation during which we were in session and could do it later. But in this case the investigating committee is operating under a resolution passed by this House and we are facing sine die adjournment. These people, particularly those who performed the work in connection with the transcripts, would have to wait possibly a year if we waited until the investigation was completed.

I believe the Members of this House who are on this committee will see to it that a proper payment and accounting is made of the funds that are voted. In the investigation to date, there have been 28 meetings and they have estimated 32 additional meetings will be necessary, so if the breakdown of the expenditures is correct, then the amount spent to date and the amount that would be spent would be approximately correct inasmuch as about half of the meetings have been held.

I believe inasmuch as this committee is operating under a resolution of this House that it is only proper that we supply the funds to pay the expenses of the investigation, as this House has done in the past for all such investigations.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman has stated there have been 28 meetings to date, I believe. I have before me a sheet which the gentleman from Washington very courteously furnished me earlier in the day containing a list of those meetings, those who were present and what was done at them. This sheet only shows 24 meetings, not 28,-up to and including May 8th. It shows a meeting on May 2, 1956, as an open meeting at Easton. They have two meetings listed for the same date at the same place, different types of meetings, included as a part of the 28 meetings. They have informal meetings listed on here, two meetings with certain people in the Attorney General's Office and two meetings with eight persons in the Attorney General's Office, none of whom are members of the committee. There is a total of five meetings of the 28 so far that I can account for and I am wondering what it is all about.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, I gave the gentleman the information I had as to the number of meetings. It could be there are some overlapping meetings on that list, I do not know. I would yield to the gentleman from Bucks, Mr. Brennan, who could possibly enlighten the House.

Mr. A. PATRICK BRENNAN. In answer to the gentleman's question, Mr. Speaker, on many occasions we have had two separate and distinct meetings. We have held executive meetings in the morning from which the public and the Press were barred and in the afternoon we had the same witnesses back and we had a public hearing for them.

The reason we are conducting the investigation in that manner, we find that some of the best investigations run out of Washington have been done in that manner, in other words, having the witnesses testify in the executive session under oath and call the same witnesses back and ask them to answer the same questions at a public hearing. That way we are able to get a documentary report and we feel that we can operate in a much better manner.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, was the gentleman present at Easton on May 2, 1956?

Mr. A. PATRICK BRENNAN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman asked me that question the last time the bill was up for debate and at that time I told him I was here in the House, which I felt was my first duty as I was a duly elected Representative. The other two members of the committee from the House also felt the same way. I might also say that a quorum did convene at that meeting up there in Easton.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I did not get the last part of the gentleman's statement.

Mr. A. PATRICK BRENNAN. There was a quorum at the meeting in Easton. I think Senator Yosko was there and a member from the Attorney General's Office was also present.

Mr. TOMPKINS. That is not the point I was getting at. The point I was getting at is that I find an open hearing and a closed hearing listed on that same date.

Mr. A. PATRICK BRENNAN. Are you referring to May 2nd and May 3rd?

Mr. TOMPKINS. May 2, 1956, yes sir.

Mr. A. PATRICK BRENNAN. That is right, we had two hearings at that particular time, one was a closed hearing and one was an open hearing.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Was testimony taken at both the open hearing and the closed hearing?

Mr. A. PATRICK BRENNAN. That is right, there was. This is all of the testimony taken up to date as of today.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Just a moment, Mr. Speaker, I want to try and clarify one thing here. Do you have the testimony taken down and transcribed at your closed hearings?

Mr. A. PATRICK BRENNAN. Yes, we do.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Do you have the testimony taken down and transcribed at your open hearings?

Mr. A. PATRICK BRENNAN. We do.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Do you not get a tremendous amount of duplication of your testimony?

Mr. A. PATRICK BRENNAN. We do not feel that is true. We feel that is the way to run a committee. We find other investigating committees are run in that manner and they have been very successful. I think the Kefauver Committee in Washington was very successful by operating in that manner.

Mr. TOMPKINS. We are talking about the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission now. You are asking for $20,000, I believe, for transcribing of testimony. I am trying to justify the expenditure of that sum of money for that purpose. I notice at your closed hearing on that date you had the same people testify later at your open hearing with the exception of a Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin. Is that right?

Mr. A. PATRICK BRENNAN. That is correct.

Mr. TOMPKINS. And a Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Davis.

Mr. A. PATRICK BRENNAN. That is correct.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I wish to make a brief statement with respect to this appropriation of $25,000. I think I should caution the House that if we go further into the technicalities of this appropriation bill and the extremely captious questions that are asked, we will not be able to see the forest for the trees.

The resolution calling for this investigation was brought about as a result of malpractice and misfeasance in office, as a result of evidence which came into the hands of the Attorney General that the man who was chairman of this commission committed larceny with Commonwealth funds.

As a result of this questioning on the appropriation, I went up to a hearing last week in the Supreme Court. I listened to some of the testimony. It was obvious to me, and when the report is finally submitted I am sure it will be obvious to the Members of the General Assembly, that the people who ran this commission, supposedly responsible people, did nothing but prostitute themselves.

I heard this Mr. Miller who is under investigation testify last week that they had a lobby, they had a suite of rooms over at The Penn Harris Hotel. He was asked who was there, and he very cutely in an attempt to whitewash and clear himself answered, "Oh, Governor Leader was there. Senator Yosko was there, and Hi Andrews was there."

But when he submitted his expense account for travelling—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I question whether the gentleman is debating the bill or whether he is trying to give a lot of personal opinions regarding his evaluation of some evidence he heard.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, the door was opened by the gentleman from Cameron when he said the Chairman should—

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Cameron raise a point of order?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I do, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would rule that the question has been opened and that the gentleman discussing the pending bill is priveleged to cite such evidence as he believes justifies the appropriation in question. While the Chair would question his good taste in mentioning particular names, the Chair holds that he is within his prerogative in doing so.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Do we Members of the House have the right to accuse a man of larceny? Do we have the right to sit in judgment? Until a man is proven guilty isn't a man under our democratic processes of government not guilty? The court—

The SPEAKER. The Chair holds that we have the same right to accuse the gentleman connected with the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission of larceny as any Member on this floor of the House has a right to accuse the Governor of various offenses with a moral tinge.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, it might be advisable not to stop and find out what the Governor was accused of. He has not yet been accused of larceny.

The SPEAKER. The Chair sees very little difference between deliberate duplicity and larceny. In fact, we prefer larceny.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I agree with the Chair completely in that interpretation.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will continue.

Mr. McCORMACK. As I was saying, Mr. Speaker, this man very casually mentioned a number of Democrats whom he entertained with the Commonwealth's funds at The Penn Harris Hotel. He was asked to enumerate those men and he mentioned all Democrats. He might have mentioned a Republican, I am not sure.

But I do remember this, when he was asked, after submitting itemized expense accounts of his junkets to Las Vegas and Atlantic City, how he would explain the additional voucher for a couple of thousand dollars in cash, he could not remember what happened or what happened to that voucher—

The SPEAKER. The Chair would be very lenient, but there is some pertinence in the remark made by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Smith. The particular man is not under trial at the present time. The question is the propriety of the amount of the appropriation.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I am saying that we should not for extremely captious and technical reasons object to this paltry sum of $25,000 when the purpose of this investigation is to see whether the public servants of this Commonwealth have not betrayed their trust.

I ask you to vote in favor of the appropriation.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, in connection with this particular appropriation, I did not receive a copy of the partial report made of the investigation up to—I do not know what date it was—February 11, 1956. I think there are some facts in here which would justify an investigation being made by this House.

The gentleman from Cameron says the matter is before the court. The court in this particular case might be interested in whether or not any criminal actions were committed. We, as a Legislature, are concerned not with the criminal actions, although we are concerned with them if there are any, but we are concerned more with the judgment and the management of this particular commission.

I think this committee should be congratulated and that we of the House should be willing to make an appropriation and perhaps inquire into this a little more than we have.

For example, Schedule A in this report shows that for the year 1953 the chairman of the commission, who was then being paid a salary of $11,700, collected from the commission in travelling expenses, travelling expenses, if you please, $15,342.62. I think this Commonwealth and this House has a right to know whether or not that is judicious spending of the Commonwealth's money.

That same individual in 1954, after the salary had been reduced from $11,700 to $6,000, collected $14,419.34 in travelling expenses, over twice the amount of his salary in travelling expenses.

I do not know whether these items were correct or incorrect. I am not criticizing them, but we Members of the House should be able to finance a committee of this House to inquire into that subject to find out whether they were judicious or not.

Then we will turn to comparative salaries. I think this is something that the House should know and the Commonwealth should know. The Commonwealth pays its controllers salaries ranging from $6,300 to $10,300. This commission employs a controller at $20,000 a year. I think this House in this report—

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I think the same objection would apply to the information now being supplied as was applied to the gentleman from Philadelphia, it has no relation to the bill that is now before us.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I don't think the gentleman relishes these kind of figures.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I have no objection. Go ahead. Go ahead.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would hold that in the one instance reference was made to the real or alleged guilt of a particular individual, whereas the gentleman from Cambria is discussing an expenditure policy for which he is not placing any imputation of personal criminality. He is questioning whether there is ground for inquiry concerning the wisdom of the expenditures that have been made.

The Chair would hold that as long as the gentleman continues along that line he is attempting to justify the expenditures contemplated under the pending bill.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, the Commonwealth pays engineers, people in that classification, the sum of $14,500 as a top figure. This commission employs its chief engineer at the sum of $25,000. And so on down the line, the commission is paying much better salaries than is being paid by the Commonwealth. They may be proper and they may not be proper, but I think that is one of the reasons why we have an investigating committee, to point these factors out. We can discuss later on whether we want to agree with the commission's policy or change it.

Then I want to turn to another little item of telephone bills. Telephone expense for one month, in February of 1955, by one member of this commission was $228.66, for the following month, $200, and so on. It appears that in about a year's time one member has spent over $1,200 for telephone conversations.

Then there have been trips, as has been pointed out, to Nevada. I think this House should know the reasons for those trips as to whether or not they are justified.

There has been reference made to a lavish dinner being held at the opening of one of the bridges. They spent a considerable amount of money, including bringing in a nationally famous orchestra at a cost of $700 for one night. Now these things we ought to know. This House should know and the people of Pennsylvania should know, and the only way they will know is through reports such as our inquiry and our investigation committee will give.

Therefore, I think this sum is justified because we can save many times over the amount of this appropriation if this kind of information is brought forth to the public.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I certainly must confess they have given us a great deal more detail in connection with the information they have allegedly uncovered to date than they have given us in connection with how they proposed to spend this $25,000.

I think the House should be informed that the salaries which were paid engineers and other personnel on the Commission were not determined by the two Pennsylvania members of the commission. There is another state involved in this thing too, and the Federal Government, and it seems as though some other people had something to say about the amount of salaries paid to personnel.

But be that as it may, certainly I am not one who is going to ask to have anything whitewashed or hide anything that might be of an unsavory nature. I am not trying to cover up anything unsavory, believe me.

By the same token, the reason why I have raised the issue about certain other individuals is because I do not think they themselves should try to cover up anything unsavory either. What goes for the goose, goes for the gander.

The Republicans at no time on this side of the House are under any inference of trying to whitewash any investigation of any kind. I have raised the issues that I have here because they are facts in connection with this investigation.

The Republicans on this side of the House who see fit to do so in order to avoid the accusation of a whitewash are perfectly at liberty to vote in favor of this appropriation. Personally, being an attorney-at-law, when I have a judge sitting on a case in which he is accused of being a party in interest, I have a right to discontinue my appearance in that case until that man disqualifies himself. And I think I have the same right to take that same prerogative as a Legislator in this particular case.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, when this House passed the resolution to make this investigation, it did so in the belief that there was sufficient reason to make the investigation, otherwise, it would not have passed the resolution.

It is under way now, and some facts have been uncovered. The newspapers have carried quite a lot of accounts of apparent abuse of the use of funds of this commission. For us to stop the investigation at this time would certainly not make us look very good in the eyes of the people of Pennsylvania. Without trying in any way to prejudge and to determine before this committee has completed its work and made a report whether there has been any misdoing or whether there has not been, or whether bad judgment has been used or good judgment, without in any way intending to prejudge that, I think we certainly owe our support to the committee we have created to investigate this commission.

The Republicans the other day rightfully asked for a breakdown on the estimated amounts and the actual amounts to be expended by this committee making the investigation. That information has been supplied. We have discussed it today.

I would like to call to your attention the fact that this bill would appropriate the sum of $25,000, or as much thereof as is needed to complete the work of this investigation. The commission which the committee is investigating is an arm of the Legislature. It was created by us for the purpose of carrying out its functions. It is certainly our duty and our right to investigate whether it has been doing so properly and whether or not the system under which it has been set up uses proper safeguards in the use of the Commission's funds.

There is absolutely nothing wrong with making this investigation. As a matter of fact, it is eminently right that it be done. For this House to refuse to appropriate adequate funds to do a job properly would certainly be a bad step on our part. I repeat, when we appropriate $25,000 it does not mean that the whole $25,000 will be spent. Perhaps $18,000 or $19,000 will be enough. We can only take their estimates as to how much more work they have to do, how much the transcripts will cost, the witness fees, and so forth.

If we are going to follow the philosophy of the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins, that because the chairman of the commission states that the chairman of the investigating committee has been to a dinner in his hotel suite and, therefore, he should step out, or the investigation be discontinued before that fact is established one way or the other, I say if we follow that philosophy, we will never have any investigations. The chairman of the investigating committee denies he was at such a dinner and the gentleman from Cameron speaks about being innocent, or being guilty, and so forth. Who are we to decide whether there is anything wrong with Yosko attending a dinner at the Penn Harris Hotel, if he did so? He says he did not. We certainly should not determin whether we should make an appropriation to this com mittee based on such a filmsy excuse.

The gentleman mentions several other points. He criti cizes the manner in which the committee has met, whethe the members were present, whether there were forma and informal meetings in the same day. I say that is s much dust being thrown in our eyes so as to confuse th real issue here. The real issue is, should this investiga tion continue and, if so, should we give it the money t do so?

I am asking every Member who believes we shoul look into what our own people are doing to vote for thi bill today.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentlema from Blair, Mr. Auker.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I am going to state now tha I am going to vote against this appropriation. For on thing, I think it is too much money. Another thing, introduced a resolution to have a cabinet officer investi gated of this Democratic administration who is wastin thousands, and thousands, and thousands, of dollars. am referring to Secretary of Welfare, Shapiro. Tha resolution it has not been seen fit to report out. Nobod seems to be making too much fuss about how much mone he wastes of the taxpayers' money—

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is wandering a trifl the Chair fears.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yea and nays were taken and were as follows:

AMENDED SENATE BILL RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented for concurrence bill numbered and entitled as follows:

SENATE BILL No. 420.

An Act amending the act of May 1, 1929 (P. The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Chair lays before the House the next bill on special order fixed for this time, being Senate Bill No. 1025.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1025, entitled:

An Act amending the "Rural State Highway Law" * * * changing or deleting certain routes and adding certain new routes.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

Section No. 2, page 19, by inserting after line 11, the following: Dauphin County "Beginning at a point on Legislative Route No. 140 where Locust Lane intersects with said Legislative Route No. 140, and thence continuing in a northeasterly direction over and along Legislative Lane, a distance of one and six-tenth (1.6) miles to its intersection of Legislative Route No. 22021."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of an amendment at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, I dislike to take up the time of the Members of the House, but I have a township on Route 22, Lower Paxton Township, which is a very healthy, little community. They have been subjected to a consolidated school in that area which consists of five townships and boroughs participating. They built a three and a half or four million dollar school out there, and it is really a beautiful place. This little piece of road which belongs to the township—it is a mile and six-tenths—is used to transport a lot of pupils. They have consulted me and I have just talked with the supervising principal who informed me that they use twenty-one buses, each one of them makes two trips a day. That adds up to something like eighty or eighty-four trips of these buses over this little township road, and it is just almost impossible for the township to bear the burden of keeping this road in repair.

Since it is a consolidated school, it is part of the program which the Commonwealth has set up for these boroughs and townships, I think it would only be fair that they should try to take care of this little piece of road which these buses are breaking up through their constant travel.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I ask the Membership of the House to oppose these amendments. They arrived at such a late date that it was impossible for the Committee to process them through the proper channels as to the feasibility of taking this route over from the municipality to the State system.

I ask the Members of both sides of the House to oppose the amendments.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, I was going to try and be kind, but since I have gotten this talk that they didn't have time and so on, I want to say that where the people in my district are involved, I am always willing to take the time. I will take as much time as is necessary to try and gain my point for my people. So therefore, I am going to ask for a slow roll call on these amendments.

Mr. MOODY. Mr. Speaker, I speak in support of the amendments offered by Mr. Hocker.

It is true that these amendments were received by Mr. Petrosky late. I received them and gave them to Mr. Hocker, I believe, only yesterday. However, this Central Dauphin Jointure is undoubtedly one of the largest jointures in the State so far as area is concerned. It encompasses a radius of approximately 25 miles, extending from Middle Paxton Township which is between the third and fourth mountain, down around Harrisburg, excluding Susquehanna Township but going down toward Lebanon as far as West Hanover Township. It is a rapidly growing community. There are presently 975 students in the high school. The entire jointure encompasses a student roll of 2300. Next year the principal advised me the enrollment in the school will be between 1100 and 1150 and we can expect in the next decade that that figure will be doubled.

The school, as Mr. Hocker stated, is a mile and a fraction off of Route 22 which is a U. S. route. Lower Paxton Township has been saddled with the burden of maintaining this road which encompasses Dauphin borough, Lower Paxton Township, Middle Paxton Township, Paxtang Borough, Penbrook Borough, Swatara Township and West Hanover Township and I honestly think since the State feels that it is economicol to have jointures, and a jointur as large as this, that the State should also help to main tain the road leading into that school.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, when I speak of th element of time, I speak of the processing of these request through the proper engineering and technical channels so that the feasibility of this type of legislation can b properly arrived at, and have those roads incorporate into the system.

Evidently this jointure occurred sometime prior to yes terday and the request could have been made at a muc earlier date. However, we will be in session in anothe seven months, in the 1957 session, and at that time thi request can be taken up, given due consideration an processed through the proper channels.

At the present time I would ask the Membership of th House to vote down the amendments.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogat the gentleman, Mr. Petrosky.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Westmore land, Mr. Petrosky, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PETROSKY. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, I would ask the gentlema what is the process that this goes through, who is in volved, who says yes or who says no.

Mr. PETROSKY. It is up to engineering, whether a roa should come into the State system, and that is an iten which must be arrived at from an engineering standpoin by the State Department of Highways, because once thos roads are adopted into the State system this administra tion has stated they will then place them upon a standar comparable to other state roads, the standard formula a now exists in the engineering department of our Highwa Department.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman,

I think what he tried to tell me was that the Highwa Department has the sole power in determining what road shall be taken and what roads shall not be taken.

In defense of my amendments I want to bring one mor thing to your minds in this House. As elected Members o the House and of the upper body, are we subject to th whims and whines of the Highway Department or do w stand on our own? Are we strong enough in this body t say what we want and not what the Highway Depart ment wants?

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

The yeas and nays were required by Messrs. Hocker an Ogilvie and were as follows:

So the question was determined in the negative and the amendments were not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Sec. 1, page 5, by inserting between lines 8 and 9. "Route 12007. Beginning at a point on the Shippen Township-Emporium Borough line at the South Broad Street Bridge; thence in a general southwesterly direction through Shippen Township [to a road intersection] to a point on Route 99 at Howards Siding, in Cameron County, a distance of about [3.6] 11.0 miles.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of an amendment at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Petrosky.

Mr. SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Westmoreland oppose the amendments offered by the gentleman from Cameron?

Mr. PETROSKY. Yes, I do, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Petrosky, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PETROSKY. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I want to inquire with regard to Senate Bill 1025, Printer's No. 732, whether for all of the roads which are contained therein there was an equal amount of mileage exchanged for it?

Mr. PETROSKY. No, there was not in every instance.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Are there some roads in 1025 for which there were no exchange roads given?

Mr. PETROSKY. That is correct.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

As far as these amendments are concerned, they are merely the same as I presented to the Chairman of the Highway Committee as long ago as last December and he gave me an answer quite sometime ago.

I want to say that this amendment calls for an additional six and one half miles of road in exchange for this 11 miles of road which were taken away from Cameron County in the Curtiss-Wright deal. It is not as though the Highway Department were taking on any additional roads. This amendment does not give them as much as was taken away from us in that transaction, so we have something on an exchange basis.

I was informed by the Chairman of the Highway Committee that the request for this road was turned down based entirely on a report of the district office in which this proposed highway is located.

I would like to reiterate the very things which Mr. Hocker, the gentleman from Dauphin, said in that respect.

Mr. Speaker, I am willing to take the previous roll call.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, the reason this road was turned down locally was because it gives traffic a count of 35 per day on an average of traffic on this very lightly traveled road and it is all local traffic. The estimated cost to the Highway Department to bring this up to the state road standards would be $40,000.

So I ask the Members to oppose the amendments. I will also take the previous roll call.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I do not know when that traffic count was taken, whether it was only taken at midnight, what time of the year it was taken, or anything else, but I will challenge that count in the period between November 1st and December 31st of any year, particularly during the two weeks of deer season and during the hunting season. I will challenge that statement and say there are more pass every 15 minutes than the 35 count necessary in a whole day's time.

Also, I want to call attention to the fact that this was an exchange situation. Furthermore, the kids that live along this route have to walk excessive mileage because of the fact that school buses at certain times of the year cannot get out. We gave up 11 miles of road and I thought it was only fair that we should ask to have six and one half miles given back.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

The yeas and nays were required by Messrs. TOMPKINS and HOCKER and were as follows:

So the question was determined in the negative and the amendments were not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. VARNER. I also submitted amendments to the Chairman of the Highways Committee, Mr. Speaker, some of them early in January and others back before the Primary Election on April 24th. As you know, we were not here immediately in the week prior to April 24th, so it is a little over a month.

Of course, I have been given the same story that my amendments could not be accepted because there was not enough time. As I opened this bill and read it, I became deeply disappointed when I read that some counties such as, going from back to the front, York, Westmoreland, Wayne, Venango and other counties, have had their roads added to the state system, township roads taken over and added to the state system.

I know my amendments if offered here now would fail, and for that reason I am not going to take any more of the time of the House. I saw the fate that befell my colleagues, Mr. Hocker and Mr. Tompkins, so I am not offering my amendments. But I do want the record to show that I had the amendments and offered them.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 910, entitled:

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 1955

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I present the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 1955.

The SPEAKER. The report will lie over for printing under the Rules.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE ON HOUSE BILL No. 1217

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 1217, Printer's No. 1469, entitled "An act amending the act of July 12, 1913 (P. L. 711), entitled 'An act establishing a court for the county of Philadelphia; prescribing its jurisdiction and powers; providing for the service of its writs, process or warrants by the proper officers of the county or city of Philadelphia; regulating the procedure therein and appeals therefrom and providing for the expenses thereof,' increasing the number of judges of the Municipal Court of Philadelphia," was defeated on final passage on Tuesday, May 8, 1956, be reconsidered.

Mr. WALSH. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Toll vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I voted with the prevailing side.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Walsh vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. WALSH. Mr. Speaker, I voted with the prevailing side.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I would ask that since we are supposedly in the dying days of this session, I believe the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Toll, would have to admit if this bill were reconsidered, everything would have to click perfectly, considering the time element involved, as far as passing this House and Senate are concerned. These things just don't happent a hundred per cent as he well knows on a controversial bill such as this.

We on this side of the House are going to ask that we do not reconsider any bill, this bill or any other, that has been defeated.

I would ask that the Members vote against the reconsideration. I believe it is wasting the time of the House. He knows that the bill will not even pass the House, and least of all pass the Senate. On that assumption rather than take up the Members time, and the time of the House when it is so valuable and we have been working here for so many hours, and we are going to be doing this today, probably tomorrow and the next day.

We on this side of the House are going to vote down or try to vote down any motion to reconsider any bill that has been defeated.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, may I make one observation in reply. This bill failed to pass by only two votes last week. I hope a great many of the Members who voted against it had a chance to reconsider the evil of their ways and perhaps give us a break and vote for it at this time. In addition to that there were a number of absentees who are here today.

Therefore, I ask the Speaker to present the motion to reconsider the vote.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman is worrying about getting votes, I can assure him if it will save time that there will still be no votes on this side of the House.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I would like to make a brief statement. At the time this bill was defeated last week, Representative Johnson from McKean, interrogated me and I informed him at that time that I would immediately contact by letter the President Judge of the Municipal Court with a view toward getting her opinion as to whether or not additional judges were needed. Also some facts and figures relative to the backlog of juvenile delinquency cases.

To carry out my promise. I wrote to President Judge Hazel Brown, under date of May 9th. I sent a copy of that letter to Mr. Charles C. Smith and also to the Chairman of the Judiciary Committee, Mr. Lopresti. I want to inform specifically Mr. Johnson that of this date I have not had the courtesy of a reply.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, we are going to ask on this bill a roll call on the question of reconsideration and on any other bill from now on out.

The yeas and nays were required by Messrs. CHARLES C. SMITH and TOMPKINS and were as follows:

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, in view of the fact that I have had the satisfaction of having had this bill brought back, I move to recommit it to the Judiciary Committee because it is obvious we do not have 106 votes.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE POSTPONED

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. READINGER.

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 297, entitled:

An Act increasing the number of courts of common pleas in the County of Philadelphia establishing therein a distinct and separate court of common pleas designated court of common pleas number eight and providing for the appointment and election of judges for the court

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on final passage?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Rules.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1176, entitled:

An Act defining and relating to installment land contracts and providing for and regulating the rights and obligations between parties to such contracts under certain terms and conditions

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate one of the sponsors of this bill. Mr. Fineman might know something about it. Will Mr. Fineman be interrogated?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Fineman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FINEMAN. I shall, Mr. Speakere.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, has this bill been changed since its original discussion before the House?

Mr. FINEMAN. It has, Mr. Speaker. The bill has been amended to be applicable only to the city of Philadelphia.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. When this bill was before the House originally I voted in its favor. I cannot see any reason if the legislation is good for the entire Commonwealth, why it is limited to the city of Philadelphia. In fact, I am not certain but I am of the belief that the legislation may be unconstitutional, and therefore I feel that I am compelled to vote against this legislation. If it is good for Philadelphia, it should be good for the entire state.

Mr. FINEMAN. Mr. Speaker, if a piece of legislation merits favorable consideration, it is of no moment that it applies only to one locale rather than to the whole state. We think this is good legislation and we would of course like to have had it apply statewide. The problem which the bill confronts arises principally in the city of Philadelphia and it was because of the objections that had come to our attention from the Members of this House from other counties that we amended the bill. But we nevertheless feel that the bill has great value and great merit and should receive the favorable attention of this House.

I would like to make this observation if I may. When this bill was previously considered, in March, the Members of this House did not have the benefit of any discussion or any debate on the bill, and the bill went down. Since the date of the vote on that bill I have had several conversations with the Members of this House. I have learned that a great number of the Members did not fully understand the nature and the purpose of the bill.

If I may briefly—I realize it is late in the day—but in the hope of adding some small bit of clarification to it, I would like to explain what this bill does.

This bill does nothing more than clarify and define the respective obligations and rights, of both a buyer and a seller to an installment land contract. The bill, as we stated, is only applicable to the city of Philadelphia and is only applicable to the sale of private residences. Many Members of the House were under the impression that this bill applied to the sale of unimproved ground. That is not the case, it only applies to the sale of private residences.

An installment land contract is a contract entered into by a purchaser who generally does not have a sufficient sum of money which will enable him to make a down deposit on the purchase of a private residence, which when added to the mortgage that he can secure would enable him to complete settlement of the purchase of that house. This installment land contract enables people of the lower income brackets who want to become homeowners, it enables them to finance the purchase of that home even though they do not have a sufficient sum of money on hand with which to make a down deposit.

The arrangement that is usually concluded between a seller and a buyer, under this installment land contract is this: so much of the monthly payment is applied to the interest on the purchase price, so much is applied to the payment of insurance premiums incurred by the seller of the real estate for fire insurance and other casualty insurance on the property until final settlement, so much is applied to the assessments that may be levied by the taxing authority and so much to repairs. The balance of the monthly payment is then applied to the purchase price and when the buyer has accumulated a sufficient sum of money through these monthly payments, he is then able to make settlement and is given the title to his house.

What this bill does is merely to define what constitutes a default on the part of a buyer, what constitutes a default on the part of a seller. It tells the buyer what the purchase price on his house is going to be. It informs the buyer how much of his monthly payment would be applied to principal, how much for interest, how much for taxes and so forth.

The need for this bill is occasioned by the great number of abuses that have been heaped upon these people who do not have a sufficient sum of money to purchase a house in the conventional manner of purchasing a house, and have to enter into this type of installment land contracts.

What has happened is this: the sellers of this real estate, the people who deal in this type of real estate, have failed to include in these contracts information which would let the buyer know what purchase price he is paying for his house, how much of his monthly payment is going toward that purchase price and how much is going to taxes and interest. As a consequence, the buyer pays for a period of time almost endlessly and he never gets title to the house. Sellers have resorted to this type of device in order to avoid and evade the maximum legal rentals that may be enforced in any particular area. In other words, if a property would legally rent for $50 a month, the seller under a threat of eviction of the tenant says, you either get into a lease purchase contract with me or I am going to throw you out. The tenant enters into this lease purchase contract and pays the seller $75 a month, when the legal maximum rental is $50 a month, in that way there does not have to be a compliance with the existing ordinances concerning legal maximum rentals.

The benefits that are given to a buyer under this bill, were not made at the sacrifice of any corresponding right that the sellers now have under existing law. As a matter of fact this bill in its present form, was drawn by the attorneys representing the leading realtors in the city of Philadelphia who deal in this type of real estate transaction.

I respectfully submit that if we would not have it said of us that we ignore the cause of the little people, the cause of the people who do not have a sufficient sum of money to enable them to purchase real estate in the conventional method, if we would not have those things said of us, then we will vote favorably on this piece of legislation.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I should like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Fineman.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FINEMAN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I am merely acting as sort of a substitute at this time and for the purpose of getting information for the Members of the House. Another Member was going to debate this bill but he is not in the House at the present time and I do not know where he is. The question was raised by this party, he is an attorney from Delaware County, as to whether or not this type of legislation is something that can be taken care of under the Philadelphia City Charter?

This gentleman has told me that this type of thing can be taken care of under your City Charter and I am asking the question now, can it?

Mr. FINEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I would say in reply to the gentleman that it comes with poor grace to object to the passage of legislation on the ground that it is legislation that could very well be taken care of by the local city or the local authority that is principally affected by the bill in question.

All we have to do is examine the many, many bills that have come before the Members of the House this year for consideration and we will find innumerable bills that have been favorably voted upon, as a matter of fact, by every Member of this House, including the gentleman from Delaware County, where the bill in question only affected a particular locale or a particular city. If a bill is good legislation, if a bill merits our favorable consideration and our favorable attention, it is not a basis for objection that the matter could be taken care of, or the law could be enacted into an ordinance of the city or the township principally affected by the legislation in question.

The SPEAKER. The Chair requests the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Helm, to preside temporarily.

Mr. HELM IN THE CHAIR

Mr. TOMPKINS. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia answer the question, could this be taken care of by city ordinance under your City Charter?

Mr. FINEMAN. It probably could.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, this is a bill which, I was informed by the man for whom I am substituting, can be taken care of by city ordinance.

This is my fifth term in this House, and in the early terms which I spent here one of the great issues which I listened to was home rule for Philadelphia. They asked for a city charter, so that they could take care of their own problems and not have to run to Harrisburg in order to get their work done.

This being a bill which applies only to the city of Philadelphia, one that can be taken care of under their City Charter, one for which they asked under their home rule, I do not see why they now come to Harrisburg and ask us to approve something that their own city council might not approve.

Mr. FINEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Cameron.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FINEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Cameron if at any time during this current session he voted favorably for any bill which came up for our consideration where the bill affected a particular city or a particular county only, and no other, and where the legislation in question could have been enacted into law by the local authority affected by the legislation in question?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I do not know about any of those bills. I do not think that question is germane to the issue before the House at the present time.

Mr. FINEMAN. It is germane for this particular reason, I am wondering what the point of your interrogation is, what the point of your objection is, if you did not previously raise this objection under similar circumstances on another bill?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I merely stated I was substituting for another gentleman. This is the first time this issue has come up. Because it has not been raised on other issues does not say it cannot be raised in this issue.

Mr. FINEMAN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman a further question?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FINEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I bring to the gentleman's attention in particular House Bill 1197, which is an Act relating to the satisfaction of mortgages in cities of the first class by the recording of a satisfaction piece. Apparently the gentleman thought that was a pretty worthy piece of legislation because the bill passed finally in this House.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to the point of order as to whether or not the gentleman is speaking on the bill now before the House for consideration.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The point of order is well taken. The gentleman will confine his interrogation to the bill before the House.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I ask that the gentleman be given the right to continue the interrogation of the gentleman, if he cares to be interrogated.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will confine his questions to the bill before the House. The gentleman will continue his interrogation.

Mr. FINEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I am satisfied not to interrogate the gentleman from Cameron any further if he makes his defense on the basis of some technicality, because the legislation before us today is not legislation that should go down to defeat on the basis of a technicality.

We have a bill here that is completely devoid of political considerations. We are dealing with people who generally cannot afford the services of an attorney. They merit our attention, they merit our help.

If ever there was an area in which there was a critical need for remedial legislation, for remedial action on our part, this is it.

Mr. THOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I merely want to make one observation. I believe the party of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Fineman, is in power in Philadelphia. If the legislation is worthy legislation, he should not have any trobule getting it through his city council.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I want to make one observation for the benefit of the Members of the House.

In answer to the question which was asked of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Fineman, I think he was not aware of the fact that I had a copy of the Philadelphia Home Rule Charter in my desk. I have looked through the index and I cannot find anything in this which gives our city council the right to legislate with respect to the sale of real estate on the installment plan.

I want to add one more factor. Our Department of Law sent this bill up for passage in Harrisburg because it is obvious they could not find anything whereby it could have been passed under our Home Rule Charter.

It was intended to apply to the entire state. We only limited it to Philadelphia in order to eliminate some of the objections.

Therefore, I ask the Members of the House to vote for it.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Mr. DONOLOW. Mr. President, on this past Tuesday I introduced an amendment to the Commutation Act of 1901, at which time I told the Members of this Senate of the urgency to pass this Act because coming before the Pardons Board of this State, from the city of Philadelphia were thirty-one of the most vicious operators in the narcotic field for petition to be released from prison. I also informed this Body that that release was automatic under the law and that the Pardons Board, and all the officials involved, would have to go along. I urged the committee that had this bill referred to them to release it immediately, so that we might have an opportunity to pass this bill and attempt to withhold the release of these defendants.

However, Mr. President, the bill did not come out on the floor and, as we read this morning in a Philadelphia newspaper, these thirty-one hardened criminals will now be released upon the streets of the city of Philadelphia. To have these people back within our midst is one of the worst things that could happen at the present time in our city. I informed this body of the clean up that was going on in Philadelphia by the police and that these thirty-one persons, who preyed on the children and the weak people of our city and who earned their livelihood from the misery and agony of others, should not be released unless they were forced to serve their full term.

We also know that this Senate, and this General Assembly, has created a good record as far as dealing with narcotic peddlers and those who are in the narcotic traffic by some of the other bills that we have passed and which have been signed by the Governor. However, this was a step in the right direction. This was another step in that direction, which would serve notice to these people that Pennsylvania would not tolerate this traffic and if it means the stopping of one ounce of heroine from reaching the hands of a user, it was a step in the right direction.

Mr. President, I am disappointed that this bill did not come out of committee, and I know that this Body wishes to adjourn. I am, therefor, going to make a very unpopular request among my friends in the Senate. I am going to request this Body, if they will, to stay in Session until we have enough legislative days to pass this amendment to the Commutation Act.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. STIEFEL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, at this late hour I want to catch up with some unfinished work and I am not going to ask that this resolution, which I am about to introduce, be adopted immediately. I am going to entrust it to the tender hands of the Committee on Rules. Furthermore, I will present the gist of the resolution so as to save the vocal chords of our Reading Clerk.

This resolution deals with a very important problem. It deals with the waters of the Perkiomen Creek, in Montgomery County. For quite a long time, the waters of this creek have been diverted by the Philadelphia Suburban Water Company. By doing so, the waters of the Schuylkill have been depleted and we do not have enough pressure in Philadelphia.

Therefore, Mr. President, on behalf of Senator Yosko, the great exponent of the preservation of water resources, and on behalf of Senator Lane and myself, I offer the following resolution and ask that it be referred to the Committee on Rules. Furthermore, I have only about five copies; I will supplement three copies later.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

DIRECTING THE ATORNEY GENERAL TO TAKE CERTAIN ACTION REGARDING THE PHILADELPHIA SUBURBAN WATER COMPANY, AND THAT THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION MAKE A THOROUGH INVESTIGATION OF THE FRANCHISES, ALLOCATIONS OF WATER, WATER SUPPLY RATES, AND NEED AND REASONS FOR NEW RATE INCREASES IN CONNECTION WITH THE PHILADELPHIA SUBURBAN WATER COMPANY

Messrs. STIEFEL, YOSKO and LANE offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on Rules:

In the Senate, May 17, 1956.

Since water, like air, is one of the principal necessities of life, and since it is to the best interests of the Commonwealth and its citizens to protect present water supply areas so as to provide for the different localities and to effect the greatest possible good; and

Since there is ample evidence that a proper development of the Philadelphia Suburban Water Company's present facilities in the Neshaminy, Crum, Pickering and Pennypack Creeks together with proper periodic desilting measures, could amply provide for their present and reasonable future needs; and

Since the Philadelphia Suburban Water Company has gone outside of its chartered area and outside of its own watershed area, without showing that it has developed its existing facilities and allocations in Neshaminy, Crum, Pickering and Pennypack Creeks to their fullest extent; and

Since there is ample evidence that at hearings held before the Water and Power Resources Board in 1950 and 1952, there was no consideration given to the question that the Philadelphia Suburban Water Company had to prove "that it could not obtain sufficient water to supply the additional need from the present sources allocated to it" (Neshaminy, Crum, Pickering and Pennypack Creeks); and

Since there is ample evidence that a validation of a 7½ million gallon per day diversion from the Perkiomen Creek was made by the Water and Power Resources Board in 1944 without notice to all interested parties and without approval of all interested parties, such as the City of Philadelphia and riparian owners along the Perkiomen Creek, and hence said validation was unconstitutional and illegal; and

Since there is ample evidence that surveys are presently being made by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania at Wallpack Bend and Tock Island, on the Delaware River, for the purpose of providing for the present and future water needs of the entire southeastern part of Pennsylvania; and

Since the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and all of its citizens in the southeastern part of Pennsylvania are interested in providing for their present and future needs by a co-ordinated plan such as Wallpack Bend or Tock Island; and

Since there is ample evidence to justify the belief that the construction of a dam at the Green Lane site of the Perkiomen Creek will be hazardous in that the foundation consists of baked shale; and

Since any construction of a dam on such an unsound foundation may well cause future damage to surrounding municipalities; and

Since any continuance of the present project of diverting increased waters from the Perkiomen Creek and the construction of a dam site at Green Lane will unnecessarily cause increased rates to the present rate payers and users of the Philadelphia Suburban Water Company facilities; and

Since the unnecessary condemnation of valuable land in the Perkiomen Watershed for reservoir and dam site purposes will result in a diminution of income to the surrounding municipalities in that said property will cease to be tax yielding; and

Since the diversion of water from tributaries of the Schuylkill River, such as the Perkiomen Creek, without notice to and approval by the City of Philadelphia after a determination that such diversion would not harm the legitimate needs of the City of Philadelphia as a prior and paramount user, is in direct violation of the laws of the state. (See Philadelphia vs. Philadelphia Suburban Water Company, 309 Pa. 130); and

Since the effective conservation for public use of the entire Perkiomen Watershed, covering an area of 360 square miles in Berks, Bucks, Lehigh and Montgomery Counties, is of interest to 50 municipalities comprising 18 boroughs and 32 townships; and

Since it is to the best interests of all the citizens of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that all present facilities for water supply be effectively used and that all future facilities be provided for by co-ordinated regional planning for the benefit of all the citizens of the Commonwealth; now therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the Attorney General of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania take immediate steps to halt all further construction by the Philadelphtia Suburban Water Company on the Perkiomen Creek, pending the determination by an investigation of the justification of using the Perkiomen Watershed as a source of supply; and also,

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the Attorney General of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania be impowered to seek to revoke the permit issued the Philadelphia Suburban Water Company by the Water & Power Resources Board on January 11, 1951, as amended on or about July 11, 1951, to take 16½ million gallons of water a day additional from the Perkiomen Creek; and also,

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the Attorney General of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania be impowered to seek to revoke the permit issued to the Philadelphia Suburban Water Company by the Water and Power Resources Board on or about August 12, 1953, to build a dam on the Perkiomen Creek in Marlborough and Upper Frederick Townships, above the borough of Green Lane; and also,

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the Attorney General of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania be impowered to seek to revoke the confirmation issued to the Philadelphia Suburban Water Company by the Water and Power Resources Board, in 1944, of the right to take 7½ million gallons of water per day from the Perkiomen Creek; and also,

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the Joint State Government Commission make a thorough investigation of the franchises, allocations of water, water supply rates, need and reasons for new rate increases, and any other appropriate matters which it deems necessary in order to ascertain the advisability of permitting the Philadelphia Suburban Water Company to seek new sources of supply and thereby cause increased expenditures without fully developing present facilities; and report its findings and recommendations to the 1957 Session of the General Assembly.

CALENDAR

HOUSE BILL No. 583 CALLED UP OUT OF ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, at this time I call up out of order, from page 5 of today's Third Reading Calendar, House Bill No. 583, Printer's No. 1829, for consideration.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 583, entitled:

An Act amending the act of March 10 1949 (P. L. 30) entitled "Public School Code of 1949" providing for the payment of minimum salaries and increments of county and district superintendents assistant county and district superintendents principals supervising principals teachers and other employes

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, at midnight or thereabouts, the Minority Floor Leader presented the final amendments to House Bill No. 583 and House Bill No. 584 and explained, I thought very fairly and very adequately, the area of understanding and cooperation and support which these measures have received from all interested parties. Personally, I do not feel and never have felt that when these school bills are passed, there should be a lot of ballyhoo and a lot of breast beating and a lot of credit taken. However, I do feel that it is very pertinent to take five or six minutes to recall the progress of education in Pennsylvania since I first became interested in it, back in 1939. We have made tremendous strides and the men of both political parties have given a lot of sweat, toil and blood, at times, figuratively speaking, in order that the public school system of Pennsylvania might be advanced and the system go forward. However, in spite of all that, wartime and an inflated economy have had us desperately striving to recover lost ground from Session to Session.

Mr. President, I would just like to recall very briefly the amazing things that have happened in a brief span of years. In 1939, there was a bill introduced in the House of Representatives; the number as I recall it to this day was House Bill No. 906. It was called a "dream bill" because that bill presented an ideal in education. It held up a standard for the State to strive to reach. Nearly everybody doubted that it would ever come to pass. From that time on, things began to happen. The bill did not pass in 1939, but it stirred imaginations and it attracted consecrations on the part of some political leaders to bring these thing to pass.

In 1941, we find that the minimum salary of teachers in fourth class districts was raised to the magnificent sum of $1,000 per annum.

In 1943, we saw legislation passed which created the State School Commission.

In 1945, if you follow this Session by Session, under Act No. 403, we achieved a system of reimbursement which was called, by expert educators, the finest system of financing public schools on a State level that existed in the United States.

In 1947 came Act No. 515, which further advanced the 1945 plan.

In 1949 came the Building Program Authority. The Session of 1949 was appraised, by somebody fully qualified to appraise it, as the most adequate and comprehensive legislative package that had ever been enacted by a single Session of the Legislature.

The forward march continued, Mr. President, in Session after Session, in 1951 and and 1953. Now, again in 1956, we have, I think, achieved by common effort the goal which we sought, adequate salaries to attract and maintain our teachers and a building program which will give us sufficient buildings.

However, the thought that I want to add particularly this afternoon, Mr. President, is something that I have been thinking about very much since last Thursday night. I went back home last Thursday night and I read an editorial in a local newspaper which indicated that it might be all right for the Legislators to be proud of what they are doing for school teachers, but the citizens ought to remember that it is the taxpayers who pay the bill. The Legislature can give only when it collects from the taxpayers. Senator Dent, I think, emphasized that very accurately last night.

I say to the people of Pennsylvania this afternoon that we are well aware of the fact that we have assumed tremendous financial obligations for the people of Pennsylvania. We have done it with the feeling that the people of Pennsylvania wanted it, as they expressed themselves through their P.T.A.'s, through their Chambers of Commerce, through their community organizations, through magazines, television and radio programs in the Nation. It is absolutely correct that it is going to cost more money. I think we should let the people understand that; I think we should be well aware of it ourselves and I think we should not be boastful, but very soberly proud in face of the knowledge that everybody from the Governor down is going to have a very serious time arranging to meet these financial obligations which are entailed. In that sober and serious vein, I think we should be gratified that to the best of the knowledge of those of us who have studied this matter diligently and continuingly, we are going to pass this afternoon a completely adequate program for our public schools.

I want to touch on one more thing, Mr. President, and then I am finished. The amendments were put in late last night. The word was around the State at daybreak this morning that the amendments last night had unloaded a portion of this increase to teachers upon the local school districts. Telephone calls were coming in from 100, 200 and 300 miles away, asking why this was done. Let there be no misapprehension and no misunderstanding. The Members of the Senate on both sides, who worked on these bills, early resolved that under no circumstances would we make the local school district or the local school directors whipping boys for the magnanimity of the Legislature of Pennsylvania, and provision is made in the bills. Everybody has acted in good faith and I suppose probably for the first time in the modern history of the Legislature we are making current reimbursements, so that the teacher who gets an additional $100 in June will find it coming through the school board, in cash, from Harrisburg. The reimbursement figure for this year has been sufficiently advanced that the $200 extra mandated increment for the next school term will be currently received by the local district from Harrisburg and also for the two succeeding years.

Mr. President, I want to say that in my opinion, without a great deal of fanfare, with no acrimony, with no tugging and tussling, but in good spirit, which evidenced fact that the Legislature thinks and its Members are aware of their obligations to our school children and to our teachers and our local districts, we have prepared to pass finally today a very, very fine program for the public schools of this Commonwealth.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, a lot of brickbats have been thrown at this Session of the Legislature. It has ironically been called a historic Session; ironic I say in that it has been called historic because of its length. It is quite true that this has been the longest Session in the history of the Commonwealth, but I am of the opinion that when the achievements of this two years of legislation are summed up, it will be a historic Session for the achievements which have been made by this Legislature.

I would like to talk today about the achievements in public education, of which the bill under consideration now, in my opinion, is the capstone. This is really a historic Session for public education, because the advancements in this Session of the Legislature are tremendous and they are the greatest in the history of the Commonwealth.

Mr. President, let me just briefly review what the achievements for public education are and I only intend to hit the high spots. First of all, we have passed a school construction bill, known as Senate Bill No. 215, which has lifted the ceiling of State support for school construction and has permitted State support of sinking fund building as well as that by authorities which, in my opinion, constitutes the best school construction bill now on the books of any State in the forty-eight.

To take care of the problem of supply of teachers, we have provided for our teacher training institutions, the Teachers' Colleges. We have increased largely the sums of money for the maintenance of those Teachers' Colleges. We have authorized the General State Authority substantial improvements in buildings in order that we can house an increasing number of students who are preparing themselves to teach in this Commonwealth. We have raised the salaries of the staffs of those Teachers' Colleges and the salaries of the professors, so that we can continue to have an adequate supply of professors and a superior type of professors, competent to produce good teachers. We have done the same thing for our State supported universities which help in this job of producing teachers. We have voted more money for maintenance and building.

As far as the teachers in our public school system are concerned, and in order to make that more attractive to prospective teachers and keep the teachers in the profession, we have first of all improved our teachers' retirement system; we have instituted the automatic option provision which will be attractive to those teachers who are near the end of their careers and will keep them in the profession. These teachers are good, experienced teachers and could not be adequately replaced even by new teachers. We have substituted the best five years, in figuring the amount at which these teachers are to retire, instead of the previous last five. We have social security bills in process which, if they are adopted and voted for by the teachers in a free referendum, will, I believe, add to the security of our elder teachers.

Today, Mr. President, we are about to pass what I have termed as the capstone of this program, namely this teachers' salary bill. In order to keep teachers in the profession and to meet the competition of other States and occupations, we are voting a cost-of-living increase in this school year. In addition to that, we are making staying in the profession more attractive by raising the maximum salary and extending that so that it will reach $5800 for those having Masters' Degrees. We are also making it more attractive for young men and women to enter the teaching profession. We are doing this by increasing our starting salary from $2400, which is the present minimum salary, to $3,000 and eventually to $3600, in order to meet the competition which other States and other professions give us for the best young men and women whom we want in the teaching profession. We are increasing the amount of return for teachers of exceptional children in special classes, which is taking care of a very needed group among our school population.

Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate, I say that, putting all this program together, this will constitute a historic achievement in public education.

I would like to make the following statements, which I believe can be documented and which I believe will stand up. First of all, I would like to say that the two year Session of this Legislature will have made more progress for public education than any two year Session in the history of this Commonwealth. More money will have been voted for public education than in any other Session, and more new money will have been voted for public education than in any other Session.

My second statement; I would like to say that the achievements of this Session for public education will show more progress than that of any other State in the Union for these same two legislative years. There will be more new money voted for public education by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in these two years than by any other State in the same two years of legislation. I do not say that we will have more total money because, after all, we are raising ourselves, so to speak, by our bootstraps. Pennsylvania, at the beginning of this Session, was not high on the list of States in expenditures for public education. However, in new money and improvement we will have accomplished more than any other Legislature in the United States.

Mr. President, there are many other fields in which we made progress, too, but I have only cited the achievements made in public education. I am not a candidate for any office in this present year, but if I were and I was running for a position in this Legislature, I would proudly cite the record that this Legislature has made for public education as well as for many other needed and worthwhile causes in this Commonwealth.

Mr. PROPERT. Mr. President, House Bill No. 583, which is before us for consideration, and House Bill No. 584, which is the following bill on the Calendar, are companion bills. Although I am probably alone in my stand, I intend to vote against these bills.

I am thoroughly in accord with the bonus payment of $100 for the current school year for all professional employees. I, likewise, favor the increase in the mandated entry salary for teachers from $2400 to $3,000 for the year 1956-1957. In other words, I am in accord with the objectives of these bills in so far as the present biennium is concerned. However, Mr. President, I feel it is fundamentally and economically unsound for this Session of the Legislature to pass a bill making a commitment that future Sessions of the Legislature will have the burden of financing.

Mr. President, House Bill No. 583 provides for automatic increments of $200 for each and every teacher for seven, nine and eleven years, depending on the type of certificate which the teacher holds. I am unalterably opposed to automatic increases in salary, whether it be for teachers or anyone else. I believe all increases should be based on merit. To do otherwise is to destroy incentive. I favor better salaries for better teachers. A school district can only spend a certain portion of their budget for salaries, and by reason of the fact that they have to increase the salaries of all teachers, they may be prevented from rewarding an outstanding one. There are good and poor teachers, just as there are good and poor in any other profession and, unfortunately, our poor teachers are protected by tenure.

I also want to call your attention to the fact that the provisions of these bills increase the mandated maximum salary by $1,000, but the equalization level for subsidies to the local school districts is increased only $400. In other words, we are not only making commitments for future Sessions of the Legislature to finance, but we are mandating a $1,000 increase in maximum salaries and passing on to the local school boards the burden of imposing taxes to finance the greater portion of that increase. The increased cost to the Commonwealth for the next biennium, by the passage of these bills, will approximate $46,000,000. This is in addition to at least a $90,000,000 increase mandated under existing law.

In addition, Mr. President, it should be said that increases in teachers' salaries increase both Commonwealth and local school district liabilities on account of school employees retirement. This is estimated at six per cent per year for the Commonwealth, and six per cent per year for the local school district.

In conclusion, I want to say that I do not expect to win any popularity contest by this stand but, gentlemen, these are my honest, sincere convictions and I intend to stand by them by voting "no" on these two bills.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:
